DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in every town and town, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and apprehension of exposure, I would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, accompanied by DIRECTIONS FOR USE, stating whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are a cure for the certain remedy for the most troublesome incidents to the organization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing the blood to run free as in youth. Ladies, more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—Sent by mail or express, free from observation, properly treated by empirics have come under his care, and were thus three-fourths of this number sent to him by MAIL, PREPAID, and cured.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scandalous observation.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and worthless medicines at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

Dr. Dix's medicines can be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They are specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effect of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything is conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the chances for success at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle anybody. Prizes vary from $100 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ Persons ordering the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Charleston Courier, Savannah Republican, Augusta Chronicle, Augusta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Augusta, Ga.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to compound a Roofing which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by rain and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do confidently assert that IT IS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either steep or flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

VOL. 13. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY, OCT. 5, 1858. NO. 54.

AGED CLERGYMEN.—"The Rev. Charles Wellbeloved," says the Albion of last week, "died lately at York, in the 90th year of his age, and in the 67th of his ministry to the Presbyterian church of that city." It might have added, says the Transcript, that he was for many years theological tutor to the Manchester College, York; the chief institution for general and professional education, which for a long period the Unitarians of the North of England enjoyed. Mr. W.'s earliest years extend back to the time of Newcome Cappe, so well known to the scholars of his faith, by his earnest and learned critical labors upon the New Testament, and more generally so by his sermons, which were so much in vogue the first quarter of the present century, and are still esteemed as among the very best fruits of the Unitarian pulpit in a true unction. The patriarch just departed, was the youthful colleague of Mr. C. for about eight years before his death, (in 1800) in what was called "the Dissenting Chapel at St. Savior-gate." Several works are recorded as from the pen of Mr. Wellbeloved, among others, Translation of the Bible, 3 vols., 4to.

Mr. W.'s length of public service is truly note-worthy. With a few exceptions, very extended ministrics are much less common in the English than in our New England church. But even here the examples are rare enough, rivalling or approaching the mark denoted the above; and none occur to mind, as outstripping it, excepting that of Joseph Adams, of Newington, N. H, and the well-known Dr. Gay, of Hingham. The first died in 1783, having then numbered at his post sixty-seven years and a half; the last in 1787, then wanting but three months of a round sixty-nine years.

AN EXPERT YOUNG ROGUE.—Jacob Dammert, a German lad only fifteen years of age, and late an employee in the San Antonio (Texas) Post Office, has been arrested for robbing the mails of fifty to sixty thousand dollars in drafts, bank stock, lottery tickets, &c., which were found in his possession. He is thus described by the Indianola Courier:

"A more simple, unsophisticated creature we have rarely ever seen. He is a German, whose parents live in San Antonio, and not possessing even the rudiments of an English education; and why the Postmaster at San Antonio should have ever employed him at that department we cannot conceive. He was frequently interrogated as to why and how he had abstracted the drafts, &c., to which interrogatories he always replied without hesitation.—He said that it was his intention to go back to his uncle in Germany, and not use the drafts in this country, believing they would be converted into money there without any sort of difficulty. He was handed a sealed letter by one of our citizens, and asked to show how he opened letters without mutilating them, He took out his knife and in a few moments time opened it with the greatest dexterity, not mutilating it in the slightest. He was frequently asked if he had not accomplices. He stated most positively that no human being except himself knew anything of his peculiations."

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immesurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uniformity of proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ROWLEY, MASS., Oct. 4.

This ancient farming town, settled by a Puritan stock more than two hundred years ago, retains many of the old features, such as roads not straight nor crossing each other at right angles, but gracefully though artlessly curved round the everlasting hills and along the edges of the not exactly everlasting swamps and gollies which have been turned into fruitful fields by two centuries of cultivation. Here, too, are many rare old houses—some of them retouched by the joiner and painter, and others only touched by the hand of time, who deals with them as he does with the old men, i. e., don't make them look any younger.

I got a fine view of all this, and a good deal besides, by climbing to the top of the highest hill, whence I looked down on all the kingdoms of the world and all the glory of them which my eye could reach;—but having no great thirst for possessions of that kind, I was not in the least degree tempted to fall down and worship any power, except that great and beneficent Creator who formed the wide landscape I was viewing, and who peopled it with those whose lines are drawn in pleasant places.

The hill is on the west side of the settlement, and is, I since learn, called Prospect hill—very fitly named; for from it, on the north or north-east, was a good view of Newburyport, and beyond that our neighbor, Mount Agamenticus. To the northwest, near by me, among the little hills, a church, which I took to be that of Mr. Beecher, in Georgetown, — wherein he preaches so as to get into the newspapers for heresy. Beyond these little hills rise others not so little; and then beyond them again, some big enough to be mountains; these last are in New Hampshire, but from this point of view I don't know them well enough to call their names. On the west is a vista of little hills.

A little to the south-east is Ipswich, and beyond that Cape Ann, well defined. To the east, the ocean. At my feet, the little town of Rowley, with its two churches, Congregational and Baptist, the former with a pretty spire, and the latter with a tower just big enough to hold the bell, and looking, on the very good house it surmounts, like a very small bonnet on a good robust woman, fat, fair and forty.

Pleased with the view, and refreshed and invigorated by the bracing north-west wind which had free course over the hill, I found it best to descend and get under the lee of it—for on the top, shelter there was none, except a dozen willow trees which shade the cattle and prevent the hill from being quite bald.

On all the farms round here, and they are many, there is a very fine crop of corn and a good yield of apples, the former ripening to the harvest, and the latter being now gathering in. Stacks of beans almost everywhere, and good: potatoes in a bad way, and waxing worse and worse.

In the centre of the town is the old cemetery, the old dreary front wall of which has disappeared, with its wooden gates,—and in its stead has come a substantial iron fence, open and elegant, making a wonderful change for the better in the appearance of things. A similar change would not be a bad thing for the looks of some old grounds in Portsmouth.

Just within this new fence of the old ground of Rowley, is a neat enclosure containing two plain monuments of moderate size, in memory of the ministers who preached here during the first 160 years of the town's settlement, and whose remains lie buried here.

The inscriptions on one of them inform us that it was erected in 1851, by a society of ladies in the Congregational parish, and that it is a memorial of their pastors.

On one of the sides of this monument we read as follows:

Rev. Ezekiel Rogers, first minister of Rowley, was a minister in Rowley, Yorkshire, England, 17 years, and came to this place with his church and flock in 1639.

This ancient pilgrim nobly bore
The ark of God to this lone shore;
And here, before the throne of heaven,
The hand was raised, the pledge was given:
One Monarch to obey, one creed to own;
That Monarch God, that creed His Word alone.

Another plain monument in the same enclosure covers the remains of Samuel Phillips, the second minister of Rowley, who was the progenitor of the two Phillipses who founded Andover and Exeter Academies; and this stone, which is erected by a descendant, also commemorates many of the family.

The monument first named contains, besides the inscription of Rev. Mr. Rogers, notices of Rev. Samuel Shepard, the third minister; of Rev. Edward Payson, the fourth, who was ordained in 1682; of Jedediah Jewett, the fifth; and of Ebenezer Bradford, the sixth—bringing down the dates to 1801—with notices of their wives.

The whole appearance of this little enclosure, and of the ground generally, is agreeable, as the old and the new stones, running through 160 years, are mingled together, and as the yard has been extended by a modern purchase in the rear, instead of making a new one elsewhere.

The principal occupation of the people who live here, is farming, with the addition of shoemaking, common to all Massachusetts; and thrift and comfort have a permanent home here, in a good, old fashioned New England puritan town, by which, on the railway, runs the train of modern origin, to accommodate, and not to disturb.

☞ The editors of the Boston Courier say in their paper of the 27th ult.:

"If there be a man who, having read the Boston Courier during the past twelve months, has come to the conclusion that it is a democratic paper, we can only say he must be very thick under the nightcap."

That's a fact—there is no more real Democratic or Republican sentiment in the Boston Courier, than in the Boston Pilot. The Courier ought to have made its appearance before Noah's day.

LATEST PARIS FASHIONS.—The late news about the Paris fashions is somewhat startling. Fat is the rage. Ladies cultivate it. They are devouring vast quantities of butter, mashed rose-leaves, and such like. The Empress is quite corpulent, which accounts for the style. The fashion will be here before long. We hail it with joy. A new era is dawning. Our girls will stop eating slate pencils and chalk, and commence partaking liberally of roast beef and baked beans. They will rise with the lark. They will exercise. They will try on the wash-tub, perhaps.—Exch.

No they won't — with that object in view. Labor and hearty food, "air and exercise," don't tend to fat, but rather to muscle—infinitely more desirable.

AFFAIR EXTRAORDINARY.—We are informed, says the New Bedford Standard, that an affair extraordinary occurred at the Vineyard, a few nights ago, in which a gentleman was handsomely cowhided by a lady. The parties had been intimate, but the course of true love doesn't run smooth, and hymen's torch turned into a cowskin.

A misuse of terms, that's all—ladies don't use cowhides, nor do gentlemen get whipped by females.

RECIPE FOR POVERTY.—If you want to keep poor, buy two glasses of ale each day, amounting at the end of the year to $39.50; smoke three cigars, $54.65; keep a big lazy dog, $15; a cat, $4; in all, the snug little sum of $110.25. Enough to buy several barrels of flour, one hundred bushels of coal, one barrel of sugar, one sack of coffee, a good coat, a respectable dress, and half a dozen pairs of shoes—more or less.

SOMETHING RICH.—Burleigh, the New York letter writer for the Boston Journal, tells the following pleasant tale about the man who sells good grapes:—"

The grape crop this year is very fine and very abundant. The grape that takes the lead is called the "Croton Point Grape." They come from Croton Point, where Mr. Underhill has his vineyard. Long ago he resolved to give his whole time to the culture of grapes for the market. He also resolved that he would send no grapes to market that were not perfectly ripe and good. He had made a set of baskets with broad covers, and in these, under lock and key, his fruit reaches its destination. The result is, that the grapes are always excellent. Any man who makes the purchase, knows what he is buying. The fruit is in constant demand; it will bring sixpence more a pound than any other fruit. I am told that last year Mr. Underhill sold over $7000 worth, and that the sale will far exceed that the present year. So much for principle in trade—so much for selling a man what he pays for, and having an honest reputation for a business capital. Men don't believe it, but integrity is the best capital that a man can use in this world.

This extollation of integrity is beautiful, come from whom it may,—and coming as it does, from Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, its beauty is peculiar, unique, transcendent.

☞ As a man in Columbia, Me., was hauling in hay near the river, the oxen started without his notice, going down over the bank of the river, with a load attached which pressed their heads under water, causing their death instantly.

☞ That first-class family paper, Life Illustrated, contains each week a number of beautiful engravings. The Phrenological Journal for October, has portraits of Combe and Hawkins, with appropriate matter. Fowler & Wells, publishers, New York.

TWENTY-TWO ADDITIONAL SURVIVORS OF THE AUSTRIA SAVED.—Quebec, Oct. 4.—The Norwegian ship Catarina, Capt. Funemark, from Forney, forty-three days out, arrived yesterday. She reports on the 14th September at 2 o'clock A. M., in lon. 44 40, lat. 41 39, the Catarina fell in with the unfortunate steamship Austria, and took from the wreck twenty-two persons in all—sixteen passengers and six of the crew. In the number is included a girl about fourteen years of age.

On their arrival at this port, Messrs. Falkenberg & McBlain took them under their care, and will see to their wants.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—Charleston, Oct. 4.—The health officers report sixty-four deaths from fever during the week ending Saturday, inclusive.

Savannah, Oct. 4.—The interments yesterday numbered six, of which three were from yellow fever.

ADMISSIONS TO THE NAVAL SCHOOL.—Washington, Oct. 4.—Among the persons admitted to the Naval School as Acting Midshipmen, are Henry Jones Blake and Smith Nichols of Massachusetts, Frederick Smith and William H. Winslow of Maine, and Giles Appleton of New Hampshire.

SHIPWRECK AND LOSS OF LIFE.—Yarmouth, Mass., Oct. 4.—Sloop Granite of Quincy, struck on Yarmouth Bar on Saturday afternoon, weather being very rough and blowing hard. Two men were seen on board. She was boarded on Saturday night, but no one was found on board.

The body of a man, supposed to belong to her, and a valise containing papers of Wm. Parker of Rockport, Mass., were found on Dennis Beach this morning.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—New York, Oct. 4.—The following dispatch came to hand this forenoon:

Trinity Bay, Oct. 1.—Peter Cooper, New York:—Nothing was done with Valentia yesterday. Some very good currents were received from Valentia, but no intelligible signals. C. V. DE SAUTY.

LATER FROM HAVANA.—New York, Oct. 4.—Steamer Cahawba, from Havana evening of the 29th, has arrived. An American ship had landed a cargo of slaves at Cardenas. She left the African coast with upwards of 900 slaves, of whom nearly 250 died on the passage from starvation. A Spanish official had been sent to Cardenas to investigate the matter.

The weather at Havana was cool and pleasant. The health of the city was improving.

JUDGE NOT.—How little is known of what is in the bosom of those around us! We might explain many a coldness, could we look into the heart concealed from us; we should often pity where we hate, love when we think we never can forgive, admire when we curl the lip with scorn and indignation. To judge without reserve of any human action is a culpable temerity, of all our sins the most unfeeling and frequent.

☞ "The stump of the Charter Oak at Hartford, Conn., has been dug up and sold to a speculator." Whether it is to be worked up into wooden nutmegs, the Rhode Island paper from which the foregoing was copied does not say.

☞ "The only real liberty-cap," says a clever and witty author, "is a night-cap In it men visit, one-third of their lives, the land of sleep, the only land where they are always free and equal."

If a man would register all his opinions upon love, politics, religion, learning, &c., beginning from his youth, and so go on to old age, what a bundle of inconsistencies and contradictions would appear at last!

A horse was choked to death in Bangor on Thursday, while being led behind a team. He hung back and was choked by the halter until he dropped down dead.

Honor and riches are the two wheels upon which the world is moved; yet endless discontent rolls with them.

LADIES WANTED IN AUSTRALIA.—In Victoria there are only about 168,000 women to 302,000 men.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher's congregation propose to build a new church, capable of seating 6000 people.

The Bangor Times says the Bath Times ought to be rattanned for punning in relation to ladies' hoops. Spare us such an infliction—for we find those ladies who have been rattanned the most, look least like their former selves. We have no ambition to appear dropical.—Times.

An Irishman, on visiting a menagerie for the first time, while stalking around the pavilion, suddenly came on the elephant; whereupon he turned to the keeper with surprise: "Thunder and lightning, mister! what critter have you got there, with a tail on both ends?"

Perhaps men are the most imitative animals in all the world of Nature. Only one ass spoke like a man, but hundreds of thousands of men are daily talking like asses.

Rather go to bed supperless than rise in debt.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the Juniper, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRIKING DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces the "London Cordial Gin," not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

May be had in Boston of C. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Foster, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st; R. POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 2.

Before Justice Odell. — John Holland was brought up, charged with assaulting Jeremiah Murphy, but was not found guilty, and was discharged.

MONDAY, Oct. 4.

Before Justice Odell.—Robert Monteith was charged with assaulting John M. Woods—paid $5 fine, and gave $50 bonds to keep the peace till the sitting of the S. J. Court.

SORE.—In a case before the Police Court on Monday, the counsel for the defence read from the Chronicle a report of the ruling of an Ohio Judge, that a woman is justified in avenging her wrongs, even deliberately with a cowhide. This mention of the Chronicle brought up the opposing lawyer, who "opened" on our humble sheet in the severest terms he could command.

But we shall continue to issue our Daily regularly, as usual—unless we should see all the printers of the city going to the State Fair on Thursday; in which case we might feel induced to hold up for a day. Keep cool, gentlemen.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—A trial term for this county commences in Portsmouth to-day. There are two capital cases—and a dozen cases of less account to come on at this term, which will make the session of more than usual interest.

☞ U. S. surveying steamer Bibb, Lieutenant commanding Alexander Murray, U. S. N., sailed from the Navy Yard on Monday afternoon, to complete the survey of Lynn harbor and Nantucket shoals.

☞ Engine Co. No. 1, "Merrimack," of Manchester, is to be at the State Fair, Dover, on Thursday, and will visit this city on Friday, and be received by "Laconia," No. 2.

☞ There is a pretty good crop of apples about here, after all. The trees, well loaded with their red fruit, present a beautiful appearance. Baldwins predominate largely. Apples are selling at from $1.50 to $2.00 per barrel—but not many of good quality will change hands at the first price.

☞ The State Fair commences at Dover to-morrow, and closes on Friday. The grounds are situated a mile or two above Dover, and are spacious and well laid out. There will be a grand exhibition, no doubt.

☞ The quaint little steamboat Clipper, made her two trips to Dover, and returned, in good style, on Monday—and will no doubt carry hundreds if not thousands to and from the State Fair.

☞ To accommodate those desirous of attending the State Fair at Dover, trains will be run by the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, Oct. 6th, 7th and 8th, as follows:—

Leave Portsmouth at 8 15 and 10 50 A. M., and 4 20 P. M. Returning—leave Newmarket Junction at 9 40 A. M. and 6 20 P. M. Fare to Dover and back 70 cts.

Leave Concord as 7 15 and 10 45 A.M., and 4 P. M. Returning—leave Junction at 12 15, 5 20 and 6 10. Fare both ways $1.60.

☞ The Ferry Boat at Dover Point will commence running on Tuesday next, and continue running through the week, to accommodate attendants on the State Fair. We are also informed that the steamboat which usually plies between Saco and the "Pool" will convey passengers between this city and Dover, during the continuance of the Fair.

☞ We are informed that Miss Abby Jane Blake, aged about twenty, daughter of Mr. Samuel Blake, at Kittery, committed suicide by drowning in Seaward's Cove, on Sunday afternoon, about five o'clock. "Loving not wisely, but too well," is reported the cause. The result of a coroner's inquest, which was probably held on Monday, we have not yet received.

A young lady who lives near a railroad crossing appears to have no occupation except perpetually poking her head out of the window. A wag, the other morning, hailed her from the street:

"Hallo, Miss!"

"What do you want?" said she, after the first flush of indignation at being thus accosted.

"The bell ain't rung yet," was the answer.

"What do you mean?" asked Miss.

"Why," was the reply, "that sign says you are to 'look out' when the bell rings, but you are looking out all the time."

The young lady's head disappeared with a jerk, and the window went down with a slam.

It is not every man who can laugh up his sleeve when he happens to be out at elbows.

MARRIED,

In Eliot, Oct. 3d, by Rev. Mr. Crafts, Mr. Levi W. Adams, of this city, to Miss Lizzie A. Staples of Eliot.

In Newport, John Cutts, of Sunapee, to Mrs. Sarah Dame.

DIED,

In this city, October 3d, Miss Frances M. E. Holman, aged 30 years.

Funeral this (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the Methodist Church.

In this city, October 2nd, Frank Rogers, aged 4 years, 2 months, son of George and Mary Rogers.

In Hampton, Sept., Marcia Greenleaf Perkins, aged 18 months, daughter of Joseph Perkins.—Warren Dow, aged 7 months, son of J. W. Dow.—Howard M. Lamprey, aged 15 years, son of Jeremiah W. Lamprey.—A child of Moses Blake, aged 1 month.

ECONOMICAL FUEL.—A new fuel saving apparatus is talked of. It is described as consisting of an iron box full of sand, into which if a jet of gas be directed into the body of the sand, it will instantly diffuse itself through the entire mass, and rising to the surface, may with perfect safety be instantly set on fire with a match, the flame covering the entire surface of the sand, and with a pure flame without smoke, no matter how large the extent of the flame, and with perfect and complete combustion. The heat is almost instantaneously diffused through the entire mass of sand, heating it equally throughout, and requiring but one minute of time to heat the sand to such intense temperature that it will retain its heat for hours after the gas is shut off and the light extinguished. The gas required to light the room will also be sufficient to heat it. By this sand and gas stove it is claimed that two cents' worth of gas will furnish enough caloric to heat a room eight hours.—Portland Adv.

CONVENIENCE.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

Aug. 26. F. W. ROGERS.

IF A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and all kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect knowledge of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Bronchial Tubes. By inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the immediate seat of the complaint, and the vital inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment, and although I consider it a special adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—Having made my treatment the study of consumptives, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need the story or commendation from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and in view of the foregoing, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of those who find themselves, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hopeful of the success of the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—a8 6m

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, though the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or clothed in hair so thin, so parched, burnt and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poetess, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original colour; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed the wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, it is the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were quite white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant feeling, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KIRBY.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair freely. It began to fill up more thick and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, both in appearance, and I cheerfully can recommend its use to all. J. D. HOAX.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, retails for $1; the medium holds a pint and a half, or one third more than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, leaves the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will correct Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will quickly relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before retiring gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow it together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious approach of that dangerous disease, FEMALE, suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may desire them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and the medicines used in all these cases are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, receive the same attention as all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are cautioning against, having been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer for this purpose, and obtain the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that the merits of the invention of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT TO BE FOUND.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Pitch, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought before them of late in the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and the one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER. 6, 1858.

FROM JAPAN.—The Paris Pays publishes intelligence from Japan to the 16th of July, according to which the authorities were doing all in their power for the faithful execution of the terms of the treaties. An imperial decree authorized the erection of commercial exchanges at Simoda, Nangasaki, and Hakodadi, and appointed a number of merchandise brokers to facilitate commercial intercourse with the various nations included in the treaties.

It will be recollected that the Americans presented a railroad and a telegraph to the Emperor. The latter has been put up by a Japanese engineer, and is in successful operation. It is five leagues in length. The Emperor is so well pleased with the invention that he has ordered telegraphic communications to be established between Jeddo and the provinces of Gokinaib, Tokaido, Fekuro-Kodu, Sangodo, and Saikaido. An American house established at Sinoda has offered to furnish the requisite materials.

The most important act of the reigning Emperor is the revocation of the edict against the Christians issued by the Emperor Daia-Fusam in 1614. In future, foreign agents accredited at Japanese ports will be privileged to bring with them one or more Christian preachers, for their own and their countrymen's benefit.

OCEAN STEAMERS.—The first steamship that crossed the Atlantic was the Sirtous, in 1838. The regular line of European steamships was started by Mr. Cunard, in 1840. There have been lost on the stormy Atlantic eleven vessels in eighteen years: President, never heard of; Columbia and Humboldt, all hands saved; City of Glasgow, never heard of; City of Philadelphia and Franklin, all hands saved; Arctic, a few only saved; Pacific, never heard of; Lyonnais, a few only saved; Tempest, never heard of; Austria, burned.

This record is terrible enough, but its horrors would be greatly increased if we should add such catastrophes as that of the Central America. In many instances, no mere human agency could avail to prevent such losses, but it will be hard to make the public believe that culpable official neglect does not explain many of these heart-rending occurrences.

HARVARD COLLEGE. — The Cambridge Chronicle states that President Walker has not tendered his resignation, and probably will not do it. Any steps which he may desire will be taken to relieve him of duties which any physical debility may render laborious and painful. The Chronicle very truthfully adds:—"We express only the general sentiment when we say that his administration is so successful that no change could be for the better."

Miss Jane R. Sever of Kingston, has given the library of Harvard College a collection of several thousand old newspapers, filling six barrels and two large boxes.—The files are nearly complete and the gift is a truly valuable one.

DIED,—At Jamaica Plains, Sept. 28, Capt. John Babier, 55 years of age.—Capt. B. was a native of Marblehead, and was an officer in the U. S. Navy for nearly forty years, but resigned his commission as Commander a few years since. He was taken prisoner in the U. S. brig Siren by the British in the war of 1812, and incarcerated in Dartmoor prison. He performed much active service in early life.

☞ At New York on Monday evening, there was a terrible riot at an Italian lager beer saloon on 5th Avenue, between 50 Italian organ grinders and a party of Irishmen. Pistols and knives were used freely. One Irishman was killed instantly, two others mortally wounded, and others severely injured.

LIQUOR CASES IN NORFOLK COUNTY.—In the Norfolk county Court of Common Pleas, on Saturday, Catherine Farrell and Patrick O'Flaherty of Roxbury, Samuel Lyons of Canton, John Huber and Conrad Krell of Dedham were severally convicted of selling liquor.

☞ Lola Montez has offered to lecture in behalf of the Church of the Good Shepherd in New York, recently destroyed by fire, and Rev. Ralph Hoyt, the rector, accepts the proposition.

Since Saturday night, four buildings near the Quarantine, Staten Island, have been set on fire and burned. They had been occupied by fever patients. One man has been arrested on suspicion.

The trial of Judge Russell for inciting a riot at the Academy of Music, has been postponed two weeks, at New York.

BURNING OF THE AUSTRIA.

The following particulars have been given by the survivors of the Austria disaster, who have just arrived at Quebec:

The pump in connection with the fire engine was not in working order. Some attempts were made to render it available, but the progress of the flames was too rapid. The life-boats were hanging amidships, consequently it was impossible to get at all at them. One was lowered, crowded with people, but was seized by those already in the water, capsized and swamped. Another took so long in lowering that the people in it sprang into the sea to escape the flames. Near the forecastle, ropes were made fast to the chains outside, and to these numbers clung, but as the flames progressed, one by one gave way and found a watery grave.

On the bowsprit the passengers were laid out, tier upon tier, piled on top of one another, some times four deep. This was the last resource, and from this they were finally driven, till only one man remained seated on the extreme end. Eighteen persons got hold of the chain forming the bowsprit stay, and clung to it until 4 o'clock the following morning. A seaman clambered from the stay to the bowsprit, and found there was a probability of extinguishing what fire was there, and accordingly gave directions to those clinging to the stay to dip portions of their clothing into the sea and pass them up to him. This was done, and the fire was so far subdued as to render the bowsprit a place of comparative safety. They remained till the boats from the Catarina picked them off.

The following statement is by Andrew Lindstein, a Swedish passenger:—

"About two P. M. 13th September, when the fire broke out, I was standing on the deck, about midships. I saw the flames coming up through the windward hatch, three or four feet high. On running forward I perceived the flames breaking through the fore hatches. At that time I saw the captain rushing up on the deck. I saw him take his coat off and run to the side of the vessel as if going to jump overboard. Mr. Sweensea, a Swede, seized him by the arm, and pulled him back from the rigging, and asked him what he was going to do. The captain answered to the effect that he did not know what he was about. The captain then ran aft and I lost sight of him, being on the fore part of the vessel, among the great bulk of the passengers.

I saw the fire increased rapidly, and threatened us in an awful manner. The passengers were so closely pressed that they were pushing one another overboard. I managed to get as far as the fore rigging, and catching hold of a rope, made it fast to an eye-bolt. With this rope I made a sling, so as to be able to sit in it about two feet from the water. I succeeded in doing this about ten minutes after the fire had broken out. While in this position, and about three quarters of an hour after the fire broken out, I saw the fore and main masts go overboard on the starboard side, on which I was sitting.—I was in great danger of being knocked off by the yard, which was hanging on the side of the vessel, and fell into the sea only when the rigging was burnt.

Looking round to see if anything was floating which I could lay hold of, I observed the lower end of the mainmast sticking about two feet out of the water. The rigging of the top end must have got entangled in the screw. I let myself down, and swam to take hold of this. I got on top of it, and thus succeeded in keeping afloat. I saw three persons hanging to the side of the vessel by ropes; I threw a piece of rope to one of them, who proved to be the cook, pulled him to me, and helped him up alongside of me, where we remained the whole night. We saw a number of bodies floating around us during the night. Till dusk the screw moved slowly around whenever the steamer lifted the stern. To prevent myself from being burned, I was obliged to take off my coat and soak it in the sea, and put it on my side. I burned my shoulder once, not being able to protect that part of my body. I still suffer from numerous burns.

When the fire broke out I observed two vessels in the distance; one of them a French bark, hove to within about a mile of the burning steamer about 5 P. M., and sent two boats toward her, but neither of the boats came nearer than hailing distance to the steamer. I saw them picking up persons floating about. They kept on the windward side of the steamer; saw them only occasionally when the steamer swung round. They were so employed till dark, and then returned to the bark. I perceived a light hoisted to her mast till about 10 o'clock. I think I saw the same vessel in the morning about 2 o'clock.

On the 14th I saw a ship close to the wreck, which proved to be the Catarina. The ship having to make a tack to windward of the steamer, it was about daybreak when the Captain of the Catarina sent his longboat to pick us up. Eighteen were found on the bowsprit, three, including myself, in the water at the vessel's side, and one aft on the railing of the steamer. A young girl, along with her brother, had remained all night on the bowsprit, hanging on by the rigging. We were all picked up by the Catarina in half an hour. I was the last but one picked up, and do not believe I could have held on much longer, as I was getting exhausted, and the sea becoming rougher, though, indeed, it had broken over us all the time.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—Mr. Coolidge, late a minister of the Unitarian church, having applied for ordination in the Episcopal church—six months will necessarily be spent in preparatory study, at the end of which time no doubt he will take charge of some society of that denomination in the vicinity of Boston.

A meeting of the Plymouth Church in Brooklyn, was held on Monday evening of last week to take into consideration the subject of providing extended accommodations for those who attend the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's preaching. It is believed the movement will result in the building of a new edifice, capable of seating five or six thousand persons. Mr. Beecher was present at the meeting, and made a characteristic speech, from which we make this extract:—

"A question which has been propounded to me several times is this—What will you do with the house if you should die or go away? I am forty-five years of age now, and I am sound in body, whatever I may be in mind, [laughter], and reckoning the chances of life, according to assurance tables, I have a very fair chance to be fifty five or sixty years old. There are at least as many chances in favor of that as you have for a financial operation in which you would see fit to engage. Of course there are risks, but such are the chances. And the next ten years of my life will probably be the best—at least so far as efficient work is concerned. I shall probably never see such another ten years, if God preserves my life and health. Now, in the next ten years, if I preach to 6000 people every Sabbath, I shall preach as much as in twenty years, to 3000 people, as I do now. I should do twenty years' preaching in ten years, with only the same amount of labor as now. It may make great difference whether I could, in the next ten years, preach twenty years' worth, or only ten years' worth. And if, after ten years' preaching to 6000 people, you put the torch to the building and burn it to the ground, to me it would have been worth all it cost."

FUGITIVE SLAVE IN NEW LONDON—The Slave Free.—We understand there was a sudden and stirring breeze of excitement in New London yesterday. A coasting vessel, owned in New London or Groton, arrived in port with a fugitive slave on board—said slave having smuggled himself with a jug of water and a ham on board the schooner, as she lay at the wharf of one of the North Carolina ports. He continued to "lie low and keep dark" until the vessel was far on her voyage home. The Captain could not, of course, afford to put back all the way to North Carolina for the purpose of restoring the fugacious chattel. He did the next best thing, however; he arrested the runaway, not by the process of law, but upon his own responsibility, conducted him to the Custom house and delivered him into the charge and safe keeping of Collector Mather, to be sent on board the revenue cutter. News of what had been done soon got into the street.

State Attorney Willey was forthwith impressed into drawing up a writ of habeas corpus to be used if occasion required, while Judge Brandegee and Dr. Miner started for the Custom house. They found the Customs Collector and his sable companion sitting very quietly and peaceably together in improving social converse. The Judge asked the Collector if he held the colored gentleman by any legal authority? The Collector said, No. The Doctor asked the darkey if he desired to go back to old North Carolina? The darkey said, No. Then cut and run, said the Doctor. And cut he did, drawing a beeline for Canada. The last heard from him he was going at a 2.40 pace through the neighboring town of Salem. Meanwhile Collector Mather, by way of saving the Union and his collectorship, got out a handbill, offering a reward of $50 for the apprehension and return of the ungrateful chattel. We have not heard that there was found any hound in New London mean enough to follow on the fugitive's track, even for fifty pieces of silver.—Norwich, (Conn.) Courier, Oct. 2.

TAKING A SHOWER BATH. — Doctor — "Well, how did your wife manage that shower bath, deacon?"

Deacon—"She had real good luck.—Madame Moody told her how she managed. She said she had a large oil silk cap, with a cape to it, like a fireman's, that came all over her shoulders, and—"

Doctor—"She's a fool for her pains; that is not the way."

Deacon—"So my wife thought—"

Doctor—"Your wife did nothing of the sort, I hope?"

"Deacon—"Oh, no, Doctor, she used an umbrella."

Doctor—"What? used an umbrella! Zounds! what good did the shower bath do her?"

Deacon—"She said she felt better. Her clothes wasn't wet a mite. She sat under the umbrella for half an hour, till all the water had trickled off, and said 'twas cool and delightful, and like a little shower in the summer."

DOUBLE ELOPEMENT.—Two hired men, brothers, named Lewis, employed on the farm of a Mr. Lloyd, near Cleveland, eloped on Monday night with his two daughters, aged twenty and sixteen.—They went to Cleveland, where one was married, but the other deferred the ceremony for a day. The father came in pursuit, and took home the unmarried one, but could not interfere with the other. The two girls are said to be splendid looking, fashionably and richly dressed. They are both well educated, having enjoyed superior advantages in this respect. The Lewis brothers are uncouth, uneducated and overgrown specimens of humanity, and can neither read nor write.

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—The fishing schooner Bloomer, of Gloucester, Mass., has arrived here. She was struck by lightning on Friday; had foremast split, and sustained other damage. One man was killed.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—Louisville, Oct. 4.—The cars on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad ran off the track near Huntersville, on Saturday. Several persons were wounded, but none fatally.

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—The train from Philadelphia, due here this morning, ran over a horse at Perryville, throwing the baggage car off the track. Peter McGirk, baggage master, was killed, and a man named Jarman severely hurt. No passengers were injured.

THE WAY TO HAVE FRESH TOMATOES WITHOUT SELF-SEALING CANS.—Some afternoon when you think everything will be killed with frost at night, pull up your vines that are loaded with green tomatoes, and hang them in the cellar; they will ripen off finely. I took some from my cellar last Christmas day, that were very nice.—N. E. Farmer.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, and having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which become diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorers of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians in the cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from the distressing symptoms which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints at forty-eight cents per bottle, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is IMPORTED.

☞ The Concert by the New England Trio Club, on Monday evening, was more than good—much of it was first-rate; and with a few additions and improvements, it would have been the best entertainment we have had for a long while—as indeed it was, as it was. Most of the pieces were sung, and finely sung, without accompaniment—which, if good, is really half of any such concert. The trio is a capital one, and with more experience and training, would be hard to excel.

The fact that the few concerts we have, are so thinly attended, must be rather discouraging to the givers—and we think speaks not well for the taste of our citizens. If half the money wasted on tobacco, liquors, &c., were spent in music, we might have a first-class concert every night.

☞ The State Fair commences at Dover to-day. You can go by the common road, over the Ferry; by steamboat, from this city; or by railroad. See advs.

☞ We are informed that "Gov. Langdon" Engine Company No. 3—and not "Laconia"—is to receive the Manchester "Merrimack" here, on Friday.

LAUNCH.—A fine white-oak ship of about 1000 tons will be launched from the yard of George Raynes & Son, on Thursday at one o'clock. She is owned by J. M. Tredick and others of this city, and is called "Como." We understand she will be commanded by Capt. Cobb of Exeter.

☞ Mr. Tuck, the deaf man, paid his annual visit to Uncle Toby yesterday, and sold him a Christian Almanac; and he will make similar calls elsewhere, maugre the pedlar law, of which he is probably in no danger.

☞ The Com. of the Ladies' Charitable Society will meet at the house of the City Missionary, on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

LETTER TO THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY, communicating data for the position, and directions for clearing a dangerous rock off the entrance to Portsmouth, N.H., developed by the examination of Lieut. Com'g Alex'r Murray, U. S. N., Assistant in the Coast Survey:

COAST SURVEY STATION,
Beddington, Me., Sept. 10, 1858.

SIR: I have the honor to report the finding of a dangerous rock off the entrance to the harbor of Portsmouth, N. H., with as little as six and a half feet of water on it at mean low tide. The rock is a part of Triangle Ledge, and was found on the 9th of August, by Lieut. Com'g Alex'r Murray, U. S. N., Assistant in the Coast Survey, in the surveying steamer Bibb, that vessel striking with violence on it, as its position was not laid down on any known chart of the locality.

Lieut. Com'g Murray has furnished the following data for the geographical position of this danger to the navigation of the vicinity of the entrance to Portsmouth:

"The monument on York Ledge bears north 29 15 east, distance 1 3-4 nautical mile."

"The light on Whale's Back bears south 78 west, distance 4 nautical miles."

"Boon island is 6 1-2 nautical miles distant, and with Whale's Back on range, will nearly include the rock, it being 6 30 to the southward."

The report of Lieut. Com'g Murray contains also the following direction for clearing the rock:

"After doubling the bell buoy off Boon island, vessels should keep the Whale's Back open to the northward at least two points, until they pass the monument on York Ledge.

"The rock has 6 1-2 feet water at mean low tide, and within a ship's length, 7 and 11 fathoms. It should be buoyed."

I would respectfully request the transmission of a copy of this communication to the Light-house Board, and authority to publish it from the Coast Survey Office, in the usual form as a notice to mariners.

Very respectfully, yours,
A. D. BACHE,
Supt. U. S. Coast Survey.
Hon. HOWELL COBB,
Sec'y of the Treasury.

☞ We have refused more than one solicitation to dispose of part or the whole of our business—but at last have concluded to sell out the Chronicle to the stove dealers. Stevens occupies a column or two; Blaisdell is a little more moderate; Carleton always uses us as a medium; and now Frank Jones monopolises the whole of our fourth page. If everybody don't hear that the Magee stove is a great institution—what is the use of having eyes and ears?

☞ To accommodate those desirous of attending the State Fair at Dover, trains will be run by the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, Oct. 6th, 7th and 8th, as follows:—

Leave Portsmouth at 8 15 and 10 50 A. M., and 4 20 P. M. Returning—leave Newmarket Junction at 9 40 A. M. and 6 20 P. M. Fare to Dover and back 70 cts.

Leave Concord as 7 15 and 10 45 A.M., and 4 P. M. Returning—leave Junction at 12 15, 5 20 and 6 10. Fare both ways $1.60.

☞ "Potatoes don't grow small" in Newington—at least, not all of them.—Mr. Oliver Edgerly has sent us half-a-dozen potatoes which would rejoice the soul of an Irishman. He calls them Kentucky seedlings, and says the yield of eighteen hills is a bushel, on the average. They resemble the long red variety, but are of lighter color and less watery-looking.

MARRIED,

GOOD STORY SPOILED.

Messrs. Editors.—I was greatly pleased with a little story which you copied from the Dover Gazette, about an indomitable Democrat in Eliot, Mr. Nason, who had his shoulder broken by the kick of a gun on election day, but who, with wonderful "good pluck," went and voted before he got the bone set, lest he should lose his vote!

This I call a capital story, and it would be capital "pluck" too, if it were "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."—But it happens to be true, not only that the man voted before his shoulder was set,—but also true that he voted before it was broken! In other words, he carried a democratic ticket on one day, and broke his shoulder the next day,—and then, without loss of time, got a republican surgeon to set the limb, which was done in good shape. This takes the romance all out of it. ELIOT.

☞ The steamships Hammond and Nova Scotia, bring English dates to Sept. 22d. Mr. Varley, the Electrician of the European end of the cable, seems as much in the dark as the man this side the water. Corn is a little lower in London; cotton active, with a fraction advance. Political news of no importance.

"The people of Kansas have decided to remain a Territory," say the Pro-Slavery journals. Indeed! Well, Sirs, what did you mean by attempting to force them into the Union as a Slave State without allowing them an opportunity to say whether they wanted to come in or not? You tried to force Lecompton through Congress—did force it through the Senate—on the assumption that there was no serious difference among them except on the question of slavery. Now you eat all that, and pretend that they were divided on the policy of coming at once into the Union. Do you believe this yourselves?—NY. Tribune.

ARREST OF GAMBLERS.—About two o'clock, Sunday morning, the night police at Old Cambridge made a descent upon a notorious tippling shop called the "Rifle," and arrested eight persons who were engaged in shaking props. The party were all more or less under the influence of liquor, some of them having fallen down intoxicated in front of the bar. They were taken to the lock-up, but subsequently released on bail.

YELLOW FEVER RECORD.—Savannah, Oct. 4.—There were no deaths from fever to-day.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE,
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of an kind; and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. W. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 19, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
333 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES.—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel; also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALBERSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON.
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1858.

SIR—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, Esq.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect, I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. CONURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds,—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

D. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most if kinds of stoves within the last seven years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS B. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better equipped with wonderful less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN F. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

A. W. & J. W. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. S. S. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

MAGEE'S
PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.
FOR WARMING & VENTILATING
Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES,

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

[From the Boston Journal.]

THE AMERICA, SEVENTY-FOUR.

On the 9th of November, 1776, the American Congress ordered the building or purchase of three ships of seventy-four guns, five of thirty-six, one of eighteen, and one packet. Under this order the keel of the America was laid soon after at Portsmouth, N. H. The exact date of the event I have been unable to ascertain, not possessing a copy of the local newspaper of the time, which doubtless recorded an act so important in the history of the town. Most of the popular accounts make the America the first two-decked ship ever built within the limits of the United States; but there is reason to suppose the English caused several small vessels of two decks to be constructed in the American colonies, previous to the war of the Revolution; and it seems probable that the Falkland, a fourth-rate, launched on the Piscataqua in 1690, is entitled to that honor.

With greater accuracy it may be stated that the America was, in her time, the heaviest ship that had ever been laid down on the continent for which she was named, as she was, also, the first ship of her class ever built by the Confederated Colonies after their rupture with the mother country; and, moreover, the only one of the three seventy-fours authorized that was built or even begun upon. How fast the work progressed upon her, there is no means of ascertaining; probably, for want of funds and lack of material, but slowly. A year and a half after she was authorized, on the 29th of May, 1778, we find the Marine Committee reporting: "That they have conversed with Capt. Landais, an experienced sea officer, and skilled in the construction of ships-of-war, and that he has demonstrated to their satisfaction that the seventy-four gun ship, now on the stocks at Portsmouth, N. H., may be more profitably for the public constructed a two decker, carrying twenty-eight twenty-four pounders on the lower battery, and twenty-eight eighteen pounders on the upper deck — in the whole fifty-six guns."—Whereupon a resolve was introduced to that effect.

The same resolve assigns the name of "The Alliance" to the new frigate lately launched at Salisbury, Mass., of which Landais was afterwards the commander. Landais's suggestion appears not, however, to have been adopted, and we learn nothing more about the ship until the 23d of June, 1779, when it was resolved in Congress "that Robert Morris should be authorized to take measures for speedily launching and equipping for sea the America, then on the stocks at Portsmouth, N. H.;" and on the 26th John Paul Jones was unanimously selected to command her.

Jones, it is stated, proceeded to Portsmouth about the end of August, and found the America—instead of being ready to be launched, as he had supposed—was not half built; and there was neither timber, iron, nor any other material for finishing her. Money would not have procured the necessary articles of equipment and men before winter; but money was wanting; for the Navy Board at Boston had otherwise applied the funds which the Minister of Finance had destined for the America, and he found it impossible to make the necessary advances. The business was, however, begun immediately, and some progress made in construction before winter. It was a service not suited to his impatient temper, and Jones says that the task of inspecting her construction was "the most lingering and disagreeable service he was charged with during the period of the Revolution."

As soon as the enemy had advice that there was a prospect of the America's being finished, various schemes were suggested for her destruction, intelligence of which was sent in cypher to Portsmouth by the Minister of Marine. Jones applied to the government of New Hampshire for a guard to protect the vessel, and the assembly voted to comply with his demand. None was, however, furnished, and on a second alarm, sent by General Washington, the master builder, Mr. Hackett, and his associate, were prevailed on to mount guard with a party of carpenters by night. For some time Jones paid this guard himself, and took command of it in turn with the master builders. Large whale boats with muffled oars came into the river, full of men, and passed and re-passed the America at night, without daring to land.

When the birth of the Dauphin of France was officially communicated to Congress, in the summer of 1782, several of the States celebrated the event with public rejoicings, and Jones seized the opportunity to "testify the pleasure and gratitude"—as he expressed it—"which he really felt." At his private expense he had artillery mounted on board the America. She was decorated with the flags of different nations, displaying in front the French; fired salutes as often as the forts, and thirteen royal salutes at a toast drank at a public entertainment, and afterwards continued a feu de joie until midnight.—When it became dark the vessel was brilliantly illuminated and displayed fireworks, which had a very fine effect, for it was a very dark night. All the inhabitants of the town and vicinity were assembled on the banks of the river, and testified their admiration by every show of applause. On the anniversary of our independence the same year, Jones, who was fond of show, made a similar rejoicing.

Capt. Jones did not approve nor follow the plan that had been proposed by Landais for finishing the upper works of the America, and gives the following description of her as completed. It had been intended to make the waist shallow, with narrow gangways; the quarter deck and forecastle to be short, with a large stern gallery. Instead of this, the quarter deck was made to project four feet below the main-mast. The forecastle was also long, the waist deep, and the gangways broad and of equal height with the quarter deck and forecastle. There was just room for the boats between the gangways. A breastwork pierced with gun ports, but of suitable height for musketry, and of the same strength and nature as the sides of the ship, ran all round the quarter deck, gangway and forecastle, so that all the cannon on the quarter deck and forecastle could have been fought on one side—an advantage possessed by no other ship of her time. Above this breastwork the poop deck stood on pillars eighteen inches long, and projected eight feet before the mizzen mast. Round the poop deck a folding breastwork was made of light materials, and of a strength to resist grape shot; it was made to fold down on the deck, and could be raised again in a minute, so that it was impossible to perceive that the America had a poop at the distance of a quarter of a mile.

There were only single quarter galleries, and no stern gallery; and both stern and bow were made very strong, so that the men at quarters might everywhere be under good cover. The plan projected for the sculpture expressed dignity and simplicity. The head was a female figure, crowned with laurels. The right arm was raised, with forefinger pointing to Heaven, as appealing to that high tribunal for the justice of the American cause. On the left arm was a buckler with a blue ground and thirteen silver stars. The legs and feet of the figure were covered here and there with wreaths of smoke, to represent the dangers and difficulties of war. On the stern, under the windows of the great cabin, appeared two large figures in bas relief, representing tyranny and oppression, with the cap of liberty on a pole above their heads. On the back part of the starboard quarter gallery was a large figure of Mars. Over the window of the great cabin, on the highest part of the stern, was a large medallion, on which was a figure representing wisdom surrounded by danger, with the bird of Athena over her head. The danger surrounding wisdom was probably emblematically expressed by flashes of lightning.

The America was fifty feet six inches in extreme breadth, and measured a hundred and eighty-two feet six inches on the upper gun deck. Yet this ship, though the largest of seventy-four guns in the world, had, when her lower battery was sunk, the air of a delicate frigate, and no person, at the distance of a mile, could have imagined she had a second battery.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1858.

DOCTOR FRANKLIN.

Theodore Parker's society have got up a course of lectures in Boston, of which Mr. Parker delivered the first, and Rev. T. S. King is to deliver the second. Mr. Parker lectured on Franklin. He says:—

The last scene of all, is that of Franklin making ready to die. The great philosopher and statesman has done with science and politics, having accomplished the great things before recounted, but now he remembers there are 600,000 men in America subjected to worse than privateering—to slavery. In 1787 he organized a society for the abolition of slavery—the first American society, and he was its first President. In that capacity he signs a petition to Congress asking for the restoration of liberty to those unhappy men, who alone, in this land of freedom, are degraded to perpetual bondage.

This petition was the last public document he ever signed. It was presented to Congress on the 12th of February, 1790, and a storm was raised which lasted till the end of March. Mr. Jackson of Georgia defended the peculiar institution. He said the whole course of the Bible from Genesis to Revelation proved that religion was not hostile to slavery.

We are accustomed to religious arguments now from the press, from the forum, and also from the pulpit; then it was a new thing. On the 23d of March, Franklin wrote for the Federal Gazette an article advocating the enslavement of Christians and pirates, pretending to be made by the Divan of Algiers. It was nothing more than a parody on Mr. Jackson's speech. This was one of the last of the public writings of Dr. Franklin; with the exception of a letter to his sister and another to Mr. Jefferson, it was the last line that ran out from his fertile pen. It was one of his most brilliant and most ingenious works,—adroit, masterly, short, and not to be answered. It was fit to be the last thing he wrote.

Mr. Parker alluded to Dr. Franklin's religious feelings, and said that if ecclesiastical forms and ceremonies constituted religion, he was not a religious man. But if to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with God, to forgive injuries, to do to others as he would that others should do to him, to feed the hungry and clothe the naked, instruct the ignorant, to break the rod of the oppressor, to visit the fatherless and the widow in their affliction,—if this was religion, he was one of the chiefest of the apostles.

The lecturer mentioned that in some unpublished manuscripts of Franklin was lately found a small volume of prayers made by him for his own use. It is certain that Franklin repented of some early follies and sins, making the best amends in his power, and thus brought forth fruits worthy of repentance.

MILITARY TESTIMONY.—At a meeting in Alabama, some years ago, Col. Lemanousqui, for a quarter of a century an officer in the army of Napoleon Bonaparte, a model of manly vigor and bloom, said in addressing the meeting:

You see before you a man seventy years old. I have fought two hundred battles, have fourteen wounds on my body, have lived thirty days on horse flesh, with the bark of trees for my bread, snow and ice for my drink, the canopy of heaven for my covering, without stockings or shoes on my feet, and only a few rags of clothing. In the deserts of Egypt, I have marched for days with the burning sun upon my naked head; feet blistered in the scorching sand, and with eyes, nostrils and mouth filled with dust, and with a burning thirst so tormenting that I have opened the veins of my arms, and sucked my own blood! Do you ask how I survived all those horrors? I answer, that under the providence of God, I owe my preservation, my health and vigor, to this fact, that I never drank a drop of spirituous liquor in my life.

Barron Larry, chief of the medical staff of French armies, stated as a fact, that the six thousand survivors who safely returned from Egypt, were all of them men who abstained from ardent spirits.

TAR VS. WATER.—It is stated in the N. York papers as confirmatory of the folly of pouring water upon burning tar, as in the sad case of the Austria, that in the great fire which occurred in Brooklyn some years ago, it was observed that as the tar flowed out with the water into the docks, it continued to burn, so that the whole surface of the water was in a blaze for some distance. Neither the water from the engines nor the water in the harbor extinguished the flames.

☞ We have already given a very brief account of a bloody riot at an Italian lager beer saloon on Third avenue in New York, on Sunday evening,—and now we see that a search of the premises by the police proves the locality to have been the rendezvous of a gang of burglars and thieves, a large quantity of stolen goods being found there. Many such places are dens of thieves.

LETTER FROM ROXBURY.

ROXBURY, Mass., Oct. 4, 1858.

Messrs. Editors:—Like Saxe's honest fisherman, we had it convenient just now to "drop a line," and be assured that all lines dropped here fall in particularly pleasant places. In the first place the Metropolitan Horse Railroad line is a very pleasant one. It requires but a half hour's ride to be transported from the pent-up walls of a bustling city to the quiet and seclusion of the country—a transport indeed! Of all the suburban localities for which Boston is justly famous, the "Highlands" of Roxbury appear to us superior to every other for rural comfort and seclusion. As might be supposed many if not the most of Roxbury's influential citizens are business men of Boston, or those who have retired from former business there. We noticed many fine residences in the city, the most expensive of which was the property of Horatio Harris, Esq., costing the snug sum of $125,000.

From "Cedar Home," where we had the pleasure of sojourning while in the city, a good prospect was obtained of Boston and vicinity. On the hill behind the house are to be seen the remains of a fort thrown up in the Revolution when the British were in possession of Boston. The "Neck" could be easily swept by guns on this eminence.

We attended Rev. Mr. Thompson's church (Orthodox) throughout Sunday. The beloved pastor preached in the morning. In the afternoon the congregation were favored with a most excellent discourse from Prof. Dwight, of Yale College. Prof. D. is a grandson of the well known Timothy Dwight, of New Haven. Two young men who were whispering in the gallery, regardless of time and place, were promptly silenced by the pastor in the midst of Prof. Dwight's sermon. If all disturbers of the church service were thus justly corrected, many would blush who pride themselves on their good breeding.

The Boston and Roxbury horse railroad is a paying concern. The cars are always crowded, and business increases yearly. There is considerable opposition against the running of cars on the Sabbath. It accommodates few church goers. The principal patrons are those who agree with the N. Y. Herald doctrine of walking in the country on Sundays. However commendable this may be in theory, and however agreeable it may be to the exertions of the lovers of horticulture to study their favorite art, it is still quite inconvenient for the good people of the town to stay at home and watch their fruit trees. It is really wrong that strollers should thus be invited to come out en masse from Boston to the annoyance of those who have more regard for the day.

It will not be a long while before Roxbury will be annexed to Boston. A small part of the present city, it is thought, will be joined with West Roxbury and be known as the city of Roxbury. We understand that there is not at present a tippling shop in the city—a fact which is certainly commendable in a city of twenty thousand inhabitants.

Very truly yours, THORNTON.

☞ We publish the following item, at the request of a good Democrat—who says that as the Chronicle is "independent," of course we can "let both sides be heard."

DEMOCRATIC GAINS.—Democracy is rapidly recovering from its reverses of the Fremont Presidential campaign, and in every State where an election has been held this year, has made remarkable gains. If any one doubts, the annexed figures will speak for themselves. In two years the Democrats have gained 80,000 votes in eight States—of which 54,000 was made in the free States, and 24,000 in the slave States.

☞ In New York city, Capt. Rynders was hissed out of the meeting of the Metropolitan Club, on Saturday night. As he went out, the crowd shouted "Tammany is played out! Go to bed, traitor!" This is a family quarrel in their own domicil.

NEGROES GOING SOUTH.—The Chattanooga (Tennessee) Representative of the 17th ult. says: "A car load of ninety-seven Virginia and South Carolina Africans passed through this city on the evening of the 14th inst., on route for the cotton and sugar regions. The railroad arrivals show a tremendous drain of Africans from the old States to those farther South."

PROFANITY.—Getting so familiar with good words as to handle them carelessly.

It is with feelings of devout gratitude to Almighty God, says the Charleston Mercury of Sept. 28, that we announce the abatement of the epidemic. The official report of health announces only eighty-one interments from yellow fever for the past seven days. The cloud which has been overshadowing our community for so many weeks, is lifting, and will, we trust, speedily disappear.

A writer in the Genesee Farmer says that he has tried the cultivation of wheat in hills like corn, having the two hills two feet apart each way, and two or three plants to the hill. And he reports obtaining from a small plot of ground, a crop so large as to be equal to two hundred bushels to the acre. The soil is kept stirred and cultivated during the growth of the crop.

LOSS OF SLOOP GRANITE.—The sloop Granite, of Quincy, which was lost on the Great Bar at Dennis, on Saturday, was an old vessel and formerly belonged in Rockport. She was worth $600, and was commanded by Capt. Solomon Torry, of Quincy, whose body washed ashore at East Dennis. The crew consisted of four men, all of whom were drowned.

LARGE SEIZURE OF LIQUOR.—Tuesday afternoon Marshal Randall seized 31 bbls., 3 hhds., 1 pipe and 3 jugs of various kinds of liquors, from the store of Messrs. Stewart & Boothby, Green street, Portland, Me. This looks like a steady and vigorous execution of the law.

The Congregation of Sacred Rites at Rome, has by a recent decree confirmed the beatification of the venerable Jeanne de Lestonnac, Montaigne's neice, who, after being married and having 7 children, founded a religious order, and died in the odour of sanctity.

The Lane and Jenkins affray was brought before the Grand Jury at its recent session in Lawrence, K. T., and they failed to find a bill against Lane. This will probably terminate all proceedings in this case.

☞ In the Norfolk, Mass., Court of C. P., on Saturday, 10 verdicts of guilty were found in liquor cases,—and one prisoner plead guilty.

It is the desire of the Administration that Gov. Denver shall recall his resignation of the Governorship of Kansas, and of this fact he has been advised.

It is said that the Spanish government will lay a sub-marine cable from Cuba to Key West at its own expense.

U. S. Store Ship Release, Lieut. Parker, arrived at New York on the 5th inst.

IMPOSITION ON ONE OF THE AUSTRIA'S PASSENGERS.—Mr. Charles Brow, one of the passengers who escaped from the ill fated Austria, was induced by some plausible runner to go to the office of Ward & McDonald, corner of Liberty and Greenwich streets, New York, on Friday, and pay $25 to secure a ticket for California. He told the ticket agents who he was, and of his misfortune; but this did not seem to have any effect upon their mode of doing business. Subsequently he discovered they had taken some advantage of him in the bargain, and on Saturday morning he complained to the Mayor, who issued a warrant. The parties were arrested and compelled to refund the money. This circumstance will serve to enlarge Mr. Brew's police experience. It will be remembered that he was formerly inspector of police in Cork, Ireland, and is going out to Frazer River as Inspector General of Police for British Columbia.

A FIREMAN.—Look at the hero Carr of Cincinnati, who mounted the ladder and forced his way through raging flame and blinding smoke, until he bore out a mother in his arms. Again he plunged into the fiery abyss and brought a child; again another child. There is no such a hero as that man on military record. He is worth all the heroes that stormed the Malakoff. The firemen of Ohio should raise a monument to his fame. But then he did not kill anybody. He only saved a wife and two children.

It makes a great difference whether glasses are used over or under the nose. If the former, the person can see and go straight ahead—if the latter, the head is rather apt to go where it can't see at all. A glass before the eye may make a philosopher—one before the mouth will most likely make him a fool.

An intelligent countryman remarked to us a few days since, that he always considered a city merchant who was too snug or too mean to advertise incapable of giving him a good bargain, and therefore he always gave such a wide berth. Is not his conclusion a sensible one?—Bath Times.

A WEARY LIFE IT IS TO HAVE NO WORK TO DO.

Ho! ye who at the anvil toil
And strike the sounding blow,
Where from the burning iron's breast
The sparks fly to and fro,
While answering to the hammer's ring,
And fires intenser glow—
Oh, while ye feel 'tis hard to toil
And sweat the long day through,
Remember it is harder still
To have no work to do!

Ho! ye who till the stubborn soil,
Whose hard hands guide the plow,
Who bend beneath the summer sun,
With burning cheek and brow—
Ye deem the curse still clings to earth
From olden time till now—
But while ye feel 'tis hard to toil
And labor all day through,
Remember it is harder still,
To have no work to do!

Ho! ye who plow the sea's blue fields—
Who ride the restless wave,
Beneath whose gallant vessel's keel
There lies a yawning grave,
Around whose bark the wintry winds
Like fiends of fury rave—
Oh, while you feel 'tis hard to toil
And labor long hours through,
Remember it is harder still
To have no work to do!

Ho! ye upon whose fevered cheeks
The hectic glow is bright,
Whose mental toil wears out the day
And half the weary night,
Who labor for the souls of men,
Champions of truth and right—
Although ye feel your toil is hard,
Even with this glorious view,
Remember it is harder still
To have no work to do!

Ho! all who labor—all who strive—
Ye wield a lofty power:
Do with your might, do with your strength,
Fill every golden hour,
The glorious privilege to do
Is man's most noble dower—
Oh, to your birthright and yourselves,
To your own souls be true:
A weary, wretched life is theirs
Who have no work to do!

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Disgurons is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased and prevents them from passing out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, SEDICULTE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing complaints which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS IS genuine.

ANECDOTE OF DR. WEBSTER, A SCOTCH MINISTER.—In 1774, Dr. Webster was a popular preacher of the Kirk of Scotland, in Edinburgh. Business brought him to London, and one day when passing the House of Lords, his curiosity induced him to make an effort to step in and see them. None were admitted without an order, except noblemen's servants. Webster being ignorant of the rule, requested admittance.

"What Lord do you belong to?" said the doorkeeper.

"To the Lord Jehovah," replied Webster.

"The Lord Jehovah," repeated the keeper, "I have kept here seven years, but I never heard of such a Lord: Jack," said he to his fellow keeper on the front steps, "here's a chap who says he belongs to Lord Jehovah; do you know such a Lord?"

"Never heard of him," says Jack.

"But," says Webster, (willing to keep up the illusion,) "there is such a Lord."

"Pass 'em in," said Jack, "I s'pose it's some poor Scotch Lord."

This occurred at a period when there was not one in twenty of all the manufacturing and rural districts in England, who could read the Bible or write his own name. Sabbath schools were introduced in 1783. Now the people are not only intelligent and happy, and can not only read and write, but have found out who the "Lord Jehovah" is.—Grant Thorburn.

JUST AS WELL TO DO IT IN A HURRY.—Why, you see, when my man came a courtin' me, I hadn't the least thought of what he was after—not I. Jobie came to our house one night after dark, and rapped at the door. I opened it, and sure enough there stood Jobie right before my face and eyes. "Come in," sez I, "and take a cheer." "No, Lizzie," sez he, "I've cum on an arrant, and I always do my arrants fust." "But you had better come in and take a cheer, Mr. W——." "No, I can't. The fact is, Lizzie, I've come on this courtin' business. My wife's been dead these three weeks, and everything's going to rack an' ruin right straight along. Now, Lizzie, ef you've a mind to hev me, an' take care of my house an' my children an' my things, tell me, an' I'll come in an' take a cheer; if not, I'll get some one else tu." Why, I was skeered, and sed, "if you come on this courtin' business, come in; I must think on't a little." "No, I can't sit still till I know. That's my arrant—an' I can't sit down till my arrant's done." "I should like to think on't a day or two." "No, you needn't, Lizzie." "Well, Jobie, if I must, I must—so here's to you then." So Mr. W—— came in. Then he went after the Square, an' he married us right off, an' I went home with Jobie that very night. I tell you what it is, these long courtin's don't amount to nothing at all. Just as well to do it in a hurry.

FIRES IN NEW YORK—THE CRYSTAL PALACE BURNED.—New York, Oct. 5.—This afternoon a fire broke out in a stable in West Thirty-fifth street, and soon destroyed it. The flames then communicated to five frame buildings adjoining, all of which were entirely destroyed. Loss estimated at $8000; insured $3000. Supposed caused by a child playing with matches.

The Crystal Palace, with all its contents, was entirely destroyed by fire this afternoon. The Fair of the American Institute was being held there at the time.—A large amount of property was destroyed, consisting of mechanical and agricultural implements, melodeons, pianos, steam engines, and other kinds of goods that were on exhibition.

The fire broke out in the lumber room, which was filled with empty boxes and a large quantity of old lumber, and is believed to have been incendiary. When it was first discovered the Palace engine was brought out, but the hose was so full of holes as to be useless. The flames spread with astonishing rapidity, creating intense excitement among the visitors, of whom it is estimated upwards of 2000 were present. It is feared many were killed. One dead body has been taken out. The heat was so intense that the firemen's services were of no avail, and the whole building is in ruins. Very little of its contents were saved. Two only of the many fire engines on exhibition, were got out uninjured.

The building was crowded with articles on exhibition, of every possible description, and it is impossible to estimate the loss with any degree of accuracy. The building itself was estimated at $250,000. The contents must have been worth double that sum.

Later accounts say the dome fell in 15 minutes from the first cry of fire. Loss $1,500,000. Many persons in New England are losers. We are happy to say no life was lost, as stated above.

There is no doubt the fire was incendiary. A strong smell of camphene was detected in the building when the fire commenced. Previous to the fire a boy was seen dodging about between the Palace door on 42d street and a liquor shop opposite. Just before the alarm was given three boys were seen hurrying away from the 42d street entrance, and running at rapid speed down the street. The supposition is that rags or other materials were saturated with camphene, lighted, and thrown into the lumber room.

SIMULTANEOUS DEATH OF BROTHERS.—The South Reading Gazette of Saturday says:

Died, in South Reading, of typhoid fever, on last Sunday morning, Stephen Putney, aged 24 years. On Monday morning, Jonathan Putney, brother of Stephen, aged 36 years. The latter had been sick for several months, and his sufferings a considerable portion of the time were most severe. The disease of Stephen might, perhaps, have been caused by attendance upon, and extreme anxiety concerning his brother. They had always lived in the family together, and when they know that they must die soon, it was their expressed desire that they might die together; and they died together, and were buried together, and now rest, side by side, in the same grave!

There is a town in Michigan where the church bell is rung every day at twelve o'clock, for the people to take their quinine, as they have the ague all round.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given me entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

YOURS, &c. J. M. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
300 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDDE.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALBMSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1856.

Sir,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stove, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—SIR:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat.

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—SIR:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most all kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—SIR:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.,—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN F. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it is all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HAWTHORNE, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

MAGEE'S
PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.

FOR WARMING & VENTILATING
Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

[From the Boston Journal.]

THE AMERICA, SEVENTY-FOUR.

(Concluded.)

But Jones was not destined to command this beautiful ship, whose construction he had watched and guarded. At the close of summer of 1782, the Magnifique, a seventy-four gun ship belonging to the French Squadron, under the Marquis de Vandreuil, was lost by accident in the harbor of Boston. Policy, and perhaps equity, rendered it expedient for Congress to present to France this solitary ship-of-the-line, and a resolution to that effect was passed on the 3d of September. Other motives may have had their weight in making this disposition of the America. Thus passed out of their hands the only ship-of-the-line of the American Revolution.

Mr. Morris, writing to Paul Jones the day after the passage of the resolution, says: "The inclosed resolution will show you the destination of the America. Nothing could be more pleasing to me than this disposition, excepting so far as you are affected by it. I know you so well as to be convinced that it must give you great pain, and I sincerely sympathize with you. But although you will undergo much concern at being deprived of this opportunity to reap laurels on your favorite field, yet your regard for France will, in some measure, alleviate it; and to this your good sense will naturally add the delays which must have happened in fitting the ship for sea. I must entreat you to continue your inspection until she is launched, and to urge forward the business. When that is done, if you will come hither, I will explain to you the reasons which led to this measure, and my views of employing you in the service of your country."

This resolution was the more disappointing to Jones as this was the tenth command of which he had been deprived in the course of the revolution. He continued, however, to urge forward the launch with his utmost energy. The difficulties were great. The ship was built on a very small island in the river opposite Portsmouth, belonging to the agent for supplying materials. Between the stern and the opposite shore, which was a continued rock, the distance did not exceed one hundred fathoms. From a few feet above the stern, a ledge of rocks projected two-thirds across the river, making an angle of twenty degrees with the keel; and from a small bay on the opposite shore, the flood tide continued to run with rapidity directly over this ledge, for more than an hour after it was high water by the shore. It was necessary to launch the ship exactly at high water, and to give her such a motion as would make her pass around the point of the ledges of rock without touching the opposite shore—a difficult matter. It was impossible to fix stockades in the river, on account of the current and the rocks.—This defect could only be supplied by anchors and cables. A large anchor was fixed in the ground under the bow, from which depended cables of a proper length, and ranged in a manner so as to be drawn gently after the ship when put in motion, and with various slight stoppers, at proper distances, to break one after another, so as to diminish her velocity by degrees. When everything was prepared, Jones stood on the highest part of the prow, or gangway that ascended from the ground to the brow of the ship, a position where he could see her motion, and determine by a signal the instant when it was proper to let go one or both of the anchors that hung at the bows, and slip the end of the cable that depended on the anchor fixed in the ground on the island. The operation succeeded perfectly to his wish, and to the admiration of a large assembly of spectators.

Thus was the America launched, with the flags of allied France and America displayed from the poop. After seeing her safely moored, Jones the same day (November 5, 1782) delivered her to the Chevalier de Martigne, who had commanded the "Magnifique." The next morning he set out for Philadelphia. Jones highly commended the perseverance of the master-builder, Major Hackett, who had never seen a ship-of-the-line when he drew her plan; and who had no more than twenty carpenters at work at any time while her construction was in progress, and says: "The workmanship on her was so far superior to any before seen in naval architecture, that it would only have been necessary that the Abbe Reynel should have seen the America, to have induced him to give the world a very different idea of the continent of which that elegant ship bore the name." What were her adventures and cruisings in the French navy, I do not know. Cooper, in his Naval History of the United States, asserts that she was captured by the British in Lord Howe's engagement of the 1st of June, 1794, but that appears to be a mistake. The Amerique, captured in that action, was a new ship, launched but a short time previous, and a French list of the year preceding states her as on the stocks. She was undoubtedly a successor of the ship presented by Congress eleven years before. That she was gallantly defended will appear from the following account extracted from James' sketch of that great action:

"The Bellerophon opened her broadside at a quarter before nine, and about the same time the Leviathan opened her fire upon the Amerique, bearing a Commodore's broad pendant. A close and furious engagement ensued; and in about an hour the foremast of the Amerique was shot away. At about ten minutes before noon the Trojan and Eola, as they passed to leeward of the Amerique and Leviathan, brought to on the latter's starboard quarter and opened a very heavy and annoying fire. Soon after they filled and stood to windward. The Leviathan and her opponent had in the meantime wore around together, so that the latter was now the weathermost ship. After further interchange of broadsides, the Amerique finding that several British ships, some of which had already fired at her, were fast approaching, made an attempt to haul off; but such was the shattered state of her main and mizzen masts, from the Leviathan's shot, that they both came down, the latter by the board, leaving the gallant and well defended ship a mere log in the water. The Leviathan, having effected her object, made sail to close with Lord Howe, in obedience to a signal then flying. The skill of the Amerique's crew did not equal their bravery, for the Leviathan had only her foretopsail yard shot away. Her masts, however, were much injured, and her sails and rigging a good deal cut. The Amerique kept the French colors flying until the Russell, coming up, fired two raking broadsides into her. The Amerique, in this action, was commanded by Pierre L. Herctier, and out of a complement of 720 it is stated had 134 killed and 110 wounded—nearly one-third."

In this action she is stated to have been armed with twenty-eight French thirty-six-pounders, thirty French eighteen-pounders, sixteen French eight-pounders, four French thirty-six pounder cannonades, and her tonnage is stated as 1884 tuns.

The name America is still preserved in the British navy list on a fine Razee of fifty guns.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1858.

LETTER FROM VERITAS.

KENSINGTON, Sept. 30.

Messrs. Editors—I have found myself repeating the language of the gifted Jane Taylor many times the past week :—

"I would not for a world of gold
That Nature's lovely face should tire."

There is something so majestic, so unassuming and so still, in natural scenery, that I never have attempted any description of it. Perhaps it is enjoyed all the more on this very account. I often find myself wondering, especially mornings and evenings, when the air here is literally perfumed, how any one can live in a city.

Ought there not to be more refinement, more elevated sentiment, larger and broader views of life and duty, in the country, where man is brought into direct and constant contact with the works of the creator. Why is it not so? Will some of your metaphysicians please answer.

Perhaps your readers will think me old-fashioned in quoting Jane Taylor. I wish, however, the young of the present day, especially young ladies, would read such works instead of much that they do read. It would refine their tastes and strengthen their intellects.

Do you not think there was a resemblance between her and the poet Cowper? If Miss Taylor had been as highly educated as he was, probably it would have been greater. So there seems to me a resemblance between Bryant and your native poet, Laighton. Do not let him be spoiled as Willis was.

The great event of the past week has been the County Fair at Exeter. Report says the Hall was not as well filled as formerly, that there was some grumbling among the ladies about reserved seats, and among the little folks that after their pennies were well spent they could not get in to hear the music at half price. The squibbing about the music was not very elegant, was it? If the Germania Band were really paid by private subscription I think the County bands ought to have been employed and paid out of the funds, and then they would have been able to judge of their deficiencies and improved their tastes, so that there would have been pleasant feeling and mutual benefit. But they who know more about it are better judges. To them I leave it, always wishing to see the right.

We need not trouble ourselves about Captain Townsend it seems. He is safe for this world, at least, having appeared in court wearing "lavender colored kids, and chewing cigarritos." Of course he must be somebody, none of your "poor white trash," as one of Mrs. Stowe's negroes expressed it.

If the Old Colony and Fall River railroad corporation have defrauded an honest employee, I hope Mr. Choate will make it manifest. If they take every one's yearly account, as some of the railroad corporations do, how are they to know whether Mr. Burnham has embezzled their funds or not?

It seems the Young Men's Christian Association of Exeter are to employ their funds in hiring extra preaching this winter. I hoped when I read of their organization that they would devote their chief energy to the Temperance cause. A butcher, who has ample opportunities of knowing, with whom I conversed, told me that he thought intemperance on the increase there. Perhaps when a few more deaths occur from delirium tremens they may wake up, like the people of Manchester. The community seem like a parent, who should let his children have plenty of shavings and matches to play with, and then be startled at the cry of fire. Let them put away the most fruitful source of crimes and they will cease, and not till then.—An old divine says "if reformers will but put on resolution, more may be done to break bad customs than they can imagine." And "that magistrates should prudently use the bit and bridle, that there may be no occasion for the lash." I commend both remarks to the classes for whom they were originally intended.

As to the young men of Exeter, I would advise them before they pay for more preaching (which will probably be listened to by those who hear two sermons a week) to see that those who worship nowhere are visited, and clothed if need be, and taken kindly by the hand and led to some place where they can feel at home to hear the gospel preached on the Sabbath. That they visit the jail and read or preach to its inmates, and furnish them with good reading. I am told that one has died there recently, one remains sick, and a woman with an infant was so ill as to be removed to her home on a bed. "Sick, and in prison, and ye visited me," will be addressed to the true disciples of Jesus in the day of judgment. Have any of the seven ministers in Exeter done it, have any of their people? More light is not what is wanted, but the practical application of what we have to our own and each others good.

A course of lectures on physiology, on the effects of alcohol and tobacco on the human system, by a master workman, might do good. If people knew how "wonderfully and fearfully they were made," they would respect themselves more, and self-respect is a great promoter of virtue and temperance. There is too much of the spirit of Cain when he said "Am I my brother's keeper?" manifest among Christians. If they can hear a favorite minister preach their favorite creed twice on the Sabbath they seem to think their work done, and their duty fulfilled. Individual labor and individual responsibility is wanted. Sincerity and earnestness can do great things. It is said of Dr. Beecher, Sen., that he worked on his farm, (carrying a pencil and paper in his hat) until Friday, when he entered his study and arranged his sermons, giving himself some recreation on Saturday to be able to preach with better effect next day. Nearly every member of his parish was a member of his church, and his influence was felt beyond his parish and beyond his town. When he went to Boston his church soon "swarmed" as he expressed it, and two others were formed out of it, and his influence there has not ceased, and probably never will. What was the secret of it? Sincerity, earnestness, and perfect devotion to his work. He did not change every second or third Sabbath, nor preach to please his hearers, but to declare God's truth and to make them better. To be sure he did it "like a workman that needed not to be ashamed"—but should not every one who has the honor of preaching Christ Jesus, the Lord, be such a workman?

Your Australian correspondent seems to speaks of there being but few American sailors in American ships as if it were strange. The laws require a ship master to make oath that two-thirds of his crew are American citizens. Probably no ship leaves any large seaport with more than one or two Americans. He is also obliged to make oath that the cargo is just what is on the ship's manifest, when he does not and in many cases cannot know anything about it except what he is told. In England they have abolished all custom house oaths. Should they not be abolished in this country, seeing they are but a farce, and must weaken the sanctity of an oath?

VERITAS.

BREADSTUFFS. — The receipts of breadstuffs from the interior are greater than the domestic demand requires, and prices are above those in foreign markets, so that there is no shipping demand. Consequent upon this, says the Boston Traveller, prices have a declining tendency, and this must continue until the price reaches a point sufficiently low to cause shippers to come forward or else the supplies diminish. The arrivals are now immense and the markets on the seaboard are already well stocked. The large amount coming forward is to be attributed to the withholding their stocks last fall by the farmers, on account of the momentary panic, and the low prices of the spring, which led them to still retain their stocks in anticipation of a better market in the autumn.

☞ The steamship Canada, arrived at Halifax, has Liverpool and London dates to Sept. 25, three days later :

Cotton had advanced 1-16 a 1-8d per lb. with moderate sales.

Breadstuffs and Provisions were dull.

The details of the treaty between France and China had been published, from which it appears that France obtains indemnity to the amount of $15,000,000 francs.

TWO YOUNG MEN DROWNED AT KENNEBUNKPORT.—Thomas Jeffery, son of Mr. Samuel Jeffery, and a son of Mr. Samuel Ward, were capsized and drowned in a five ton boat near Timber Island, off the mouth of Little River, Kennebunkport, in a squall during the high wind of Monday afternoon.

DELAWARE ELECTION. — Wilmington, Del., Oct. 6.—The complete returns have been received from the election held yesterday. The Democrats have carried the State by 750 majority.

☞ The U. S. Circuit Court, at Portland, Me., are trying Capt. John A. Holmes of the ship Therese, for murdering Geo. W. Chadwick, a seaman, on board his vessel. The testimony shows Holmes to be worse than a brute; and it is supposed that the only dodge that can save him is the plea of insanity, which his lawyer is to set up. It is no wonder that some seamen turn pirates.

THE STATE FAIR.

[This letter should have been published Thursday morning, but the little steamer did not get down till midnight of Wednesday.]

DOVER, Oct. 6, 1858.

The State Fair opens here to day, and the road from the city to the Trotting Park where it is held is thronged with vehicles of every description. The entries are about complete, but the Fair will not be in full operation until Thursday. Should the present fair weather continue the Fair cannot but be a success pecuniarily.

On the grounds we notice a fine team of ten yoke of cattle from Rollinsford drawing a load of pressed hay, (of that fine quality for which Rockingham Co. is noted) decorated with festoons of potatoes, squashes, and the like; an evergreen car from Durham drawn by 34 yoke of cattle, and a cart with about 20 yoke from Dover.

Among the entries : year old stud colt from Ephraim Pickering, Newington, who also enters a colt 16 mos. old weighing 800 lbs. ; Family horse, from M. Fisher, Portsmouth ; Messenger mare from Charles Hayes, Portsmouth ; Stallion, 2 years, Stephen Scammon, Stratham ; Stallion, "Rhoan Stranger," from E. T. In fruit and vegetables I have seen as good show at the Horticultural Fairs in Portsmouth. W. W. Wiggin of Dover sends a squash weighing 167 lbs. ; A. T. Meserve of West Roxbury, Mass., a French squash, 155 lbs., girth 7 feet ; Jas. Wiggin of Dover, squash weighing 117 lbs ; A. K. Warren of Portsmouth has a very extensive show of fruit, vegetables, &c., "too numerous to mention :" Mrs. J. B. Haley of your city contributes two splendid bouquets, the largest being by far the handsomest on exhibition ; Carl Meinerth of Portsmouth, Crayon Paintings ; Major Waldron's Chair is on exhibition. This chair, by the tradition of the Waldron family is the identical chair in which Maj. Richard Waldron sat when murdered by the Indians, June 27, 1689 ; it was kept in the Waldron family until 1821, when it was purchased by the late Wm. Perkins Esq. of Dover.

The music by the Northwood Cornet Band, aided by Hobbs of the Salem Bay State, is fine.

ION.

DOVER, Oct. 7.

Despite the lowry aspect, an immense concourse of people gathered at the Ground in the early part of the day; but at noon a driving rain began, which continued with but little cessation, until dark ; driving the visitors from the ground, and throwing a wet blanket over what would otherwise have proved the most successful Fair ever held under the auspices of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society.

Hardly anything was done to-day. The steam fire-engine played awhile; there was a trot of one heat; and then, just as the reaing began, the Procession (which was first on the programme for the day,) arrived at the entrance. Engine Companies "Tiger," of Dover ; "Merrimack," of Manchester ; "Laconia," of Portsmouth; and "Young America," (a remarkably fine boys' company,) of Great Falls ; with several bands of music, the town teams noticed yesterday, and a beautiful car from Exeter, formed the procession.

Leaving the Fair Ground in disgust; the dampness of the atmosphere, your correspondent was fortunate enough to secure an inside seat to the hotel. There, for hours, load after load of passengers was discharged. Crinoline was on a decline; it was difficult to tell where skirts terminated and earth began, from the assimilation of the former to the latter; flowers on bonnets wilted from application of water, very much as garden flowers do for the lack of it; new hats lost their lustre, and muddy boots were all the rage.

The night-trains out were filled, and, unless the storm is cleared up during the night, the fair may be considered as about over.

ION.

POOR MANAGEMENT.—Messrs. Editors,—I went to the Fair at Dover, on Thursday. The arrangements were all behind time, that was bad ; it began to rain and I had no umbrella, that was bad ; I had to ride in a coach with eleven others, that was bad ; had to wait in the depot at Dover, that was bad ; had to wait at Durham, that was bad ; had to stand all the way to Newmarket Junction, that was bad. All this I could bear, but what followed was rather too much.

At the Junction I was one of three or four hundred who got into the train to go Portsmouth; and this company, (who had shown punctuality enough to be at the depot in Dover before the train started, and spunk enough to get in,) were compelled to wait at the Junction about two hours, for the accommodation of about a score who neglected to come at the right time.

Some may call it culpable folly to keep so large a number (many of whom had been wet through, and all of whom were hungry and impatient,) waiting on so shallow a pretence ; but I call it the most outrageous imposition on the travelling public which has been played near here for a long while.

PATIENCE.

☞ The Sabbath School Convention at Newburyport, on Wednesday, of the "Evangelical" Sabbath Schools, was a very large assemblage, filling two churches,—and the exercises were satisfactory to those engaged in them. Over fourteen hundred delegates were accommodated with lodgings that night.

☞ The Scotch Presbyterian church at Boston, finding that it cannot sustain itself, proposes to transfer its connection from the free church of Canada to the Old School Presbyterian church of the United States. This gives that denomination a long sought opportunity to get a foot hold in Boston.

A MUSICAL CONTEST.—A novel feature of the Hillsborough County Fair, held at Milford, N. H., on Thursday, was a contest for premiums by seven brass bands.—The committee was made up, with one exception, of editors, who made the following awards :—1st premium, $30, to Manchester Cornet Band ; 2d, $25, to Nashua Band ; the Hudson Brass Band, Brookline Brass Band, Peterborough Cornet Band, were awarded equal premiums of $5. The bands played one after the other from the stand, and their performances were highly relished by a large crowd.

AN IMPORTANT VERDICT.—In the Court of Quarter Sessions, Philadelphia, William Nixon has been pronounced guilty of manslaughter for having left his horse and cart standing, unattended, in a public street, by which negligence a child was killed.

☞ We have a good letter to-day from our Kensington correspondent, Veritas,—and we have part of another,—but it lacks a leaf, which compels us to postpone it.

☞ On Wednesday, 29th ult., Rev. Sylvan Stanley Hunting was installed as pastor of the Unitarian Society in Manchester, N. H.

☞ The story that John Chinaman has cut the cable on the other side, is not generally credited in scientific circles.

PASSAGE OF THE HOURS.

The following lines are from "Heart-Music for Working People:"

Every hour that fleets so slowly,
Has its task to do or bear;
Luminous the crown and holy,
If thou set each gem with care.

Do not linger with regretting,
Or for what is past, deploring!
Nor, the daily toil forgetting,
Look too eagerly beyond.

Hours are golden links, God's token,
Reaching heaven; but, one by one,
Take thou care lest the chain be broken,
Ere the pilgrimage be done.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the nice plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its motion a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted for use to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale by the proprietors, in cases of five and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of immitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st ; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill ; S. E. Prokor, 21 Elm st. ; J. Morton, 116 Blackstone st ; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st. ; R. ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CONCORD AND PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of this Company was held in this city on Thursday. The President, Judge Minot of Concord, stated that the Report of the Directors had been printed and sent to each stockholder, and on motion of J. W. Emery Esq., it was voted to accept the Report of the Directors.

The doings of the Directors in leasing the road to the Concord Road was then ratified by an almost unanimous vote.

Some discussion was had in relation to the "iron loan," and remarks were made by Messrs. Haven, Woodbury, R. Pickering, Chas. Robinson and others, relative to the claims of the iron loan, when it was voted that the Directors be requested to speedily adjust this claim.

Messrs. W. H. Rollins, B. Hutchings and G. M. March were appointed a committee to receive, sort and count the votes for Directors, who after the balloting, reported that Messrs. Alfred W. Haven of Portsmouth, J. W. Peirce of Greenland, J. W. Emery, Horton D. Walker, of Portsmouth, and Chas. L. Frost of New York, were chosen Directors for the year ensuing.

The meeting then dissolved. We learn that Alfred W. Haven Esq. was subsequently chosen by the Directors, President of the corporation.

It will be seen that this re-instates the old direction of the P. & C. Railroad, in control of the new concern.

FROM SALT LAKE.—St. Louis, Oct. 6.—The Salt Lake mail, with dates of the 11th ult., arrived at St. Joseph 1st inst. Political matters were quiet in Utah. The California Salt Lake mail had been robbed by the Indians in Carson Valley, and Dr. Forney, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, was preparing to leave for that valley.

THE INSURANCE ON THE CRYSTAL PALACE. The insurance of $50.000 on the Crystal Palace was effected to cover losses of foreign exhibitions. The American watches exhibited by Appleton, Tracy & Co., of Waltham, were saved by Mr. Smith, who had them in charge.

ANOTHER LARGE FIRE. — The Machine and Iron Foundry of C. Werner, at Charleston, S. C., was burnt on Saturday morning, together with its contents. Insured for $30,000, which will not cover the loss.

It is not true, as stated, that the rank of Admiral is recognised by the Navy Department; but, by the regulations, flag officers who have been in commission 20 years and upwards, are authorised to hoist their flag at the fore instead of the mizzen mast, and those under that period at the mizzen as usual.

An Army Board is to assemble at the Washington Arsenal, for the purpose of examining the recent improvement in small arms.

The government has not heard from Hon. William Preston, of Ky., as to whether he accepts the mission to Spain.

☞ The Philadelphia Press says:

"It is estimated that at least sixteen hundred persons are now employed in the navy yard! Nobody pretends that they are needed there. No one doubts that hundreds are engaged only for their votes and their assistance between now and the 12th of October."

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

"There are several gentlemen in this city who knew of the interview of Forney with the President, and heard at the time versions of what transpired as stated by Col. Forney in his Tarrytown speech."

☞ An Italian named Cristolero Burno Core, is astonishing the Londoners by walking through flames for any distance. He is protected by a dress which he alone knows how to construct.

FROM HAVANA.

EXPLOSION OF A POWDER MAGAZINE.—New Orleans, Oct. 6. — The steamship Black Warrior, from Havana 2d inst., has arrived here.

A large magazine, filled with powder, shells, and rockets, exploded at Havana on the night of the 29th ult., by which 28 persons were killed outright, and 105 wounded, while many more were supposed to be under the ruins. Ninety new sugar houses were totally destroyed. The gas works were rendered perfectly useless, and the city was left in darkness. The police and troops were guarding many of the buildings that were damaged. The entire city was affected by the shock. Gen. Concha was the first official on the ground and did all in his power to aid the unfortunate. The cause of the explosion was unknown.

Sugars had declined a trifle. Stock 120,000 boxes.

A GOVERNESS WANTED.

Our governess left us, dear brother,
Last night in a strange fit of pique,
Will you kindly seek out for another?
We want her, at latest, next week:
But I'll give you a few plain credentials,
The bargain with speed to complete;
Take a pen—just set down the essentials,
And begin at the top of the sheet!

With easy and modest decision,
She ever must move, act, and speak;
She must understand French with precision,
Italian, and Latin, and Greek;
She must play the piano divinely,
Excel on the harp and the lute,
Do all sorts of needlework finely,
And make feather-flowers and wax-fruit.

She must answer all queries directly,
And all sciences well understand,
Paint in oils, sketch from nature correctly,
And write German text and short-hand;
She must sing with power, science and sweetness
Yet for concerts must not sigh at all;
She must dance with ethereal fleetness,
Yet never must go to a ball.

She must not have needy relations;
Her dress must be tasteful, yet plain;
Her discourse must abound in quotations;
Her memory all dates must retain;
She must point out each authors chief beauties;
She must manage dull natures with skill;
Her pleasure must lie in her duties;
She must never be nervous or ill!

If she write essays, odes, themes and sonnets,
Yet be not pedantic or pert;
If she wear not traviatas, but bonnets,
If she deem it high treason to flirt;
If to mildness she add sense and spirit;
Engage her at once without fear:
I love to reward honest merit,
And I give—fifty guineas a year!"

"I accept, my good sister, your mission,
To-morrow my search I'll begin;
In all duties, in every condition,
I'll strive such a treasure to win;
And if, after years of probation,
My eyes on the wonder should rest,
I'll engage her without hesitation—
But NOT on the terms you suggest.

Of a bride I have ne'er made selection;
For my bachelor thoughts would still dwell
On an object so near to perfection,
That I blushed half my fancies to tell;
Now this list that you kindly have granted,
I'll quote and refer to through life,
But just blot out—'A Governess Wanted,'
And head it with—'Wanted a Wife!'"

Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked four cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself gave to all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poetess, Thalberg:

New York, April 19, 1855.
Dr. Wood:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN.

"Drech a'r Gwyllodyd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '53.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who requested me to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has produced a wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I cheerfully recommend Wood's Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.
CHARLES CARDEW.

New York, July 26, 1857.
Prof. O. J. Wood: Will you please send me two more bottles of your Hair Restorative as I find it the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were nearly white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.
J. G. KIRBY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.
Prof. Wood:—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative according to the directions, and perfected my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, healthy, soft, pliable, and in a healthy condition. I cheerfully recommend its use to all.
J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and sells for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the countless towns, surrounding their lives to the insidious attacks of those pretending medical men who will suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of such medical men will be referred to otherwise, by all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Perfect secrecy in every instance will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
Dr. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care and have been cured in a few days, of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, describing symptoms, and stating in all part of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, being brewed up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is strictly honorable and honest. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and information of the result of the drawing sent to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; half tickets $5; quarters $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prices vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.
WHEREAS, it is a matter of the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast falling away; and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and confiding nature of WOMEN THEREFORE, to inform whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the thousand and one troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health to return to the whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—THE FEMALE PILLS, unlike other pills, are perfectly vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, pretending to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when unsuccessful, having been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread throughout the land, for their mutual benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4631, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.
Given under my hand and seal,
C. L. CHEESEMAN, M. D.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE inventor of this Roofing, tatured many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Sheet Iron, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of its extensive use, we would call the attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and economy, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of Slate or Tin.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Assignments, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has silent reason to believe, he can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 9, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Mr. Editor :—A very remarkable gathering has filled our sister city, Newburyport. It was the MASSACHUSETTS SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The numbers first surprised me. As the car trains reached the city, long processions stretched almost from the station houses to the place of meeting. I never saw so many orderly people in motion at once, before,—a thousand men, women and children in an informal and friendly procession through the quiet streets,—no shouting, no loud voice, no disorder—was a pleasing sight.

The Old North Church, Dr. Dimmick's, was at once filled, and aisles and avenues were crowded. After the organization and brief devotional services, a discussion was opened upon the question, "What is the best method of conducting Sabbath Schools?"

Each speaker was limited to five minutes. I think a hundred persons, mostly laymen, during the meetings, gave testimony or made suggestions on that question. It was the standing question of both days and of the duplicate meetings also held. At two P. M. the City Hall received the Sabbath Schools of the city and vicinity. A singing choir of three hundred were arrayed upon a large fan-shaped stage, rising from the floor to the ceiling. It was a great sight, and when their voices rung out it was a great sound too. Rev. Mr. Banvard, Baptist, Rev. Mr. Twombly, Methodist, and Rev. Mr. Stone of Park St., Boston, in one of his inimitable speeches,—a child's song between each two addresses, made the services there.—Such a crowd as pressed and swayed up the long rear-stairs, up the huge hall, and through every part of the building, may we be farther from than from that. The Baptist Church was at the same time opened and filled. In the evening the large Federal St. Ch. was densely thronged, and the Temple street meeting house was filled,—both assemblies full of the theme—Sabbath Schools. On Thursday, at 12 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Manning of Boston offered an essay upon the qualifications of teachers, so pertinent and acceptable, that a very hearty call for it to be printed in the minutes was at once made. He went directly to another waiting assembly and repeated it. Eminent laymen from New Orleans, Philadelphia and New York were present and made addresses. Prayer and singing diversified the glowing intercourse of the sessions. What a sight! Laymen of all professions and stations, a few clergymen, and many devout women, at their own charges, assembling to get new wisdom and fervors in a great christian work! What an interest brought them, what an ardor in their blessed work they carry from such a two days' interview! The whole scene was surprising. Such numbers, such earnest enquiry, such a force of talent and religion,—claiming to be only a handmaid of the church, is truly surprising. We could readily believe the Secretary's report of about three thousand six hundred hopeful conversions in the Sabbath Schools of that State alone, the past year.

Who will gather such a Convention in this State? L. W.

Portsmouth, Thursday evening, Oct. 7.

☞ At the Newburyport Sunday School meeting, among the speakers was Father Hasson of Boston, the original Uncle Tom,—of Mrs. Stowe's Book. He said, he came with much anticipation to this meeting, for the purpose of communing with those engaged in this cause, which he regarded the greatest and noblest work in the church. He related in an affecting manner how he had been taught the truths of the Bible by his own little boy. He had never till recently attended the Sabbath School, but it now had a hold upon his affections.

The Grand Jury of Pulaski county, Virginia, made some thirty odd presentments last week, one of which, at least, is a rather rare case. Two men, one of them a Baptist preacher of the old sort, and the other a member of the same church, swapped wives, which offence being considered contrary to the good morals of the commonwealth, they were all presented.

The "old sort" of Baptists here mentioned, must be the Hard Shell Baptists, who are noted for their great devotion to rant and cant, but are entirely opposed to efforts for temperance, learning, and every improvement. They are very zealous for pure religion, as they call it,—but don't include morality.

DIVIDEND.—Ocean Steam Mills, of Newburyport, have declared a dividend of 5 per cent., payable on Monday next—the earnings of last year.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette states that considerable feeling has been excited in Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio,—the institution over which Horace Mann presides,—by the summary expulsion of several students, for their alleged connection with the publication of the Probe, a little paper in which the college authorities were satirized with but little regard to delicacy. The offenders were not only dismissed, but it is stated that their rooms were forced open and their effects thrown from the building. In retaliation one of the students caused writs to be served against Mr. Mann, and the assistant treasurer, Mr. Birch, summoning them to appear before a justice. A jury was empanelled at the request of the defendants, but owing to the absence of witnesses, the proceedings were postponed thirty days.

☞ Champney's Panorama of the Rhine was burned in the Crystal Palace at New York. The papers say, one of the heaviest losses was sustained by Messrs. E. C. Hall, Lucien Ayer, and Madison Page, who owned the celebrated panorama of the Rhine, painted by Champney. The panorama covered 30,000 feet of canvas, and was valued at $20,000. It was totally destroyed, and we understand there was not a cent of insurance upon it.

The hotel on the corner of 40th street and Sixth avenue was the stopping place of many of the exhibitors. One of them was to be married on Wednesday evening to a young lady boarder, but the fire put a stop to all marital arrangements, and as the intended bridegroom was a heavy loser, the wedding was postponed indefinitely."

☞ The Boston Evening Courier, an elegant paper, on new type, made its first appearance on Wednesday evening. It is not necessary to say it is ably conducted, coming as it does from the editors of the Morning Courier.

The Gloucester Telegraph comes to us this week in a new and beautiful dress, and much enlarged and improved. The Telegraph is always welcome, for it always has something new, which it tells with a good grace and a smiling countenance.—For more than thirty-two years it has kept on the even course of its way, till it has become an "institution" in Gloucester, and is as firm in its position as the granite foundation of Cape Ann.

SUICIDE FOR LOVE OF HOME.—The Rising Sun (Ind.) Visitor states that Mrs. Mary Montgomery, a widow aged about sixty-five, who had lived on a farm in Switzerland County, Indiana, for forty years, recently, at the solicitation of her children, sold her property, and was about to remove to Rising Sun. Her attachment to the locality where she had spent so long a time, and the excitement of removal, however, so agitated her, that in a fit of frenzy she cut her throat, and was found dead in her bed a day or two before the time fixed for her departure.

THE "FUGITIVE SLAVE MOB IN CANADA." The New York Tribune thus punctures the story of "a most atrocious and violent outrage," whereby it is stated that a Mr. R. W. Merwin of St. Louis was forcibly dispossessed of a mulatto servant boy, while in the cars at Canada :

1. Mr. R. W. Merwin is not a southern gentleman, but a northern travelling agent for a house in this city.

2. He is not the legal owner of any slave.

3. It be pretended to own this mulatto boy he must have been cheating somehow, for he has assured his employers here that he did not own him.

4. The boy was almost certainly freeborn; but, at all events, he was made free by being taken through the free States and into Canada, even if he had been a slave before.

On the whole, we strongly suspect that Mr. W. R. Merwin, will pocket the "outrage" and will not hereafter claim the boy.

☞ Daniel Kinnealy, a farmer in Jones County, Iowa, was struck with a scythe by a laborer named Pendergass, and both legs nearly severed at the thigh, and his abdomen cut through. He died instantly. Mr. Ryan, who tried to defend him, was struck in the breast by the point of the scythe, and probably fatally wounded.—The enraged people refused to deliver the murderer to any officer, and he has probably suffered the penalty of Lynch law ere this.

EXTRAVAGANCE IN HIGH LIFE IN IRELAND. The Limerick Chronicle mentions the following case of extravagance :—"A landed proprietor, who came of age two years ago, has been obliged to leave the country in consequence of his embarrassments. On attaining the age of 21, he had £50,000 in bank, which he has got rid of, and accumulated debts since to the amount of £400,000. He kept open house for high and low."

PROSCRIPTION OF LABORING MEN.—The Boston Journal says,—

We understand that about one hundred ship carpenters were discharged from the navy yard at Charlestown on Saturday last. This circumstance is not of itself unusual, for it frequently happens that the force at the navy yard is increased or diminished as the exigencies of the public service require. But there are facts connected with the discharge of these workmen which demand the attention of the public. For some time past an inquisitorial scrutiny has been prosecuted into the politics of the workmen at the navy yard. Many of them reside in Chelsea, Medford, and in towns on the South Shore, and lists have been sent to prominent Democrats in those towns, to ascertain the political proclivities of these mechanics. From the reports of those who thus consented to act as spies, a proscribed list was prepared, at the Custom House, as we have reason to believe, and nearly all the mechanics who were discharged were selected from this list. We can state as the result of careful inquiry that nearly all the workmen who were turned away were either Republicans, Americans or Douglas Democrats, and among the number were many of the best workmen in the yard.

Political proscription of mechanics and laboring men has been common, we are told, at the navy yard in Portsmouth, but has been unusual at the navy yard in Charlestown. The fiat has now gone forth that our shipwrights must bow the knee to an unjust administration and support its tyrannical policy! No ship carpenter who will not endorse the administration by voting for John T. Heard for Congress can find employment at the navy yard. No Republican or American can be taken into the service of a government which is sustained by taxing every citizen. Political proscription is thus carried to its extreme limit. The administration may by this policy secure the votes of a few workmen in the navy yard who are dependent upon their daily labor for the daily bread which supports their families, but it will lose a hundred fold more than it will gain in the indignant condemnation of every independent and manly mechanic who has a heart to sympathize with his proscribed brethren.

PROSCRIPTION.—To a complaint that workmen who are Republicans or Americans politically, are proscribed at the Charlestown Navy Yard, the Boston Post makes the following reply :

"We know nothing of the facts which the Journal has carefully collected; but the complaint amounts to just this: that when it became necessary to discharge a hundred carpenters, the Democratic master workmen preferred their political friends to their political enemies! Then the whole fact that has been arrived at is that, other things being equal, as between two equally good workmen, Democrats have the preference at the Charlestown Navy Yard! Not to give Republicans a preference, according to the Journal, is a proscription of the laboring man!"

If there was a better defence, the Post would make it. It is well understood that the superior vote for the democratic party in Eliot and Kittery, is created and preserved by management at the Navy Yard. And this, we take it, is the approved mode of popular sovereignty, alias servility, to the dictation of men as mean as can be found outside a penal colony.

☞ Schurling, a German physiologist, has been experimenting as to the amount of carbonic acid exhaled from the lungs.—A man thirty years old in repose exhaled 12 grammes of carbon per hour, in active exercise 42 grammes per hour. A tippler threw out but 7 grammes in repose and 11 in exercise. The drun ards' carbon is retained and burns up the vital organs.

DEBTS FOR LIQUOR NOT COLLECTABLE.—Michael Scanlan sued Michael Markham at Boston, to recover $75 for liquor, and the Supreme Court has given a verdict for the defendant, because the liquor was not sold in the original packages, and the sale was not legal. Scanlan, therefore, loses the liquor and the costs of prosecution.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—Joseph Gilmore, a colored musician and U. S. pensioner, aged 74 years, was found dead in his bed in Boston, Thursday evening. He was born in Lancaster, Penn., and is said to have been a servant of Gen. George Washington.

☞ Rev. Mr. Admire has been publicly horsewhipped at New Albany, Ind., by a Mr. Greene, to whose daughter the reverend gentleman had made insolent proposals. That is, he carried his Admiration a little too far.

EXPLOSION OF A PATENT COFFEE POT.—The Memphis Eagle has the following :—

"We regret to learn that the lady of Mr. W. H. Passmore was severely scalded a few days ago, by the explosion of a patent coffee pot. It seems that these utensils are made to confine the steam arising from the boiling coffee, and as Mrs. Passmore attempted to remove it from the stove, the steam forced the top off, the steam and boiling coffee rushing out and severely scalding her neck, face and arms."

☞ Huntington, the Wall street forger, now keeps the account books of Sing Sing Prison, smokes twenty cigars per day, and sleeps on a comfortable bed in the prison hospital.

IMMORTELLES.

SELECTED FOR THE CHRONICLE.

THE COMET.

Lo! from the dread immensity of space
Returning, with accelerated course,
The rushing Comet to the sun descends;
And as he sinks below the shading earth,
With awful train projected o'er the heavens,
The guilty nations tremble. —(Thomson.

FAME.

What of them is left to tell
Where they lie and how they fell?
Not a stone on their turf, nor a bone in their grave,
But they live in the Verse that immortally saves.
—(Byron.

HOPE.

Her precious pearl, in Sorrow's cup,
Unmelted at the bottom lay,
To shine again, when, all drunk up,
The bitterness should pass away.—(Moore.

MARRIAGE.

Across the threshold led,
And every tear kissed off as soon as shed,
His house she enters, there to be a Light
Shining within when all without is night;
A guardian-Angel o'er his life presiding,
Doubling his Pleasure and his Cares dividing!
—(Rogers.

THE SUN.

All the World's bravery that delights our eyes.
Is but by several liveries;
Thou the rich dye on them bestow'st,
Thy nimble Pencil paints the landscape as thou go.st.
—(Cowley.

MORNING.

The Morn is up again, the dewy Morn,
With breath all incensed, and with cheek all bloom,
Laughing the clouds away with playful scorn,
And living as if earth contained no tomb,—
And glowing into Day. —(Byron.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, after the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it by the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "one only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as all travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. COARSE SALT, the best quality for Butter and Pork, at No. 44 Market Street.
LAFAYETTE LAIGHTON

LOCAL.

☞ Merrimack Engine Co., No. 1, of Manchester, visited this city on Friday, accompanied by the Manchester Band. They were received here by the company of the Gov. Langdon, No. 3, and dined together at the City Hotel. Both the companies, in their elegant uniforms, made a fine appearance.

The two companies partook of refreshment at the house of Atlantic, No. 6, soon after the arrival of the visitors. The Merrimacks left our city for Newburyport by the half-past 5 o'clock train, previous to which they went through a series of fine evolutions under the command of W. C. Knowlton, of the Amoskeag Veterans, who has acted as their drill-master, and their perfect discipline reflected great credit on their teacher. They return to Manchester to-day.

☞ The comet has now reached its maximum splendor. On Friday evening, as viewed from our office window, the neucleus being just even withe the ridgepole of the North Church, the tail appoared the same hight as the steeple.

☞ The balloon let off from the fair at Dover, on Friday evening, was seen from this city, passing over Agamenticus, and apparently descending at Wells.—In an observation of 15 minutes, it seemed to travel as many miles.

☞ The S. J. Court adjourned over again from Friday morning to Saturday morning,—to hear the report of the Grand Jury.

☞ At a late meeting of the Trustees of the New Hampshire Missionary Society, Rev. Wm. Clark's commission as State Missionary Agent, was renewed for the present. Also Rev. Asa Mann's commission as missionary for Rockingham county. The trustees say,—

With regard to the recommendation of the Piscataqua Association, and adopted by the Society at Hampton, to employ three District Missionaries in the State, the Trustees are not prepared to take any definite action at present. As there are no destitute places in two of the districts that would contribute much, probably, unless the Missionaries could be their stated supplies, which would defeat the general purpose of the arrangement, it is believed that the measure would involve the Society in an expenditure beyond its means and hardly called for, all things considered.

But progress should be our motto, so long as there remaineth more land to be possessed. But our progress must be small without more men "full of the Holy Ghost," and more means to sustain them.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. $1 per year, in advance.

Law in Portland.—From the Argus we learn that in the Municipal Court on Wednesday, the following items of businsss were done.

Libel and monition of notice to all persons interested in the liquors seized at store kept by Thomas McDonough, returned this day, and the liquors and vessels in which they are contained, forfeited to the city of Portland, no one appearing to claim the same.

Thomas Noonan for keeping liquors for unlawful sale fined $20 and costs. Appealed.

The same Thomas Noonan, for an assault on Henry Brannegan, was ordered to recognize in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the S. J. C. to answer to said complaint, and to keep the peace in the mean time.

Mrs. Binckley, the lady who was burnt so severely, by the explosion of a fluid lamp, on Merrimack street, a few weeks ago, died Wednesday night at about 12 o'clock. No one can have an idea of the suffering she has endured, but those who have attended upon her. The flesh sloughed off from her arms, where burnt, in a frightful manner.—Manchester Mirror.

Bear Shot in Bethel, Me.—A bear was shot about a mile below Bethel Hill Tuesday evening, Oct. 5th, by Rev. Z. Thompson. His bearship was making his way to an orchard, when the reverend gentleman, being a gunsmith and a good marksman, as well as a clergyman, rather unceremoniously gave him the contents of his rifle in the rear. Two more shots settled him. He weighed 450 lbs. after being bled, making his live weight about 500 lbs. The fat was 4 inches thick on the back.—Portland Argus.

A man at New Bedford last week, selling matches and walking about on his knees, excited much compassion and picked up considerable money. One large hearted sailor gave him five dollars for a bunch of matches. He entered the cars on his knees, but left them at Taunton on his feet, walking well without a cane.—Was it a miracle?

Rev. Mr. Brooks perished in the snow on Salmon mountain in California, a year ago last February, and his bones have but just been found. A watch, a twenty-dollar gold piece and a package of tracts were found near his remains, which were not far from a house. He had perished almost in sight of shelter.

Yellow Fever.—New Orleans, Oct. 7. Str ngers should keep away from New Orleans until there is a marked abatement of the fever, of which they will be duly advised. The epidemic is now sustained by now comers. J. G. Seymour,
President of the N. O. Associated Press

The deaths in this city by the yellow fefever yesterday, were 56.

A Legacy of $495,000 to the Catholic Church. — Mr. Dermont Dempsey, supposed to be the most wealthy man in Macon, Ga., died on Sunday, 26th ult., leaving an estate of $500,000. It was found after his death that his will divided $5000 between his two children, and gave the remainder, $495,000, to the Catholic Church.

It is hardly possible that such a will should go unbroken through the courts.—The testator must have been a crazy man.

☞ The editor of the Albany Evening Journel offers those who profess to doubt Morgan's success in the present canvass an opportunity of showing how much they doubt. He says:

"To the impudent and reckless assertion, that the 'best friends of Mr. Morgan have abandoned all hope of his success,' we have this reply: We will bet $1000 on Mr. Morgan's election—the stakes ($2000) to be placed in the hands of the Hon. D. S. Dickinson, for the benefit of the State Inebriate Asylum, a very deserving charity just inaugurated at Binghampton."

Matrimony on the Fair Grounds.—A novel incident occurred at the Marshall County Fair, held at Lewisburg, Tenn., last week, which was not laid down in the programme. A couple presented themselves and were married in the amphitheatre in the presence of spectators. Though no premium was offered for such an exhibition, the parties went their way looking as if each had just obtained a prize above all price.

The Size of British Columbia.—The possessions of the Hudson Bay Company, or the continent over which they exercise control, contain an area of two million five hundred thousand square miles.—How much is that? It is fifteen and a half times larger than the State of California; about thirty-eight times as large as the State of New York; nearly twice as large as the whole thirty-one States of the Union; and if we omit the territory of Nebraska, is as large as our States and Territories combined! About one-fifth of that extent, or more than three times the size of California, is said to be fit for agricultural or grazing purposes.

Boat Picked up at Sea.—The barque Thales, from New Orleans, picked up at sea 22d ult., a boat from the ship Pelican State, of Bath, (the loss of which has been before reported,) containing Wm. Briggs, chief officer, Jas. Dennie of New York, Jas. Manogan of Bath, Jas. Rogers of New Orleans, and Edward McFarland of Roxbury, Mass., seamen, who had been sent for assistance to the Bahamas on the day previous, to get the ship off Cape Florida.

They were blown out to sea, in a leaky boat, without water or provisions, and were nearly exhausted when picked up by the Thales.

We have met a few men in this city—a very few—largely interested in business and real estate who have told us that it made no difference with them whether there was a daily paper published in the city or not! How many such public-spirited souls would it take to make the place attractive to outside capitalists and business men?—Bath Times.

Wreck on Lake Ontario—Lives Lost. Oswego, Oct. 8.—A strong gale of wind sprung up yesterday afternoon, and a heavy sea was rolling all night and this morning. The schooner Osprey, of Buffalo, with a cargo of wheat from Racine for this port, was driven against the East pier, carrying away her spars and sinking immediately. The captain's wife, child, and the mate were washed overboard and were drowned.

Mary.—A statement has been published in several newspapers, that Pope Pius Ninth has issued a "bull" forbidding Catholic parents hereafter to name their children Mary. A correspondent of the Providence Journal, whom we take to be Bishop McFarland, says that the Catholics of this country have heard of no such decree, and do not believe that any such decree has been issued.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical store in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1853.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. W. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
340 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEMON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON, Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1858.

SIR,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

S FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most all kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN F. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—DEAR SIR:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any store, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB,
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.
FOR WARMING & VENTILATING
Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

LADIES' RIOT.

On the 5th inst., seventeen women and girls, residing in a section of the town of Bradford, Ohio, known as Maxon's Mills, proceeded to an inn kept by one John Monroe; knocked at the front door; it was opened by Mrs. Monroe; they asked for Mr. Monroe; he came; they read to him a paper offering to pay him in full for his liquors, if he would sign a bond to sell no more ther after. He peremptorily refused, and ordered them away: one of their number besought him in tears to do so, refering to the sad condition his traffic had produced in her once happy and prosperous home; he turned a deaf ear to the entreaty; the ladies attempted to enter; Mr. Monroe stood on his threshold with two clubs in his hands; an elderly lady, Mrs. Lyon, approached; Mr. M. struck her with one of his clubs, hitting her arm; a daughter of Mrs. L. then spring forward, seized Mr. M. by the shoulder; he clinched her and they fell; two gentlemen, Mr. Hasseltine and Walter Hyde, came up, seized Mr. M. and held him; the ladies then proceeded to a back cellar door, found it fast and forced it open; they entered, pulled the faucets of two liquor casks, and rolled a third up out of the cellar; Mr. M. sprang astride of it; the aforesaid two men seized him again and held him; the ladies then stove in the head of the liquor cask and the liquor ran out; they turned the cask up on end and requested Mrs. W. Hyde, to get upon it and speak to them, which she did; they then retrired from the scene, and Mr. M. was released.

Mr. Monroe subsequently instituted legal proceedings against the spillers of his liquors, and last week they were brought to trial before Justice Armstrong. Williams, Patterson & Co. were attorneys for plaintiff, and I. C. Sloan and G. W. Cumming for the defendants. The case was one of considerable interest, and was conducted in the Court House to accommodate the large number of spectators.

From the evidence, it appeared that Mr. Monroe sold liquor without a license, was a hard drinking man himself, and rendered his house a pest in the neighborhood—a place for the idle, dissolute and easy tempted, to congregate and become uproarious and brutal. Young men and old of usually good dispositions and unexceptional habits were gradually being drawn into this vortex of dissipation; the Sabbath was desecrated; and the wives, mothers and daughters of the vicinity finally determined upon its summary abatement as a nuisance, if the proprietor would not discontinue the business upon a fair stipulation, which he refused to do, as before stated.

In the case two points were involved: Was Monroe's house a common nuisance? and did the action of the ladies amount to a riot in abating it? Justice Armstrong decided the latter proposition affirmatively, and held to bail in the sum of one hundred dollars apiece five of the ladies and four men, viz: Harriet Maxon and Emily A. Lyon, Marion and Helen C. Lather, and Lucy Maxon; and C. W. Hasseltine, J. F. Lyon, Walter Hyde, and Levi Steers.

The defendants refused to give bail, and were taken to jail! Think of it! five respectable ladies and four men put in a common jail at the instance of a law-breaking, besotted liquor seller!

On Tuesday last, being five days after, they were promptly discharged by Court Commissioner S. A. Hudson on a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that a complaint for riot cannot be sustained under the common law, but must be made under the statutes.—Bee, Janesville, Aug. 26.

LONGEVITY IN DIFFERENT OCCUPATIONS.—Dr. Edward Jarvis has computed the following table of longevity from the mortality reports of his state:

Classes of Occupation.	No. of persons.	Average Age at Death.	Average Age at Present.
Cultivators of the earth	8	11,741	54.02
Active mechanics abroad	11	3,375	48.24
Active mechanics in shops	52	4,431	46.56
Inactive mechanics in shops	18	4,628	41.55
Mechanics, trade not specified	1	204	43.82
Employed on the ocean	1	2,785	46.08
Laborers, &c.	6	8,372	44.63
Others labouring abroad	19	862	43.57
Professional men	40	1,382	52.56
Merchants, manufacturers, capitalists	15	4,574	43.39

The difference of longevity in the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th classes shows the effect of exercise and air upon the protraction of life, and is worthy of consideration by all in the selection of employments for themselves or for their children. The following table exhibits the average longevity in some leading occupation in Massachusetts, New York and Rhode Island:

Occupations.	Deaths.	Av. longevity.

"HOW BEAUTIFUL IS EARTH."

BY MRS. SIGOURNEY.

Oh God! how beautiful is earth,
In sunlight or in shade,
Her forests with their waving arch,
Her flowers that gem the glade.

Her hillocks, white with fleecy flocks,
Her fields with grain that glow,
Her sparkling rivers, deep and broad,
That through the valley flow.

Her crested waves that lash the shore,
And lift their anthem loud,
Her mountains, with their solemn brows,
That woo the yielding cloud.

Oh God! how beautiful is life
That thou dost lend us here,
With fixted hopes that line the cloud,
And joys that gem the tear.

With cradle-hymns of mothers young,
And tread of youthful feet,
That scarce, in their elastic bound,
Bow down the grass-flowers sweet.

With brightness round the pilgrim's staff,
Who, at the set of sun,
Beholds the golden gates thrown wide,
And all his work well done.

But if this earth, which changes mar,
This life, to death that leads,
Are made so beautiful by Him
From whom all good proceeds,

How glorious must that region be,
Where all the pure and blest,
From chance, and fear, and sorrow free,
Attain eternal rest.

WHY JUSTICE IS REPRESENTED WITH SCALES.—A lady once consulted with Dr. Johnson on the degree of turpitude to be attached to her son's robbing an orchard. "Madam," said Johnson, "it all depends upon the weight of the boy. I remember my schoolmate, David Garrick—who was always a little fellow—robbing a dozen orchards with impunity; but the very first time I climbed up an apple tree—for I was always a heavy boy—the bough broke with me, and it was called a judgment. I suppose that is why justice is represented with a pair of scales."

THE SCENES OF THE "AUSTRIA."

The terrible scenes that occurred on board and around the Austria during the recent conflagration have only been partially described. Enough, however, has been told to render the catastrophe one of the most painful and appalling that ever took place on the ocean. There are few, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, who have read the details as given by Mr. Brews, Mr. Vezin, Mr. Berry, and others of the rescued, who have not found their minds reverting again and again to the fearful incidents, and their hearts sympathizing deeply and keenly with the sufferers. The two young sisters who embraced, clapsed and kissed each other, and then sprang into the sea, exhibited an instance as well of devoted affection as of moral heroism that has few parallels in history. They were compelled to choose between two awful deaths,—one by fire and one by water—and resolving to die together as they had lived together, they doubtless made a last appeal to the Almighty, and then took the final plunge. The steward and the stewardess, both young Germans and lovers, probably betrothed and the wedding-day fixed, also took a last and a long embrace, wound their arms about the bodies of each other, uttered a few fond words, and imitated the example of the gentle sisters. They were seen for a moment, still united, upon the bosom of the ocean, and then they sank never to rise, but in a condition of immortality. But perhaps the most touching scene was that of the Hungarian gentleman who, when satisfied that all was lost, gathered his wife and children around him, calmly described the fearful position in which they were placed, and then induced them, one by one, the wife leading the way, to rush into a watery grave. Child after child followed the fearful example, and then, when all had gone but the father and the infant that hung upon his bosom, he also committed his soul to the God who gave it, and soon sank beneath the remorseless sea! The feelings, the emotions of that father and his family, can never be realized by any living human being.

The incident, everything considered, was one of moral sublimity, and the annals of the world may be investigated to find its superior. But there were doubtless many other acts of devotion and fidelity, even unto death, while we fear that not a few instances occurred, in which cowardice and selfishness triumphed over the higher and holier principles of human nature, and life was prolonged at the sacrifice of duty and of principle. The exhausted husband who, as he trembled between life and death, begged Mr. Vezin to say that his last thought was of the wife he loved, the partner of his affections, will, it is to be hoped, never be forgotten by his bereaved widow. The father too, as he made a final and fruitless struggle to get into one of the boats, and at the same time said that he "was satisfied if his boy was saved," exhibited a truly noble instance of parental affection. But the calamity, take it all in all, was the most appalling. The more we dwell upon the terrible details, and ponder over the touching and thrilling incidents, the more are we impressed with the terror, the anguish, and the agony by which the minds of the wretched victims must have been torn, before they breathed their last. Some doubtless met a speedy death, others struggled on in the waves, while the faintest hopes remained. Others again were suffocated in the cabins, while not a few—and the thought is truly awful—were consumed by a slow fire. But let us draw a veil over the horrors of the scene. And yet, that is impossible, for the mind will wander to the open sea, the burning ship, the terrified and struggling passengers, while their shrieks, groans and lamentations still seem to ring through the imagination, and to sadden and subdue the heart.

GOLDEN WEDDING.—On the first day of October, 1808, Hon. Abner Greenleaf was married to the lady who so long has been his helpmeet.—The event was duly noticed by a meeting of his children, pastor and some friends, at his residence, on Friday evening of last week. Of the company which were in attendance at their wedding, only one now survives.

BULBOUS ROOTS.—Those who want a choice variety, will find them at Mr. Shores', fresh and in prime order.

THE STATE FAIR

Closed gloriously, Friday. The clear though cool and windy weather, brought thousands to the grounds; and the entertainment was better than we had expected, after so severe and strong a repulse on Thursday. We have drawn somewhat on the able, active and efficient reporter for the Herald, Mr. Tracy.

At an early hour, the Manchester Fire Company paraded with the Band, and proceeded to the Fair Grounds, where they witnessed the operations of the Steam Fire engine. At 9 o'clock they took their departure for Portsmouth and Newburyport.

Stallions Ajax and Najoleon Morgan trotted a mile heat, Ajax winning in 2:56. Morgan was then put upon the track against time, and trotted his mile in 2:56.

Draco and Morgan were then called for a mile heat, which was won by Draco in 2:52.

A purse of $100 had been made up by gentlemen upon and around the stand, who were desirous of seeing a match between Ajax and Draco, mile heats, best 2 in 3.—Ajax won the match in two straight heats. Time 2:44, 2:44.

In the afternoon there was a pacing match for a purse of $50, between Cataract of Concord, (who won in two heats of 2:35) Tecumseh of Manchester, and Dalton of Dover.

The Premium list was then read from the stand. We give a few of local or general interest.

County Teams.—Best, $40, to Rockingham county; second best, $30, to Strafford county.

Town Teams.—Best, $20, to Exeter; second best, $15, to Rollinsford; third best, $10, to Durham; fourth best, $5, to Concord.

J. W. Pierce, Greenland, best two year old Durham beifer, $6, and the same for the best yearling.

Chas. Hayes, Portsmouth, $8, best one year old bull; also $8, for second best mare or gelding.

Matched Horses.—John R. Palmer, Exeter, best pair, $15; Thomas C. Christie, Dover, second best, $10.

This last is the fine span of greys used by "Tom" to circulate Bond's cracker's everywhere.

Stallions.—Seven years and over, first premium, $20, to H. H. & D. Smith, for "Ajax;" 2d do., $15, to J. C. Edgerly, for "Napoleon" Morgan.

Under 7 years, first premium, $15, to L. T. Tucker, Guilford, for "Draco;" 2d do., to H. A. D. Edgerly, Tuftonboro', for his colt.

Then there was a lively and interesting mile-heats, best 2 in 3 race between Soloque and Belle of Boston,—for a purse of $50; both horses belonging in "the city." The mare won first in 2:44; and the black horse the other two heats in less time.

Thus was the Fair handsomely wound up; and everybody went down to the foot of Garrison Hill, to see the Balloon "Frolic." From a beautiful green field, unsurrounded save by an almost countless host of people—majestically arose the beautiful air craft, and quietly sailed away out of sight eastward. It was one of the most delightful spectacles we ever witnessed—and more than compensated for the delay and disappointments previously experienced.

EXECUTION OF A CLERGYMAN.—A clergyman named Turley, was executed in Kanawha Co., Va., recently, for the murder of his wife. On the gallows he made a speech, attributing the commission of the crime to his intemperance. After speaking he requested that "Jerusalem, my happy home," might be sung; he said that many present had sung it with him on more happy occasions, and started the tune himself. While singing, he called his aged father on the platform, threw his arms about his neck, interrupted his singing only long enough to say "farewell," and then continued to take the lead. His mother, with little daughter, came forward at his request, and he shook hands with her, and took his little one in his arms, kissed it, and all without seeming to be interrupted. So also with a brother. They all left the ground before he fell. He also, while singing, shook hands with about twenty others; among them, two of the brothers of his murdered wife. He had a smile on his face most of the time. There were but few dry eyes on the ground during the scene. When they ceased singing, he turned about and said, "sheriff, I am ready to die," and soon after the rope was cut, and he was killed.

APPLES.—The Waltham Sentinel says there is an abundant yield of apples in that vicinity. Some of the farmers have disposed of their whole crop to Boston dealers for shipping to Southern ports.

FOR LIBERIA.—About twenty heads of families and others, in Cambridge and that neighborhood, of African "extraction," feeling the disadvantages under which they labor here, have determined to emigrate to Liberia. The whole party will number a hundred. On Tuesday evening they held a meeting in Cambridge, over which Ex-Gov. Washburn presided, for the purpose of awakening interest in the movement. The principal speaker of the occasion was Judge James of Liberia, a native of Monrovia, some 40 years old, and quite intelligent. He gave a detailed and interesting account of that country—its natural advantages, resources, population history, &c. There were in the limits of Liberia about 12,000 Americans, (including children of American parentage), and the speaker thought 200,000 natives. There was excellent timber and stone and fertile soil. On three acres of land 1300 gallons of molasses had been produced in a year—worth 55 cents per gallon there. The country was adapted to the raising of cotton and sugar cane.

FLIGHT OF A SWINDLING ENGLISH LAWYER.—A lawyer of London named David Hughes, has lately fled from that city to Australia, after swindling operations in all to the amount of nearly seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The money was principally used in unprofitable building speculations. Many of his sufferers are females attracted by the high rate of interest he paid, and one is a creditor to the amount of $125,000.

He resided at Canonbury Park; had also a marine residence at Ramsgate, and kept six carriages and twenty horses. A few days ago he gave a large party, to which he invited his friends and clients. It was then stated the family were going out of town in a few days, and as Mr. Hughes had previously issued a circular to his clients, informing them of his intending retirement from his profession if necessary, the party was regarded in the light of a valedictory entertainment. A day or two afterwards the house was shut up, and it was believed that the family had repaired to the seaside. It seems, however, that Mr. Hughes proceeded to Liverpool, and there under an assumed name, secured berths in the Red Jacket. A detective, dispatched overland to arrest the bankrupt, is expected to arrive at Melbourne about three weeks before the Red Jacket. The family of the defaulter, who accompanied him in his flight, consists of his wife and eight children.

☞ As Mrs. Marshall, of Tallahatchee county, Miss., was riding home in her carriage during a violent storm, a large tree was blown down and fell directly across the carriage, between her and the driver, literally smashing the body of the carriage to atoms, and yet neither she or the driver were injured. The fright made Mrs. Marshall sick and turned her hair gray.

☞ A correspondent in New Kent Co., Va., gives an account of the suckling of two pigs by a cat, in that county. The little porkers were taken from their "maternal parent," who had a large family to attend to, and placed in an outhouse, where a cat with one kitten—the rest having been drowned—sought shelter and lodging. The pigs became intimate with their feline neighbor, and the sequel was the curious fact stated by the correspondent.

☞ Some days ago, we mentioned the imprisonment of one Rev. James Hackett, "a Baptist minister from Lowell," for adultery in Newburyport. Now we see in the Boston Christian Era, the following note, leading us to believe that the man is an impostor and liar. The Era says,

Having made diligent inquiry in regard to said Hackett, we find that no Baptist minister bearing his name has lived in Lowell, or is known there. Is he an impostor, or whence did he come?

☞ In regard to the Sunday rioters and murderers, in the New York lager beer saloon, it now appears that the prisoners belong to a gang of burglars, principally Italians, Sicilians and Spaniards, who have for many years carried on operations in that city. Cancemi, the murderer, is believed to have belonged to this gang, and this was their principal depot. They had their confederates at many of the fashionable restaurants.

☞ Mr. Gleason of Boston is to have a new weekly paper called The Line of Battle Ship. He is a most successful caterer to the public taste for newspapers of the sort he publishes—such as it is; but what name he chooses!

☞ Patrick Donovan died in the groggery of Thos. Brannon, in Nashua street, Boston, on Wednesday night, of a rum fit.

THAYER ON POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY

Hon. Eli Thayer is a candidate for renomination for Congress. A late speech of his is thus noticed in the Atlas:

As we understand the case, Mr. Thayer is not opposed to restrictive legislation, but he believes that with the Senate, the President, and most of all, the Supreme Court of the United States opposed to us, that it would be futile to attempt to re-enact the Missouri Compromise, or to pass again the Wilmot Proviso, and give it effect over the Territories belonging to the United States. Mr. Thayer takes a practical view of the subject, and is opposed to wasting strength on attempts to carry an impossibility.

Mr. Thayer does not doubt the constitutional power of Congress to pass prohibitory statutes to prevent the extension of slavery into the Territories of the United States, and he will vote for such laws whenever they are presented in the House, but the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Dred Scott interposes obstacles in the way of making it effective which he can see no way of obviating.

Mr. Thayer therefore lays hold of squatter sovereignty as a means of preventing the extension of slavery into the Territories. But he does not regard the Kansas Nebraska bill as embodying pure and unadulterated squatter sovereignty—such as he advocates.

He would have the people not only make their own laws and fix their institutions in their own way, but he would have them elect their own Governors, Marshals and judicial officers. He would take from the President the power to appoint these officers, and would give the power to the people of the territories. This would be New England colonial squatter sovereignty.

In the Plymouth, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island colonies the people not only made their own laws, but they made the men who were to execute and minister them. Had this been the case in Kansas—had there been no Executive interference, there would have been little or no trouble. It was the appointees of the President who made the trouble. They set themselves up as the friends of slavery, and thwarted in all manner of ways the honest and unquestioned will of the people.

Mr. Thayer argues that the North, being more populous, more enterprising, more given to moving about, more wealthy, could always rush into a new territory, take possession of it, form and mould its organic law, and ask for admission into the Union as a free State. The practical question is, is this view correct? Would the people of the North leave their ancient homes and firesides and the blessings of highly civilized society for wild territories lying in southern latitudes in such numbers as to prevent it becoming in time slave States?

Again, can we, consistently with our professions and our love of liberty, consent for one moment to the doctrine, that a majority of the people in a particular territory can, by a vote, enslave another portion of the people who may live there?

We do not understand Mr. Thayer to believe in any such doctrine. He believes that he can prevent such a state of things from existing by means of organized emigration from the Free States, better than by any other means in our power to use. Mr. Thayer does not advocate his popular sovereignty doctrines because they are the best, but because they are the best he can act under.

"THE PERILS OF CRINOLINE" is the title of a very pleasant editorial in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal this week. The writer says:

Too much cannot be said to induce ladies to protect themselves sufficiently in so changeable a climate as our own. Whilst in midsummer (in average seasons we mean—not this year) the intense heat allows expansive skirts and gossamer textures, the circumference of the former should diminish in the exact ratio in which it is found necessary to increase the thickness of the latter. In winter, at least, in this part of the world, we would banish the hoop and such other appliances as expose the person too freely to cold and dampness.

What folly—to suppose that fashionable ladies will pay any regard to comfort or health, or the fitness of things—in saying which, we by no means intend to denounce all expansion of dress as inappropriate or undesirable.

It is stated in the German journals that the ladies of the court of Wurtemburg have resolved no longer to wear crinoline.

☞ A Prussian named Wm. Story, aged about 25, was admitted to the New York Hospital, suffering from arsenic he had taken to destroy his life. He told the doctors he had carried an ounce of arsenic in his pocket for a year, and in consequence of having no employment, and being entirely destitute, he swallowed the fatal dose. He died Sunday night.

☞ At Bridgeport, Pa., a little boy was playing in a yard where there was a sow with a litter of pigs. A dog seized one of the pigs, when the rest clustered round the child, who was seized by the enraged sow, and thrown upon the ground, where the flesh was torn from his neck and body in a shocking manner. The boy was rescued in season to save his life.

☞ From the returns of the census of Texas, now nearly completed, it is ascertained that its population will not fall short of four hundred and fifty thousand.

☞ Watson Lewis, one of the two brothers who succeeded in marrying his master's daughter after the elopement of last week, has been arrested in Cleveland for bigamy, it being alleged that he has a wife—with better claims to the title than poor Miss Lloyd—residing in that city.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the one plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their secretions, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For sale by Druggists everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GENERAL DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently arise from their peculiar vocation.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers accustomed to the use of Spirits and air.

On Wednesday evening, 29th ult., three men, Joseph Matthews, a Mr. Brown and another man, left Eastport for Lubec in a small vessel laden with fish and cedar poles. Next morning one of the three men was discovered off Campobello floating with a pole and an oar. He was rescued in an exhausted condition and taken to Lubec, but died before reaching his home there.—It is supposed that both his companions were drowned and the vessel sunk. CLEANING OUT A STOVE.—A gentleman residing in Petersburg, Va., essayed to rid his stove of soot by placing a small quantity of gunpowder on the inside, and closing the stove door, lighted a few shavings under the grate, having been informed by some wag, who deserved hanging, that such was a ready and effective mode of accomplishing that object. Upon the explosion of the powder, the bolts which held the stove plates together were torn asunder, and the various pieces scattered about the apartment, the shock also causing about one-half of the ceiling in the room to tumble on the floor. The gentleman, together with a servant, who remained in the room, fortunately escaped injury, but were, as may be supposed, nearly frightened out of their wits.

THE STOCKINGS OF THE HAREM.—It is well known that the Sultan of Turkey has of late been in great financial distress. He has even felt compelled to allude apologetically to the subject of his extravagance. It appears that the harem is a prominent cause of the Sultan's embarrassments. The expenses of this establishment are enormous and outrageous. In fact the poor Sultan is wofully swindled. The Vienna correspondent of the London Times states that for the stockings alone, which are provided in that city for the harem, it has been discovered that more than thirty times the ordinary price has been charged and paid. Uneasy rests the head that wears a crown and keeps a harem.—Boston Courier.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has, on appeal, decided that shaved shingles, being manufactured, by other process than hewing or sawing, are not embraced in timber and lumber, admitted free under the reciprocity treaty with Great Britain, but subject to a duty of 20 per centum.—He has also decided that walnuts and limes in salt and water, are each chargeable 15 per centum.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—About six months ago a lad named Patrick Madden, while driving hogs through Van Brunt street, was set upon by a dog, which first bit the hogs, and then turned upon the boy and bit him in the face. The dog also bit several dogs, which with the hogs were killed soon after. The boy was taken to the Long Island College Hospital in Henry street, and his injuries were attended to. About four weeks ago Madden was discharged from the hospital as being entirely cured, and it was expected that this would be the last of the affair.

But on Thursday the boy was taken suddenly ill, and it was found necessary to send for a physician. The physician came and he pronounced the disease hydrophobia. The boy continued very ill until Saturday, when he died in great agony.—N. Y. Commercial Adv.

☞ The Boston Masonic Fraternity have finally disposed of the Masonic Temple to the United States Government, for the United States Courts. Nassau Hall, at the Corner of Washington and Common streets, will be immediately fitted up to meet the wants of the several Lodges and Encampments.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS. The Howard Association of New Orleans deem it their duty to inform the country that the prolonged existence of the yellow fever in this city, and the present great mortality are solely owing to the influx of strangers, who rapidly fall victims. Timely notice will be issued by this Association of the decadence and disappearance of the epidemic. F. SMITH, President.

D. Q. BICARDY, Secretary.

☞ Mr. Lewis Little, of Hudson, N.Y., committed suicide the 2d inst., by cutting his throat with a razor. About ten months ago he lost his wife, which so worked on his mind that he became desponding and tired of life. Mr. Little was very wealthy and was beloved by all who knew him.

Cincinnati, Oct. 9.—A collision occurred on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, between two freight trains, near Mitchell, Ind., by which the fireman, engineer, conductor and brakeman were killed.

South Braintree, Oct. 9.—A man by the name of Brown, a resident of South Boston, was run over by the cars of the Old Colony Railroad in South Braintree, this morning, and instantly killed.

A NEW INVENTION.
Great Economy and CONVENIENCE.
THE
BAY STATE RANGE.
The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having
Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.
The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.
A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling with out any increase of fuel.
THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.
It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.
Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.
The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—
HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.
"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.
I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.
The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.
In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."
Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the pearl ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, hard and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, narrow all loveliness half her charms. Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore, and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg!
NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.
DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the delight I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.
"Dreh ab'r Gwyliedydd."
Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr 12, '53.
PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time, that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her great surprise, a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, which has now been positively applied during the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.
NEW YORK, July 3, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative, my hair and whiskers have were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also keeps the hair all dandruff and dandruffy ant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KILBY
CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At present it is about one-third of its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOBS.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large size quart, (enough for the small bottle) a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 50 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 60 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,
Compounded Entirely from GUMS.
IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.
These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying its place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.
Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.
One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.
One dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.
One dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.
One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.
One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.
Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.
LIVER INVIGORATOR
Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.
Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.
One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.
One dose, often repeated, cures Summer Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.
A few bottles will cure Dropsy by expelling the absorbents.
We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.
All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.
Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.
PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.
Dr. SANFORD Proprietor, 245 Broadway, N. Y.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns whose lives are made miserable by the inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed to him.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by other physicians, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients cured by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under erroneous or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the Dr. sells them.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. 1y3 diy

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send money for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all tickets received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10, half $5, quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and results of drawing forwarded to all purchasers
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Mobile Mercury, New Orleans Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE inventor of this roofing tailored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon tin and shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of its unparalleled success, we would invite the attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and economy in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!
This Roofing can be cheaply applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that many of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

CHRISTIAN CONVENTION.

Last week, in New York City, the Annual Christian Conference was in session in the Lecture room of the Clinton Hall. Rev. I. H. Coe of New England was President. This denomination have many churches in the West. It repudiates all creeds but the Bible—all names but Christian—all tests of a Christian character but a good life. The sect is not large, but the appearance of the Convention was good, and the preachers seem earnest and devoted men. Ministers of all denominations were invited to seats in this Convention.

The Evening Post says it appears from the debates that the great body of the Christian membership are disposed to fraternize closely with Trinitarian denominations, but that the majority of the clergy have strong Unitarian proclivities. Hon. Horace Mann, who is attending the convention, explained the financial condition of Antioch College, and spoke of the principles on which it was conducted. Being asked his opinion of the plan of educating the two sexes together at the same institution, he replied that he approved of their association under supervision. The strictest system of vigilance should be enforced. The young men and young women should be placed in seperate buildings. He spoke highly of the state of morals at Antioch. Drinking and smoking are unknown. A student would as soon think of going in a thunder storm with a lightning rod upon his head, as to indulge in these practices.

Rev. Mr. Philips said that Antioch College must remain with the Christians, or the sun would be blown out, the heavens fall, and God have no further use for the world. The Unitarians do not want Antioch; the Trinitarians cannot have it, or any other arians.

The present indebtedness of the college is about $30,000. Horace Mann approves the "stock plan" as a means to pay off the obligations. An animated discussion was had in relation to this matter. Rev. Dr. Bellows, of New York, said that New England had promised to pay the Hartford claim, and what she promised she generally performed. He believed that the college would be saved. The Unitarians desired the Christians to succeed. He believed $100,000 had been lost by delaying to settle the affairs of the institution. The main object of the Unitarians in interposing in this matter was to secure the payment of the debts. He had himself advanced $30,000. Friends at the East did not know the earnestness and ferocity with which Antioch College is assailed from "Evangelical pulpits" in the West. It has been repeatedly stated that the Bible was not allowed in the college.

The Christian Connexion are sometimes "counted in" by "Evangelical" authorities, and sometimes out.

GERRIT SMITH.—This eccentric and wealthy philanthropist is stumping the State of New York as an independent candidate for Governor, and has established a newspaper to support his pretensions, finding none of the journals prepared to advocate his election. In his recent speech at Albany he said he was opposed to the common school system, because the State had something to do with it; was in favor of women voting at the polls; would consent to the dissolution of the Union if the abolition of slavery made it necessary; would, in order to "protect the least black baby" from arrest under the fugitive slave law, be "willing to see rivers of human blood flow;" was in favor of the annexation of Cuba, and would not object to Cuba on account of her slavery, but she must take the risk; was opposed to any governmental control with regard to the Sabbath; would have the people observe any day or none, just as they thought best, and denied that government had a right to stop work on the canals on the Sabbath; was opposed to all tariffs; and lastly, in answer to a question respecting what he would do, if Governor, should a slave case come up for decision in any court, he replied:

Were I Governor, and should I hear of a court passing upon the question whether a man is a man or a chattel, I would consider that court as a mob, and would exercise all the power within my control, as Governor, to disperse that mob."

☞ The Bath Times, while it does not shut its eyes on the split of the democratic party into Buchanan and Douglas divisions or wings, retorts that in the Republican party there is a corresponding split between free soil and know nothing divisions. We might add, that within the next two years, there will be much fusion, and not a little confusion.

BANK OF MUTUAL REDEMPTION ADMITTED TO THE CLEARING HOUSE.—A meeting of the representatives of the several banks in Boston was held at 11 o'clock on Saturday, to consider the application of the Bank of Mutual Redemption to be admitted to the Clearing House. It will be recollected that some weeks ago the Clearing House Committee reported in favor of a postponement of the application, and this report was agreed to. Saturday a report was made in favor of admitting the bank, and this report was unanimously accepted, and the bank admitted. About twenty-five banks were represented.

HOW DO THIEVES LIVE?—The N. Y. Sun says it is a curious subject of inquiry, how thieves live. The lowest estimate that has been made by our police authorities sets them down as numbering twelve thousand; yet, by the report of the New York Metropolitan Commissioners, the net loss by respectable citizens, from their depredations last year, was exactly $16,250, which would give for each thief one dollar and twenty-five cents a year. Either the estimated number of thieves is a great exaggeration, or a large amount of thieving is done which does not appear on the police records.

☞ "Justice," of Exeter, is informed that few or no respectable newspapers are in the habit of publishing communications purporting to contain statements of facts, without the indorsement of a respectable, veritable name. We will publish his communication concerning Exeter Fair, just as it is, as an advertisement, if signed with his name, for $2; but he won't do that—he wants to use us to pull his chestnuts out of the fire.

SEVERE COURTING.—Last Saturday night a week, a spruce young fellow from somewhere about Quincy, Pa., went to Port Providence to pay his devoirs to his dulcinea. It appears in their long and tedious courting they fell asleep. The mahogany table on which the candle was left burning took fire, and was considerably injured before they awoke.

HOW IS ILLINOIS?—The political excitement there is greater than ever before, even greater than in 1856. A Chicago correspondent of the Tribune asks, and answers thus:

"Well, how is the election going? that is the question. I answer, that we are going to beat the Dred Scott Democracy, elect Lincoln to the United States Senate, and retire Stephen A. Douglas to private life, until he recruits his moral constitution.

In the contest before us it is not to be disguised that Douglas has a decided advantage in the apportionment for members of the Legislature and in the hold over Senators. Twelve Senators hold over, eight of whom are Democrats and four Republicans. Thirteen new Senators are to be elected this fall, and it becomes necessary for the Republicans to secure nine of them to have a majority in the State Senate next winter. So much for the dark side of the picture. Now for the bright one.

Eight of the Senatorial Districts are Republican, and contain Lincoln majorities beyond question. All we want is to carry one of the Democratic Districts. We have surveyed the enemy's territory, counted his forces and our own, and we are sanguine of carrying two of his districts, and have strong hopes of a third one. So much for the Senate. In the House we shall carry every district that we did in '56, and half a dozen beside. The House consists of seventy-five members. We feel sure of being able to elect forty representatives."

All this may be true—but then again, some future events are quite uncertain.

☞ An ambitious Irish lad in New York last week sold his master's horse and cart, and invested the proceeds—$80—in a gold watch and new beaver, which were taken from him, and he is now in the lockup.

Letters were received yesterday from the Paris prefect of police by Mayor Lincoln, enquiring what can be done to stop the sale of the "Napoleon pamphlet."—Boston Post.

☞ Those who are about re-furnishing or decorating their dwellings with Carpets, should read the advertisements of the New England Carpet Company of Boston, in to-day's paper.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER NEAR OSWEGO.—Montreal, Oct. 10.—Eleven lives were lost by the explosion of the steamer Hercules, yesterday. She belonged to Calvin & Breck of Kingston.

☞ At a target-shooting of the Cushing Guards, Newburyport, last week, a leather medal for the poorest shot was awarded to Quartermaster Payson.

Punch says, "the comet rejoices in a tail, which, strangely enough, has been denied to the dog star."

☞ The inventory of the late Ebenezer Francis's property foots up $3,483,000, which is exclusive of some twenty thousand dollars in dividends due.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE FAIR.

FARMERS' TALK.

The New Hampshire Agricultural Society has been accustomed to hold evening meetings during their Fair—not for speeches, nor for formal addresses, but for plain farmers' talk on plain, practical subjects. Such a meeting was held in City Hall, Dover, which was very fully attended. The Boston Herald report says:

Gen. Glidden of Unity, the President of the Society, opened the talk in some congratulatory remarks on the influence which Agricultural Societies, but the State Society in particular, had exerted upon the products of the State.

He grew wool on his farm. He had come to the conclusion that he could lo better to grow sheep, and so! make his family expenses lighter than o keep a dairy farm, and make his wife and daughters last longer. He had been surprised to see such a farming country in the vicinity of Dover. He had supposed he would be disappointed in the quality of stock to be found here. But the Society had been well paid in this particular for coming to Dover. He saw a great deal of good in these Societies. In his own case they had enabled him to save a year in the growth of his steers. We need not be ten years in raising a silly pair of oxen if we will but attend to the true principles of breeding.

JOHN S. WALKER of Claremont was happy to have come here to Strafford County, because it is a kind of country that delights the eye. He liked the substantial and superior roads, and the lay of the land. But especially he liked to see men from all parts of the State, of all parties and all persuasions, meet here on a common level. If there was a past greater than another it was your political disputant. And if there was anything worse than that, it was your religious disputant. He felt inclined to answer such people as a loud mouthed sectarian was once answered.

"What sect do you think I belong to"

"Why, I should judge you were an insect."

He wished to say a word in reference to the breeding of stock. There was a strange indifference on the subject. We shall never have good breeds, until false ideas of economy are laid aside and until we cease to put our breeding animals to males that are only fit to be put out of the way, because we can secure their services for a quarter less than we can those of a thorough bred.

There was another topic. He had noticed that by the side of every hill in this section lay a peat bog; by the side of every sterile field lies the means of fertilizing it. These bogs are mines of wealth if we will but use them. The State of New Hampshire might be made to support fourfold the population it does now, and the young men, instead of going to the ends of the earth for fortune, have but to dig it out of their own New Hampshire earth.

MR. WIGGIN of Stratham talked on the importance and profit of fruit culture. There had been 10,000 barrels of Baldwin apples raised in his town in a year, which yeilded $15,000.—Baldwin was the variety generally cultivated; but the Roxbury Russetts, Rhode Island Greening and other standard varieties received a good degree of attention. He had found that five barrels of Baldwins could be raised with them as cheap as one barrel of Spitzenbergs, or Newton Pippins. The Baldwin succeeded invariably on their light sandy soils, where the Northern Spy failed.

He gave it as his opinion that a barrel of Bartlett or Louis Bonne d' Jersey Pears, could be raised as cheap as a barrel of Baldwin Apples, and the Pears were worth $20 a barrel.—His opinion was that we should cultivate but a few of the leading varieties of fruit for profit, having regard in the selection to the aptitude of the fruit for particular soils and locations.—He cited several striking instances of the profits of pear culture, showing that a good Dix or Ceurre Diel tree had yielded $100 per annum.

MR. BUFFUM, of Winchester, wanted to see the farmers of New Hampshire more interested in the breeding of animals. They should raise only the best breeds. It was a fact that their soils yielded a larger average of grain than the west, and they should raise as good, if not better cattle. It will not do to breed those animals which take a long time to mature.—There is no profit in it. These three qualities are to be regarded in selecting breeds:—milking qualities, work and early maturity for the butcher. One fact should be settled definitely. The bulls that are used should always be thorough bred. To raise from mongrel bulls is a poor business. You shall go into the fair and you shall see black-nosed, ill-shaped animals marked "Durham," and why? Because they were bred from a mongrel bull.

In regard to sheep, he thought more money could be made in breeding mutton than in breeding fine-wooled sheep. It pays better.—Besides, mutton is a more healthy meat than beef, and it is becoming popular. You all see how healthy English ladies are, and they are all notorious mutton-eaters.

He preferred the Durham breed of cattle to all others. They will eat coarse food and mature earlier. In our cattle culture we must raise more green fodder and roots. There may not be much nourishment in turnips, but the cattle love them and thrive on them, and they can be raised at three cents a bushel.

The Missouri Republican states that a Mr. Kelly of New York, who had been sick for over five years, dreamed that there was a mineral spring at Alton, Ill., the water of which would cure him. His wife had the same dream the same night, and both were so impressed by it that they started for Alton, found a mineral spring there, and Mr. Kelly was fully cured after using the water.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

WINTER GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound & Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Balsam of Fir Spruce Tree, one of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'—NONE OTHER is genuine.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT. — Monday, Oct. 11.—The case State vs. Selectmen of Epping, for refusing to put a name on the Check List, was put upon its new trial, the former jury failing to agree.

The Grand Jury did not find a bill against Dr. Stewart for the murder of his wife by an abortion operation, of which he was accused, and for which he has been some time in jail; and he is now at liberty.

NEWSPAPER THIEVES of all kinds, are very troublesome—to us and others. Many of our papers are picked from the doors of subscribers, who are not about so early as our carriers; this outrage is criminal in the eye of the law, and we only want evidence, to fetch some pilferer up standing. But there is another kind of newspaper thief, not more respectable, though rather more respected by public opinion and the law—we mean the regular, systematic borrowers of papers,—which while they always read, either in some store or by borrowing from a neighbor's house, — they never pay a cent toward supporting. Some of our patrons, whose stores are opened late, have their papers regularly read at their door by early passers—one paper thus serving half a dozen readers. It would astonish these worthies, to find themselves arrested for this, some morning, on a charge of theft. Besides greatly wronging us, in these dishonest ways, these borrowers are a nuisance to many who do get the Chronicle in the only legitimate way—subscribe and pay for it. One gentleman has actually recently been obliged to stop his paper, because he was so pestered with borrowers — many of them vastly better able to pay than himself. If there is "honor among thieves" in general, there don't seem to be much among these newspaper leeches.

☞ We understand that Mr. Harrison Seavey, a respectable citizen of Rye, committed suicide on Friday last, having been out of health, which probably produced a morbid depression of spirits. His age was 36, and he leaves a wife and child.

ANECDOTE OF BURKE.—Mr. Everett related the following pathetic anecdote of Edmund Burke, in a speech at the recent Springfield horse show:

In the decline of Mr. Burke's life, when he was living in retirement on his farm at Beaconsfield, the rumor went up to London that he had gone mad; and the fact that was stated in support of this rumor was that he went round his park kissing his cows and horses. A friend, a man of rank and influence, hearing this story, and deeming it of too much importance to be left uncorrected, hastened to Beaconsfield, and sought an interview with the view of ascertaining the truth of the rumor. Entering into conversation with him, Mr. Burke read to him some chapters from his "Letters on the Regicide." His friend immediately saw, that though the earthly tenement was verging back to its native dust, the lamp of reason and genius shone with undiminished lustre. He was accordingly more than satisfied as to the object of his coming down, and in a private interview with Mrs. Burke told her what he had come for, and received from her this pathetic explanation. Mr. Burke's only child, a beloved son, had not long before died, leaving behind him a favorite horse, the companion of his excursions, of business and pleasure, when both were young and vigorous. This favorite animal was of course turned out by Mr. Burke, the father, into the park, with directions to all his servants that he should in every respect be treated as a privileged favorite. Mr. Burke himself, of course, in his morning walks would often stop to caress the favorite animal. On one occasion, as he was taking his morning walk through the park, he perceived the poor old animal at a distance, and noticed that he was recognized by him. The horse drew nearer and nearer to Mr. Burke, stopped, eyed him with the most pleading look of recognition, which said, as plainly as words could have said:

"I have lost him, too;" and then the poor dumb beast deliberately laid his head upon Mr. Burke's bosom! Struck by the singularity of the act,—forcibly and tenderly reminded of his son, whom he had not ceased to mourn with a grief that would not be comforted; overwhelmed by the tenderness of the animal, expressed in the mute eloquence of holy Nature's universal language; the illustrious statesman for a moment lost his self possession, and, clasping his arms around the neck of his son's favorite animal, lifted up that voice, which had caused the arches of Westminster Hall to echo the noblest strains that ever sounded within them, and wept aloud! Sir, this was seen, this was heard by the passers by, and the enemies of Burke, unappeased by his advancing years, by his failing health, by his domestic sorrows, made it the ground of a charge of insanity.—Burke is gone; but, sir, so help me heaven, if I were called upon to designate the event or the period in Burke's life that would best sustain a charge of insanity, it would not be when, in a gush of the holiest and purest feeling that ever stirred the human heart, he wept aloud on the neck of a dead son's favorite horse.

A FINE THOUGHT. — A Greek poet implies that the height of bliss is the sudden relief of pain: there is nobler bliss still—the rapture of the conscience at the sudden release from a guilty thought. — Bulwer Lytton.

TWELVE DAYS LATER

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Arrival of the Overland Mail.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The overland California mail arrived here at 9 o'clock last night. A large number of prominent citizens assembled at the Pacific Railroad depot on the arrival of the train from Jefferson City. The conductor was greeted with a hearty welcome, and formally received in a brief but highly complimentary speech by John F. Darbey, Esq., on behalf of the citizens of St. Louis. Mr. Butterfield responded in an appropriate manner, returning his warmest thanks for the unexpected demonstration and cordial approval of his labors by the citizens of St. Louis. The mails were escorted to the Post Office by a long procession, accompanied by bands of music.

The Alta California of the 14th ult., prepared expressly for the overland mail, furnishes the following summary of the California news:—

The line of telegraph from Placerville to Salt Lake City had been commenced.

The news from Frazer's river is unimportant. The water was still too high for successful mining purposes. Affairs at Victoria were much depressed.

Dates from Oregon are to the 8th of September. Major Garnett had a skirmish with the Indians on the Okanagan, in which Lieut. Allen and six Indians were killed.

A party of miners under Major Robinson had been attacked by the Indians on the Wenatshe, in which one white man was killed.

A rumor had obtained credit at the Dalles that Gen. Palmer's party had been massacred near Okanagan.

Good gold diggings had been found on the Wenatshe River.

FROM EUROPE, news three days later, viz. from Galway 28th ult., has been received by the steamer Indian, arrived at Halifax. Cotton was steady. Breadstuffs were quite dull. Provisions were quiet. Consols had advanced. It is reiterated that Spain is about to proceed vigorously against Mexico.

THE ECHO AND THE PRIZE MONEY.—The Washington States, deriving its information "from the most authentic source," gives the following account of the disposal of the Echo and the distribution of the prize money accruing to her captors:

"The United States Marshal for South Carolina gave Lieut. Maffit a receipt for 306 Africans, for which number $25 per head, amounting in all to $7600, will be awarded as prize-money to the flag officer of the home squadron and the officers and crew of the Dolphin. This sum will be distributed as follows: the flag officer receives one-twentieth, the commanding officer of the Dolphin two-twentieths, and the balance is distributed to the other officers and the crew of the Dolphin, according to rank and rate. It is doubted, however, whether the flag officer (Commodore McIntosh) is entitled to one-twentieth, as he was absent, on leave, from his station at the time of the capture. This question will doubtless be determined by the Attorney General.

After the prescribed legal forms have been gone through with, and the Echo has been libeled, she will be sold at public auction. Half of the proceeds will be taken by the Government, according to a special provision of the law, and devoted to the naval pension fund. The other half will be divided among the officers and crew of the Dolphin, according to the same rule by which the per capita prize money is distributed. Eighteen of the Africans died after their capture by Lieut. Maffit. For these the per capita of $25 will not be paid, but only for those who were delivered alive into the hands of the United States Marshal."

Don't express your opinions too decidedly at all times before those who would grow offended at them. Remember but very few are as yet able to grasp at great truths. Besides, the apostle admonisheth that "strong meat" should not be given unto babes."

One reason why we meet with so few people who are reasonable and agreeable in conversation is, that there is scarcely any person who does not think more of what he has to say, than of answering what is said to him.

THE
BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens
AND
Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS
PERFECT IN ITSELF,
and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of
DOUBLE THICKNESS,
will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE.—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

YOURS, &c. J. M' OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
390 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEMSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON.
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 23, 1858.

SIR,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

F. FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel:

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove," sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most all kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. B. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magees with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal; and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY. Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN P. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it is all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.

FOR WARMING & VENTILATING

Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S

Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming

FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

A WELL-MERITED TRIBUTE.

The Lynn papers give detailed accounts of a pleasing affair which recently came off at the "Sagamore House" in that city, on the occasion of a grand dance—which event we have mentioned already. In the course of the evening, a splendid Silver Tea Service was placed upon one of the centre tables of the large parlor, and on the salver was found engraved the following:—

These testimonials, presented by stockholders of the Sagamore Hotel Company, and friends, to MR. & MRS. THOMAS RAND, as a token of personal esteemed friendship, and in acknowledgement of their satisfactory discharge of duties as host and hostess. Lynn, Mass., Sept. 22, 1858.

As the parties have many warm friends among our readers, we take pleasure in transferring the following to our columns from the Lynn News. George H. Chase, Esq., on behalf of the donors, made the following neat presentation address:—

MR. AND MRS. RAND:—I have been requested by the donors, most of whom are stockholders of the Sagamore Hotel Company, and most of whom are here assembled, to present to you this simple testimonial. I assure you this is an agreeable duty, for I believe I fully sympathize with the feelings which prompted the offering. We doubt not you will receive with pleasure this material evidence of our approval of the manner in which you have conducted the affairs of this hotel, to which, for the past four years, you have devoted your energies. We are aware of the many perplexities which have surrounded you in the management of this new enterprise, and we are not unmindful of the difficulties which are inseparable from the business. The architect may do for the building many things in the way of giving it beautiful and ample proportions—the skilful mechanics, in their various vocations, may give it every convenience modern ingenuity has devised,—yet, without the daily and nightly care, the watchful eye and untiring industry, of those who have the establishment in charge, it fails to be what the public expect and the times demand. We are aware that in the management of this house almost the same is expected as in the first class houses of our large cities; and besides, it unites in its demands most of what are considered requisites in a sea-side or summer resort.

The ponderous machinery—the regular business-like routine of the great establishments of the metropolis—could not alone make our hotel what we desired. We wanted to give it some of the attractive qualities of home for the stranger or temporary sojourner in our neighborhood, and in this regard we have not been disappointed.

I remember a remark made by a distinguished and eloquent gentlemen, not a resident of Lynn,* to the company which assembled around the festive board in this hall, at the opening of the house. Allusion had been made to the fact that Lynn had been so long without a creditable public house. He said that although we here in Lynn had not had our grand hotel, we had our multitude of hospitable homes, to which it was a pleasure for the stranger to be invited. We accepted with pleasure the graceful compliment, and our hope at that moment was that ere long the Sagamore would take a creditable place among the homes of Lynn; and we have not been disappointed.

We love to speak of home and home influences, and we are ever ready to agree that the dearest and best of these influences is that of woman; and upon this occasion we would not neglect to acknowledge our almost infinite obligations to our friend the landlady of the Sagamore, whose praises are upon all lips.

And while thus to you, madam, and to you, sir, we express our warm commendations of the general management of the house, we do not forget the efforts of our friends, the younger members of your family. We are sure that we can select no more appropriate, and to them more agreeable medium, for the transmission of our thanks, than we do when we ask you to receive them from us.

Our hope is that it will be long ere your lot is cast in any other place. We trust our interest in the success of this enterprise will continue unabated, but the feeling uppermost in our hearts, at the present moment, is a desire for your permanent personal happiness and prosperity.

—Wendell Phillips.

Hon. D. C. Baker responded for the recipients.

SIR, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—I have been honored and delegated by the lady and gentleman who are the recipients of this beautiful present, to respond for them. To say to you that their hearts are full of gratitude, would fail to express it. This token of affection will call from them devout thanks, and fervent prayers for you and yours. They thank you—more than thank you—for this treasure, unexpected as it is, and ask, that you would call the silence of their lips the pulsation of their hearts. They, their family, and their many friends, are proud of it, and will cherish it as a memento of affection—a token of love. Every one also appreciates the compliment that this present is made on behalf of the donors by a New England merchant, who has graced the halls of legislation by his talent, and given credit to his native city. To him, in particular, would the recipients present their thanks.

Ladies and gentlemen, our thanks have been uttered. The present is accepted by grateful hearts. And when, in after years, we would look back upon some green spot in life, this hour and this occasion, I trust, may be that oasis. And now may I be permitted to say that while I have answered for the lady and gentleman, I would also express the sentiment of my own heart. It is this:—The token is truly given—the recipients worthy of it—and those who love to call her mother, I know will guard and preserve it. And he who, life-long, has pointed to her as his bright particular star, must be proud of it without regard to its intrinsic value. It must call to mind again, that she who in early youth he counted guide and wisdom, has proved herself to be such—and to-night, by his friends and her friends, that sentiment is fully endorsed. Again I thank you for that which you call present, and which the recipients will call treasure, and only wish your happiness in future shall be as great as this hour has given to those gathered here.

That morning sun, and evening star,
Shall gild her path in life,
Make joyous hours and happy home
Her future hope, without vain strife.
May that bright sun, whose blessings aide
To give us all we ask,
Dawn here so bright that she we praise
May close an old, a happy life.

THE EFFECTS OF "CRAMMING" FOR A MEDAL.—The daughter of a member of the city government, who "crammed" night and day for the purpose of obtaining a city medal at the late school exhibitions, and who succeeded in carrying off the coveted prize, is now, and has been ever since the award, in a state bordering on insanity, and there is but slight hope of her recovery. There are people who think that the desire to obtain medals is more injurious to the system than beneficial to the intellect.—Boston Herald.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1858.

DELAWARE.—The election for Inspectors held in Delaware last week, resulted in a Democratic loss of 1078 votes—Buchanan's majority over Fremont and Fillmore, in 1856, being 1521, and the Democratic majority of last week's vote 443.

A CHINAMAN'S OATH. — Justices of the Peace have great trouble to make Chinamen comprehend the solemnity of an oath, but a "Squire" at Mud Springs, California, has found out how to make the yellow idolaters shake in their boots. He recently "swore" one thus:—"You do solemnly swear, in the presence of God Almighty, that you will tell the truth in the case now on hearing, and if you don't you hope to be drowned on your way to Canton, and go to hell and be damned."

The Squire in this case exhibited his own ideas of the oath, and very poor ones they are, though somewhat common. It is worthy of remark, that most of those people who either "fear an oath," or have any scruples about taking it, or prefer to affirm, are men whose word is readily believed by their fellow citizens, with or without an oath or other formality. While a set of liars who swear that black is white, and perjure themselves for a glass of grog, or for any grudge or pique, never scruple at all to take the most solemn oaths, however frightfully they may be explained by judges, lawyers or 'squires.

THE STATE FAIR.—There has been much growling at the late Fair. It was the first of our State Fairs we ever attended, and we enjoyed it very highly, but were not qualified to compare it with the previous eight similar gatherings. The Manchester Mirror, whose editor is as good a judge of such things as any man, says:

On the whole, this Ninth Annual Fair was better prepared, and more worthy of a crowd than any of its predecessors; it was better advertised, more methodically arranged, and contained more attractions. It had but one lack, and that was a man upon the stand clothed with power and capable of exercising it, to carry the exercises through promptly, according to the printed bills.

The race of growlers is not extinct yet—but it is a dreadful poor breed. Nothing suits these animals, except to growls—"Fair" or foul, it is always the same old story of dissatisfaction, and abuse or neglect.

The gross receipts at the Dover Fair were larger than ever before,—being upwards of $5,000.

EDITORIAL EXPEDITION. — The North Aroostook (Maine) Agricultural Society invited all the editors in the State to attend the Fair at Presque Isle, Wednesday and Thursday, last week. Free passage tickets were presented them, and no charges at hotels. This was certainly doing the handsome thing. About thirty accepted the invitation, and Bro. Pike, (of the Augusta Age,) announces that "the editorial corpse started in the mendicant train, at 6 o'clock Monday morning for the 'land of promise'—whither they go, not to possess it, but to look at it, and speak and write about it."

We want to see all the Editors and all the Bands of Music, in New Hampshire, at our next State Fair. Why can't Fred. Smythe see to it?

☞ The following advertisement in the Baltimore Clipper tells the reason why the Monumental City is the scene of repeated murders and riots. The gang named is one of the most effective political Clubs in the city on election—

Attention—Rough Skins.—All those opposed to Wm. Howard being on the police are requested to meet at the Rough Skin Hall on this Evening, Oct. 1st, 1858.

By Order.
WM. RICHARDSON, Captain.

It does not require any extra guessing to say that there is not one "temperance hypocrite," nor one "Maine Law fanatic" among these "rough-skins." They all fill their skins with what they call "good liquor."

LIFE SENTENCE. — Albert French, the Quincy incendiary, was, on Saturday, sentenced by Judge Sanger to perpetual imprisonment in the State Prison, the fire three days to be solitary. This, says the Boston Atlas and Bee, should be a solemn warning to a by no means small number of young men in the suburbs of Boston, who for the last few years have been engaged in setting fire to buildings, in many cases for no reason than for the excitement attending a conflagration.

☞ An exchange says, that it is just as sensible a move to undertake to get married without courting, as to attempt to succeed in business without advertising.—True as preaching.

THE SUFFOLK BANK.—The following important circular has been issued by the managers of the Suffolk Bank, from which it appears that the directors of that institution have determined to surrender their agency in the "foreign money system, as heretofore conducted."

It is our opinion that the currency of New England will be considerably unsettled by the change, and rendered less safe on the whole.

SUFFOLK BANK, BOSTON, Oct. 9, '58.

For the expenses of the Foreign Money System of the Suffolk Bank, the Bank finds its remuneration in the use of the deposits of the various banks in New England. As no other general mode of compensation has ever been thought of, the maintenance of the system depends upon the continuance of these deposits.

To place the Banks withdrawing on the same footing as before withdrawal, is obviously inconsistent with the plan of keeping up the system by means of deposits.

The Suffolk Bank system has been conducted for thirty years on the principle of sending home for payment in specie the bills which we receive of those Banks which have withdrawn their deposits.

We consider this indispensable to the system, and that it would be futile to attempt to carry it on without the power of enforcing it.

In continuing this redemption system, the Suffolk Bank has had for many years no motive beyond that of securing to the community a continuance of its acknowledged benefits. The labor, expense and risks of the business have been equal to any remuneration received from the use of the deposits.

We cannot consent any longer to have the Bank placed in the position, as is charged against us, of carrying on this business merely for its profit, nor can we be expected to stand out against public opinion, prejudiced and excited, in sustaining a system, however beneficial to the public, after it becomes unremunerating, and hazardous to the stockholders of the Bank.

The Suffolk Bank system is now conducted theoretically and practically, precisely as it has been the past. If public sentiment is now against it, and if it is less appreciated by the trading community and the city banks than heretofore, the cause is not to be found in the mode of pursuing it.

The time has arrived to surrender our agency in the system as heretofore conducted. Our responsibility in it must now cease—

Because its main feature, the right to send bills home for specie, cannot be given up without destroying its efficacy.

Because our exercise of this right is effectually made use of, by those hostile to the Suffolk Bank system, to place the Bank in a false attitude before the public—and

Because, under existing circumstances, the Bank does not wish to stand in the way of a trial of the attempted experiment of a foreign money system, to be conducted on less stringent principles.

We shall continue to receive country money as heretofore, subject to conditions that it may perhaps be found necessary hereafter to make.

J. AMORY DAVIS, President.

☞ Gen. Ashley, republican candidate for Congress in Ohio, caused a rowdy who was disturbing one of his meetings at Leipsic in Putnam county, and put him out of the house. For which the meeting passed a vote of thanks and paid a fine of $5, imposed upon Mr. Ashley's complaint, the next day, against himself.

☞ Ten thousand dollars of the acceptances of Messrs. Lawrence, Stone & Co., with the Bay State endorsement, was sold at auction in Boston a few days since for 50 1-4. Subsequently forty-five thousand dollars of the same paper held by one of the Boston banks was sold at private sale or 50 per cent.

☞ On Sunday last, while Rev. Dr. Burrows, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in Richmond, Va. was preparing to baptise several persons at the Second Baptist Church, he had his gold watch stolen from a chair on which he had placed it.

☞ The New York Sun says that a few days since the Sheriff sold out the effects of a merchant who has been ruined by the purchase of lottery tickets. He bought for years but never gained a prize until a few weeks ago, and the lottery men refused to pay the only hit he made.

☞ A Missouri paper says that Davy R. Atchison, who was four years ago the mightiest man on the border, has abandoned politics entirely, and is now living in perfect retirement and dispensing his unostentatious hospitality.

☞ A supposed dead man named Mitchell has very unexpectedly turned up in New York at the St. Nicholas Hotel, much to the chagrin of his heirs at law, who, believing him lost on the Arctic, were busy over his property.

☞ The boat in which Capt. L. Boss and a lad named Congdon, left Newport on Thursday morning on a fishing excursion, having since been found with no one in it, the occupants are believed to be lost.

CATTLE THIEF ARRESTED.—Leonard O. Whitam, of Nottingham, went to Manchester, last Friday, with four oxen, and tried to sell them to the butchers. He gave his name as Wm. H. N. Holmes, of Newington. He was arrested and tracked back to Suncook where he staid Thursday night, and to Concord, where he was that day. At Concord he had five, and sold one there. He was tracked finally to Nottingham, where he stole them Wednesday night. He was there all day Wednesday, and was seen with the cattle at 11 o'clock, on the Parade. They were stolen from the pasture of Elder Philbrick, who lives in Rye, and drives cattle there to pasture.

Eight cattle have been stolen previous to this, within a fortnight, in Nottingham, Northwood, and Deerfield. A pair was stolen in Nottingham from the pasture adjoining the one where these were taken, a year ago.

It is not known whether these cattle belong to Elder Philbrick, or whether he was pasturing them for some one. This Whitham denies the stealing—says he bought the cattle. The owner of the cattle has been sent for, and in the meantime Whitham is under keepers.—Mirror.

ARREST.—The City Marshal of Manchester, on Friday arrested a man who gave his name as W. H. N. Holmes from Newington, who had offered four oxen worth about $165 for $100 to Robinson Fuller, of Amoskeag. This excited suspicion. After the arrest he gave his name as Witham from Nottingham, and said that he sold a heifer at Concord for $19. He will have an examination after the facts are known. He is about 40 years of age. So says the American.

WORTHY TO BE FOLLOWED.—The Manchester firemen, in Newburyport last week, were practical temperance men. We do not hear that the whole fifty-two of them drank one glass of spirituous liquors in Newburyport. The Eagle Company, that received them—always very temperate—determined not to be behind their guests in sobriety; and they were requested that wherever they might go, and whatever might be the inducements, no member should drink strong drinks. All the regular members of the corps observed this request to the letter; but in their ranks was a volunteer, who allowed his appetite to take the lead, when the company, marching to the house, stripped him of his uniform and set him adrift. We hope that on all future occasions the example of No. 5 may be followed.—Herald.

SHOP BREAKING AND DESTRUCTION OF LIQUORS.—Some time between Saturday night and Sunday morning, the wholesale and retail liquor store of Mr. Nath'l Goldsmith, 155 Cambridge street, Boston, was forcibly entered and the till robbed of about one dollar in change. The rogues, either from the fact that they were disappointed in the amount of cash they expected to obtain, or from mere wantonness, turned the faucets in every liquor cask in the store, and left the liquors running, so that on opening the store next morning, the floor and cellar were found completely flooded and the casks empty. Mr. Goldsmith is absent from the city confined to his bed by illness. A reward is offered for the detection and conviction of the guilty parties.—Boston Journal.

CONNECTICUT STATE FAIR.—Hartford, Oct. 11.—The fifth annual fair of the Connecticut State Agricultural Society opens to-morrow on the grounds occupied by the Society in 1855. Thirty-five acres have been enclosed; there are two main exhibition buildings, each 300 feet long, besides two large tents, and 1000 stalls for stock. Every stall is already full, and new ones are being erected. There are 275 entries of horses, 170 of sheep, and upwards of 400 head of swine. There is a large show of agricultural implements, machinery, and dairy produce. There are already double the number of entries of any previous year at this time. $7000 in premiums are to be awarded. The city is full of strangers, and incoming trains are crowded. On Tuesday the fair will open to members; on Wednesday to the public, and continue three days. The annual address will be delivered by Solon Robinson, Esq., of New York, on Friday.

FROM CHINA.—Washington, Oct. 11.—It is said Mr. Reed asks to be allowed to return home. He has made arrangements with the Chinese Imperial Commissioners for indemnification of American citizens for losses caused by the difficulty at Canton, and a portion of the duties collected at Canton, Shanghai and Foo-Chow were to be appropriated for the purpose, time being allowed till the restoration of business at those ports, which might be in November next. Mr. Reed was about proceeding to Shanghai, and contemplated visiting the northern ports of China. The squadron were all going to Japan, where the Powhattan would have her engines and rudder overhauled, and return to China in October.

Dr. Bradley brings an autograph letter from the Emperor of China, written on silk two by seven feet, and elegantly executed.

Mr. Reed leaves China for Bombay about the 1st of December, and thence to England, where he expects to meet his family.

Three of the seamen of the ship Golden State were to be sentenced to execution, August 5, for mutiny, and the murder of Nathan Williams of Maine, 1st officer of the ship. Others were put on trial that day for assault upon the 2d mate with intent to kill.

It is no Quackery.

The world is flooded with what the public calls "quack medicines." In the multitude of antidotes for "the ills that flesh is heir to," it is refreshing to find one that is based upon purely scientific principles, and which is really what it professes to be.—Experiment only proves the excellence of PERSIAN BALM for everything for which it is asserted to be valuable. Try it.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples, also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervisance of the British Excise, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 52 Hanover st; E. SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

TUESDAY, Oct. 12.

The forenoon was spent on the Epping Check List Case, which was given to the jury at noon. The case was grounded on the Selectmen's refusal to strike from the check list the name of a naturalized voter who had not shown his papers at the legal time.

In the afternoon, Charles H. Preston, a minor, for stealing jewelry, plead guilty. This young man looks more like a simpleton than like a confirmed criminal. He is a fit subject for the Reform School.

The Court ordered, that John Kelly, Thomas Hubbard, Robert M. Daniel, Charles T. Willey, Horatio Fellows and Oliver Blakely be discharged, the Grand Jury finding no bills against them.

Robert Walker was put on trial for breaking and entering the house of Ulysses Parks, in this city, and stealing therefrom. Walker was found guilty, and was sentenced to three years' hard labor in the State Prison, three days solitary.

The first jury, on the Epping case, came in for further instructions, which were given by the judge, and they withdrew. The jury soon returned a verdict of Not Guilty.

☞ It is a source of pleasure to us at least, that while the editorial fraternity of this city differ as they may, politically, and in matters of opinion—yet in our business relations, all is most amicable and courteous. Among other instances, besides a general accommodating spirit all round,—when our power-press was being repaired, a couple of weeks since—we only declined the use of the Gazette press, because we had previously been politely tendered that of the Journal. But for one of these, we could have issued no Chronicle for several days. "Two of a trade" may thus sometimes agree.

☞ A flourishing Pear Tree, in the garden of E. M. Brown, Esq., in this city, which has borne a good crop the past season, has recently blossomed again.

EXCURSION OF "MERRIMACK" ENGINE COMPANY, OF MANCHESTER.—Early on Friday morning the Company rode to the Dover Fair ground in carriages furnished by Hon. Frederick Smyth, whose kind attention to the company during their stay in Dover merits their warmest regards.

Leaving Dover in the 11 o'clock train, we arrived at Portsmouth about noon, and found "Gov. Langdon," No. 3, Capt. Cornelius, awaiting our arrival. They escorted us through some of the principal streets of the city to the Navy Yard, visiting on the way the house of Atlantic, No. 6, to partake of a collation. After returning from the Navy Yard we went to the City Hotel, where we were feasted to satiety. Speeches were listened to from Capt. Cornelius, Mayor Morrison, E. B. Merrill, Peter S. Brown, and others.

Much to the regret of the company, their visit in this place was limited to a few hours, and at five o'clock they bade their brother firemen of Portsmouth farewell, and left the city for Newburyport. The firemen of Portsmouth are a set of noble-hearted fellows, and received the Merrimacks like brothers.—Mirror.

☞ The closing race at the State Fair was between Soliloque and Belle of Boston, for $30. Belle won first heat in 2:45; and the reflecting horse the other two in 2:43; 2:44.

☞ Mrs. Jameson says: "The bread of life is love; the salt of life is work; the sugar of life is poetry; the water of life is faith."

☞ Five prisoners have escaped from Dedham, Mass. jail. They may probably come this way. Two are mulattoes, one is an Irishman. One is a mail robber.

☞ General Scott has entirely recovered from the effects of his late accident.

THE

BAY STATE RANGE.

The subscriber invites the attention of the public to THE BAY STATE RANGE, a new cooking apparatus of great capacity, having

Two Large Ovens

AND

Six Boiling Places.

The Ovens will bake SIXTEEN LARGE LOAVES OF BREAD AT ONE TIME—and are superior to any Stove Oven for Roasting Meats.

A Water Back can be added to the Range, with which a barrel of water can be kept boiling without any increase of fuel.

THE RANGE IS

PERFECT IN ITSELF,

and can be set in a chimney or out in the room as is most convenient.

It will warm the coldest kitchen in the city, and an extra room if desired.

Wood or Coal may be used for fuel, the castings being of

DOUBLE THICKNESS,

will resist the action of a coal fire and the abuse of servants.

The Range has been in use since March, and operates finely:—

HEAR WHAT A PURCHASER SAYS OF IT.

"I am delighted with the Range, it will perform so much at once.

I can do more cooking with it in an hour than I can with my Stove (a large one) in half a day, and with much less fuel too.

The ovens are splendid. I have baked flour cakes in them in twelve minutes, with a coal fire.

In fact, IT IS PERFECT—and I would not part with it if unable to replace it."

Please call and examine the Range; it will be found to verify all that is said in its praise.

E. A. STEVENS.

Portsmouth, September 20, 1858.

THE COUNTERFEIT TURKISH PAPER MONEY.—The particulars of the great counterfeiting of Turkish paper money are stated to be, that last spring, a woman calling herself Mrs. Sevesti, about forty years of age, elegantly dressed, possessing a good education, and of very lady-like manners, arrived at New York from Europe, and soon after called upon Mr. Harrison, a job printer, to print her a large number of labels. These labels were about the size of the printed paper that comes on a pack of Chinese fire-crackers, and are partly covered with peculiar characters. Mr. Harrison thought them to be a label for some Chinese invention, and did not for one moment hesitate to accept the job. He accordingly agreed to have the plates manufactured at the earliest moment. An arrangement was then made that Mr. Harrison should print 600,000 copies at one dollars a thousand, and that they should be done within a certain given time.—The work was accordingly finished and all delivered with the exception of about one-quarter of the bills, which, together with the plates, were left in Mr. Harrison's care until they should be called for by Mrs. Sevesti. The bills left with Mr. Harrison have been lying in the printing room ever since, some of them being occasionally used by the hands in the office for waste paper, and the plates were deposited with the other plates in the printing office. Mr. H. having received his pay, thought no more of the matter until a squad of police, on complaint of the Turkish Consul, arrested him on Thursday.

In the meantime the woman proceeded with three trunks, with false bottoms, below which the counterfeit paper was packed, to Liverpool, and from Liverpool by the steam packet to Syra and Constantinople. At Syra the custom house officers, on opening the trunks, detected the false bottoms and the paper money. The woman was arrested and a large amount of the bills found secreted on her clothing, and she was obliged to confess how and where she obtained the money. It is stated that about $40,000 of the bills have got into circulation at Constantinople, probably through some confederate of the woman.—The amount seized at New York amounts to about $400,000. The woman is a native of Moldavia, is married, and is supposed to be only the agent of a band of forgers, who have made Syra their headquarters.

The amount of the counterfeit paper money taken by the woman in her trunks and on her person to Syra, amounted to $4,800,000, and it was the large quantity, undoubtedly, which led to her detection. Had she been contented to take a moderate quantity, half a million, perhaps, she would have succeeded in carrying it safely.

TOO APPROPRIATE A TEXT.—A good story was told us lately, of a popular preacher in the town of H——, in Pennsylvania, which we shall take the liberty of reproducing. It appears the minister had been wedded to a most worthy lady, whose first gift was the dowry of ten thousand dollars, with the promise of as much more upon the decease of her invalid parent. Shortly after marriage, while occupying the pulpit, he chanced to give out a hymn, the fifth verse of which commenced,

"Forever let my grateful heart."

His words paused—he coughed slightly—then adding, "The choir will omit the fifth verse," sat down with something like a nervous haste. With curiosity excited at this conduct of their minister, the congregation smiled some as they read:

"Forever let my grateful heart
His boundless grace adore,
Which gives ten thousand blessings now,
And tells me hope for more."

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all your race. Reader, although thy rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bald or bare, or fading, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Woodly Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:
NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.
DR. WOODS:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair, to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
SIGISMUND THALBERG.
"Dreh a'r Gwylledydd."
Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 23, '53.
PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who had decided to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has performed the most perfect effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.
NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, it is the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually changed to a dark and I am feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons of my temperament. J. G. KEIST.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray. I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications freed me of the dandruff, it began to fill up and grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, strong and in a healthy condition, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.
J. D. HOSS.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds a pint and a half, more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious invoads of certain dangerous maladies who still from false motives to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or mail, to all PARTS OF THE WORLD, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year he has in his possession, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to any part of the country carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from your purpose, nor be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
Advice gratis, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and they have commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the cash accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and resultful drawings forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day-Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.
WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honesty and integrity are fast fading from view, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned, BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to the weather MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain balance for the the troubles incident to female disorganization, either obstructing or painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing the whole system to tremble in the whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable, and free from mineral, they therefore are perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, and that DR. CHEESEMAN has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS WOULD NOT be taken when any female is in a PERNICIOUS situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4631, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.
Given under my hand and seal,
C. L. CHEESEMAN, M. D.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Sheet Iron, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that there is NO MORE DECEPTION AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official documents relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him, beyond question, the superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

POLITICS AND MORALS.

Messrs. Editors:—I saw in your paper some days ago, a little piece about "hearing both sides," the design of which was to bring before your readers a table of alleged democratic gains in several States, among which were Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. It interested me a good deal,—not the gains, for in the divided and distracted condition of parties, they are of little account,—but the comparison of votes in the piece, which led me to look back a little further into the political changes in New England, and to sound them a little deeper.

The politics of Maine, for example, have been largely mingled with moral and social questions and problems, for many years;—they are so now, and they will continue to be!

This is true and will remain true, notwithstanding the disclaimers of either or both parties,—and there is a very strong temperance sentiment lifting a great many thousand men above all parties, in Maine. There is a similar sentiment in New Hampshire and Vermont, and indeed in all New England.

The man who leaves this sentiment out of sight, and who ignores the existence of 100,000 temperance voters in New England, when he counts noses or chickens before an election,—surely reckons without his host.

Let us look at Maine;—but before we do so, I would offer the remark, that in New England, most but not all the men who oppose rum selling and rum drinking at home, are also opposed to slave holding and slave selling abroad; but not in so decided and earnest a manner, because the latter is a little farther off than the former.

When, however, any new or flagrant aggression or outrage by the slave power brings that subject up, and brings it near home, this latent love of freedom and hatred of tyranny shows itself, and is felt.

We have not forgotten, that in 1855, Governor Wells of Maine stumped the State on the rum plank, previous to his election, and gained the Governor's chair chiefly by the aid of the rum power, as an auxiliary to his previous professions of democracy.

A rum paper in Portland said in Sept. 1855, "The solid men of Maine put their shoulder to the wheel, and laid disunion and the Maine Law together in the same grave."

To get the power on the rum platform was one thing; to keep it, another. Gov. Wells had professed in his stumping, to oppose the Maine Law, because it promoted intemperance!—and he purposed, in the same stumping, to make a law that should promote temperance. But a single winter's legislation, and a single year's experience, showed Gov. Wells's temperance law to be a humbug! and his temperance talk all gammon.

In 1856, the presidential year, the Kansas outrages were in full blast,—the drunken minions of the slave power had struck down Sumner and shed his blood on the Senate floor,—and Hamlin came home to Maine a candidate for Governor. The Maine law men professed themselves ready to give Gov. Wells's law another year's trial, and to lay the subject out of the canvas that year. They did so;—and thousands of voters, not Maine law men, who had helped to put Wells in for Governor, now helped to put him out again, by voting for Hamlin,—and all these and more too, voted for Fremont.

The next fall, 1857, the democratic party put into their platform, the support of their licensе law, (Gov. Wells's law),—and the republicans on their part held out the idea that they would pass a new law and submit it to the people for a separate vote. On this issue, not very distinct, the republicans again prevailed, and passed their law agreeable to promise and expectation.

When the time drew near for the people to vote on the law, rum or no rum, the democratic papers generally, throughout the state, and their echoes, near the border, advised all democrats not to vote on the question, but to carry their strength to the polls in the fall against the men who made the law. By this means they hoped to carry the State once more in the fall of 1858.

But they failed. They made some gains from the rum question, perhaps 3000 or 4000. And they have made all they can make from this quarter.

A steady enforcement of the law there, is now fairly begun, and will doubtless be carried on steadily, and do good. And the question has so gone down into the hearts of the people there, for good, that any demagogue, of any party, who tries his hand against temperance, will be likely to damage himself and his party.

So it is, to some extent in New Hampshire, and to a far greater extent in Vermont. Temperance men do not now call for new laws, but for the fair, honest enforcement of those we have,—and by the proper authorities.

There is not a temperance man of any note in all New England, who favors a licensе law! They wish to destroy the evil if they can, but at all events to cripple it and put it under the ban as unlawful and disgraceful.

And they are a power that cannot be despised, and that may not be safely overlooked. Z.

WOULDN'T HAVE HIM.—A notorious fellow named William Webster was committed to Bangor jail last Saturday, for an assault, in default of payment of a fine of $2.64. On Wednesday his fellow prisoners, in the exercise of a commendable judgment on their part, considering him too mean a rascal for them to "bed and board with," paid his fine with wooden meat-skewers of their own manufacture, and turned him out again among the world's people. The Bangor criminals ought to require a certificate of good character from all candidates for admission to their select circle, for there are so many bad fellows at large that they will otherwise occasionally get one.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The Governor o New Hampshire has set the example of naming the 25th of November for Thanksgiving Day, and it is suggested that all the other Governors follow suit. The 25th of November is the centennial anniversary of the surrender of Fort du Quesne, (now Pittsburg) which terminated the rule of France on this continent. It is also the anniversary of the evacuation of New York by the British, which occurred twenty-five years later. Washington marched into each place with his victorious troops each time. These events would give a peculiar significance to a national celebration on that day.

THE COMMERCE OF CHINA.—As the last British treaty increased greatly commerce with China, by opening only five ports, it is generally anticipated that the recent treaty of the allies which opens the country much more fully to foreign commerce, will again largely increase the traffic with this nation, reputed to contain a population of four hundred millions. A letter says—of the vessels employed in the Chinese waters it is estimated that 1391 are English, while the United States have but 457.

The Traveller remarks, our vessels are generally too large for many of the Chinese ports, and much of the coasting trade is now done by the Portuguese, in small craft, while our ships trading in those waters, average seven or eight hundred tons. When we have vessels adapted to the China waters, and the mutual wants and habits of the parties are known to each other, we shall find not only the direct trade between this country and China greatly augmenting, but between that country and Japan, Formosa, and Siam and other countries, for which the Chinese will be chartered. We certainly look for much improvement in these ports that shall be advantageous to all nations.

Sometime during the war of 1812—15, we had arrivals of tea and and sugar from China and other parts of Asia, brought in fast sailing schooners, which could go into small ports, and run away from big ships of war; and which were lightly armed, so as to beat off a boat or tender.

☞ The property belonging to the Bay State Mills corporation, in Lawrence, Mass., has been advertised to be sold at auction, on the 24th of November next, by order of the receivers. This property consists of the factories, dwelling houses, machinery, &c. This is one of the largest mills in the country and failed under the management of Messrs. Lawrence, Stone & Co. It is thought that some of the large creditors may combine together and form a new company and purchase the property.

MANCHESTER.—Leonard O. Witham, on two complaints for stealing two yoke of oxen, one belonging to Mr. Haynes of Newmarket, the other to Mr. Brown of Rye. Ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 on each complaint.

☞ Counterfeit threes on the Bank of Cape Ann, Mass., are in circulation. The vignette is a female seated and an eagle.—On the right lower corner is a man gathering corn. The bill is unlike the genuine one.

Caleb Cushing complains that small "politicians" are continually annoying him. No doubt it is a pleasant employment to stick pins in that Cushin'.—Louisville Journal.

A LADY KILLED.—Maj. Hagner, the Superintendent of the U. S. Arsenal, at Bridesburg, and Mr. Pigott, his clerk, were testing powder on the Arsenal grounds. The manner of testing was by firing an ounce of powder in a mortar and projecting a twenty-four pound ball with it. Mrs. Pigott, the wife of the clerk, left her house on the grounds and started to go to the office of her husband. On the way she crossed the range of the shot, just after the mortar was fired, and the ball struck her, mangled her in a shocking manner, and caused her death about an hour afterwards. The deceased was about 21 years of age. She had been married about two years, and leaves one child.—The experiments have been going on since May. Men were stationed to give warning to persons crossing the "shell ground." Mrs. Pigott was cautioned, and she stood watching the ball coming toward her, but she seemed fascinated and unable to get out of the way.

POLITICAL.—The administration papers of Illinois publish an authenticated copy of a mortgage lately executed upon his property in Chicago by Senator Douglas, to several Tammany politicians, for $52,000, which they argue has gone in to pay campaign expenses. If Douglas is beaten, he is financially as well as politically ruined. Prentice of the Louisville Journal says:—

The comet, now at a considerable distance from "the dipper," seems to be, like old Abe Lincoln in his encounters with Douglas, brighter and brighter every time it makes its appearance. Douglas fails to improve—perhaps from his keeping too near "the dipper."

It is a curious fact that Breese, Doughterty and Reynolds, now fighting Douglas in Illinois as leaders of the Buchanan and Lecompton faction, bolted Douglas's original Nebraska bill, and then opposed him as anti Nebraska democrats. He makes a strong point against them, on this score, in his speeches.

☞ In reading the testimony for the defence of Capt. Holmes, now on trial in the U. S. Court, Portland, for a horrible murder of a sailor, we see no evidence that he was a drunkard, but that he was a drinker of spirits, and had his head hurt in a quarrel with laborers, (probably coolies.) The defence is insanity.

GODEY FOR NOVEMBER, 1858, contains an unequalled steel plate, "The Innkeeper's Daughter," a beauty indeed; winter cloaks for ladies, five of them, cloaks that can be worn; a country-house, printed in colors; embroidered reticule, printed in colors; forty-four engravings, sixty articles, and one hundred pages of reading.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Tribune says, that "even Gov. Walker, the Apostle of Free Trade, admits that Mr. Buchanan will leave office with a debt of $100,000,000, and that there is no escape from the present insolvency short of a high duty on iron."

☞ Speaking of the Boston Evening Courier, the Concord, N. H. Patriot says:

It will commend itself to popular favor and we doubt not will prove itself worthy of confidence and support. Those who want an evening paper of Democratic tendencies, cannot do better than take the Courier.

☞ Some sensible but saucy newspaper philosopher gives the ancient and honorable order of grumblers a smart slap in the face, thus—

"Those people who turn up their noses at the world might do well to reflect that it is as good a world as they are likely ever to get into again."

☞ Two men, named Hall and Gaffley, were executed at Carrolton, Ill., on the 29th ult., for the murder of a man named Hinton. The murderers were both young men, and laid the cause of the crime to whisky.

☞ There is a great scarcity of vessels at Alexandria, Va. Coal has accumulated; freights have advanced; and the few vessels there are getting almost any rate they choose to demand.

☞ The Herald states that the unusual interest which has manifested itself in many religious denominations, has extended to the Unitarian Society in Newburyport.

☞ Dr. Roswell Field, of Gill, has sold his valuable collection of footprints in the sandstones on the Connecticut river, to Amherst College.

LOCKJAW IN HORSES. — The Scientific American says lockjaw in horses can be cured by wrapping them in blankets which have been wrung out of water of two hundred degrees temperature.

"My native city has treated me badly," said a drunken vagabond, but I love her still." "Probably," replied a gentleman, "her still is all you do love."

Few men are driven to desperation without having had themselves a hand in the driving.

STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The State Temperance Committee are hereby notified to meet at Exeter, on Tuesday evening, October 19, at 7 o'clock.

And the Annual State Temperance Convention, for re-organizing the Committee, will be held at Exeter, on Wednesday, Oct. 20, at 12 o'clock noon.

Members of the State Committee who cannot attend, are requested to send written reports of what has been done, or left undone, in their several counties or districts, for the past year.

Ministers of the gospel, and all other friends of temperance, are invited to attend the Convention.

T. T. ABBOT, Chairman.
T. H. MILLER, Cor. Sec

☞ The Piscataqua Association of Congregational Ministers, will meet at Exeter on Tuesday and Wednesday next, Oct. 19 and 20.

☞ The New Hampshire Convention of Baptist Churches will meet in Exeter, on Wednesday and Thursday next, Oct. 20 and 21.

A military officer in Rhode Island ("malicious," Mrs. Partington would say) was tried by a Court Martial, and sentenced to be reprimanded, and to deliver up his sword for thirty days. The reprimand he bore with great equanimity; as for the sword, he informed the Court that he had returned that weapon to George Baker's store, where he had hired it at the moderate rate of four and sixpence a day; and he did not doubt that the Court might obtain it on the same terms, or even at a discount from that price, in consideration of the long time for which it was wanted.

The Springfield Republican says that as a little boy of that city was walking with his mother the other evening, while the comet was blazing forth in all its splendor, the mother said: "Willie why don't you look and see the comet?" "where is your comet?" he asked. "Is that it—that big star squirting water?"

An Indian out West was heard to make the following exclamation, on seeing one of our fashionable (hooped) ladies: "Ugh! much wigwam!"

Mr. Isaac Titcomb, living on the Turnpike, Newburyport, has an apple tree that has been in bloom four times this year—in May, August, September and October.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:
For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.
Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 10 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZE are calculated for, and will suit the capacity o

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES,

HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the parts in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For sale Everywhere.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.
WEDNESDAY, Oct. 13.

Nelson N. Downing was arraigned for the murder of Mrs. Spinney in this city last spring. Plea, not guilty.

In the indictment of Mary Mills for fornication, the defendant, by advice of her counsel Mr. Hackett, retracted her former plea, and entered a nolo contendere.

In the indictment vs. Patrick Lynch, for fornication, by advice of his counsel Mr. Hatch, hedid the same.

State vs. Bartholomew Conner, for keeping a disorderly house, was tried by the Jury; verdict guilty. Sullivan for the State; Hackett for deft.

State vs. Thomas Palmer for assault upon Harry Bright with intent to kill; verdict guilty. Sullivan for State; Hackett for deft.

State vs. Langley B. Lewis, for assault upon George Pearson is now (Wednesday P. M.) on trial. Sullivan for State; Hackett for deft. In this case the verdict was not guilty.

☞ A female impostor has been in this city within a few days, teaching ladies to cut and make dresses, which she evidently knew how to do,—but her imposture consists in borrowing rubber, umbrellas and shawls, and in not giving the patterns and diagrams, for which she managed to get pay.

SOLD.—We are glad to learn that Messrs. Toby & Littlefield of this city have finally made sale of their ship of 975 tons, which since last spring has been ready for launching. A Boston firm are the purchasers, and the price agreed upon $46,000. She will probably be launched the last of the week, provided her anchors and chains are received by that time.—Ballot.

A SURPRISE VISIT AT THE SAGAMORE HOUSE, LYNN.—It was generally understood that the "last dance" at the "Sagamore," for the present season, took place a few weeks ago,; but "positively the last" one was reserved for Friday evening. The affair was a surprise party concocted by some friends of the "surprised," otherwise one of the junior proprietors of the Sagamore—Mr. Thomas B. Rand—who, to the number of some forty or fifty couples, took possession of the hotel, after having had Mr. R. removed from its precincts while the party were congregating, and afterwards having him called and giving him a most "complete surprise," as he afterwards was forced to acknowlge.

A band of six pieces of music accompanied the party. What with dancing and merry-making in the large hall, and the disposal of an immense amount of eatables, which were all brought with the besiegers, in the spacious drawing rooms, the hours flew past "werry" rapidly, until the "wee sma' ones in the morning" admonished us to "raise the siege" and depart, after having received the hearty thanks of Mr. R., and wishing him "many happy days."—Traveller.

EDWARD EVERETT, whose autumnal days are lighted by the same heightened glow that fell upon the declining years of Edmund Burke, and whose genius adorns everything it touches, has been laid under contribution frequently of late by the people of New England for speeches. Whether an agricultural fair, a public dinner, a drunkard's hospital, or a lighthouse consecration need the eclat of his name, he has shown himself prompt to obey any summons, and prepared to acquit himself, as if each special occasion had been the peculiar subject to which all his sympathies and thought had been devoted.—Richmond Whig.

FRENCH FASHIONS.—A letter from Paris says —"The materials prepared for the coming season do not denote any decrease in the extravagance in toilette, which has been so remarkable for the last few years. The fabrics are gorgeous, the prices even higher, and the profusion of trimmings and decorations on the increase. What was once the great charm in a high damsel's toilette, simplicity, is now entirely lost sight of. Flounces and furbelows, laces, ribbons, jets, bugles, feathers and flowers, are all worn together, and without the discrimination of time and circumstances.

There are magnificent new black silks, which the looms of Lyons have sent us for the winter; these silks are so wide that only three breadths are necessary for the skirt. The texture is thick but very soft, and the price not very moderate, varying from twelve to fourteen dollars per yard."

MORTALITY OF SAVANNAH. — Savannah, Oct 12.—The deaths in this city for the last two days were 11, of which 6 were from yellow fever. The deaths for the week have been 32, of which number 15 have been from the fever.

BANK MATTERS.—The notes of the Tioga Bank, of Pennsylvania, were thrown out in Philadelphia to-day.

It is reported that the Litchfield Bank of Connecticut, went into receivers' hands yesterday.

YELLOW FEVER.—New Orleans, Oct. 11. The deaths from yellow fever yesterday were 55, for the week they foot up 390.

IOWA ELECTION.—Dubuque, Oct. 12.—Leffingwell, anti-Lecompton, for Congress, has 600 majority in this city.

At Cincinnati, early Sunday morning, Emma Clifford was burned to death by the explosion of a camphene lamp She arose in her night clothes, and was filling a lamp while it was burning.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.—The first telegraphic reports of imperfect election returns are not generally very reliable, but as far as they go, the returns from Pennsylvania, received Wednesday morning, confirm the anticipations which have been entertained, that the Democratic party have split upon the question of Lecomptonism, and suffered a defeat.

In Philadelphia, Tuesday night, at 11 o'clock, the dispatch says:

It is believed that the whole People's ticket is elected in this city. That party claim the victory, and are marching in procession about the streets.

Harrisburg.—The whole People's ticket is elected by a large majority, showing a Democratic loss of 810.

Pittsburg.—The whole Republican county ticket is undoubtedly elected by a large majority.

For Congress.—In the 1st district, Florence, Dem., is doubtless elected by 400 to 500 maj. Two wards of Philadelphia give him 750 maj.

2d district—Three wards give Morris, opp., 1315 majority, and he is doubtless elected.

There is nothing definite from the other Congressional districts in Philadelphia.

7th district—Roberts, Dem., is elected by about 500 majority.

4th district—Milward, opp., is believed to be elected. Two wards give him a gain of 1200 votes.

5th district—John Wood, opp., is doubtless elected over Owen Jones, Dem.

12th district—As far as heard from Col. Scranton, opp., has 3114 majority over J. McReynolds, the Democratic candidate for Congress.

Lancaster Co.—9th Congressional District—gives Stevens, Rep., for Congress 3000 maj.

11th district—Campbell, Rep., for Congress, beat the united vote of Dewart and Cake.

Hall, opp., for Congress, (15th District) has 275 maj.

OHIO ELECTION.—Cleveland, 12.—This city has gone Republican, by a reported majority of 200.

The scattering returns thus far received from this part of the State shows no material change from last year's vote. There are generally small Republican gains.

Cincinnati, Oct. 12.—In the 2d district Gurley, opp., is elected by probably 1500 maj. over Groesbeck, Dem.

In the first district Pendleton, Dem. is elected by 300 maj. The whole opposition county ticket is elected. Further returns from 1st district indicate that Pendleton's election is doubtful.

3d district—In Montgomery Co., with two townships to hear from, Vallandingham, Dem., gains 30, and in Butler Co. he gains 185.

In the 12th district, Cox, Dem., is probably elected by 300 maj.

OHIO.—Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—In the 1st Dist., Pendleton, Dem., is elected by 350 majority. In the 3d Dist., Vallandingham, Dem., is undoubtedly elected.

INDIANA EECTION.—Cincinnati, Oct. 12.—In the 6th district, as far as heard from, Porter, Republican candidate for Congress, has between 400 to 500 majority, a gain of nearly 500.

In Marion Co. the whole Republican county ticket is elected by a large majority.

Hancock Co. shows a large Republican gain.

INDIANA.—Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—2d District—The returns thus far indicate the election of W. B. English, Democrat, by a small majority.

3d Dist—Wm. M. Dunn, Rep., elected.
4th Dis—W. S. Holman, anti-Lecompton Democrat, elected.
5th Dist—David Kilgore, Rep., elected.
6th Dist—Albert G. Porter, "
8th Dist—James Wilson, "
9th Dist—Schuyler Colfax, "
11th Dist—John U. Petit, "

The vote on the State ticket is close, and the result doubtful.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE,
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stores for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. W. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any of or stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
399 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEXRDR ORMWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON,
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1858.

SIR,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stores, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES.—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House,
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent store, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL,
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my dining-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most all kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs considerd less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal; in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. FLUSER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.,—DEAR SIR:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that we did be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter.

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN P. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of a stove. And all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it to all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.
FOR WARMING & VENTILATING
Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES,

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

FROLIC UP CHIMNEY.

On Wednesday of last week, the bricklayers completed a monstrous chimney on the Charlestown Navy Yard, rising 240 feet from the ground. There is below the surface a foundation 17 feet deep, and 32 feet square at the bottom. The chimney above ground is square outside, 17 feet 6 in. each side at bottom, and tapering to the top.

Inside, the flue is round, 7 feet in diameter. On Thursday the event of its completion was celebrated, by the Master Mason, Mr. Otis Little, giving a collation to the mechanics employed in its construction, and to a few others, making a company of over forty persons. The collation was spread on the top of the chimney,, which had been covered over with a platform nearly thirty feet square, railed and amply protected from accident.

Again on Friday, the table upon the top of the chimney was spread for another company, by Mr. Little and Mr. Joseph E. Billings, the architect. On this occasion, the officers of the Yard, the Master Mechanics, members of City Government, and many other well known citizens were of the company.

The Advertiser says,—as on a similar occasion on the day previous, the dignity and respectability of this locality were drawn up to the top of the chimney by tubs full, like common brick and mortar, by steam. Owing to the high wind, the elevation was anything but pleasant, the sharp air penetrating through one's clothing like steel arrows. The mechanics doubtless accustomed to the position, made their occasion in a great degree pleasurable; but the sensation occasioned by the height when one by chance occasionally looked directly below him, joined to the sharp air, rendered the party to most of those present, rather a cool affair. Most of those however who had mounted to the top put on as much of the nonchalant air as possible to give the impression that they were very comfortable sort of "bricks," but it was after all a shallow mask, and the red of "the rosy," as Dick Swiveller would say, could make no amends for the blue of the nasal appendages of all but those whom time and opportunity had dyed in fast colors. The party however was as jovial as could be expected.

On this day there was also a small company of women, who were favored (?) with an invitation to go up, and who did so. Of these, we must let the Advertiser give its own account in its own way. The editor very courteously remarks.—

We have only deferred the appropriate notice of remarking that the "occasion was graced by the presence of several females," because our sentiments would forbid our associating the divinity of woman with common brick and mortar mortals. It pains us very much to say that the top of the chimney, owing to rather a brisk breeze at that altitude, was hardly the place for a full and fashionable display of the breadth of fashion; but when we saw them, the ladies, coming up to us, like a whole tub of sweet smelling apple blossoms, we had not found out that, and our palms tingled with a peculiar sensation to enjoy the felicity of touching their daintily gloved hands, and assist in unlading the rough car which should have squeaked out with delight at being permitted to bear its precious burden of woman.

But when once fairly landed upon the platform, such a patting down of crinoline, it was never before our privilege to witness, and we do really believe had they not been aided in their highly praiseworthy exertions as breathing, terrestrial objects of this mundane sphere, they would have been borne off Heavenward like the celestial bodies which they are.

The visit of the ladies we are sorry to say was brief, and they made no disguise whatever of their anxiety to go down. Stepping lightly and timidly into the car once more, at the word of Mr. Little, they were safely landed at the base of the huge structure.

It is no sort of consequence how the balance of the party got down, but we shall allow some "suburban" to close this paragraph and this notice, neatly, by saying—"the staging will soon be taken down, and no more gay circles of smokers, who yesterday formed the upper tier of 'bricks'—will carouse around the summit of this chimney; but it will smoke on alone in its staid silence and solitude, a creditable monument to the skill of our mechanics who built it, and the 'fanatics' that feed the flame below.

A Douglas Chicago orator, Francis C. Sherman, opened rich as follows: "For the sake of facilitating business I move in a few remarks;" and on a different occasion he said he had "built a subterranean vault in the garrett of the Sherman House for a wine cellar."

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1858.

LETTER FROM VERITAS.

KENSINGTON, Oct. 10.

Messrs. Editors:—We have had for the most of the time just such weather as farmers desire for harvesting, and a glorious harvest it is, considering the backwardness of the spring, and the shortness of the summer. Some of the trees are putting on what Bryant so beautifully calls their "hectic" flush; and the evergreens, true to their motto of status quo, set off their dying hues to advantage.

When Mr. Everett was minister to the Court of St. James, his wife wore a dress of white muslin, trimmed with our forest leaves, to her Majesty's Levee. It was, as it deserved to be, very much admired. Perhaps it would be thought too cheap here, where everything is valued by the price it cost to obtain it. People of suddenly acquired wealth or position are most afraid of not being valued on account of it.

Why do not men learn a lesson from ever-teaching Nature, and strive to improve and beautify life in obedience to their Father's will; and, trusting to the mercy of His Son, our Savior, leave the resurrection of the body and the perfecting of the spirit to His care who "clothes the grass of the field, which to-day is and to-morrow is cast into the oven and burned." Is not His care for the inferior sufficient evidence of His care for the superior? If a few generations were so to live, those who came after would have occasion to exclaim in the language of Watts,

"If such the sweetness of the stream,
What must the Fountain be Where saints and angels draw their bliss!"
Direct from Deity.

The case of the lady who existed so long without nourishment, is indeed remarkable. I have seen life prolonged under circumstances so adverse, and vice versa, that I have thought there must be some distinct and specific "Organ," as Phrenologists say, which might be called the pabulum vitæ. We should, and reverently do, acknowledge "Him in whom we live and move, and in whose hand our breath is," and with whom are the issues of life and death; but He is pleased to work by means according to established laws. Do we understand them as well as we might?

The "unlucky Charleston gentleman" was not very respectably raised, as the Virginians say, if he was respectably connected.

By the way, have you seen a description of the Brooks monument? I will send it, and you can make what use of it you choose. As an individual, charity requires us to forgive and forget him; but as one whom "the whole South" delight to honor, and from whose cowardly and brutal attack, a man, a Christian and a scholar is still suffering, perhaps we should remember him until a change is made in the ruling dynasty.

Where are the funds to come from to pay fifty thousand for the restoration of the Africans? Will it have to be borrowed? Mr. Cushing will feel called upon to deliver another address on his favorite subject, "All our trouble comes from the North;" will he not? I hope your correspondent "M—E." will keep his resolution. If he has entered the war against evil, keep his armor burnished. How many might be saved if all who profess to be lovers of right counsels acted consistently. A deacon in Boston was a large owner of real estate. Many of his houses he let for drinking places and brothels. A young mechanic who had been trained to a high code of morals, and was watching Christians to see if there was a reality in religion, remonstrated with him. His reply was, "I don't think religion has anything to do with a man's every day business." Such reasoning and such practice has retarded the regeneration of the world many a century, and will continue to so long as it prevails. 'Thou requirest truth in the inward part,' says the psalmist; and an old divine, from whom I have before quoted, says—'Sincerity is evangelical innocence.' Much of this laxness in morals, and vagueness of apprehension as to what religion is, comes from the preaching of the present and past. The precepts and the practice of true christianity are not set forth as they should be, and many a man has gone through life, spending all his energies in accumulating property, trusting to some mysterious change in the article of death, or before death comes, to fit his spirit for a world of purity and benevolence. The moral courage of Mr. Mann was no more than we should have expected of him. When he was the Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education, we often met with him. All are called upon in their sphere of labor and circle of acquaintance, to exercise moral courage.

I witnessed an instance of it once that is as fresh on my memory as yesterday's occurrence. It was the custom of the family to repeat a verse each, at table, as well as to ask a blessing. Some delay was occasioned in waiting for a nurse who was temporarily in the family. When she came she apologized for keeping them waiting, and made some slightly indelicate remark. "I have forgotten what it was, but I shall not forget the tone of a young lady teacher who was at the table, as she repeated, "Let no corrupt communication proceed out of thy mouth," when it came her turn to repeat a verse. I don't think the offense was repeated in her presence, and I doubt not that her influence was always found on the side of truth and purity.

Close upon Miss Haven's ruin and death, planned and brought about by the dram-shop supporters and keepers, comes the burning of the Crystal Palace, in New York. Why did they not have a watchman in the lumber room, if they could not lock it? The "boy dodging about between the Palace door on 42d street and a a dram shop opposite," shows the origin of the fire. Human virtue, life and happiness, wealth and works of art, that can never be replaced, must all be sacrificed to this Moloch; and for the sake of the ignorant and interested, the Democratic office-holders wink at it all. We are tempted to exclaim, "How long, O Lord, how long?"

I wish Mr. Edward Beecher would devote his intellect and energy to something better than his first book contained. I have not seen his last. How it would be just to punish us for sins committed in a pre-existent state, of which we have no consciousness, is as difficult as the subject which troubles him. I think he has too much brain to work clean. His "Organic sins" seemed rather to mystify than to make plainer the relation of the church to slavery, I thought. The editors will find it easier to meet any of them in argument, for they will write or reason faster than two editors can answer them.

Should you not like to hear Mr. Parker's lectures on Franklin? Are you to have a Lyceum this winter? I presume they will not in Exeter now. Are all the subjects used up, or the brains? Or have the people got tired of them? I think the cause of religion would be the gainer by some public amusement every week, if it was of the right stamp. In the absence of it, people dress and go to church with a view to being amused and exhibiting themselves. It seems that some people look upon their minister very much as they used to upon a court jester—expecting him to say smart, witty things, that will amuse them and put them in humor with themselves. I hope such will take the Chronicle, as they will find in it much to amuse as well as to improve and inform. "A sprightly little paper," is very frequently said of it. May its circulation increase.

VERITAS.

NOT ACCORDING TO SAMPLE.—In the Boston Police Court, Wednesday afternoon, an Irishwoman complained of three men for beating her husband and herself, in their rum shop at South Boston. The woman produced a bunch of hair, which she said the defendants had torn from her head. Upon examination, however, it appeared that the hair of her head was four shades darker than the sample produced, and her testimony was thrown out.—Traveller.

We will warrant this lying trollop made no objection to taking the oath,—and that no one questioned whether she believed in a deity or in a future state of rewards and punishments. And if they had, she would have said yes!

☞ The General Assembly of Vermont convened in Montpelier on Thursday. The House was organized by the choice of Hon. George F. Edwards of Burlington, speaker, who received 188 to 38 votes for Horace Wadsworth, Democrat, of Grand Isle.

☞ In an affray which occurred on the Nashville, Tenn., fair grounds on Wednesday, Sandy Diven was killed and his brother dangerously wounded. Gen. Joel A. Battle had his skull fractured. Samuel Cowan was mortally wounded, and others were seriously injured.

☞ In Salem, Mass., afternoon prayer meetings are kept up daily at 3 o'clock.—In Portland morning prayer meetings are kept up. Also in this city, at the Vestry in Fleet street.

IMPROVING.—To the present time this year the export of domestic cotton goods from New York has been $2,076,657 to $1,592,010 for the same portion of last year.

☞ The deaths from yellow fever in New Orleans, on Wednesday, were 47. In Savannah the interments were 7, including 2 of fever.

THE ELECTIONS.

The Boston Advertiser of Thursday morning thus sums up the telegraphic returns:

In Pennsylvania, there is no doubt that the republican State ticket is elected by a large majority. The returns for Congressmen, as far as received, indicate the election of only one democrat, Thomas B. Florence, who is reported to be elected in the first district by 493 majority. We are without returns from two districts, and all the others have elected either republicans or anti-Lecompton democrats.

In Ohio, the republican State ticket is elected by from ten to fifteen thousand majority, and it is thought that fifteen republican representatives are sent to Congress.

In Indiana, the republicans have carried all the State officers, a majority of the Legislature, and, it is supposed, eight members of Congress.

The election which took place in Florida on the 4th inst., resulted in favor of the democrats. Geo. S. Hawkins was re-elected to Congress by a large majority.

An election for members of the Legislature took place in Kansas on the 4th inst. The republican ticket was generally successful.

CHEBACCO PARISH.—JOHN WISE.

The Salem Gazette has the following historical memoranda:—Nearly two hundred years ago, when Essex was the part of Ipswich known as Chebacco Parish, and when the First Parish had prohibited the former from erecting a meeting house, "some women, without the knowledge of their husbands," as the Record says, "and by the advice of a few men, went to other towns and obtained help to raise a house of worship." This was in March, 1679. The house thus built stood to the northward of the present one, on the road leading to Ipswich.

The burying ground near the church contains half-buried and moss-covered stones which mark the places where the dust of once active men mingle with the mother earth. Among the memorials of public interest in this yard is one to the memory of Rev. John Wise, who was the son of Joseph Wise of Roxbury, and was pastor of the second church in Ipswich (now Essex.) The slab which marks his resting-place bears this inscription:

Underneath lies the body of Rev. John Wiso, A. M., first pastor of the Second Church in Ipswich. Graduated at Harvard College 1678—ordained pastor of said church in 1681—and died April 8, 1725, with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by M. Beck.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES,

HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it pen-trates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? for Sale Everywhere.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

THURSDAY, Oct. 14.

An attempt was made to empanel a jury for the trial of Nelson N. Downing for the murder of Mrs. Sarah A. Spinney; but seven jurors only were obtained, free from objection, out of a large number returned.

The Court then took up the trial of Luther J. Austin of Plaistow, against whom the grand jury have found two indictments for larceny, one for breaking and entering, and one for breaking windows, &c. This trial was begun on Wednesday, but had been laid aside for the purpose above indicated. Being now resumed, it occupied the forenoon, and was given to the jury just before dinner time. In the afternoon, at the opening of the Court, the jury brought in a verdict against Austin in one of his cases; and another of the cases against him was put on trial—mainly on the same evidence.

☞ We understand that the new docket and the old docket will be called over this, Friday, morning, at the opening of the Court, 8 o'clock.

The criminal trials will occupy the remainder of this week, and Downing's trial will probably occupy a large portion of next week.

THE ADVERTISING PAGES of a newspaper often give as deep an insight into the movements of this throbbing world as the news and editorial columns which take the precedence. Not only do they often contain rare specimens of human idiosyncracies, but they ever present a boundless field of activity. People of all sorts here meet on terms of the most perfect equality. The name and trade of the most radical appear "cheek by jowl" with those of the most inveterate Democrat; Native Americans huddle by the side of their "adopted fellow citizens" without the least jarring or political disputation; the come-outer and the conservative, the infidel and the christian, the aristocrat and the democrat, the high and low, the rich and the poor, the white and the black man, all here lay aside their distinctive prejudices, and commingle in the same company, willing servants of the same great potentate—the Public.

There is something in the advertisements of every paper to interest and benefit every one, the poor as well as the rich, the wise as well as the foolish—and none so foolish as those who neglect to read them.—Boston Journal.

A STRANGE CRAFT.—We have before us the model of a Ceylon canoe, that surpasses in ingenuity all of our preconceived ideas of boat building. The model is about four feet long by an inch wide—one inch and a half over all. The part that is for the water, however, is about double the width, and is dug out of a log, the bottom flat-round and taking a crescent form in its length, admitting of its sliding over the water without resistance. The depth of the model is about four inches.

The proportions of the large canoe are all observed in the miniature. Some of them are thirty and forty feet long. Their extreme narrowness does not admit of more than one sitting on a seat, which is flat on the bottom, and thus passengers are strung along the entire length, spoon-fashion.—They are propelled by sail or by oars. When by sail, the mast is not stepped like that of an ordinary boat, but the sail is suspended on a bar across the top of the boat by the junction of two bamboo poles, which diverge aloft and thus spread the top of the sail. One tack of the sheet is secured to either end that may serve as a bow, for both are alike, and the other within reach of the helmsman.

The sail is very large, and the boat would capsize, even without the sail, but for a log of wood nearly as heavy as the boat, modelled in the same form as the bottom, sharp at both ends, which is placed in the water some twenty feet from the vessel and kept thus by two bamboo poles projecting from the weather side. This is called an outrigger, and counterbalances the leverage of the sail. In the event of its blowing strong, a man and sometimes three men are stationed on the outrigger to preserve the balance. They sail very fast and go by the swiftest ships. We shall keep our model on exhibition for a short time, and would like to have the curious in watercraft inspect her.—Boston Sat. Gaz.

HEARTLESS.—Queen Victoria is about to present to the Emperor of China a steam yacht of the finest construction, and thoroughly equipped. It is to be of a model similar to the vessels recently used in bombarding Canton, and forcing the passage of the Peiho river. If his Celestial Majesty, the Brother of the Sun and Moon, troubles himself to think about this gift at all, he will be likely to consider it as adding insult to injury; and, if he knows anything about Shakespeare, he may be justified in quoting, with deep feeling, "This is the most unkindest cut of all." The idea of presenting to his pig-tailed majesty an English war vessel, is very much like that of shaking before the terrified eyes of an urchin the rod with which he has just been chastised. Perhaps, however, Victoria's intention is a thoroughly humane one, and aims at soothing the anguish of the mighty man of the East by offering him a hair of the dog that bit him.—Boston Courier.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—The Hartford Press, in describing a game of wicket, gives the following remarkable incident:

Mr. Jabez Alvord had buckled a strap tightly around his right arm above the elbow, to prevent his right arm from becoming lamed when throwing in the ball. Soon a large throw became necessary, but as the effort was made, a crack, short and distinct as that of a pistol, was heard across the playground, and the young man's arm fell powerless at his side, the ball describing a short curve beyond. On an immediate examination of the arm by Drs. Phelps and Steele, who were on the ground, it was found that the bone was broken short off, just above the joint where the strap was placed.

A JEWISH MILITARY COMPANY.—A Norfolk paper states that a new military company will be shortly raised in that city, to be composed entirely of Jews. The number already enrolled amounts to thirty, which will probably be doubled. It is the first time we have heard of this class of our population turning their attention to military pursuits in time of peace, but as in the days of David there were mighty men of valor among the Jewish nation, we presume that the spirit which animated their forefathers still exists among them.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—The election in this city to-day for Mayor and Councilmen passed off without serious outbreaks, though there was considerable noise and confusion at the polls. Col. Shute, the Independent candidate against Mayor Swan, withdrew his name about noon, issuing a card that it was impossible for his friends to vote, being intimidated by the Mayor's party.—Mr. Swan was therefore again elected Mayor without opposition. His friends are in great spirits to-night, and rejoicing everywhere.

A few weeks since, says the New Orleans Crescent, we mentioned, as a singular circumstance, the marriage of a German widow, in the Third District, to her fifth husband—not one of the previous four having outlived his wedding a year. Well, a few days since, the fifth husband took the yellow fever. He died, and on Friday was buried.

A DEBATE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.—The Duke of St. James took the oaths of his seat. He was introduced by Lord Phitz-pompey. He heard a debate. We laugh at such a thing, especially in the Upper House: but,on the whole,the affair is imposing, particularly if we take a part in it. Lord Ex-Chancellorin thought the nation going on wrong; and be made a speech full of currency and constitution.—Baron Derprivycal second him with great effect, brief but bitter, satirical and sore. The Earl of Quarterday answered these, full of confidence in the nation and in himself. When the debate was getting heavy, Lord Soap jumped up to give them something light. The Lords do not encourage wit, and so are obliged to put up with puns. But Viscount Memoir was very statemanlike, and spouted a sort of universal history. Then there was Lord Ego, who vindicated his character, when nobody knew he had one, and explained his motives because his auditors could not understand his acts. Then there was a maiden speech, so inaudible, that it was doubted whether, after all, the young orator really did lose his virginity. In the end, up started the Premier, who having nothing to say, was manly, and candid, and liberal; gave credit to his adversaries, and took credit to himself, and then the motion was withdrawn.—The Young Duke, by Disraeli.

HOW TO PUT OUT BURNING TAR.—John Parr writes the following to a New York paper:

"In the month of November, 1850, I sailed from New Orleans, bound for Boston; there were about 130 passengers, including crew. When about four days out the cholera broke out among the passengers and crew, and the doctor ordered the ship to be fumigated with pitch. The second time of fumigation the iron chain, heated nearly red hot, set the barrel of pitch in a blaze, which ascended, I should judge, fully six or seven feet high. Being myself looking on at the time, I seized two blankets that were lying in a bunk close at hand, and, throwing them on the flame, completely smothered it out in less than a minute. There was a great call for water, but when it came the fire was choked out by the blankets. I am confident that if water had been thrown on the flame, the ship would have been destroyed. I had been informed by my father (when a boy) that a blanket was the best thing to smother a fire at the commencement of breaking out, consequently I believe the slight knowledge on that point saved the vessel and passengers. The ship was the Silas Leonard, (of Portland, I think,) commanded by Capt. Thompson, a thorough seaman."

HOW QUICK THE CHINESE ARE CIVILIZED. To see the effect of one's surroundings, says the Philadelphia Gazette, look at the representative of the central flowery land, who sells segars on the sidewalk, near the custom house. The name of this exotic is Mr. Hang Whang. Mr. Hang Whang has been in the segar trade in the model republic about four weeks. He made his debut with his unmentionables nearest his skin, and his shirt outside—the latest style current in Hong Kong. A week afterwards he laid aside Chinese trousers and took to Market street pants. The next week he left off his blue frock, and came out in a dress coat—the tail starched so stiff that you might use it for a bootjack. The next change was to purchase a Warburton hat, and convert his former one into a portable money drawer. We yesterday found him entirely transmogrified into an anti-Celestial—his Chinese boots traded off for brogans, and his pigtail braided up behind his ears like a bird's nest. Yesterday evening we heard him indulging in profanity. If all this don't go to show the advantages of civilization, then what does?

Daniel Goodale, of Ecorse, Michigan, owns a pony mare, formerly grey, but now white, who was 34 years old last spring, and has produced twenty-six foals. This mare has never known the luxury of a stable, or the aid of a scythe in procuring her food; cropping with her teeth for a living, summer and winter; and now presents the appearance of six or eight years of age. She is fat and healthy, and spry as any colt; and was daily expected to drop her twenty-seventh foal.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prefered for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom never so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:
NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.
DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time I my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a valuable production, quite equal to what you set well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.
"Drych a'r Gwyliedydd."
Welsh Newspaper Off, 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.
PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair,little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect, and I now feel as the grey hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CLARKE.
NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Some years ago your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. D. ROSS.
CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had recourse to nostrums to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up,grow out and turned back to its original color,(black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend the same to all. J. D. ROSS.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the delusion that they can hide their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express to any other place, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his residence in Boston, more than one hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and not one unsuccessful. These number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be misled from the right place, or persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of strength, namely constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of DR. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the equal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.
WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and the ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BEIT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether married, wives, or widows, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain pancer for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful menstruations, preventing pain in the back, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to those of constitutions, quite unable to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and contain no mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore, be it known to all concerned, that the PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been expressed under the treatment of OTHER PILLS, and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered sure and true, that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4631, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett,
OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—
My connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Medical Director, and the twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities for advantageous Pathological research—enabled me to arrive at a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment in the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicine are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment, and though I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that every patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, throughout the benevolent philanthropic all the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who could afford to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as heretofore, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine and all necessary advice for one month's treatment Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payments as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of medicine, and the balance, $6, on the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, will receive a specific course of treatment as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may be sure that immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address
JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.
P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be found, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s8 6m

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for procuring patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below show what business is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a Journey to Washington to procure Patents, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and the petitions is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

OUR KANSAS CORRESPONDENCE.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, Oct. 7.

Dear Chronicle: — The advices from Kansas to New England, and from New England back to Kansas during the past three years, have been frequent and stirring. The appeals for succor which arose from those plains were met by answering words of promise; and it was the prompt aid of the hour itself, as well as the hope of bolder support when the crisis came, that made the men who came out from you unfaltering amidst the predatory bands of Missouri, and unmoved by the thinly disguised hostility of the Federal Government. But the serpentine folds of wriggling conspiracy in which it was supposed this territory could be locked, have been most completely cut asunder. Missouri with silent shame crouches in her own borders; and even James Buchanan has as good evidence as doubting Thomas could ask for, that Kansas means to be a Free State.

This matter then is settled: now for a more special development of political differences. Parties are now in process of formation. The old Free State party and the tattered odious fragments of the Pro-Slavery party, are falling to pieces, while the National Democracy and the Republican party are forming out of them. You are probably prepared to hear what will be the constituents of the Democratic party of Kansas. It will comprise within its charitable limits the dregs left on our coasts by the Border Ruffian invasions of 1855 and 1856; those in whose bundles of political emotions the most pungent is negro-phobia; and last but not least, that most discerning class of our naturalized citizens, the Irish Papists. These last have at least instinct to guide them; and in political affairs, it has thus far been unerring,—for it heads them straight to the great ally of the Papacy on the American continent—the National Democracy. The Republican party is drawing around itself the intelligent, far-sighted men who hate slavery from better reasons than because it would bring down the value of town lots; and who were against it on the broad ground that its extension would be demoralizing, disgraceful and wrong. It is gaining those also who cherish the notion that free rum is the very worst kind of a free institution. All the elements of sobriety, intelligence and religion are gathering around it surely as iron dust gathers to the magnet.

No general trial of strength between the two has ever taken place till now. At this writing I am ignorant of the result for the territory at large. Leavenworth has done nobly; the noisy and unprincipled combination which arrayed itself against the party of freedom, has been overthrown. The position of Kansas towards the National Democracy will certainly be one of open hostility. The desperate efforts now made to gain power, by the Nationals will miserably fail. They may appeal to base prejudices against negroes, and gain adherents thereby in some portions of the territory; but the mass of our people are too discerning to be deceived by so senseless a cry. So if you want three Republican votes for 1860, admit us to your confederacy of States soon.

Another time I may tell you something about this wonderful city of Leavenworth, whose growth puts the gourd of good old prophet Jonah quite to the blush.

Yours truly,

PORTSMOUTH ABROAD.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—The Directors of the Great Falls & Conway Railroad have issued their tenth annual report, showing the condition of the Road to Sept. 1, 1858. The earnings of the road have been,—

From passengers and mails,	$9,744.55
From freight,	14,276.94
	$24,021.49
The expense of operating the road during the year has been	$11,576 90
Net earnings	$12,444.59

which has been expended principally in the payment of the coupons upon the bonds of the corporation.

This Road has carried in its care 20,281 passengers, and in no instance has the slightest injury been received, which shows a careful management on the part of the operators.

☞ Father Sawyer, as he is familiarly termed, in Bangor, has reached the ripe age of 105 years.

ELECTIONS.—The Boston Atlas of Friday says—"In Pennsylvania we have gained ten members of Congress and lost none; in Indiana four, and in Ohio the net gain is two, making a total net gain of sixteen members, with a chance of two more to come. This gives the opposition the control of the House of Representatives in the 36th Congress. The first great battle with the pro-slavery forces under the lead of James Buchanan has been fought and they are ignominiously defeated. Just where the Republicans, Americans, and anti-Lecompton Democrats have made the most liberal and cordial union, there have we made our heaviest gains and have beaten the tools of the slave power.

They must begin to understand, by this time, that they cannot so readily subvert the government and turn the nation into one great field for the whip of the slave driver as they thought, that they cannot force slavery on an unwilling people nor cram slave constitutions down the throats of the free settlers of a territory. These October elections tell a glorious story for the people of Kansas. The lesson is for us of the opposition; it says to us, unite your forces, consolidate your strength and your triumph is certain.

The result in Pennsylvania, which is the most remarkable, is as much due to the Americans, and to the anti-Lecompton Democrats under Col. Forney's lead, as it is to Republicans. We trust this lesson will not be lost upon ourselves, or our friends in New York, New Jersey, and other States. There is no doubt that the opposition is an immense popular majority in all the free States, and if we do not wisely use our power to crush out the corrupt administration, we shall deserve to continue to be ruled by it."

☞ In the late case of the Suffolk Bank, Boston, a legal opinion against the course of that bank, was given by Messrs. Curtis, Caleb Cushing, and Benj. F. Butler. But it was offset by one from Sydney Spalding, R. W. Chandler, Rufus Choate and J. G. Abbott, who sustain the course of the Suffolk. It is of course understood that counsellors are hired by interested parties to draw up these opinions for their clients, a fact that somewhat lessens the influence of such documents.

Uncle Toby has no doubt the Suffolk acted legally—but a portion of the banks, and a large portion of the public, who do not understand much about banking, are indignant at its course. A writer in a very good paper, the Lowell News, says:—

When you arraign the Suffolk Bank before a legal tribunal, we could not but pronounce them wholly innocent of any crime known to the law. But when you arraign the bank before the bar of public opinion, we heartily join in the common cry that its acts have been injudicious, indiscreet and deserving of public censure.

It is worthy of remark that the late course of the Suffolk Bank is ended,—and that the new system against which the Suffolk Bank contended in vain, is now to be tried. Before the end of five years the public will see which system keeps our paper currency in the best order, the old or the new.

The old has worked well. We hope the new will work better. Time will show.

A MUSICAL THIEF.—John Hayes, living in Roxbury, was summoned to Dedham last week to testify in a liquor case. Being obliged to dance attendance several days, the time hung heavily, and to keep himself employed, Hayes called at several houses in the village, representing that he was a tuner of pianos. What progress he made in the musical art is not known, but having testified in the liquor case, he was about leaving the Court room when he was arrested on a charge of stealing books from a number of houses where he had tendered his professional services. He was fined five dollars and costs, and in default of payment was committed to jail.—Boston Journal.

John Hayes, if we remember correctly, claimed to be an organ builder, resident some years since in Portland, Me., and sued certain parties in Epping for an organ he set up there. The verdict rendered by the jury upon the evidence and charge was considerably commented upon at the time. It was generally thought prejudice prevailed over law and justice.

ORDINATION.—At Haverhill, Oct. 1st, Rev. John D. Emerson was ordained pastor of the Congregational church. Sermon by Rev. President Lord, of Dartmouth College.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine for November, contains a good engraving, the Mother's Dream, fashion plates, and a capital wood cut, "Beg, sir."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Detroit, Oct. 14.—steamer Canada collapsed her flue in Saginaw river yesterday, scalding to death three of the crew.

It is never more difficult to speak well, than when we are ashamed of our silence.

IMMORTELLES.

SELECTED FOR THE CHRONICLE.

AUTUMN.

Then come the Autumns, all in Yellow clad,
As though he joyed in his plenteous store,
Laden with fruits that made him laugh, full glad
That he has banished Hunger, which to-fore
Had by the belly oft him pinched sore;
Upon his Head a Wreath, that was enroll'd
With ears of Corne of every sort, he bore;
And in his Hand a Sickle he did holde,
To reape the ripened Fruit the which the Earth had yold. —[Spencer.

LOVE.

They should have lived together deep in Woods,
Unseen as sings the nightingale; they were
Unfit to mix in those thick solitudes
Called social, where all vice and hatred are;
How lonely every freeborn creature broods!
The sweetest Song-birds nestle in a pair;
The Eagle soars alone; the Gull and Crow
Flock o'er their Carrion just as mortals do.
—[Byron.

IDLENESS.

Leisure is pain; takes off our chariot wheels;
How heavily we drag the load of Life!
Blest Leisure is our curse; like that of Cain,
It makes us wander; wander earth around
To fly that tyrant Thought. As Atlas groan'd
The World beneath, we groan beneath an Hour.
—[Young.

WANT OF FEELING.

Who can all sense of other's ills escape,
Is but a brute, at best, in human shape.
—[Juvenal.

NATURE.

There's Music in the sighing of a reed;
There's Music in the gushing of a rill;
There's Music in all things, if men had ears;
Their Earth is but an echo of the spheres.
—[Byron.

MONEY IN THE DEAD LETTERS.—The dead letter branch of the General Post Office has just closed another quarter's work. During the three months which terminated on the 30th ultimo, there were found 2,729 letters which contained money, amounting in the aggregate to $12,921 82. For the quarter closing 30 June last, there were received 4,549 letters and $21,498 85 in money. For the quarter ending 30th March, 2,472 letters and $13,457 15 in money. Quarter closed 31st December, 2,352 letters and $13,361 90 in cash. Total in the year, 12,102 letters and $61,239 72 in money. It is gratifying to state that under the efficiency and promptitude which characterise the finance bureau, over nine-tenths of the whole amount of cash has been returned to the original owners.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER.—A BLOODY FIGHT. Springfield, Oct. 14.—Eleven companies participated in the firemen's muster and trial at Chicopee, to-day. Two silver trumpets, and one heavy plated one, were offered as prizes for the best playing. They were won by Niagara Co. of Worcester, Niagara of Springfield, and Ocean of Springfield.

A fight occurred between the Ocean of Springfield and Washington of New Haven, that lasted an hour, and was quite bloody. The police were unable to make any arrests. Trumpets were broken in giving blows, and some severe wounds were received on both sides.

LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.—During the past four weeks, says the Salem, Ms. Register, the following persons have been complained of before the Police Court for violations of the liquor law, and sentenced as follows: Thomas Hurley, fined $10 and costs and 20 days in House of Correction—committed; Mary A. Byrnes, same sentence—appealed: Matthew Barrett, same sentence—appealed; Geo. L. Kezar, same sentence—appealed, Ellen L. Hurley, $10 and costs and 20 days in Workhouse—committed; John H. Needham, $10 and costs and 20 days in House of Correction—committed; Thomas Coughlin, same sentence—appealed; Jos. B. Morris, same sentence—appealed.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.—The people of Temple, N. H., celebrated the 100th birthday of that town on the 7th inst. The Oration was delivered by Henry A. Blood, Esq., a descendant of one of the pioneers, and was followed by a dinner and other festivities. The orator (says a correspondent of the Boston Journal,) paid a glowing tribute to the memory of John Miller, the old hero whose "I'll try, sir," at Londy's Lane, turned back the tide of battle and planted our standard where St. George's banner had proudly and defiantly floated. Gen. Miller (for so many years the Collector of Salem) lived and died in Temple, and his residence is still in the possession of the family.

OLD FOLKS CONCERT IN EPPING.—The choir of the Congregational Society in Epping, aided by the best Musical talent of the adjoining towns, will give a Concert of Sacred Music, with the Organ and a Full Orchestra, on Sunday Evening, Oct. 17.

The avails of the Concert are to pay the expenses recently incurred in setting up the Organ. Tickets 10c each. Concert commences at 6 1-4 o'clock.

☞ Margaret Marshall, whose husband was killed at Brooklyn by an explosion in the works of the Kerosene oil company, has recovered a verdict of $5000 against the company.

CONNECTICUT STATE FAIR. — Hartford, Oct. 14.—The number of visitors to the State Fair to-day, were over 10,000. The show is the best ever held in this State, and closes Saturday afternoon.

HORSE SHOW. — The National Horse Show is largely attended at Kalamazoo.

LOST, on Thursday, a plain GOLD RING,—marked "Harry." The finder will confer a favor and receive a suitable reward on leaving it at the Chronicle Office. o18

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES,

HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

A sure, safe and agreeable remedy is at hand in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, a fact which cannot be denied.

The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

The only place in Portsmouth where a fine Mellotype (taken on Glass and by the aid of heat brought in the glass,) can be procured, is at Salen's Daguerrean Gallery, Congress Block.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietor at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled from Malted Rye and Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian juniper berries, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its exertion a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 24 Elm st.; A. Moran, 113 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 76 Broad st., Deland & Snow, 36 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing now, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

FRIDAY, Oct. 15.

In the forenoon, the old and new Dockets were called over.

Luther J. Austin, was convicted on two indictments for breaking and entering, and acquitted on one for entering mill and stealing. The other indictment against the respondent was nol. pros'd. Hills for respondent.

Daniel Roberts retracted his plea of not guilty to two indictments for selling liquor, and plead nol. con.

Jacob Elliott was tried for selling liquor and acquitted. Wells for respondent.

State vs. Morrissey & Shea—assault on James Waldon, was on trial, and was given to the jury at dinner time. Bell for State; Webster for respondent.

The following sentences were pronounced on Friday afternoon.

Charles Perkins, for stealing from the store of Joseph H. Clark, two years in the House of Reformation, and costs of prosecution.

Bart. Conner, for keeping a disorderly house, 60 days imprisonment in common jail.

Thomas Palmer, assault with intent to kill, solitary confinement for one day and hard labor for one year in State Prison.

Albert J. Austin, breaking and entering the dwelling-house of Samuel Eaton, in Danville, three years, and breaking the mill of Owen Page one year in State Prison; the second imprisonment to commence immediately on the expiration of the first.

Mary Mills, fornication, common jail five days.

Daniel Roberts was fined $50 and costs on each of two indictments, for selling liquor.

John E. Moran and James W. Plaisted were put on trial for an assault with intent to rob, near Horrock's groggery in this city.

New jurors are to be returned this day, Saturday, to complete the panel for the trial of Downing.

All the trials of this week, with one or two exceptions only, have grown directly out of the drinking habits of our community—and nine tenths of all the costs in these cases might have been avoided, if the act for the suppression of intemperance had been enforced in earnest by our city and county authorities during the last year. Half of the costs might have been saved by a very moderate attempt to enforce it, by the proper authorities.

☞ Five years ago, a neat little boy came into our office, and desired the chance to sell Chronicles on the Eastern Railroad. He got it—and has steadily and faithfully attended to the duty up to this time,—besides eventually adding to his stock a good variety of other daily and weekly papers, &c. He is well known now on the line of that railroad, as a most courteous and attentive young man: for as the boy is, so the man is likely to be. His name is John H. Locke, and he has just opened a new depot for the sale of newspapers and periodicals of all sorts,—in the Franklin House building in this city. He is well acquainted with his business, and is industrious and prompt; and as an old and faithful employee of ours, we can but wish him a share of the literary patronage of the community.

☞ We have a goodly list of subscribers, to be sure; but of readers we have vastly more. Let all see the liberal terms at which we offer our paper, in another column; and call at our counting-room and subscribe.

Single copies of our Daily and Weekly may usually be had at the periodical depots, and at our office: but the only sure way to get our paper is to subscribe for it.

☞ It is the custom now-a-days, in making reports of progress in erecting public buildings, &c., to forward photographs, showing the exact state of things. A few days ago, Mr. Gregory "took" the four sides of the new Custom House, now being erected in this city; which Superintendent Blaisdell forwarded to Washington, as the most exact report he can make. The pictures were in three cases, embracing a large number of workmen, with their tools, &c., and the Superintendent standing by.

Two stories of the building are nearly completed; enough to show we shall have a very handsome and substantial building. The work is progressing favorably—though considerable delay is occasioned by the waiting for granite from the Concord quarry.

☞ We learn that the new Board of Directors of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, have chosen the Hon. Thomas L. Tullock Treasurer of the Road.

CITY BUILDING. — Mr. Woodcock, the eminent architect, of Boston, has drafted a beautiful design for a new Market, City Hall, &c., to take the place of our abominable old Jefferson Market building, on the Square. We are having an engraving of it prepared for the columns of the Chronicle—which we shall publish, with a full description of the interior, in a few days. Then look out for the City Hall ticket, at the city election in November!

☞ The well-stocked provision-store of A. C. Currier, on Market Square, was the scene of a fire-alarm, about 9 o'clock Friday evening. A slight fire in the cellar—but much more damage caused by the flood of water the engines so speedily showered on.

J. BLAIR, of Buffalo, N. Y., a Calvinist-Baptist preacher of forty years' standing, will preach at the Advent Chapel to-morrow. Subject—State of the Dead, and Future Punishment not Eternal Life in an Unquenchable Fire.

MARRIED.

In Rochester, William N. Hastings, of Boston, Mass., to Mary E. Page.
In Newport, Gordon Hayden to Mary E. Chase, both of Medford, Mass.
In Dover, Thomas M. Steele to Deborah J. Varney.—Jefferson Smith, M. D., to Angeline Horn.—Nahum P. Allen to Laura J. Tripp, both of Sanford, Me.

DIED.

In Boston, Mass., Oct. 13th, Daniel Taylor, aged 60,—formerly a merchant in this city, of the firm of Taylor & Waldron.
In Keene, Dea. Ammi Brown, aged 88.
In Whitefield, widow Betsey H. Fisk, aged 84.
In Plymouth, Dorothy Lovejoy, aged 71, widow of Wm. Lovejoy of Littleton.
In East Gilford, widow Marianne Lamprey, 85.
In Lancaster, Chas. A. Stevens, 16.—Miriam D. Fabyan, aged 48, wife of Horace Fabyan, Esq.
In Plymouth, Dr. Samuel Rogers, aged 73.
In Londonderry, David Manter, aged 31.
In Bedford, Sarah Ann Hodgman, aged 16.
In Manchester, Margaret Connely, aged 57.—James Higgins, aged 68.

☞ Liverpool dates to Oct. 2, came per steamer Africa, at New York. Shares of the Atlantic Telegraph Company continue in demand, and closed at £400 a £430.

Breadstuffs were heavy and almost entirely nominal. Provision were dull and unchanged. Cotton steady. The British revenue returns show considerable decrease, but more than accounted for by the reduction of the income tax, making an actual increase. Lord Elgin and Admiral Seymour had gone to Japan. The French had gone to Cochin China. The British Consul and all foreigners had quitted Canton. A Mr. Rowett had offered to lay a rope covered with electric wire between Valentia and Newfoundland for the sum of £182,000 sterling.

ACQUITTAL OF MARY A. DONNELLY.—At the opening of the Municipal Court, Boston, on Friday morning, the jury in the case of Mary A. Donnelly, indicted for attempting to take the life of Patrick Canny, her seducer, returned a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity," and the Court ordered the defendant discharged.—The result appears to have given very general satisfaction.

CAPT. TOWNSEND, THE SLAVER.—Judge Sprague of the U. S. Circuit Court, has decided that the Court in Boston has no jurisdiction in the case of Capt. Townsend, the slaver, and that he must be remanded to the district where he first landed in the United States for trial. The probability is the Captain will be remanded to Florida for trial.

☞ The Star of the West has arrived at New York from Aspinwall, with $1,100,000 in gold. Golden accounts of success come down from Frazer River. The U. S. sloop-of-war Saratoga was at Aspinwall, all well. Sloop-of-war St. Marys was at Acapulco, bound to Panama.

☞ We are informed that the great race for stallions, at the Boston South End Riding Park, Friday afternoon, resulted in favor of Ethan Allen—who made the quick time of 2:35 on a heavy track.

DEATH OF PROF. CLEAVELAND.—Brunswick, Me., Oct.—Parker Cleaveland, Professor of Chemistry and Mineralogy in Bowdoin College died this morning, aged seventy-nine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A private dispatch from Mr. Forney places the anti-Lecompton majority in Pennsylvania at 40,000!

On the 20th of May, 1854, Catherine E. Pitchie attempted to leave the care of the Hudson River Railroad at Tivoli, when they started and she was thrown down, and the cars passed over one of her feet, crushing it so that it had to be amputated. Her father recovered of the company $750 in a suit for loss of service and medical attendance; and now the young lady has obtained a verdict for $5500 damages from the company.

Mr. Benjamin Baker of New Bedford has a dog some six months old, that was born with only two legs—the fore as well as the four legs being absent. The puppy is healthy and otherwise in good condition. The canine can propel himself quite well by resting on his breast, which is entirely smooth, and accelerating himself by his hind legs. He is quite a curiosity.

QUESTIONS TO THE JURORS IN DOWNING'S CASE.—1. Have you such conscientious scruples upon the subject of taking human life as a punishment for crime as would prevent you from bringing in a verdict, the result of which might be the taking of the life of a human being?

2. Do you expect to gain or lose by the issue of the prosecution about to be tried?

3. Are you related to the prisoner?

4. Have you advised or assisted either party to the prosecution?

5. Have you directly or indirectly given your opinion respecting this prosecution?

6. Are you sensible of any prejudice in this cause?

Thursday, A. M.—In a panel of 49 jurors, 22 had conscientious scruples, and answered in the affirmative to the first question; and to the fifth question, as to having formed an opinion, eight answered in the affirmative. Twelve were challenged by Downing, and the following seven jurors were all who were selected, viz.: Alvah Sanborn, Fremont; Ephraim Pickering, Jr. Newington; Francis S. Heath, Newton; Jonathan C. Hobbs, Candia; Benjamin A. Moody, Hampstead; Jacob Webster, Jr. Kingston; and Wm. L. Yeaton, Stratham.

MUNICIPAL.—In Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, the street commissioner was directed to attend to repair of sidewalk on east side of Elm street, from house of Mrs. James Nowell to mill; also, to repairs in Congress street, and in Auburn near Middle street.

Petition of L. D. Spalding and others, for gas light on corner of Hanover and Market streets, referred to committee on gas lights, with power to act.

ROCKY GLEN.

Rocky Glen! to thee belong
Minerva's praise, Apollo's song;
Thy name the sparkling brooks rehearse,
To thee sing woods in mighty verse;
Green hills o'erlook thy quiet view,
Through vistas grand, cleam waters blue,
And tender vine climbs friendly tree,
In Rocky Glen, down by the sea.

From bough and nest in leafy shade—
Where bright plumed birds their homes have made—
Thy little warblers strive to tell,
With what delight their bosoms swell;
Gay fairy sylphs glide through thy bowers,
And dance away the sunny hours,
And wild sweets woo the honey bee,
In Rocky Glen, down by the sea.

Thy azure windows, golden doors,
Gild thy green walks and gem thy shores:
Symbols of noble purity—
Graceful sunbeams play with thee;
Clear streamlets bathe thy spangled feet,
Thy face is with rich charms replete:
To realms of bliss there is a key,
In Rocky Glen, down by the sea.

In thy broad sylvan dome there dwells,
A Chimer of the Poet's bells,
Whose skillful tones are perfect art:
He strikes—and thrills the raptured heart;
His music cheers like light of day,
His chimes drive sadness all away!
O, may thy Bard e'er happy be,
In Rocky Glen, down by the sea.

PORTSMOUTH, Oct. 14, 1858. E. P. N.

FRUIT GROWING.—At the New Hampshire State Fair in Dover last week, Mr. A. Wiggin of Stratham said that in Stratham there had been 10,000 barrels of Baldwin apples raised in a year, which yielded $15,000. Baldwin was the variety generally cultivated. But the Roxbury Russets, Rhode Island Greening, and other standard varieties received a good degree of attention. He had found that five barrels of Baldwins could be raised with them as cheap as one barrel of Spitzenbergs, or Newton Pippins. The Baldwin succeeded invariably on their light sandy soils, where the Northern Spy failed. He gave it as his opinion, that a barrel of Bartlett or Louise Bonne d' Jersey Pears could be raised as cheap as a barrel of Baldwin Apples, and the Pears were worth $20 a barrel. His opinion was that we should cultivate but a few of the leading varieties for profit, having regard in the selection to the aptitude of the fruit for particular soils and locations. He cited several striking instances of the profits of pear culture, showing that a good Dix or Beurre Diel tree had yielded $100 per annum.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of an kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. M. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
305 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel; also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEMSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON,
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1858.

Sir,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy.—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. I did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—SIR:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most all kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES.—SIR:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN P. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 29, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L P. CONN.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it in all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTHORN, Hair Dresser

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.

FOR WARMING & VENTILATING

Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S

Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming

FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

TAMMANY AND THE TIMBER CONTRACTS. The N. Y. Evening Post contains the following despatch, dated Washington, Oct. 9th:—

"Several prominent administration Democrats arrived here to-day from New York, under instructions from the New York Democratic State Central Committee, which met at the St. Nicholas Hotel on Wednesday last, to demand of the President and Secretary of the Navy the annulment of certain contracts recently made under the 'proposal' of June 14th, 1858, through the Department of the Bureau of Construction, with a certain Massachusetts man, for a supply of live oak. The following are some of the allegations: First, the timber was not wanted. Second, that the person to whom the contract was awarded was the highest instead of the lowest bidder. Third, that said contractor had in the yards specified a surplus of precisely the same kind of timber described in the proposal issued by the chief of the Bureau of Construction. Fourth, that the advertisement of the Chief of the Bureau was made for the timber referred to. Fifth, as proof of this, it is said that only ten days were allowed to execute the contracts after proposals were closed, leaving but twelve days to deliver the timber, whereas, in former advertisements, from one to three years have been given. Several New York gentlemen, backed by the Democratic State Committee, Mr. Sickles, who is reported to be on his way here, and other prominent New York politicians, claim to be legally entitled to the contracts. The Massachusetts man referred to obtained the contract in view of his well known contributions of from ten to fifteen thousand dollars to the Pennsylvania fund of 1856 to elect Mr. Buchanan."

The Haidee is a New England vessel. She was built at Providence, R. I., we think, some five or six years since.

We have no idea, now, that any respectable shipowner in New England would sell his ship to a slave-trader knowingly, but nevertheless we are informed that two-thirds of all the vessels in the African and Cuban slave trade are, like the Haidee, New England built; wherefore the inference is that the rich Spanish and Portuguese slave dealers, who send their agents there to buy up suitable vessels for "the trade," have imposed and are now imposing shamefully upon the credulity of our Yankee countrymen.—N. Y. Express.

Knives are made in Sheffield. If a Dead Rabbit gets possession of one and commits murder, Sheffield is responsible. Ships are built in New England. If a slave dealer gets possession of one and steals negroes with it, New England is responsible. Can anything be more pitiful? The simple fact is that the Haidee was sold to a Spanish house in this city by one of our own New York firms—and a firm, too, as respectable in its personal character as any in New York. Of course, when the sale was made, there was no knowledge or suspicion of the purpose to which the vessel was to be finally put.—N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

AN INCIDENT IN CHURCH.—The Rev. Mr. Read, of the M. E. Church, Eastern Charge, Lafayette, Ind., preached an excellent sermon to a large congregation on Sunday night. About the middle of the discourse he observed that two or three prominent members of the church were taking a comfortable nap, and, pausing with an unfinished sentence upon his lips, he commenced singing in a clear, loud voice:

"My drowsy powers, why sleep ye so?"

He sang two verses of this good old Methodist hymn, and quietly resumed the thread of his discourse. The effect upon the drowsy "pillars" was electrical. A shock from the batteries of the Atlantic Cable could not have been more effective.—Lafayette, Ind., Courier.

This "good old Methodist hymn" was written by Dr. Watts.

WONDERFUL LONGEVITY.—We record the most wonderful case of longevity that has come to our notice. On the morning of Sunday, the 3d inst., there died in East Corinth, in this county, a maiden lady named Edgerly, whose age, as shown by the written record, was one hundred and seventeen years. It is said that she was five years old when the record was made, so that her real age is one hundred and twenty-two years. She perfectly retained her faculties until within two years, her eyesight being clear enough to enable her to thread a needle as readily as any young person.—She was born on Cape Cod in 1736.—Bangor Union.

CHANGED ASPECT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.—Such of our citizens as have been spending the summer abroad will miss, on their return, three of the most noticeable objects which have heretofore arrested the eye on approaching the city. The cupola of the City Hall, the hospitals at Quarantide, and the dome of the Crystal Palace have all been destroyed by fire within the past six weeks. But there are still plenty of old, familiar sights by which the city may be recognized. There is the old dilapidated Battery, looking as shabby as ever; the streets are quite as dirty, and the rickety old church used as a post-office is still standing.—N. Y. Times.

"A RICH LEGACY."—Under this heading we copied, a few days since, an item, stating that the estate of Mr. Dermot Dempsey, of Macon, lately deceased, amounting to $500,000, had been left, except $5000, to the Catholic church. The Macon Telegraph copies the same item, and adds:

"Mr. Dempsey's estate is valued at somewhere about $250,000, and all goes to his children—not one cent to the Catholic church, as we have been informed and believe."—Savannah News.

THE SLAUGHTER WHICH DAILY SUSTAINS US.—When we ride we sit upon the skin of the pig; when we walk, we tread upon the skin of the bullock; we wear the skin of the kid upon our hands, and the fleece of the sheep upon our backs. More than half of the world are humans being in sheep's clothing. We eat the flesh of some creatures, of some we drink the milk, upon others we are dependent for the cultivation of the soil; and, if it is pain to suffer hunger and cold, we should scrupulously avoid inflicting wanton misery upon the animals by which we are warmed and fed.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1858.

KENSINGTON, Oct. 14.

In cases of collision between the master and the crew, sympathy seems most generally to be with the latter. If persons better know the difficulties in managing men who have no training but what the bar-room and the brothel furnish, and who can understand English but very imperfectly, they would change their opinion. I presume many ship-masters would be glad to earn their bread in almost any other way, the responsibilities and the disagreeables of their situation are so increased by ignorant and inefficient officers and sailors. Just think of smoking a ship like the Austria by "heating a chain and dipping it in tar." One would suppose a boy to know enough to put some coals in a fire-proof vessel, and to set a small quantity of tar in another and place it on it, and then watch it with the utmost care. I thought when I first read the account, that they were drunk. I still think so, notwithstanding the assertion of the agent that "they had no bar, and that Germans are not addicted to such practices." It sounds well, and may help the parties interested to get their insurance, but who believes it who knows anything of city or sea life?

When I saw the length of my last letter I resolved not to write as much again, but your paper furnishes so many topics that it is difficult to find a stopping place. You can abbreviate as much as you choose,—your pleasure is mine in all my letters for the Chronicle. Its extensive circulation, and consequently greater usefulness, is my earnest wish. VERITAS.

THE ILL-FATED STEAMSHIP AUSTRIA.—The rescued passengers and crew brought to New York from Fayal, state that the burning tar bucket was tipped over on the midship part of the lower deck and ran instantly among the bedding and clothes then lying about the deck. The fumigation was being performed, as required by law, and the fourth officer was superintending it.—The captain was asleep at the time, and being awakened by the smoke and flame coming into his cabin, rushed on deck completely confused and incapable of giving directions. He was one of the first to jump overboard. Two vessels that were in sight never went near the burning ship, although the wind was fair for them to have done so. Neither their names nor nation are known.

The Austria had a crew of 102 men, including officers, and 460 passengers—first and second cabins all full. Of this number about 200 were women and children. Six of the passengers arrived at New York are women, one of whom lost all her children, four in number.

THE NOTORIOUS IRA STOUT.—Following close upon the statement that Ira Stout, the murderer, under sentence at Rochester, New York, had experienced religion, and that efforts were making for the commutation of his sentence, we have the account of his attempt at suicide. He has a constant night watch, and perpetrated the act about the time of the change of watches, soon after midnight. When the morning watch came to his cell he found Stout bleeding freely, having already drawn a quart of blood. The watchman became aware of the fact that Stout had attempted to bleed himself to death by bearing him call out that he was dying. He went to him and found by removing the bed-clothing, that he was bloody. The prisoner appeared to be quite weak from the loss of blood, and was laid on the bed with his hands manacled, to prevent a repitition of the attempt at self-destruction.

CHURCHES IN PHILADELPHIA.—The churches of the leading denominations in Philadelphia are as follows: Presbyterian, of the various branches, 70: Methodist, 60; Episcopalian, 54; Baptists, 33; Lutheran, 15. The Roman Catholics have 28. The "Friends," who once had the predominance in the Philadelphia population, now have but 13 "meeting houses." The total number of churches of every description in Philadelphia is 307.

☞ The number of births in England last year of living children, was 657,453, and the number of deaths 390,505. The number of marriages was 159,337. Of the births, 335,541 were boys, and 321,912 girls. The number of children born out of wedlock was 42,651, or 64 per cent. of the whole. The greatest proportion of births was in the quarter between April and July.

☞ Governor King, of New York, has appointed Thursday, 18th of November, as a day of Thanksgiving.

TRAGEDY IN LOUISIANA.—The papers give an account of a singular outrage and murder in the parish of Calcasieu, Louisiana. It is stated that a man named Le Bleu, in that parish, has from early manhood been in the habit of setting the laws at defiance whenever they conflicted with his own passions or desires, and often did so out of pure wantonness, or to gratify the devilish spirit which must have been strong within him. In fact, his deeds of violence, and his utter recklessness and lawlessness had made him a terror to the whole parish; and he, no doubt, had come to think that the laws were powerless against him, and that he could commit any crime with impunity.

As the story goes, Mr. Le Bleu took a fancy to the wife of a man named Fox, living in the parish, and proceeded in the most direct and summary manner to gratify his passion by getting up a sort of Sabine wedding. He visited her house in the husband's absence, produced a pistol, and informed Madame that his horse would carry double, and that she must forthwith get up behind him. Whether she complied willingly or not is a question, but she certainly went with him, and they lived together up to the time of his death.

During the recent term of the District Court of Lake Charles, a tragedy of some description was confidently expected. Le Bleu had threatened the Judge and several other persons, and in consequence they and their friends prepared themselves for a desperate encounter. The court room, it is said, presented something the appearance of badly arranged arsenals. One morning, bright and early, Le Bleu rode his mule into town, dismounted and proceeded to the hotel, with a long dragoon pistol in each hand, and a belt about his waist containing a revolver and a knife.—He was evidently bent on mischief, but his enemies were on the watch, and before he could set his foot on the porch he was saluted by a charge of buckshot from a gun in the hands of Mr. Fox, whose wife he had stolen. Three or four more shots were fired by other persons, and Le Bleu fell dead with more than fifty buckshot in different parts of his body. Fox and two others were arrested as the persons who did the shooting.

AN INTERESTING SLAVE CASE IN LOWELL. A slave case of much interest has been pending in Lowell for several days, the particulars of which are thus given:

"Jesse Cornwell, a rich planter in Mississippi, had a smart favorite slave named Betsey, who was employed in the confidential relation of housekeeper, and with whom he cohabited. The result of this cohabitation was a daughter, who is now twenty-four years old, smart, capable, intelligent and good looking. Her name is Caroline. Cornwell, on his death-bed, six years since, requested his friend, Dr. Lewis Keyes, to take charge of his effects, including a considerable sum of money; and especially charged him, as soon as he could arrange so to do, to take the woman Betsey and his and her child Caroline to a free State, and there see them comfortably located. For this special service Keyes was directed to take $5000 cash, $4000 of which was to be equally divided between mother and daughter, and $1000 to be retained for his own service.

Instead of performing faithfully this last dying request, it is alleged, Keyes immediately on the death of Cornwell took the mother and daughter, and hired them out at $100 a year each for a period of six years, when he finally brought them with him North, arriving in Lowell in the latter part of May last. They have been here with Keyes' family, under strict surveillance since that time.

On Saturday last the mother and daughter appeared before Isaac S. Morse Esq., to whom they made a complaint and told their story. Mr. Morse in their behalf instituted a suit against Keyes for the recovery of the money given by Cornwell, and also for their six years' labor.

Keyes was arrested by Deputy Sheriff E. L. Shed, and held to bail in the sum of $6000. He claims that these women were given to him by Cornwell, but this is hard to believe. It is unnatural to suppose a father who, according to the testimony of both mother and daughter, never struck, or caused to be struck, a blow upon either of them, would consign his own child to the ownership of a man who has since, according to the same authority, flogged them both unmercifully, the marks of which the mother still bears.

They will not suffer, though they are here without money in a strange land, for in addition to District Attorney Morse, we are happy to learn that Gen. Butler has signified a willingness to lend a helping hand to protect them in their rights. Hon. J. G. Abbott has been retained by the defendant.

There are several nice legal points involved in this case. The writ is returnable at the December term in Cambridge."

☞ Ganey, a negro slave, is on trial in Washington county, La., for having murdered a white man twenty-five years ago. He was recently overheard to make a confession of the murder, and was arrested.—Since his arrest his son has killed a white man named Davenport, who was to have been a witness against his father, and has been tried and executed. The old man will soon follow him.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GRANITE FOR QUEEN VICTORIA.—The Boston Journal of a recent date says:—"A piece of granite was exhibited at the Merchants' Exchange this morning, bearing on the surface the exact resemblance of the top part of a tree or shrub, all the lines of the foliage being clearly and perfectly visible. It is supposed the sprig or branch of a tree accidentally fell into a crevice in the rock, which afterwards by the action of the frost closed up and in course of time the fresh green bough became petrified into a solid rock. The block of granite was found in Wolfborough, New Hampshire. It is intended as a present to Queen Victoria."

GREAT STALLION RACE.—At the South End Riding Park, Boston, on Friday, the stallions, Ethan Allen, Columbus, Jr., and Hiram Drew, trotted for three premiums of $700, $200 and $100. From 10,000 to 15,000 persons were present to witness the sport, which resulted in victory for Ethan Allen and defeat for Hiram Drew. The Herald says, "Ethan trotted like a whirlwind, and was never once headed during the three heats"—which resulted as follows:

	1st Heat.	2d Heat.	3d Heat.
Ethan Allen	2.37	2.35	2.32	$700
Young Columbus	2.38	2.34½	2.34½	200
Hiram Drew	2.39	2.37	2.36	100

Ethan Allen is as hard to conquer as was his indomitable namesake. 2:33 is quick time, over a heavy October trac , and he was held up in the last heat, too. Columbus, Jr., did finely also for a horse said to be too fat, and carrying 25 lbs. too much driver.

THE ELECTIONS.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The official majority of Henry L. Fisher, in Cumberland Co., is 208. It was before reported 250. This renders probable the election of Jenkins, opposition, in the 16th Congressional district.

The official count of the 16th Congressional district, gives Jenkins, opposition, 66 majority.

In the 8th Congressional district the official vote for John Schwartz is 7321, and for J. Glancy Jones 7302.

The 24th district is in doubt. Four counties give James L. Gillis, Dem., 1040 majority.

It is reported that the opposition have elected their candidate for State Senator in York county. If this is correct, the opposition will have one majority in the Senate.

At the meeting of the judges of the election returns, affidavits were read charging frauds in the first Congressional district, indicating that Florence's seat will be contested.

INDIA.—The British Consul and all foreigners had left Canton.

Lord Elgin and Admiral Seymour had departed for Japan, and the French for Cochin China.

The Bank of Bengal had made another reduction of one per cent. in the rate of discount, making the charge 7 per cent.

A serious flood had occurred in the upper Indus, by which nearly the whole of the cantonments at Nosher were swept away.

The Bombay Times of the 7th September says that the rebels in Oude are in a desperate situation. There is a considerable force, but disorganized, in Behar.—Cols. Anderson and Frazer are dead.

Additional despatches from India state that four native regiments, which had been disarmed as a precaution, broke out in mutiny near Kurrachee, and endeavored to seize the guns and arms of the Royal Fusileers. They were repulsed with slaughter. The rebels were also moving in a menacing manner in other portions of the Bombay Presidency.

RUSSIA.—The nobility of the government of Yoar, in Russia, who were among the first to form committees for the emancipation of the serfs, have lately sent an address to the Emperor, praying that the measure might not be carried into effect in that province. The Emperor did not receive the address favorably, and replied that the measure should be executed, notwithstanding any opposition of the nobility. The emancipation, the Emperor is said to have replied, will be carried into effect simultaneously throughout the whole of the Empire, and that he would not allow any part of it to be deprived of the benefit of it. During his journey the Emperor would not accept of any fete on the part of the nobility, where they have shown themselves hostile to the measure.

ENCOURAGING.—The Manchester American says that the directors of the Manchester & Lawrence railway have declared a dividend of $4 a share payable in new stock: the net earnings of the joint Concord, Manchester & Lawrence roads for the last six months exceed four per cent on the combined capital.

☞ The recent outbreak at Lisbon against the Jesuits and French sisters of charity originated in one of the Fathers declaring from the pulpit that Portugal would never be happy until she got rid of the constitutional form of government.

☞ Rev. F. E. Hicks will be installed as Pastor of the First Universalist Society of Dover, on Wednesday the 27th inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M.

A Handsome Compliment.

A surgeon in the United States Navy, in writing to a friend, says:—"I have used with the greatest pleasure, Dr. Blodgett's new cosmetic, the PERSIAN BALM, and must say that it is the best toilet preparation I have met. I have used it for Shaving, Cleansing the Teeth, Champooing, Bathing, and Toilet purposes generally, and with the greatest delight. I consider it far better than any Lubin preparations"

This is a handsome and well deserved compliment, as the public consider this Persian Balm a great Luxury.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES, HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BRONCHITIS.—Many prevalent and fatally tending diseases are now comprehended under the term "Bronchitis," in all of them the membrane of the air passages is more or less affected. They resemble consumption in symptoms and fatality, and in many cases actually end in phthisis. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is signally beneficial in such cases, and has snatched many from premature graves.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Paracelsus is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

SATURDAY, Oct. 26.

The jury in the case of Morissey and Shea, returned a verdict of guilty of an assault. This case was a drunken Irish row in this city.

The case, State vs. John E. Moran and James W. Plaistel for stealing from the person of one John Batchelder of Suncook, was given to the jury Saturday morning. The respondents are minors who assumed the capacity of police Officers, and as such took from Batchelder a five dollar bank bill and other property of small value. It appeared in evidence that Batchelder was considerably drunk at the time, and hence very readily submitted to an arrest and search. The defense set up was that these boys were only acting "in fun." Rather serious fun when the penalty is confinement in the State Prison for a term of not less than three years! The good character of the respondents was not proved on the part of the defense. Moran has done some funny acts before, and Plaistel has acted as a flash-gallant to certain "nymphs de pave" hereabouts. "Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

The drunkenness of the victim at the time of the assault, however, damaged his testimony considerably. The jury disagreed, standing 7 for acquittal, 5 for conviction.

The Court, at 3 P. M. adjourned to Monday at half-past 10.

☞ A young loafer named Rand, has been lurking round the County Jail in this city for some time past, and has passed in bottles of rum to the prisoners, occasioning fights inside, something like those which occur outside from the same cause. On Friday he was caught in the act; and on Saturday at the Police Court, Justice Odell sentenced him to five days imprisonment in the same jail, with costs.

☞ Miss Durgin, and other ladies and gentlemen from Exeter, gave a Concert at the Temple on Thursday evening. Miss Hadley of this city performed on the piano very creditably, an introductory piece, and the accompaniments. Miss Durgin has an unusually rich and clear voice, of great compass, and with thorough cultivation would make a splendid songstress. As it is, we seldom have such musical treats as her singing. The duets with Miss Mitchell were prettily given; and Mr. Hill has a smooth and pleasing voice,—but his singing is better adapted for a parlor than a public hall.

The greater interest manifested by the public, in murder and assault trials, than in good music, is rather a sad subject for contemplation, to any reflecting mind.—But it is no more than might reasonably be expected—when ten times as many children are being educated in the streets and about groggeries, as are receiving any instruction in the fine arts.

☞ We learn that the new Board of Directors of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, have chosen the Hon. Thomas L. Tullock Treasurer of the Road, and Brackett Hutchings, Esq., Proprietors' Clerk.

FIRE IN HAVERHILL, N. H.—We learn from the Haverhill Republican, that the carriage shop of Messrs. J. P. Webster & Co. near that village, was burned with all its contents on the 30th of September. The saw-mill belonging to Messrs. Webster & Carr, standing near by, was also destroyed. The whole loss by this fire to the owners of the property, and of the tools of their employees, does not fall short of six thousand dollars.

CHESHIRE COUNTY.—In the Court for that county, Judge French presiding, as we learn from the Keene Sentinel, the whole number of indictments for liquor selling, to which the defendants were called to answer (not including old cases) was ten, (how many more are lying in wait is not known to the world,) and we understand that all came up to the ring and forked over without trial, except one who was unable to procure bondsmen or money, and therefore went to jail—he is a clerk in the service of Mr. Knight.

☞ In New York city, Stephen M. Allen, late President of the Cochituate Bank of Boston, has been indicted for perjury in the matter of the Niagara Hydraulic Company.

☞ In the Dover Police Court on Thursday, we note these items:—Francis Daly, keeping liquor, bound over; Nath'l Young, intoxication, disclosed.

OHIO.—Latest despatches add one to the number of Republican Congressmen known to be elected, viz.: Theaker in the 17th district. This makes the delegation stand 15 opposition to six administration, with a slight uncertainty still hanging over one district.

COMMUNICATION. — Messrs. Editors:—Much has been said on the subject of spending our evenings this fall and winter. Allow me to suggest a plan which may result in enlargement of mind, give pleasure and profit.

Reading of any kind strengthens the intellect, but reading the Bible with a desire to find out its true meaning may lead to the discovery of an invaluable treasure, of increasing interest to all who continue in the search. The Bible gives us a knowledge of Man, as he came from the hand of his creator, of his fall and its cause, the condition into which he has fallen, and its effects upon mankind.

The pleasures that grow out of a knowledge of God's design in the creation of man, in connection with his redemption in Christ, as given us in his word, set home by the spirit, and applied to the reader or hearer of the word, are pleasures beyond what man can conceive until engaged in them for himself. The profits are beyond comparison with silver and gold, but they are of such a nature as to remove all unpleasant reflections, (such as all men are subject to, and can in no other way escape,) while at the same time they impart a knowledge of the way,—plain and easy,—to all who are willing to be thus instructed and governed.

To this end, I would recommend instead of a Lyceum, one or two evenings in each week be set apart by a committee composed of two persons chosen from each society in the city, who should furnish, and make arrangements to light and heat, a suitable place for a Union Meeting for prayer and public instruction in the scriptures;—allowing no one to occupy more than five minutes at a time, which will prevent weariness, create an interest, and result in great good. CITIZEN.

GREAT ROWING MATCH.—Detroit, Oct. 15.—The great rowing match between the Metropolitan Boat Club, of Chicago, and the Shakespeare Club, of Toronto, Canada West, for a purse of $1000, came off on our river to-day, having been postponed from time to time since the 6th inst. The boats were each manned by four oarsmen, and the distance was two and a half miles and return. The race was won by the Canadians; time 42 minutes. The Chicago boat was swamped on the home stretch half a mile from the starting point.

A BARN BURNER.—Henry Willard, who burnt the barns of Calvin Smith of Langdon, this State, last spring, together with fourteen head of cattle, two horses, hay, grain, and farming tools, has been sent to State Prison for ten years.

☞ The shaft of the Pago Bank coal pit, near Durham, England, took fire while the men and boys, to the number of eighty-two, were at work in the mine. It was feared that the lives of all would be sacrificed, but after great exertions in subduing the flames, seventy-two persons were drawn out of the pit alive, and the other ten dead.

☞ The Manchester Mirror's Concord correspondent says:—"We learn that the muster at 'Cork Plains' was a success in only one particular—that of drunkenness, rowdyism and fighting. The few that went from here were mostly those who take their 'degrees' at the saloons in our city; and some, we learn, returned with the usual badge of former musters—a 'bunged eye.' Any man who wishes to revive former 'Military Training,' should be sent to the South Sea Islands."

Redpath, the English financial fraud convict, was incapable of enduring the severe labor of the quarries, at Portland, and he was consequently put to work in the "drying-room," where he had the undignified occupation of hanging up linen.—With others he was lately sentenced to Botany Bay.

MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

The State Fair.

Our report of the State Fair must necessarily be very brief, for not having ourself had an opportunity to witness much of the show, we will not attempt to give a detailed account—but will gather from our exchanges some of the leading features of the Fair.

The ground selected for the exhibition was, on many accounts, well chosen,—but it was at a very disagreeable distance from the Depot, some three or four miles we should judge, and having passed it twice through the mud, we ought to know. One of the most noticeable features of the Fair was the abundance of rum-selling, gambling and all sorts of wickedness, which flourished inside and around the Fair Grounds. If any such institution as that of a Police existed at all, it kept itself remarkably shady.

The number of people in attendance was equal to that at any other Fair held in this State. The amount received for sale of tickets, &c., was not far from $5,000.

We have heard much complaint about the management of matters connected with the Fair, particularly from the "horse men," who had little chance to display their animals. A drenching rain which came on in the forenoon of the second day, and lasted till night, interfered with the speaking arrangements to such an extent, that a dozen a two of Black Republican orators, governors, and general taglers, got a mighty poor chance to enlighten the people with their wonderful knowledge of agriculture. No great loss there, we take it.

The Elections.

The result of the elections which took place last Tuesday in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Minnesota, thought not much worse than should have been expected, under the existing circumstances, is not very pleasing. In Pennsylvania we have lost several, say eight or ten Congressmen; in Ohio we lose six and gain one; In Indiana we have probably lost five; from Iowa we have nothing definite, but have probably gained one member of Congress. The election in Minnesota was for a State Legislature, we have heard nothing of the result, but possible it is favorable to the Black Republicans. The popular majority against us in Pennsylvania will probably reach 30,000; in Ohio it will be from 10 to 15,000, and the reports indicate that in Indiana the Blacks have a majority of the popular vote. Nothing very definite, except the general fact that the opposition have thrashed us quite severely can be gathered from the telegraphic reports, which are manifestly full of blunders, and will undoubtedly grow more favorable to the Democratic side as they grow older. Next week we shall be able to give our readers the full result in the different States, and make such comments upon the cause and the effect as we deem proper.

Democratic Delaware.

We have the unbounded satisfaction of announcing to our readers (says the Philadelphia Argus) that our noble sister state has far exceeded our most sanguine expectations, and has given a larger democratic majority, we believe, than ever. We have carried every county in the State, which, we think, has never been done before. The people are speaking all over the Union.

Everywhere are the skies bright and brightening. The states which have spoken foot up democratic majorities as follows:

Missouri,	22,000
North Carolina,	15,500
Kentucky,	12,000
Arkansas,	15,000
California, say	8,000
Delaware,	750
Democratic thunder so far,	74,250

Add to the above telling majorities a democratic gain in Maine of ten thousand votes, and we have glory enough so far.

THE BOSTON EVENING COURIER.—We have been in receipt of this excellent paper since its start, and can attest its superiority in many respects over all its cotemporaries. It is beautifully printed on clean, thick white paper, with a size of type which renders its reading by candle light not at all impracticable nor unpleasant, which is more than can be said of the other Boston evening papers.—Great literary ability is displayed in the editorials and communications which appear in the Courier, and it is no injustice to any other paper to say, that more talented men are numbered among its editorial corps than can be found attached to any other newspaper in New England.

In its political tendency it is eminently national, and it consequently ably sustains the Democratic party, not from prejudice nor interest, but upon principle. Its Court Reports are very valuable, and commend it particularly to the support of the legal profession. We hope it will receive such a support as will handsomely compensate its publishers. J. P. Morse has it for sale.

☞ The New York Daily News is pitching into the Washington Union, which it denounces as a "malicious, coarse vulgar paper," and says as bitter things of the Union as any Douglas paper has yet published. The Union reciprocates its criticism by styling the editors of the News "ignorant, narrow-minded, illiberal and exacting, without intellect, honor, or public confidence, they assume to speak as if by authority, and issue decrees precisely as if they possessed the power to enforce them." The conductors of both of these journals are a nice set of fellows, and richly deserve the fate of the Kilkenny cats.

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the Destruction by Sparks from of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, he would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and safety in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do boldly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be scarled and thin, dwarfed, sere and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poetess, Thalberg:
NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.
DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original colour; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.
"Dryck a'r Gwyliedydd."
Welsh Newspaper Off., 12 Rhos-st., Apr. 12, '55.
PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who could not try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to persons in want of such a change of their hair.
CHARLES CARREW.
NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.
J. G. KINZ.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and tried various Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair finely. It became thick throughout and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all. Yours, &c.,
J. H. HOME.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.
O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Hair Dyeing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis. Mo.

DR. DIX
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies which from honor, and integrity, cannot to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, with full directions, on receiving a letter, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year, his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his notice, all of which he cured, and the number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicine sent to all parts of the world, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be turned from your path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life. They are worthless.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been tried by the most respectable physicians who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with little difference. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 ly

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.
WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity, are fast fading into night, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BELL KNOWN TIMEFORE, to all, whether married, widows, or widows, that Dr. Chase's FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization, and that ALONE possess all indelicate menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to shower down more copiously in the bosom of the married female, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable, and entirely free from mineral poison, and perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced in the regular use of OTHER PILLS, and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit, always providing that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Cornelius L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4631, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.
Given under my hand and seal.

Kittery, July 6th, 1858

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My professional engagements have left me little time for the care of the sick, in connection with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inoculation—has enabled me to write out a plain, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages, by Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medicine internally, except in cases of Debility and general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, since the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $8 to be paid in Express for medicine enough of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients will examine themselves as to their symptoms and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients waiting themselves of the Jarrett treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address
JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.
P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to; any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below speak for themselves. MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—the immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1858.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.—It is feared, says the New York News, that the Hon. Sherard Clemens, M. C., who was severely wounded in the late duel with O. Jennings Wise, one of the associate editors of the Richmond Enquirer, is not likely to recover.—At the fourth fire, it will be recollected, Clemens was wounded in the hip joint, and there are evidences of mortification having taken place. Mr. Clemens was a prominent member of the Methodist Church, and is constantly surrounded, and every possible attention paid him by his religious associates as well as others.

ASSORTING COUNTRY MONEY.—At a meeting of the Directors of the Suffolk Bank, on Saturday, the following circular was ordered to be issued to the various country banks having accounts with that institution:

SUFFOLK BANK:
BOSTON, Oct. 16, 1858.

Dear Sir:—The business of assorting Country Money will not be continued by this Bank, after 30th Nov., 1858.

Respectfully yours,
J. AMORY DAVIS, President.

With a view to provide for the exigency caused by the relinquishment by the Suffolk Bank of a part of the business it has heretofore performed, Mr. Groves of the Clearing House has been despatched to Albany to inquire into the practical operation of the Albany Sorting House.

☞ The Fraser River Mines, by the latest reports, are promising better than before, but not enough to induce much emigration. The river has fallen and the miners are doing well; but there are no dry diggings and no hope of the extensive gold fields found in California. It is stated that many lives have been lost in navigating the rivers in canoes. More than one hundred persons are known so to be lost, and probably many others who have gone to that country will no more return to their friends.

☞ Jones, who is now in the Springfield jail, Mass., convicted of the murder of a Jew pedlar in the western part of the state, is likely to escape the extreme penalty of the law. It was asked that his sentence might be commuted on the ground of insanity, but the Governor and Council determined to allow the sentence of death to be carried out. Latterly he has sunk into an idiotic state and his mind has evidently sunk under the trials he has passed through.

☞ In the Supreme Court for Cheshire County, just closed, a case of slander was tried, Edwin Guild, of Walpole, vs. Daniel Burbank of Fitzwilliam. The substance of the slander was an imputation of fornication. These are the same parties who were engaged in the "school master case," last term, in which the school-master, Guild, prevailed. Verdict for the plaintiff and damages $50.

DOMESTIC ANIMALS; a Pocket Manual of Cattle, Horse, and Sheep Husbandry; By the author of "The Garden," "The Farm," etc. New York: Fowler and Wells. Price, paper, 30 cts.; muslin, 50 cts. The keeper of a horse, a cow, a pig, a few sheep, or a flock of fowls, turkeys, geese, or ducks, will find in it all that he needs, in language that he can understand, and furnished at a price that he can afford to pay.

☞ In the Newburyport Police Court, on Saturday, two boys were arraigned, found guilty and sentenced to a fine and costs, amounting to eight dollars each, for using profane and insulting language.—In default of payment one was sent to jail for thirty days.

☞ A new Christian Book has just been received at this office, from Rev. A. G. Comings, formerly a minister of the Pleasant Street Church in this city. It is an able production. The title is,—"Jesus in his Offices. Second Quarterly Number, containing Seven Discourses."

☞ Emerson's Magazine and Putnam's Monthly for October, contains three illustrated articles, viz: Washington, The Seven Travelers, and A Glance at Goldsmith. It is a valuable magazine, published by Oakesmith & Co., New York.

PROLIFIC.—Mr. Moses Richards of Rowley, this year raised from one bean, 1012. There were upon the vine 212 pods. It was a common small bean.

☞ The Printer, No. 6, is just received at this office, from Henry & Huntington, New York.

HORACE MANN.—Horace Mann lectured last week in Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New York, on "The Relation between Colleges and the People."

Of College students he said "It had even been said that one set of the College students graduated with ruined health, and the other set with ruined characters; and that now it was proposed to decimate the ranks of women by subjecting them to the same destroying process. There were two classes of young men in College—those who went there and those who were sent. The one obtained knowledge by intelligent effort; the other vicariously. There are some young men who, if placed in the Garden of Eden, would never have risked their fate by even touching an apple on the tree of knowledge, to say nothing of plucking it."

PROFANITY AND RELIGION DISCOUNTENANCED!—The Boston Journal's New York correspondent gives the following item:

"No one can doubt that piety is on the increase in this city. I passed, the other day, one of the many drinking house with which our city abounds, Bottles, decanters, glasses and all the tools of the trade were very conspicuous. Mirrors, elegant paper on the walls, curtains at the windows, and polished mahogany counters, indicated that this was one of the better class of roads that lead down to death, and all who sip the intoxicating cup in that spot do it under the most fascinating influences. Over the head of the burly waiter, full-fed, red-faced and apoplectic, was a sign on which, in large letters, was this notice—'No Swearing and no Religious Discussions allowed here!' It was almost the card that one sees hung up in Fulton street vestry, 'No controverted points discussed.' The probability is that this bar-room is on the union plan."

INSTRUCTION TO A JURY.—We find the following "model charge" in an exchange:

"If the jury believe, from the evidence, that the plaintiff and defendant were partners in the grocery, and that the plaintiff bought out the defendant and gave his note for the interest, and the defendant paid for the note by delivering to the plaintiff a cow, which he warranted 'not breachy,' and the warranty was broken by reason of the breachiness of the cow, and he drove the cow back and tendered her to the defendant, but the defendant refused to receive her, and the plaintiff took her home again, and put a heavy yoke or poke upon her, to prevent her from jumping the fence, and she by reason of the yoke or poke broke her neck and died; and if the jury further believe that the defendant's interest in the grocery was worth anything, the plaintiff's note was worthless, and the cow good for nothing, either for milk or beef, then the jury must find out themselves how they will decide the case; for the court if it understands itself, and it thinks it does, don't know how such a case should be decided."

WAKED UP ON THEIR HANDS.—The horse fanciers have a term like the above, when a horse in their possession proves far better than was expected. "He woke up on my hands," we believe is the term.

The people of Farmington Village, Strafford County, have just had a water-power waked upon their hands." We were there the other day, and, seeing men at work digging a canal near the shore of that branch of the Cocheeho which wends its way through the village, enquired the purpose. We were informed that a gentleman had been there from without the State, and discovered—what was never known to Farmington people—that a fall of 12 to 15 feet can be gained at a trifling expense by a dam and canal. After some delay on account of minor heirs under guardianship, and the difficulty of obtaining perfect titles, the object was accomplished, and a mill is in course of erection, to make shoe boxes, saw shingles, and manufacture other wooden stuffs, always in demand. Several thousands of dollars are to be expended, and a new branch of business commenced in that town, upon a privilege which waked up so unexpectedly to the inhabitants.—Concord Statesman.

THE VIRTUES OF BORAX.—The washerwomen of Holland and Belgium, so proverbially clean, and who get up their linen so beautifully white, use refined borax as washing powder, instead of soda, in the proportion of a handful of borax powder to about ten gallons of boiling powder; they save in soap nearly half. All the large washing establishments adopt the same mode. For laces, cambrics, &c., an extra quantity of the powder is used, and for crinolines (requiring to be made stiff) a strong solution is necessary.

Borax being a neutral salt does not in the slightest degree injure the texture of the linen; its effect is to soften the hardest water, and therefore it should be kept on every toilet table. To the taste it is rather sweet, is used for cleaning the hair, is an excellent dentifrice, and in hot countries is used in combination with tartaric acid and bicarbonate of soda as a cooling beverage.

Good tea cannot be made with hard water; all may be made soft by adding a teaspoonful of borax powder to an ordinary sized kettle of water, in which it should boil. The saving in the quantity of tea used will be at least one-fifth.

FUNERAL OF FATHER SAWYER.—Bangor, Oct. 17.—The funeral obsequies of the venerable Father Sawyer of this city, took place to-day, and was attended by more than 3000 persons. A funeral sermon was preached at the First Congregational Church by Rev. Dr. Pond of the Theological Seminary. The remains were taken to Garland for interment.

SAVNNAH, Oct. 17.—There were no deaths from yellow fever yesterday.

SELECTED FOR THE CHRONICLE.

SLANDER.

A foul and loathy Creature sure in sight,
And in conditions to be loathed no less,
For she was stuff with Rancour and Despight
Up to the Throat, that oft with bitterness
It forth would breake and gush in great excesse,
Pouring out streames of Poyson and of Gall
'Gainst all that Truth or Virtue doe professe,
Whom she with lessings lewdly did miscall,
And wickedly backbite: her name men Slander call.
—(Spenser.

INGRATITUDE.

Blow, blow, thou Winter wind,
Thou art not so unkind
As man's Ingratitude;
Thy tooth is not so keen,
Because thou art not seen,
Although thy breath be rude.
—(Shakspeare.

LIFE.

Who breathes, must suffer; and who thinks must mourn,
And he alone 's blessed who ne'er was born.
—(Prior.

SENSIBILITY.

The soul of Music slumbers in the shell,
Till waked and kindled by the Master's spell;
And feeling Hearts—touch them but lightly—pour
A thousand melodies unheard before!—(Rogers.

MIND.

For just Experience tells, in every soil,
That those who think must govern those who toil;
And all that Freedom's highest aims can reach
Is but to lay proportion'd loads on each.
—(Goldsmith.

GREATNESS.

Tis hardships, toil;
'Tis sleepless nights, and never-resting days;
'Tis pain, 'tis danger, 'tis affronted Death;
'Tis equal fate for all, and changing Fortune;
That rear the mind to Glory, that inspire
The noblest Virtues, and the gentlest Manners.
—(Thomson.

DRESS, OR HONESTY.—How happens it, Mr. Linton, that, with your business you wear such a—a—an unfashionable overcoat?"

The speaker commenced in a bold rallying tone, but ended with almost a choked utterance, for he saw the sudden color in Mr. Linton's cheek, and the flash of indignation from his honest eye, and his own fell upon the golden head of his cane, which he suddenly began to brighten.

Mr. Linton knew that his overcoat was unfashionable and much worn—but he had a reason for wearing it—as most people have, who expend little upon dress,—and he was brave, aye, noble enough to wear it amid wealth and fashion, and though pained by the question of the elegantly attired man — we cannot say gentleman—before him, he calmly answered,

"I will tell you, Mr. Clanly, how it happens. Some years ago when I was younger, and know less of life than I now do, I was anxious to acquire wealth; and like many other foolish young men, I considered "trade" the easiest avenue to it. So I invested the small capital I had slowly gained; hired some hundreds to put with it, and 'went into trade.' The first year my profits were very unsatisfactory, but I hoped better things the next, and so kept on, and the third year was obliged to close up business, and found that I was eighteen hundred dollars worse than nothing. Now, sir, to one who never intends to pay it, eighteen hundred dollars is a mere trifle, absolutely nothing, but to an honest man, who means to pay every cent with all its accumulating interest, it is quite a sum to liquidate. I was advised to avail myself of the state law, and be free from debt. But I could not taint my soul with dishonesty, because others had done so. No, sir, the money I had used was justly due, and must be paid. This with a large family to support is no easy matter even with a tolerable business. But by practising strict economy I have reduced the same to less than one-half. My inner man must be clothed with truth, honesty, and justice, though the outer may be obliged to wear an unfashionable overcoat. Good day, sir."

Mr. Clanly had a finely worded apology to offer, but the gentleman of integrity was walking rapidly homeward.

"Mr. Clanly is not a gentleman," Mr. Linton said to his wife a half hour later.

"I am afraid he is not an honest man," she answered with emphasis.

Mr. Linton elevated his eyebrows inquiringly.

"Mr. Somers says he has 'failed' several times, paying his creditors but a few cents on a dollar, and still seems supplied with all the extravagances of life. But why is he not a gentleman?"

"No gentleman ever unnecessarily injures the feelings of another."

If "truth, honesty, and justice" was the inner clothing of every man, surely less expensive dress would cover the outer. Reader, which is dearer to you, "Dress, or HONESTY?"

MACGREGOR'S
VENTILATING
PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL
STOVES
—AND—
HOT-AIR FURNACES
Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,
HAVE NO EQUAL.
They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.
The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.
These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of
THE SMALLEST ROOMS,
—OR—
THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES, HALLS OR CHURCHES,
while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.
So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,
The McGregor Stove
IS
THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.
THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION
AS A COAL BURNER.
Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a
McGREGOR.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BRONCHITIS.—Many prevalent and fatally tending diseases are now comprehended under the term "Bronchitis," in all of them the membrane of the air passages is more or less affected. They resemble consumption in symptoms and fatality, and in many cases actually end in phthisis. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is signally beneficial in such cases, and has snatched many from premature graves.

The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.
Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:
For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.
Very truly,
ARTEMUS RUDDER.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Francis Delafield, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
Sold at retail in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NOTE ORDERS IMPORTED.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, Monday, Oct. 18.

Present, Judges Perley and Bell.

The Court came in at half past 10; and the following jurors were empanelled to try the case of Nelson N. Downing, arraigned for the murder of Mrs. Sarah A Spinney.

Alvah Sanborn, Fremont,
Ephraim Pickering, jr., Newington,
Francis S. Heath, Newton,
Jonathan C. Hobbs, Candia,
Benj. A. Moody, Hampstead,
Jacob Webster, jr., Kingston,
William L. Yeaton, Stratham,
John Dow, Atkinson,
Samuel Morrill, Brentwood,
John J. Lane, Epping,
Geo. W. Fernald, Exeter,
William C. Little, Hampstead.

Wm. L. Yeaton was appointed foreman.

In the afternoon, the indictment was read, describing, with the usual detail, the several mortal wounds of the deceased, by leaden shot, shot out of a gun by the force of powder,—said gun being in the hands of Nelson Nutter Downing, who with force and arms, and with malice aforethought, did kill and murder the deceased.

Mr. Bell, County Solicitor, opened the case, by stating that Murder is the unlawful killing of a human being with malice aforethought, express or implied. Express malice is where there was intent to kill the person who actually was killed.

The only point, in relation to implied malice, which it is necessary to mention in this case, is, that where a person maliciously intends to kill A, but in his endeavor to do so actually kills B, it is really murder.

Mr. Bell then briefly stated the case, introducing the principal facts which the State expected to prove, viz., that on Sunday the twenty-eighth day of March last, the prisoner and the deceased were both living in Portsmouth, the former on the N. W. side of the city, and the latter at the house of her husband, Danl. H. Spinney, about 2 miles to the S. W. of Downing's.

That about two months before the fatal Sunday, Downing held a conversation in which he was charged with owing Danl. Spinney for wood, which he denied, and threatened to fix Daniel Spinney as he was never fixed before.

That on the fatal Sunday, Daniel H. Spinney and his wife, now deceased, called at the house of Downing, and found him and his family at supper; that there was at first some friendly talk; but some conversation soon ensued, about the debt of Downing, and a similar debt of Theodore Rowe, with some remarks about appointments, &c.; on which Downing seized Spinney by the hair of the head, S. threw him down, and a bloody fight ensued.

That Mrs. Spinney went to the next house and got the help of Mr. Cole, who lived there, and who parted the men; that Spinney and his wife went into Cole's house; and after S. had washed the blood from his face they went home, passing through the city.

That while they were at Cole's, Downing went out, with his gun, and met with Mr. Perkins and Saml. Spinney, to both of whom he threatened Daniel's life, and when they interfered, he threatened them, that after Perkins went home, Downing pursued his course through Woodbury Street, and across the fields towards Daniel Spinney's house, followed or accompanied by Samuel Spinney, who repeatedly tried to dissuade him from his purpose,—and to whom he finally dissembled, and promised only to shoot a bird.

That Downing, near Frenchman's lane, levelled his gun at Mr. Kehoe and a young woman whom he mistook for Daniel Spinney and his wife, but threw it up when he found his error; that he went into the woods,—near Daniel Spinney's house,—and that a gun was soon fired from the corner of a barn opposite the house, shot from which grazed Spinney's arm, and by more shot from the same gun, Mrs. Spinney fell dead on the steps of her own door.

That the next we hear of Downing is he calls at Mr. Gove's house, desires to stay all night, says he has been in a bad scrape, fears people are after him, says he has shot Daniel Spinney, and threatens to kill any man who offers to take him.

Mr. Bell then exhibited to the jury a plan of the routes, and the Court adjourned; when the jury went to see the premises laid down in the plan, and walked over the routes taken by Downing, and by Spinney and his wife respectively.

☞ We have measured an Isabella Grape, one of a large bunch from the vine of James P. Bartlett, Esq., in this city, which was improved in flavor and size by girdling the branch whereon it grew. The grape measured 3 inches lacking 1-16, in circumference the smallest way, and 3 inches and 1-16th, the other way.

The evening exhibition commences at 7 1-2 o'clock; admittance 15 cts.

☞ A fortnight ago some of the residences of Long Beach, Monmouth county, N. J., took advantage of an unusually low state of tide to make a survey of the vicinity of the beach.

They carefully marked the locations of the rocks and bars took soundings of the bottom both within and without the bar. While engaged in this work they discovered five large brass cannons lying in about two fathoms of water.—They are old Spanish guns, and inasmuch as there is no record of the wreck of any man-of-war in that vicinity, or any vessel carrying Spanish guns, it is a matter of question how the cannons came to be deposited there. It is thought they were either lost or thrown overboard during the revolutionary war.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The Times correspondent says the War Department has received no communication from the Society Islands on the subject of annexation. The paper presented by Count Sartiges asked the withdrawal from those Islands of two Americans, who were intermeddling in their political affairs. The American Consul refused to forward this paper, hence it was sent through the French officials.

OSWEGO, Oct. 18.—The tug-boat J. H. Bloore exploded her boiler early this morning, outside the harbor, scalding the cook so that he will not probably recover, and badly injuring the captain and one or two of the deck hands. The engineer is missing. The wreck has been towed into port.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 17.—There were 40 deaths from yellow fever during the week ending Saturday.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE.—Dear Sir:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. M. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
359 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire winter. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEMSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON.
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 29, 1858.

Sir,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES.—Sir:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat

HENRY NOWELL.
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS.
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sitting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most if kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantage—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES.—Sir:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with one-third less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 8 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1857.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter.

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN P. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it is all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.
FOR WARMING & VENTILATING
Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

A CLEVER PRISONER—A CLEVERER CONSTABLE.—It will be remembered that about six months ago a man named Thomas Ratcliff inveigled a colored woman named Bloxam away from Toronto, on the pretense that he was about commencing business as a hotel-keeper in Detroit, where he would engage her as cook. Upon reaching that city, Ratcliff stated his intention of proceeding on to St. Louis; but Mrs. Bloxam, suspecting something was wrong, declined going further, and expressed a wish to return to Toronto. Before she left Detroit, Ratcliff succeeded in robbing her of her gold watch, and a quantity of goods and wearing apparel, amounting in all to over $300. Mrs. Bloxam returned to Toronto, and gave information to the police regarding the robbery. All trace was lost of Ratcliff until about a month ago, when a dispatch was received at the police office to the effect that he had been apprehended in Montreal on a charge of larceny. The Police Magistrate having sent a telegram that he was to be discharged on Monday last, Constable Webster received orders to proceed to Montreal, with a warrant for Ratcliff's apprehension on the charge of robbing Mrs. Bloxam. The prisoner being handed over to Mr. Webster, he was handcuffed, and both left by the 8 P. M. Grand Trunk train for Toronto, on Wednesday evening. Ratcliff appeared restless, and seemed annoyed at the sharp lookout kept upon him by the constable.

At Kingston, where the train waited a short time to allow the passengers to get some refreshments, Ratcliff wanted to get out, but Mr. Webster would not allow him. The prisoner's wife had given him a supply of provisions, enough to last the entire journey. Being refused, Ratcliff endeavored to quarrel with the constable, and used very hard language towards him, calling the attention of the passengers to his condition. Finding that his keeper was not to be thrown off his guard, he then pretended to be asleep, and continued quiet for about an hour. He then apparently woke up and complained that he felt cold, and he was allowed to take a seat, still accompanied by Mr. Webster, near the stove, where he remained for a short time quiet. It was now about 4 o'clock in the morning, and very dark.—The train was approaching Napanee station, and running at the rate of 25 miles an hour, when Ratcliff started up in a hurried manner and rushed to the door of the carriage, and succeeded in getting outside. Mr. Webster immediately followed, and caught the handle of the door before it could be closed. A struggle then took place, and Webster managed to pull the door open, but upon reaching the platform of the carriage he discovered, to his great surprise, that Ratcliff had jumped off the train.

With a zeal and courage perfectly wonderful, Webster immediately followed, and, falling on his hands and knees, fortunately received no injury, notwithstanding the rapid rate at which the train was going. He was soon on his feet, but could find no trace of his prisoner in the darkness. Listening attentively for a few minutes, however, he heard a slight groan, and walking to the place from where he imagined the sound had come, he found Ratcliff lying on his face on the ground. He turned him over, as he did not speak, but soon discovered that his prisoner was also unhurt. He then collared him and held him till daylight. Having discovered that he was within one mile of Napanee station, he marched his prisoner to that place, where he got assistance from the station-master, Mr. Dryden, to handcuff Ratcliff's hands behind his back. Both took their seats on a freight train which passed Napanee about eight o'clock yesterday morning, and reached Toronto in safety about 5 o'clock last evening, when Ratcliff was locked up. Mr. Webster deserves the utmost credit for following his prisoner off the train, at the risk of his own life; and the escape of his prisoner and himself from injury is certainly among the most wonderful on record.—Toronto Globe.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.—A romantic marriage came off at Beaufort, N. C., a few evenings since. A coasting steamboat put into that port, and the captain being taken sick took rooms at one of the hotels. The landlord, it seems, had an interesting daughter, who, from sympathy, womanlike, took an interest in the captain, and probably administered to his wants in his distress among strangers. The gallant captain was not callous to such divine attributes. Sympathy ripened into friendship, friendship into love, and as above stated, on Wednesday evening, while the parents of the fair Samaritan were in blissful ignorance of what was about to take place, they were married, after an acquaintance of but a few days. A "native" who had long wooed the fair one in vain, hearing of the good fortune of his rival, got gloriously "how come you so," broke all the glasses in the bar room of the hotel, tore up things generally, and it was feared would commit suicide.

COUPLE'S HELP IT.—After a marriage ceremony had been performed in one of the churches in this city, last Sunday, the bride when receiving the congratulations of her friends, shed tears, according to the established custom; at sight of which the groom followed suit with a copious flow of the briny fluid. After his friends succeeded in calming him, he said he couldn't help it, for he felt as bad about it as she did.—Adrian Expositor.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TRIAL OF NELSON N. DOWNING

FOR THE

Murder of Mrs. Sarah A. Spinney.

First Day.

TUESDAY, October 19.

The Court came in at nine o'clock. The witnesses for the State were examined as follows:—

Daniel H. Spinney—I reside in Portsmouth—am husband of late Sarah A. Spinney; on Sunday, March 28th, I stayed at home; my wife went to walk with me after tea;—went over Creek bridge, by the house of the late Judge Woodbury. I then turned and went down by the Alms House, passed by my brother Samuel Spinney's house, intended to call at Mr. Chamberlain's. When I got about two rods by Downing's house, my wife spoke and said, 'I want to go in and see Caroline a minute.' We turned about and went into Downing's back door; went into north western room, and sat down. Found Downing and his wife and his children. The table was in the middle of the floor, and he was sitting at his supper. Can't tell the hour we arrived—about 7 o'clock, I think.

When I went in he was picking a large bone, a beef bone. I said 'good evening,' he said the same to me; said he had been up in the Bay gunning all day and had just got home. My wife asked him where his fish was.—Downing said he would show them before we came away. He said Capt. Rowe had got on the Navy Yard again; I said I understood he had; he asked who was the means of putting him there; I told him Charles Woodbury and my brother Sam were the ones; asked me how he could be got off. I told him the same power that put him there could take him away; I said I had not much opinion of Rowe; if his family could be benefited by it, I was glad he was there. Downing spoke up and said I understand you said I owe you. I said he did. Downing jumped up on his feet and said I was a 'thief, a G—d d—d liar, a cheat, and a scoundrel. I said I am neither.

I got up, buttoned up my coat, said to my wife, 'let us be going.' I said to D. if he had anything to settle with me there were plenty of week days. He said, 'G—d d—m you, I'll settle with you before you get out of this house.' He then jumped against the back door. He made gestures to me, and my wife said, 'let us go out of the front door.' I asked him what he meant—he said, 'I mean to have your g—d d—n heart's blood before you go out of this house.' I then turned my head to go out of the front door. He grabbed me with both hands by the hair of the head—held me a minute, then let go, and drawed off and struck me in the face. Struck me four times after, one on the cheek bone, and the scar is now seen; another blow on the side of the head. I then took him by the throat and shoved him back against the wall and held him; the blows were flying all the while. I found I was obliged to defend myself or be stove all to pieces. I held him as well as I could with my left hand, and drawed off and struck him under the ribs with my right hand. I then threw him down on the floor; then I thought to get away from him, but when I come to move, I found he had got hold of both of my feet. I then cleared one foot and stamped his hand off of the other;—as fast as I cleared one foot he'd grab at the other.

When I got clear, I started out of the back door. After I got outside I found I had no hat, and I asked his wife if she would be kind enough to get my hat. She brought it to me. Downing come out to the back outer shed door, and with his arms akimbo looked at me and I at him.

I and my wife then went into Mr. Cole's house. She had been out after help. We were there about ten minutes; I washed my face and combed my hair at Cole's.—I left Mr. Cole's with my wife, and came straight to town through Dennett, North, and Vaughan streets, up Congress, through Islington streets to White's road, where my home is. We stopped on the other side of Mill Bridge a few minutes and had a conversation with Sam'l Rowe; some ten minutes. My wife was with me all the way home. We walked very slow indeed. From the time we left Cole's house till we got home, it was upwards of one hour. When I arrived near my door, I heard somebody talking; looked over the road and saw two men. I know them by their voice; one jumped over the wall and the other came towards me. He got over what we call the lower bars in Mr. Akerman's field; don't know who he was. I knew my brother Samuel's voice. It was a very bright night. After the man got over the bars, he went alone in a westerly direction, by the edge of the woods, in view of me. He went along till he got in the wake of the barn and I then lost sight of him. I stopped till the other man come up within hail—about 4 rods off—and he said—'run into the house for your life, for Nelson Downing has got a gun, and swears by g—d he'll kill you.

I then got inside of the gate and shut it. My wife was inside of the gate, on the upper step of the door; I stood on the alley-board, with my hand on the fence, and my brother was within two feet of me. My boy came and opened the door, and my wife pulled the door to and told him to go into the house. I asked my brother Sam to come in, and my wife also asked him to come in, and at that moment the gun was discharged from the north-east corner of the barn. Did not see the person who discharged it. I found that I was hit in my right arm; it flew up without any agency of my own—(witness was here overcome with emotion, sobbed much, and could not answer as to the consequences to his wife for some minutes.—Downing appeared as calm and composed as usual,) then he said: My wife fell dead upon the steps instantly. Her health was good at the time.

Cross-examined.—I have stated all the violence that was used. Did not see any one strike Downing in his house. My wife was by the front door in the scuffle; don't know where Downing's wife was.—Don't know how long my wife was in the room. My wife took no part in the scuffle. Downing's wife said nothing. I didn't hear the children say anything.—Nelson, the child, interfered, and he struck me over the head with a hoe-handle. I was then holding his father against the wall. I had Downing on the floor about a minute. I was on my feet as soon as I got his (Downing's) hands clear of my hair. My blows stopped his fists from flying. He struck five blows before I struck him. I then hit him whenever I could. I struck him once when he had hold of my hair. I inflicted no other violence upon him while he held me by the hair.

I let him go as soon as I found myself clear of him. No one took me away from him. As soon as I rose up I saw Mr. Cole. All I intended was to get clear of him by stamping on his hands. I made every exertion to get out doors. Did not intend to do him any injury. Saw Samuel Rowe that night, near the tan yard. I told him 'I guessed Downing wouldn't meddle with me again.' Never heard my wife speak in the presence of Rowe. Said nothing about stamping Downing all to pieces. Know nothing about Downing's being struck with a chair. Spoke to Jonathan Roberts yesterday about this matter. I never said I had licked Downing, jumped upon him, and he would never trouble me again. I was on speaking terms with Theodore F. Rowe; knew he was on the Navy Yard to work. I never made any charges against Rowe. Downing was opposed to Rowe, and wanted to get Rowe off from the Yard, I suppose.

I never had any controversy with Capt. Rowe; he got my wood out of me and hadn't paid me for it, and it isn't yet settled—he owed me upwards of a hundred dollars. Downing didn't defend Rowe.—I didn't take hold of Downing when he was against the door; I knew he was drunk, and I wanted to get away; I didn't want to have a squabble with a drunken man on a Sunday night. When Downing got up from the floor he followed me out doors. I was never off from my feet during all the time. I recollect distinctly all the occurrences that night. Saw Cole when I got clear from Downing. Don't remember that Cole took hold of me. I did not bite Downing's hand that I know of; didn't see him on the floor but once; the boy struck me with the hoe-handle twice.—Downing said nothing about lobster nots; my wife understood him to say he (Downing) had been a-fishing; nothing was said about custards; there was no invitation to take tea to my wife or myself. I saw nothing on the table but the beef bone. My wife and Mrs. Downing were talking together. I had been in the house about 5 or 10 minutes before the fracas. Don't know that there was any difficulty between my wife and Downing.

William G. Cole.—I live in Dennett street, next southerly from the prisoner. I recollect the Sunday evening referred to by Spinney. Mrs. Spinney called to my window, where I was sitting. From what she said I went to the house of Downing. Mrs. S. went in my house. I went in through D.'s back door—saw Spinney in the room, Mrs. Downing and some of the children. Spinney and D. were on the floor, in the north-east corner—both were lying on the floor—S. on top of D.—there seemed to be a little scuffle—Spinney appeared to be on his hands and knees over Downing. I interfered by taking hold of Spinney and pulling him off from Downing. I saw no stamping, only scuffling. Can't say exactly in what part of the room Mrs. Downing was. I urged Mr. Spinney to leave the house. Mr. S. remained about two minutes after I got there. D. was on the floor at least one minute after I got Spinney away. Downing then got up. He then stood in the kitchen or shed door much of the time, part of the time inside and part of the time outside of the door. Spinney was outside.

Mr. Roberts and Mrs. Spinney came in about this time, and took hold of the prisoner to restrain him. Mrs. Downing had restrained D. before. Spinney with his wife then went into my house. I returned immediately and saw Spinney; he appeared to have two scars or bruises on his face; the skin was knocked off; he had washed his face; there was some blood come from the scars. Downing wanted to get away from his wife, and finally got away and run up Dennett street towards Woodbury street; he passed my house; don't know how far he ran. Next saw him in a couple of minutes returning. I then went into his house. D. H. Spinney and his wife were in my house. I asked Downing where he had been. He said he had been up the street for Spinney, but could not find him; if he had, he should have made a corpse of him, or Spinney should of him, Downing—one or the other should be a corpse. I remained about five minutes, then went home. Spinney and his wife had left; they were in my house about ten minutes. I asked him, Downing, if rum wasn't the cause of this; he said he didn't know as it was.

Cross Examined—Spinney was upon Downing when I got in Downing's house; should judge Spinney's knees were on the stomach of Downing; Downing did not have hold of Spinney. Downing seemed to be almost helpless I thought; he did not utter a word; he made a kind of murmuring noise. Spinney's hands were about Downing's throat, I should think; I have not the least doubt about this. I seized Spinney and took him away from Downing. I used some force to get him away: Mrs. Downing was there and she probably assisted me. I jerked Spinney upon his feet, and Downing remained on the floor, certainly a minute; no one prevented Downing from getting up after this, he appeared nearly helpless, or stupified; I hardly knew what to make of him. Downing was gone from his house two or three minutes,—when he came back he had a very wild appearance about his eyes; he appeared to me to be crazy at times. I thought he acted like a crazy man.

When he got up from the floor he seemed to be weak; his strength returned in two minutes perhaps. I think his strength must have come to him at once. I knew he was in the habit of drinking; never saw him so when he has been drinking; he was full of jokes and merry—I next saw Downing in the Court room Wednesday following; have known Downing between 3 or 4 years. I should not have known Downing from his appearance; his face was so swelled, he seemed to be different—did not have his natural looks. I said to Spinney at my house, 'you had better wash your face.' Downing's face was pretty well covered with blood that night; the blood trickled down, and some of it fell upon my vest.

Elisha G. Ferguson.—I am the City Marshal. Know the prisoner and D. H. Spinney. Remember the time Mrs. Spinney was shot. Was near the house of the prisoner, in Dennett street, about seven o'clock. There was a disturbance there which I heard myself. Saw D. about the time I arrived very near his house. I saw him start from his house and run up Dennett street. He was gone two or three minutes, I should think. He then went into his yard—said he went after Spinney, but couldn't find him. Cole and Mrs. Downing were at the house. Downing said "Dan Spinney should be a corpse or he should before he slept." I was there about ten minutes or a little more. Downing did not come out of his house while I was there. Saw Samuel Spinney near 7 o'clock or a few minutes past; he came out of Mr. Roberts's. I then went to my own house.

Jonathan Roberts.—I live in Portsmouth, and remember the evening when Mrs. Spinney was killed. I was passing by the house of Downing, and he came out from it and went up Dennett street. He had a gun with him by his side, with his hand near the lock. I did not see him come back. I saw Samuel Spinney and Mr. Joseph Perkins together the same evening.

Alfred M. Hoyt—I reside in Portsmouth, and am a land surveyor. I have made a plan of the premises. It is made from actual measurement. The distance from the house of Downing to Spinney's barn, by the road through Woodbury and Creek streets, is one and a quarter miles and ten rods:—the distance from Downing's house from Dennett, through Elm, Vaughan, Congress, and Islington street, and White's Road to Spinney's house, is one and nine-tenths of a mile; from Spinney's house to Joseph Gove's house across is three-eighths of a mile: by the road it is about one-half a mile;—from Gove's house to the house of Downing, it is about one and a quarter miles.

Samuel Spinney.—I live in Portsmouth; am brother of Daniel H. Spinney—remember when Mrs. Spinney was killed; I was at Mr. Jonathan Roberts house on the evening of March 28th. Roberts' house is within three or four rods of Downing's, in its rear and above it. I left Roberts' house about seven o'clock. It was moonlight; I intended to go home; there were two or three men and two or three women about twenty feet from Robert's house at the time; saw Mr. Ferguson and Uriah Blaisdell there. They spoke to me, and then walked down Walker street, slowly to Dennett street; saw a man and woman near J. H. Young's house; the woman went into Mr. Downing's yard. Joseph Perkins was the man I had conversation with. Perkins is on the way to California. I stood towards the prisoner's house; the blinds of the windows over the front door were open. In a few moments the prisoner came out of his yard. He had a long gun at the left side with his hand on the lock; he had on a large thick coat buttoned up. Downing went up Dennett st., Mr. Perkins ran after him. Spinney was three to five rods from Perkins. I walked along slowly and met Mr. Jonathan Roberts driving his cows home. Roberts addressed me. I went as far as Myrtle street and followed up Woodbury street. I overtook Downing and Mr. Perkins at the latter's house. Perkins had the prisoner by the arm. Downing said "Let me alone." Perkins advised him to go back. He said no—he would kill Dan Spinney—he was his meat. We both advised him to go back.

He got away from Mr. Perkins—said he had a six-barrelled revolver in his pocket. If Perkins kept still and let him alone, it was well enough; if not, he would blow his brains out. He started up to the corner of Woodbury st., and I followed him. Perkins hesitated, but came up after we got there; we took hold of Downing's arm to get him to go back, but he put his hand on his breast, and said he had a revolver and would blow our brains out; but if we let him alone we might go as far as we would; that we were both his friends; said "Dan was his meat and he would have his meat;" said he and his wife had struck him over the head with a chain, and he wouldn't bear it. Perkins said "You will kill us if you don't mean to, for your gun is cocked; you cocked it down there." Downing said, "S'posen' 'tis." It had a percussion lock. Downing said the gun was well loaded, and if we troubled the gun he had a pistol. We were there five minutes I should think. Were at Mr. Perkins's house three or four minutes.

Downing walked up Woodbury street 2 or 300 feet ahead of me, and I followed after; saw nothing more of Perkins. I overtook Downing 2 or 300 feet from the corner, and walked to Sparhawk street, and up the hill to two posts; he went through and I followed Mr. Ayers over the field. We came to a ledge of rocks pointed out yesterday, and went across the field. He got over a wall, and I followed him. I then took hold of his arm and said, 'Nelson, this is a serious matter, come, go back with me and go to bed and sleep on it, perhaps you will think better of it in the morning.' He said 'no, he would have Dan's meat, sure.' I begged him to go back; he said 'no, if he did he should shoot his own wife.' I asked him what for; he said, 'because she had slammed him over the head, d—m her;' said he didn't care anything about the consequences. I said, "If you go up there to shoot him, his children would be orphans, and his wife a widow; that his own children would be the children of a murderer, and his wife the wife of a murderer." He said, "and hang me." I said "yes."

Downing then went over towards Robinson's barn; I followed. Near there he said, "Let me alone, Sammy, and I shan't have occasion to use my pistol." I tried to get him to return; he said, "no, Dan was his meat and he would have his meat;' said I had been a good friend to him, and I might go as far as I wished, if I would let him alone and make no noise. Said I had got him a job at the Navy Yard, and he hadn't forgot it. He said if my brother was in the room, he would fire the gun at him in the window. I told him there would be danger of killing the children.—Said he would look out for that; and that if he had gone to bed he would fire his pistol in his chamber window, and when he came to it he would shoot him with his gun; that if he didn't get a chance before, he would lie in the woods all night and shoot him when he came out in the morning.

Downing passed Robinson's barn and went down Creek street; I was by his side. Near Creek Bridge he sheered a little to its left, and saw a boy sitting on the rail of the Eastern Railroad bridge. Downing sheered to the right into Frenchman's Lane, and said, "Sam, we will go into the woods and see if we can shoot a bird, and then we'll go home." We were 3 or 400 feet from the boy. He did not speak very loud. He then passed along near the fence of the Eastern Railroad, up through Frenchman's Lane, to Islington st. Downing sheered off; I looked up and saw a man and woman. D. stepped towards them and brought his gun down and levelled it in the act of firing it. I cried out, 'Dan, if that is you, Nelson Downing has got his gun and he will shoot you.' The woman immediately ran towards town; the man said, 'tain't Dan,' and ran up along. I was considerably frightened and excited. Downing put the gun up and walked along up Islington st., to White's road. I followed up a little hill, then went into a valley, came to Akerman's bars on right hand side. He passed through the bars and I passed up the road. Downing said 'I s'pose you are going up to tell Dan.' I said, 'yes sir.' Downing made some excuse and went towards the woods. I then went towards my brother's house to a bend in the road. Saw my brother and his wife near the gate, and called out to them 'Told him to go into the house, for God's sake; that Nelson Downing had got a loaded gun, and that he would shoot them. My brother pointed towards the woods, and asked, 'is that him over there?' and I said yes.

When I got to the gate I called to him again, and he walked into the yard. When I got to the house Mrs. S. was standing in the middle of the yard. At the time the gun was discharged my brother was looking up (witness was much overcome and shed tears) about three feet from the gate. I was on the outside of the fence and faced him. Mrs. S. jumped up on to the step. The boy heard a noise and came to the door. Mrs. S. was a couple of feet from my brother. I heard the report of the gun and saw the flash, but saw no one at the corner of the barn. It was a loud report. My brother immediately cried out he was shot in the articles of the arm, and then turning said, "Oh my God! he has shot Sarah dead!" There was only one discharge of a gun.

Cross-examined.—I have repeated all that was said between Downing's house and my brother's house. I have always told the same story. Downing complained of being beaten with a chain over his head. I made all the effort I dared to. I thought he would shoot me if I called to any one. Perkins said, "I believe to my soul Downing is going to shoot your brother." P. was greatly agitated. Don't know who the boy was on the railroad bridge. Downing stopped at the ledge, when I asked him. I had some doubt whether Downing was serious when Perkins was with me. When Perkins and I had hold of D., I was frightened and afraid D. would shoot me if I attempted to disarm him. I was afraid of Downing all the way. God only knows why I went. I was afraid to speak for fear he would shoot me. (Witness repeated this several times.) I am not much confused now. Downing did not stagger any of the way I think. He had a dark coat on, buttoned up. I did not notice his face particularly to see if there was any blood. He said my brother and his wife and his own wife and his boy Nelson had beaten him, slammed him over the head, that he had had a fight. Told this to me and to Perkins. I did not see any blood on Downing, nor scratch; there was a change in his voice; he talked through his nose I think. I have known Downing for the last twenty years. Can't tell the number of houses I passed between D.'s house and my brother's.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES,

HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

BRONCHITIS.—Many prevalent and fatally tending diseases are now comprehended under the term "Bronchitis," in all of them the membrane of the air passages is more or less affected. They resemble consumption in symptoms and fatality, and in many cases actually end in phthisis. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is signally beneficial in such cases, and has snatched many from premature graves.

The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I have bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimer, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Biles and Sunburn from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been introduced by the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from passing out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from malted Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRIKING INFLAMMATION of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing disorders which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. M. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; R. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; E. ARRIVAL OF THE ARIEL, OFF CAPE RACE.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 18.—The steamship Ariel, from Bremen and Havre via Southampton, Wednesday, Oct. 6, with 250 passengers for New York, was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press, off Cape Race, on Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, and the news despatch obtained.

No improvement has as yet been made in working the Atlantic Cable at Valentia.

The Submarine Telegraph Company has issued proposals for £750,000 additional capital, to lay two cables from Hull to Elbea, Hanover, and Tornoing, Denmark.

A meeting is to be held in Paris in reference to the Suez Canal in November next.

At Canton large quantities of teas were awaiting the re-opening of trade for exportation.

Trade had been resumed at Shanghae.

Latest advices report Lord Elgin at Japan; and the American Commmissioner, Mr. Reed, at Shanghae.

Matters at Canton were in a most unsatisfactory state. The cholera had broken out among the Chinese soldiers.

☞ The Boston Advertiser says that Mr. Sidney Coolidge of that city, whose arrival at Charleston has been reported by telegraph, has been at perfect liberty in Mexico for three months past, but has delayed his return for reasons of personal convenience. He was not imprisoned for being engaged in any Mexican revolution, but because the government which employed him was overthrown, and he was soon released on parole, which was withdrawn several months ago.

This was magnified into an outrage of some magnitude in the despatches—but is a small affair in reality.

☞ The Indians on Red river, in Minnesota, don't like Senator Fitch of Indiana, who recently went out there with a party on a buffalo hunt. They ordered him to leave the buffalo regions, and on his refusal to comply they hamstrung his horses. He has gone back to Fort Abercrombie to obtain aid from the Government.

☞ We are informed Prof. P. A. Chadbourne has accepted invitation to fill temporraily the Bowdoin professorship left vacant by decease of Prof. Cleaveland.—Prof. Chadbourne has been engaged of late in lecturing before Teachers' Institutes.

SUIT AGAINST THE OHIO LIFE AND TRUST COMPANY.—Cincinnati, Oct. 18.—In the United States Circuit Court, Judge McLean presiding, on an application filed by Henry Stanberry, and N. C. McLean, attorneys of Messrs. Bell & Grant of London, and Thompson and Nesmith, for other creditors of the Ohio Life and Trust Company, representing claims to the amount of $700,000, an injunction has been granted against the assignees, restraining them from disposing of the property of the Company under their control. An application for the appointment of a receiver, before the Supreme Court., has been granted, and the Sheriff of Hamilton county has been appointed to that duty.

THE CABLE.—Trinity Bay, Oct. 18.—Peter Cooper, Esq., for the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, N. Y.—I regret to say that the preconcerted signals arranged by Mr. Thompson have failed to elicit any improvement in the reception of signals here. I do not know if any improvement has taken place at Valentia. I commence repeating the same system on Wednesday next.

THE SCOTCH IRON PIPES.—The dissatisfaction felt in Pennsylvania that foreign iron, in preference to American, should be bought for the Washington Aqueduct, has compelled the Administration to declare the contract forfeited. The alleged reason may be the only one, viz; that some of the pipes have not been delivered according to contract; but that it would have been effective in the absence of any contest like that now going on in Pennsylvania, may very well be doubted. The Washington Union strengthens the doubt by its remark, in making the announcement, that the pipes will now "be purchased from our own makers, and thus this matter, which has been a sore trouble to some of our friends in Pennsylvania, will be settled in a manner satisfactory to all parties except the defaulting contractor." The eager reference to this "sore trouble" shows that it has had great importance in the Administration counsels. It had nothing to do with making the contract, and why should it be mentioned in connection with its forfeiture, unless it had something to do with that? This is regular Democracy—foreign in preference to American labor, when nobody makes "trouble" about it; but anything to carry an election. The Democratic Almanac for Pennsylvania should have stereotyped against the early part of October: "About this time look out for Tariff demonstrations." But we think that the list of after-election failures has become already too extended for further deceptions upon the people of that State.—Boston Journal.

DRINKING AND CARD PLAYING IN RUSSIA. The Presse gives a gloomy account of the demoralization which prevails amongst the population of Russia, and which is encouraged by the financial system of the country. It appears that 480 million francs, or nearly one moiety of the State revenue is derived from the sale of brandy licenses, and that the Russian peasant is ruined in soul and body by a decoction of river water, nitric acid, sulphuric acid, and tobacco juice.

It is calculated, after taking into account the sum paid by speculators for their licenses, the amount which they are forced to expend in bribery in order to obtain the latter, the cost of the decoction which they sell for brandy, and the large profits which they derive from its sale, that the total sum sacrificed by the Russian nation to strong drink, is not less than 800,000,000 francs, or 12 francs per inhabitant.

Another Government monopoly, which occupies a considerable place in the budget, is the sale of playing cards. "Play," says the Presse, "is as necessary to the existence of the aristocracy, as brandy is to that of the people. Everybody plays in Russia—men, women and children. They do not play for amusement; they treat it as a profession—as a means of advancing in the world."

DR. SAUTY.—There is a wise and self-respecting Englishman by the name of DeSauty who has shut himself up in a small box at the Trinity Bay end of the Atlantic Cable, and will not let any one come inside. A gentleman who has traveled a long distance to examine the Telegraph prodigy, was only permitted to flatten his nose against the windows where he could see nothing but DeSauty, holding on with composure and dignity at the American end of the Atlantic Cable. Week after week and month after month, there DeSauty sits, a more patient angler than Izaak Walton ever dreamed of, with his long line in his hand fishing for electrical indications. Every once in a while he gets a bite, and then hoists his window and tells "Peter Cooper," of New York, that he has just had a glorious nibble, or catches a "small current," as he calls it, and sends it off to the aforesaid Peter by the next express. The Cable is a heavy and taciturn article, but it does not compare in ponderousness with the dignity of DeSauty, nor even in silence with his majestic reserve. He is believed to be the wisest-looking and biggest man at this time on the American continent. It would not be at all surprising if the smart fellow had been all this time receiving intelligence from England, and monopolizing it for the aggrandisement of his intellect. We insist that the Telegraph office shall be opened, and DeSauty dissected, to see whether he has not surreptitiously stuffed himself with ocean telegrams, cable currents and electrical indications.—Richmond Dispatch.

On the farm of Mrs. Susan A. Craven, in the vicinity of Charlottesville, Va., there is still standing, in a pretty good state of preservation, a frame dwelling house which Dr. Franklin had framed in Philadelphia and shipped to his grandson, who then owned the farm, now the property of Mrs. Craven. The antique structure is still occupied as a dwelling, and although a little out of style, is yet very comfortable. The place still bears its original name—"Franklin." This farm is contiguous to "Pen Park," formerly owned by Dr. Gilmer, the father-in-law of William Wirt, who spent several years of his life in that delightful rural retreat. Mr. Wirt was a practising lawyer at the Albermarle bar at the time he heard the sermon from the "blind preacher," in a school house in Orange county, of which he has left so graphic and affecting a description.

At a dinner given to Cardinal Wiseman in Waterford, Ireland, a German band was engaged to play, but the first toast given was "The Pope." The band having been accustomed to playing "God save the Queen" after the first sentiment, burst forth, and a scene of great confusion ensued. The knives had not been cleared away, and some of the most demonstrative of the feeders or toasters grasped them in their hands, and, standing on their seats, brandished them at the players, who were aloft in the gallery, and who, mistaking these signs for applause, played with increased vigor.

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now offers Five Years of the most severe test, would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical worth, both for domestic and manufacturing purposes, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and enthusiastingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is free from the anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE
RICHEST DIADEM
Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.
What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.
BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may blush never so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be marled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with grey, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:
NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.
DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about three years ago my arrival in the United States was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.
"Dryck a'r Gwylledyd."
Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.
PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some time in six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect to the entire satisfaction of her husband, who now is quite proud of her hair, which was at one time quite brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CADWALLADER COLDWELL.
NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and now (at the end of the 3rd bottle) are quite brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CASSIUS CLAY.
NEW YORK, July 26, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried various Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. D. D. TOMPKINS.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent more in proportion, and the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX.
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the mercurial poison, for some chronic complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most favorable secrecy preserved.
DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year, he has performed in Boston, upwards of three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. DIX. Do not be lured into vile pills, or be made victims of your experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This secret may be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.
DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions and to be on their guard against buying a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by unscrupulous pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

LOTTERIES.
THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next after their arrival, the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There are no combinations of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—Philadelphia Bulletin, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. After receipt orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.
Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for THE GREAT NATIVE PROPERTIES, and has in fact been the means of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all classes may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, and more than three-fourths of its number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. DIX. Do not be lured into vile pills, or be made victims of your experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This secret may be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and has proved itself worthy of a recommendation, and is now recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to apply a plaster to a child's breast or arms; all who use the Salve will apply it in proportion, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. Beck. BURRILL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors,
No. 6 Tremont Street,
(Two doors south of Court st.) BOSTON.
Will be found at all Apothecaries and Family Stores in the country. o15 ly

Kittery, July 8th, 1858

A Card from DR. James M. JARRETT, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above institution, as Chief Physician, and twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantages for the successful treatment of, and not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful mode of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs of the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high characters of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, is too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, and from a long and philanthropic aim the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to call on me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, to be used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, can be treated and cured speedily and effectually by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address
JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.
P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s8 6m

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Reissues, Extensions, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, on remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and succesful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they can put no only a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is pending. He has unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

LOCALITY OF HELL.—Cavillers often ask where hell is. An answer to the question may be difficult. The question is a foolish one, to be sure, but fools must sometimes be answered according to their folly. And so we might say that hell is in any place where God chooses to have it; or where sinners choose to have it; or where the devil makes it. Or it may be in some planet—or between the planets; or it may be in no particular place. It may be everywhere but in heaven!

Now all these depend on what hell is. And when this is determined, the question may be discussed. Hell is infinite misery. Wherever infinite misery is endured is hell. If, to produce this, it is necessary to put all wicked men into one pit, they will be put there; if not, they may have more room.

"Misery loves company." No one pretends that sin can produce happiness. Solitary sin is therefore more miserable than social sin. Of course, then, they who deny there is any such locality as hell, gain nothing by the denial. They make the matter worse. They deprive the sinner of the satisfaction of even social misery. It is therefore plain that if there be such a place as hell, all the wicked will be gathered there; if not, each sinner will have hell wherever he goes with an unholy heart.

"Me miserable!
Which way I fly is hell—myself am hell!"
—New York Observer.

The above is a whole article, as we cut it from an exchange paper. The reader will perceive it to be a great departure from the old standards—and it seems to be an attempt at a South Side View of the premises.

The term "infinite misery," however, is not a scriptural term—and if we carry it into the region of philosophy, we shall find it very difficult to give it any definite meaning, or indeed to get any idea from it whatever.

We get some faint idea of infinite space, of infinite duration, of infinite power, justice, goodness, &c. But we get none at all of infinite misery, unless some infinite being shall suffer it, which we deem impossible.

All miserable beings must be circumscribed by the infinite power which holds them in being—and therefore infinity in any sense cannot be among their attributes.

With this single exception, the general drift of the article is good and true, viz., that sin can never produce happiness, but always misery and everywhere misery.

OPPOSITION FRAUD EXPOSED.—The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian has discovered that Mr. VAUX was legally elected Mayor of that city at the last spring election, but that he was cheated out of his office by the count. It says:

"We have been shown tickets which were left in the ballot-boxes from the last spring election, and taken out yesterday to prepare the boxes for the October election, by which the most astonishing frauds have been discovered. Tickets for the spring election in one ward show that four Henry votes and six Vaux votes were taken and counted together as ten for Henry. This was the case with all the Democratic candidates voted for. By this fraud the Democratic party was prostrated last spring in the city."

This is the way the Black Republicans secure a free exercise of the right of suffrage and vindicate the doctrine of popular sovereignty.—Newark Evening Journal.

These "black republican" rascals must have been great fools to save these votes, and thereby expose their cheat or error. The wise men of the east don't do so.

When Queen Victoria went to Leeds she stopped at the Mayor's house, but refused even to see the lady Mayoress, though the poor husband spent about £10,000 to entertain his royal guest properly. The newspapers made some talk about the matter, so the Queen sent the aggrieved lady a handsome bracelet, which quite settled the difficulty—the Mayoress immediately pocketing the affront and accepting the present with becoming meekness.

Aristocracy? is this? or Snobocracy? or what?

It is very small stuff, by whatever name it is called.

☞ The grand jury of Ramsey county, Minn., lately found an indictment against Edward D. Heenan, register of Deeds in that county, for embezzling $4000, for perjury, for unauthorized charges, &c.—He was held to bail in $10,000. Mr. Heenan is a prominent Democratic politician.

PENNSYLVANIA.—In 24th district, Chapin Hall, Opposition, is elected to Congress. This makes the delegation stand 21 Opposition, two Lecompton and two anti-Lecompton. Grow's majority is said to be 6000.

There is a Quaker in Philadelphia so upright that he won't sit down to his meals.

NATIONAL FREEDOM.

An able writer on our national affairs says:—

Freedom, and the love of it, is a sentiment universal in the hearts of men.—Slavery is regarded with distavor even by many who encourage it and make use of it. It is a thing at which good men involuntary shudder. It has not and never can have the voluntary sanction of an intelligent and Christian people; and an administration in this age and country which plants itself on the side of slavery, and exerts it powers to force it upon an unwilling people, must go down, must become sectional, must die.

The principles which we advocate—namely the political equality of man, and the right of a man to own his own body—are the principles of all civilized nations. They are universal. They are principles which are as popular in England and in France as they are in Massachusetts or in Ohio. Circumstances or a timid conservatism may not have put them into such general practice in foreign countries as in the free states of America, but the justice and correctness of them are not questioned.

No book has been written in Europe for the last quarter of a century in defence of slavery, but on the contrary all the great minds both there and here, bear unbroken testimony agaist slavery and in favor of liberty. The principles, therefore, which the American freemen entertain and advocate, are not only national here, but they are universal among civilised, intelligent and christian men all over the wide world.

☞ In Eaton Co., Michigan, recently a mare with a colt by her side was feeding in a pasture, when she was approached by three bears—one old one and two cubs nearly full grown. Alramed for the safety of her colt, the mare forgot the usual fear of the horse for these animals, and attacked them with such vigor that they were forced to retreat, one of the "varmints" taking refuge in a tree, where he was shot by the owner of the mare, who had watched the proceedings.

☞ During a recent trip of a stage from San Antonio to Indianola, Texas, a lady passenger gave birth to a fine boy. There were four male passengers in the stage at the time. The event caused considerable stir among the passengers, but the driver knew nothing of the matter until the stage stopped for a change of horses. Mother and boy are "as well as could be expected."

☞ A Delaware paper says "six hundred thousand dollars will be the lowest sum offered the State of Delaware, at the approaching session of the Legislature, for an exclusive lottery grant for twenty years; and a million! can be obtained for it just as easily."

☞ An American lady writes from Beyrout, India, that the natives watched her and a lady friend as they walked out in their crinolins; and finally expressed their surprise that they should "wear their umbrellas under their clothes!"

☞ A hackman in Lowell, being sent by a bridal party for Dr. Edson, D. D., by mistake brought Dr. Estel, M. D. As the doctor of physic could not heal the mental ailment of the parties, the reverend gentleman was finally procured.

☞ A piece of the Alantic telegraph cable, purchased of Messrs. Tiffany & Co., has been submerged in the Ohio river, between Evansville, Ind., and Henderson, Ky., and works admirably.

☞ The total mortality in New Orleans of yellow fever since it appeared in June to Oct. 9 is 3075. This is within one hundred of the total mortality in Boston during the year 1857.

☞ Brian Rooney has been sentenced to death by Judge Wright, of Albany, for setting on fire a building occupied by two families, and in which ten persons were sleeping at the time.

☞ The citizens of Natick, Mass., celebrated the anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, Tuesday, in a spirited burlesque manner. A cannon exploded near a crowd, severely injuring three men.

☞ We have received our annual present of the Phrenological Almanac, for 1859, from Fowler & Wells, New York.

A CURIOSITY.—Benjamin F. Emerson, Esq., of Nashua, exhibited at the Fair last week, the first and second crop of pears from the same tree, the present season.

☞ James Rogan was stabbed in the left lung and in the right groin, in a dance hall in Bangor, Friday morning.

☞ The clergy of England are making vigorous onslaughts on the custom of wearing hoops and diminutive bonnets.

Mr. Douglas calls upon the Democrats to stick to him. A considerable number of them seem well disposed to take a good stick to him.—Louisville Journal.

☞ The Banks of Boston are now strong in specie, having a little rising nine millions.

FROM EUROPE.

Later dates from Lady Franklin's Arctic yacht Fox mention that the expedition had safely crossed the middle ice of Baffin's Bay, and was in a fair way of accomplishing the object of the enterprise.

The London Times says that all appearances indicate that the telegraph cable must be given up, and hopes the experience gained will be used to ensure that success which is finally certain. It admits the great superiorley of the Niagara over the Agamemnon, and thinks ships should be specially constructed for laying cables.

Henley, electrical engineer, is of opinion the cable is damaged about 300 miles from Valentia. Any attempt to raise the cable in deep soundings would, in his judgement, cause its destruction. Finally, he does not despair of making the cable work, if it does not get worse.

Lord Bury leaves Galway in a week for British North America, with instructions from the Colonial Office to obtain the opinions of the Legislatures and people of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, on the subject of a confederation.

The Emperor of Russia has been invited by Prince Napoleon to visit France, and will visit both London and Paris next Spring.

GETTING A "SMUGGLER" FILLED.—A few days since, a chap—already about "half smashed," as the term runs—met a lad in the street and asked him if he could conduct him to the City Agency, to get a bottle filled with rum. The lad at once conducted the fellow to the Police Station in the Town Hall, and stated the errand of the new comer, who reiterated the boy's statement, at the same time hauling out a flask and presenting it to the Marshal with, "I'll take a pint, sir." The marshal proceeded to the closet and took a water pitcher which chanced to be empty, but which was soon replenished for the occasion, and from which the flask was duly filled and tightly corked. "I want this for a lame horse," said the applicant, offering a dime or so in payment for the liquid. "Ah, well," replied the officer, "if you want it for the horse we shall charge you nothing for it; to which thanks were duly returned.

When the fellow left, the boy accompanied him, and was told that the horse was at the depot. The chap walked that way, but no horse was there: and he at once uncorked the bottle, took a swig, and recorking the bottle, placed it in his pocket, probably forming a rather poor opinion of the liquors sold at the Salem Agency, unless he was already too much capsized to note a deterioration in the strength of New England.—Salem Gazette.

It is a great mistake in female education to keep a young lady's time and attention devoted to only the fashionable literature of the day. If you would qualify her for conversation, you must give her something to talk about—give her education with this actual world and its transpiring events. History is of some importance; but the past world is dead, and we have nothing to do with it. Our thoughts and our concerns should be for the present world, to know what it is, and improve the condition of it. Let her have an intelligible opinion, and be able to sustain an intelligent conversation concerning the mental, moral, political and religious improvement of our times. Let the gilded annuals and poems on the centre-table be kept a part of the time covered with weekly and daily journals. Let the whole family—men, women and children—read the newspapers.

YELLOW FEVER.—Mobile, Oct. 16.—Absentees having commenced returning to this city, the Executives of the Can't-Get-Away Club, the Samaritan Society, and the relief Club of the Young Men's Christian Association of Mobile, upon consideration of the State of the public health, concur in recommending to all unacclimated persons now absent from the city, not to return until after due notice of frost.

GUESS HE LOVED BUTTER.—A green hand who went out in the ship Sea Queen, which ship returned to New Bedford, having received damages by a gale of wind, repaired to the shipper's office, and addressed him in this wise, "See here, I've got just money enough to get home with, and I'm going. Here I've been what you call whaling fourteen days,and hav'nt had a morsel of butter since we started, and you don't catch me at it again." He went home next day.—Nantucket Inquirer.

Old Master Brown brought his ferrule down—his face was angry and red—'Now, Anthony Blair, go seat you there along with the girls,' he said. Then Anthony Blair, with a mortified air, and his chin down on his breast, crept slowly away and sat all day by the girl that loved him best in all the world.

CARPETS AT LOW PRICES.—Purchasers are referred to the advertisements of the New England Carpet Co. of Boston, in to-day's paper.

☞ The Boston Bank of Mutual Redemption proposes to do on the most liberal terms the business heretofore done by the Suffolk Bank.

☞ An Irish woman of South Groton, Mass., wheelbarrowed some vegetables three miles and and a half, to a Fair—and took a premium. She deserved two.

HEARD FROM!—The long missing Quaker vote in Pennsylvania has been heard from. It is slow, but sure, when it comes.—Boston Journal.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AN EXTENSIVE CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the largest Clothing Houses of Boston, none sustain a higher reputation than that of J. W. Smith & Co., corner of Elm street and Dock Square. We call attention to their store at this time, because we know that this is the season our friends are about making their purchases for the winter; and we feel confident that by dealing at this well known and widely patronized Clothing Bazaar, they will not only get articles at the lowest possible prices, but that they will find the goods superior to anything heretofore offered.—This is a good deal to promise, we know, but their arrangements with the largest manufacturers of first class Clothing, in New York, are such that customers may rely upon getting the very best the market affords, equal in style and finish to the best custom work. In overcoats alone, they are doing an immense business, having introduced an entirely new style, peculiarly adapted for the approaching winter. Customers, however unused to purchasing, may rest assured of as good a bargain as if they were well acquainted with the business. No material is used but such as is of the most excellent quality, and none but skillful, careful and experienced hands are employed. The integrity and fair dealing that has characterized Mr. Smith's course in business for many years, is a sufficient guarantee that the inducements he offers will be fulfilled. Try them, and you will not be disappointed. See their advertisement in to-day's paper.

BRONCHITIS.—Many prevalent and fatally tending diseases are now comprehended under the term "Bronchitis," in all of them the membrane of the air passages is more or less affected. They resemble consumption in symptoms and fatality, and in many cases actually end in phthisis. The PERUVIAN SYRUP is signally beneficial in such cases, and has snatched many from premature graves.

The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

The only place in Portsmouth where a fine Melotype (taken on Glass and by the aid of heat brought in the glass,) can be procured, is at Salen's Daguerrean Gallery, Congress Block.

Melainotype, beautifully colored, (imitation of Ivory Painting,) taken in superior style, on light or dark ground. Photographs, Ambrographs, Oilographs, plain and splendidly finished in oil, any size up to Life Size, from $3 to $35. Pictures taken on Patent Leather, Enamelled Cloth and Bristol Board for sending in letters, or to put in Hats, Caps, Porte-Monnaies, Albums, very cheap.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfation to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES,

HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space. Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be DURABLE, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TRIAL OF NELSON N. DOWNING

FOR THE

Murder of Mrs. Sarah A. Spinney.

[BEFORE JUDGES PERLEY AND BELL.]

Counsel—for the State, John Sullivan, Esq., Attorney General, and Charles H. Bell, Esq., County Solicitor; for the defendant Hon. John P. Hale, Gilman Marston, Esq., and S. H. Goodall, Esq.

Tuesday Oct. 19.

James Kehoe.—I live in Portsmouth and recollect when Mrs. S. was killed. I was on Islington street with a woman, Lydia Marden; was near the centre of Frenchman's Lane coming back, when I heard some one halloa from opposite side of the same, "If that is you, Daniel, run or he will shoot you." I turned round and saw D. with a gun levelled. I said that I was not Daniel. He then brought his gun to his side. He was about 2 or 3 rods from me. I knew D. by his voice and the clothes he wore. I asked him what he was going to do with the gun—he said 'twas not a gun, it was a stick. The other person, Samuel Spinney, was behind a little ways. D. went off laughing—said he was going up the road a little ways. Samuel S. was on the right of D. I started towards Portsmouth. The other party went up towards the pound; the woman ran to the first house when Sam'l S. hallooed. This was between 8 and 9 o'clock in the evening.

Adjourned to 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday, Oct. 20.

The Court came in at 9 o'clock, and the examination of the State witnesses was continued as follows:—

Joseph L. Gove. I live in Portsmouth; my house is north-west of D. H. Spinney's. I remember the occasion when Mrs. Spinney was killed. Downing came to my house about 9 o'clock Sunday evening; he asked me if he could stay all night. I said "You seem to be all bloody; where have you been?" D. said he had been into a little dirty scrape, and wanted to stay all night. Says I, "Mr. D. you had better go home." I asked him where he had been. D. said he didn't want to go home; said "I don't know but that somebody is after me." I agreed to let him stay.—When I asked him where he had been he gave me no answer. He went into the bedroom, carrying his gun that he brought to the house; went into the room immediately; said his mouth was very sore, and wished for water to wash it. He asked for spirit to wash the blood off. This was in the bedroom. He took his gun in his hand and said if any man or person stepped into the room to-night he would be a corpse. He also put his hand on his breast, where he said he had two revolvers, and would blow their brains out. I was much frightened; went and told my wife, then returned, and D. sprang to the door and asked "Who is this?" I went right in. He was mostly undressed. I asked "What is the matter?" He said "I've killed Daniel, and I've been here, and I want to pay my bill." He put his hand in his pocket and took out fifty cents. I didn't ask him anything; he insisted upon my taking it. D. said he had discharged his gun at Daniel, and meant to kill him if he hadn't; said there had been considerable trouble; can't say where. He seemed to be talking all the time, and was as wild as a hawk. I then left the room and went into my room. Several men came around the house, and my wife was frightened. I went to his room and told him he must go away. He asked me to take his stocking off; he put his hand into it and took out two bank bills and offered me a five. I saw the bills by moonlight; it was very bright. D. went away about quarter before eleven; took his gun and a bag of balls that were on the floor.

Cross-ex.—I have known D. for twenty years, and have lived next door to him for I should think ten years; two or three years right across the street; seen him more or less every day; my house is a mile and half from his now; I have lived three years where I do now. D. is pretty certain to have "game" when there is any going. D. went into the room within five minutes after he got home. I didn't go to bed. I never saw him act so before in all my life; thought he acted more like a deranged man than a rational one. He seemed to be so wild my wife was afraid. When the people were around the house I thought he might shoot them if they came in. I wanted to keep him still; I thought if too many people came up the steps D. might shoot the whole of them. There were quite a number of men; some had sticks, some my axes and crowbars. D. seemed to be talking to himself and walking about; if I should tell all he said it would fill half a newspaper. D. was at the house three quarters of an hour before the men came. They soon left. D. kept making a noise and bitter groans. The men might have heard the groans. When I washed the blood out of his mouth I never heard such groans. Sometimes I could catch a word, and sometimes I could not; he kept putting his hand up to the side of his head as though it was badly hurt, and should judge it was by the looks of it. The blood was all over his face; blooded my pillow cases, sheets and bed. I took a light to show him the room where to lodge. I examined his mouth on the left side when I washed it out. It looked as though it was stove all to pieces, the same as when you knock an ox down. D. said, "Oh! my God, if I die here don't let the Spinneys have my body; have it carried to Newington and buried with my father and mother. I am stove all to pieces." I couldn't understand all he said; his tongue was going all the time—the strangest talk I ever heard. My wife was afraid because he talked so wild. He appeared like a crazy man; can't compare him to anything else; he didn't appear to be himself.

Solomon Seymour.—I live in Portsmouth; saw D. on the night after he returned to his residence; I was sent for by officer Foote to come up. Should think there were three or six men with Foote; found D. in an outbuilding in the rear of the house. After considerable talk he said he would come out.—Mr. Foote took hold of him and Samuel Rowe also, and I took hold of one of his hands before he got out of the door. I was with Mr. Foote when D. was found there. I asked him to give me his gun which he had with him. He declined giving me his gun. We started towards the back door and tried it about that time; it was fastened. I said to him again "You had better give me that gun." He declined and started by the corner of the house towards the street. Asked him quite a number of times to give me his gun; when we got to Dennett street we came to a halt, and after some persuasion he gave me the gun, also a shot-bag with some balls, an instrument with it used about a gun, a box of percussion caps, a half-pint flask, and a powder horn. In the flask were a few drops—a spoonful or a half—of what I took to be gun.—There was a silver cup he also gave me. [Inscription on the cup—"Presented to N. N. Downing for best shot at target shooting, July 13, 1854—Veterans."] These articles are with the City Clerk, Mr. Bennett. After I got outside of the gate I tried with the ramrod to see if the gun was loaded; it had five or six fingers in, with balls and all.—Before the coroner's jury I was ordered to draw the charge, and found the gun to contain powder, three balls and a wad. The horn contained powder. On the way to the jail we had some conversation near the Eastern depot, by the crossing of the railroad track. Foote was on one side and Rowe on the other. D. slipped his arm inside of mine and wanted to tell me about this. Went on to tell me about a man and his wife coming to his house, knocking him down, beating him and jumping on him; then asked "Who could stand that?" He answered himself, "Old Nelson couldn't," that "they might hang Old Nels for it, or do what they were a mind to; if he died tonight he should die an honest man." I asked him to give me the pistol at the house; said he couldn't show that, putting his hand on his breast. When I got to the jail I asked him to give me the pistol; he said he hadn't got any, and hadn't had any. I examined him—he said I might—and found he hadn't any, or a knife, or anything with which he could hurt himself.

Cross-ex.—D. went quietly from his house to the jail; didn't resist or try to get away. Near or on the mill bridge he stopped five or ten minutes to see how much money he had. He sat down on the plank I think, and some one helped him take off his boot or shoe and stocking. He took out two or three bills and laid one down on the bridge took it up again and put them all in his stocking, and went on. He threw his arms up on the way to the jail with considerable violence, fiercely, jumping up and saying he was all stove to pieces. The drift of his conversation was about his being pounded and stove up. He had quite a number of springs, and said something about having some ribs broken. He was talking most of the time; did not talk natural, on account of his face being cut to pieces as he said. D. said nothing about his having shot at Spinney, nor did he appear conscious of what he had done. I saw his face was much swollen and bruised, and a good deal of blood about it; some fresh blood. His shirt was very bloody when we pulled it off at the jail. At the jail he did not look natural; did not appear like Nels. Downing, as he called himself. He talked strangely and wildly sometimes. Have known D. a dozen or fifteen years intimately. He is a considerable of a gunner; understood he was a good marksman; never saw him fire a gun. Before we left the jail D. went to bed on his bunk.

Thomas J. Spinney. I live in Portsmouth, am a nephew of D. H. Spinney. I remember the occasion when Mrs. S. was killed; went to my uncle's house about 9 1-2 o'clock in the evening. The body of Mrs. S. was lying in the front entry, near the front door, on two tables covered with a quilt. I was directed by the city marshal to lay the body out. I was assisted by Mrs. Jenness, Mrs. Spinney and Mrs. Sawyer. We removed the body into the dining room and then by removing the apparel on the table, one shot dropped on the floor. I have it here; it is battered and has blood dried upon it. Upon removing the bonnet I discovered two long sloughs, one over the centre and the other to the right of the head; one wound in the left eye; three in the neck about an inch and a half apart; three in the shoulder; one in the left side; her right hand seemed to be grazed in two places. The wound on the left side was about midway.

Mrs. Judith Jenness. I live in Portsmouth. I went to the house of D. H. Spinney that evening, March 28th, and assisted in removing the clothes of Mrs. S. The clothing is here, (and is produced for the jury to examine,) viz; a busque, a skirt, a shawl and a fur boa. In the basque and shawl are perforations by balls or shot. I live about 40 or 50 rods from D. H. Spinney's. I heard the gun discharged that night, 5 minutes past eight. I heard only one report.

Mrs. Sybil G. Spinney. I am the wife of Samuel Spinney. I assisted in removing the clothes from the body of Mrs. S. a little past nine o'clock that evening. I saw one ball on the floor and gave it to Thomas J. Spinney.

Joseph Spinney. I am a brother of Daniel H. Spinney and live in Portsmouth, about half a mile from Downing's, and about the same distance from my brother Daniel's. On the evening when Mrs. S. was killed I was in my house. I heard the report of the gun in a southerly direction, towards my brother's, a quarter past eight o'clock; it was a very loud report; never heard such a gun in my life. I knew Downing before Mrs. S. was killed. About the first of January I met D. on the Sabbath at the corner of Elm and Vaughan streets; he said "how do you do," and asked me when I saw my brother Daniel; I said I saw him about a week ago.—He asked how he got along; I said "Very well"; he asked me if I had seen him within a few days; said he should like to see him; said his wife was visiting up to brother's house, and he showed it at her that I owed him $25 00; said he didn't owe him a cent; that he paid him in Mr. Senter's restaurant two ten dollar gold pieces and a five dollar piece. I asked why he didn't take a bill of it if he had paid. Said he wouldn't give him (D.) any bill, but the next time he saw my brother he would make him eat his words. I told him he had better get his bill. D. then said he was a d—d liar, a d—d scoundrel and a d—d thief and a d—d scoundrel; that the next time he saw him he be d—d if he didn't make him sup sorrow; that he would serve him worse than he had before, and if he didn't look out he would put him where he wouldn't trouble him any more; that he had waited for him at the Navy Yard landing, but he could never see him. I told him he had better settle it and have no trouble.—Two weeks after, at the corner of Market and Daniel streets, in the evening, I met D. and asked him if he had seen Daniel, and he replied that he had not. He said he would catch him yet and serve him out.

Cross-Ex.—I have known D. about nine years; I had but little intercourse with him; I have nothing against him; I did not think D. meant anything serious by the threats at that time, but I have since. I never heard that Daniel called for his pay more than once. D. said Daniel wanted him to pay what had already been paid.

Zenas Clement. I reside in Portsmouth, half or three-quarters of a mile from Dan'l H. Spinney's. I recollect of hearing of Mrs. Spinney's being killed Monday morning.—Sunday night between 8 and 9 o'clock, I heard what I supposed to be the report of a gun. The report was so loud, I thought it was a cannon at the Navy Yard. This gun is sometimes fired at 8 and sometimes 9 o'clock.

Benjamin W. Curtis. I am physician and surgeon in this city and remember the occasion when Mrs. S. was killed. I made a post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. S. in the afternoon of the next day. I was assisted by Dr. Bennett. There were three wounds on the head; one in the eye; two in the neck; two on the arm near the shoulder. These are the most important wounds. The direction of all the wounds were from left to right. We detected the direction of the wound in the eye by probing; also those of the neck. From the appearance of the wounds, they appeared more like gun shot wounds than anything else; there was no reason to doubt. The eye was obliterated. The probe passed down about 4 inches and turned a little to the right. I think the wound in the eye caused the death of Mrs. S. It was sufficient to cause immediate death. The other wounds were dangerous, and probably would have caused death, but not so soon.

Abner B. Bennett. I am a practicing physician and surgeon in this city. I assisted Dr. Curtis in making a post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. S. It was on the 29th of March. All the wounds on the body were examined by us. I think Mrs. S. died from the effect of the wounds on the body. The wound in the eye I think would produce immediate death. The wounds in the neck might have produced immediate death. I think from the bleeding, some of the arteries might have been severed. The wound in the eye would produce death more immediately.

Charles H. Chase. I live in Portsmouth, about a mile and a half or thereabouts from the house of Daniel H. Spinney. I remember when Mrs. S. was killed; I heard the report of the gun—it came from the west. I was in my garden, near my home, at the time; it was a quarter past eight by my clock; it was a very loud report.

At this point, at half past 12 o'clock, it was announced that for the present the government rested the case, and the court adjourned to 3 o'clock.

At the opening of the Court in the afternoon, Hon. John P. Hale, for the prisoner, stated that as the state had put in all their testimony unexpectedly this morning, they were taken by surprise; that the gentlemen associated with him had not had time to prepare the opening in so complete and able a manner as he thought the case demanded, and he hoped the Court would grant them indulgence until tomorrow morning for this purpose, and that the testimony for the defence he thought could all be put in tomorrow. The Court, upon considering the importance of the case, granted the indulgence, and adjourned to half past 8 o'clock Thursday morning. Mr. Marston will then open the case on the part of the defence.

The case is one of much interest to our citizens, and the seats for spectators are generally all occupied; but there has at been no great crowd in attendance. It is understood that the defence set up will be, that the prisoner, at the time of committing the act, was in a state of temporary insanity, produced by the severe punishment received at the hands of Spinney. The case will doubtless occupy the whole of the week. Reporters for the Boston Herald, Bee and Traveller are in attendance.

BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.

We are glad to learn that this celebrated painting, which has attracted so much notice, both on account of its artistic beauty and the elevating moral influence which it tends to exert, is to be exhibited in the Temple next Saturday, Oct. 23d, at 3 o'clock, for the children, who will be admitted for the low price of 10 cts. The evening exhibition commences at 7 1-2 o'clock; admittance 15 cts.

☞ We are to have no Lyceum this winter. At least, this is probable. The Mercantile Library Association have voted to have none—and are to have a Moot Congress at the Court House, instead. No doubt, those very growlers who found most fault with the lectures when we did have them, will now complain loudest that we have none.

☞ Mr. William Thomas, well known in the White Mountain region as an experienced "whip," has bought out Capt. Amee's Kittery Point Stage, and will run a coach two trips daily hereafter. Mr. Thomas probably excels the Captain, as a reineman and horseman generally, as much as the old salt does him, when on the wave.

ELECTION NEWS—GOV. DENVER.—New York, Oct. 20.—Private intelligence received at Washington reports the probable election of Vandervere, Republican, in the northern Iowa district; also of the election of Nichols, Rep., over Allen in Ohio, Gov. Denver has positively resigned the Governorship of Kansas, and is now on his way to Washington.

☞ The Boston police have donned a new uniform, which the Journal says is very neat and creditable.

Why is the Republican party like the comet? Because it moves in a very eccentric orbit, and will disappear in November.—Newark Evening Journal.

MAGEE'S PATENT VENTILATING PARLOR STOVES.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Subscriber, in offering the above Stove, (5 sizes,) to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity—would respectfully call their attention to the following among many Testimonials in its favor. Its daily sales are adding to its repute.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R. OFFICE.
BOSTON, MAY 28, 1858.

MR. MAGEE,—DEAR SIR:—The Boston and Maine Rail Road has some fifteen or twenty of your Patent Ventilating Stoves, which have been in use the past two seasons, and have given universal satisfaction both as to economy and convenience. They are certainly the most economical stove in use on our road, and the most convenient, keeping a good, steady, regular fire for months without cleaning out, or trouble of any kind, and they fully come up to the standard you claim for them. I have used one in my house the past winter, and am satisfied I made at least fifty per cent. saving in its use; we thought we had before a very economical arrangement, but your stove has exceeded the most sanguine representations and expectations. We shall be under the necessity of ordering some more of your excellent stoves for the road this fall and winter, and it gives me much pleasure to add my testimony to the already large accumulation of evidence of their great superiority over all other stoves that I have ever seen.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. MERRITT, Sup't B. & M. R. R.

From Rev. J. W. Olmstead, Editor of Christian Watchman and Reflector.

BOSTON, August 10, 1858.

I have had in use for a year and upwards, Magee's Ventilating Parlor Stove, and it has given us entire satisfaction, not only in respect to consumption of fuel, but the ease with which for a succession of weeks the fire is kept burning. The excellence of the atmosphere heated by this stove is another feature which I deem it fit to mention.

Yours, &c. J. W. OLMSTEAD.

BOSTON, Feb. 10, 1858.

I have five of them in use at my Piano Forte Rooms, and find them to produce an even and pleasant heat, with less coal than any other stove I have ever used. JACOB CHICKERING,
300 Washington St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 25, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I can cheerfully recommend the Magee Stove, sold by you, having fairly tested it and knowing that it consumes a great deal less fuel with less trouble than any other stove of the kind now in the market; with a little attention a continual fire can be kept through an entire season. C. H. SIDES.

MR. JONES:—The Magee Stove bought of you has proved to be everything that I could expect, and all it is recommended for, being a great saving of time and fuel, also free from gas, so disagreeable in most coal stoves. I consider it the best stove in use. ALEXSON ORDWAY, Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I have used the Magee Stove I had of you, and take pleasure in recommending it as the best I ever tried, combining economy, beauty and health, as the gas escapes from it, and a continual fire can be kept with a little attention.

JOHN NORTON.
Portsmouth.

WALTHAM, MASS, July 28, 1858.

SIR,—It gives me pleasure to say in reply to your enquiry, that the Magee Parlor Stoves, which we used last winter, gave greater satisfaction to my family than any stove we have ever used.

Truly yours,
NATH'L P. BANKS,
Governor of Massachusetts.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4, 1858.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—You will recollect I purchased of you one of the Magee Stoves, last winter, and having thoroughly tested it, I feel it due to the proprietors of so desirable an article, to say that it is the best stove I ever saw in use. Wishing it the success it so richly merits, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JOHN SWINDELLS.

MR. FRANK JONES,—SIR:—I purchased of you and have in use for my dining room, a Magee Patent Ventilating Stove, and have proved it to be all it was recommended, for warming and economy,—it saving a great deal of time and fuel.

T. J. COBURN, Rockingham House.
Portsmouth.

MR. FRANK JONES:—I have used the "Magee Stove," purchased of you, for one year past, and know it to be an excellent stove, and one I think it would be hard to improve upon; it requires less care and attention and less fuel than any stove I ever used,—consuming all of its gas, and making a pleasant and agreeable heat.

HENRY NOWELL,
Portsmouth.

MR. JONES:—I can recommend the "Magee Stove" sold by you, as the best I ever used—and I have tried various kinds;—it consumes all its gas, and one-third less fuel than any other stove I have ever tried; I think them superior to any stoves now in use. LEONARD EVANS,
Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 12, 1858.

This certifies that last winter I was troubled with smoke in my house on State street, and tried several stoves. I had one of the Magee Parlor Stoves put up by Mr. Jones, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It appears to me to combine the requisites of a good stove and come as near perfection as the stove science can be brought.

B. F. CHANDLER,
Civil Engineer Navy Yard, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 7, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Having given your Parlor Stove (the Magee Patent) a fair trial, I can testify to its superiority. It requires less attention, consumes less fuel, and produces a steady and more agreeable temperature, than any stove with which I am acquainted. It entirely does away with the unpleasant task of coal sifting, as it consumes everything but the stones, and with a little care the fire may be kept through the whole season. It did not go out in my sifting-room during the entire winter, and but seldom was it necessary to use charcoal in replenishing in the morning. Let every body who would have summer-time in winter, get the Magee Stove.

Yours respectfully, REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 12, 1858.

MR. F. JONES,—SIR:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves last winter, I take pleasure in saying that it is the only perfect coal stove that I ever used.

Having tried most if kinds of stoves within the last fifteen years, I have no hesitation in saying that the Magee is the only Stove that has given satisfaction.

It gives in all kinds of weather the desired amount of heat. Consumes all the gas, and costs one-third less for fuel than any other stove which I have ever used. WM. S. HADLEY, City Hotel.

PORTSMOUTH, July 26, 1858.

Dear Sir:—Last winter I had in use two of Magee's Stoves, in my Shoe Manufactory, and one of the same at my residence; and in justice to its intrinsic merits I take pleasure in saying, that I never have seen its equal, in economy, (both in time and fuel,) cleanliness, and ventilating advantages—the last named excellence deserves particular mention; for not only is the apartment healthfully ventilated thereby, but by a simple action, the heat is even and pleasant in all parts of the room, as the air from a furnace. I tested one of the Magee with a cylinder stove, and found that I could obtain as much heat from the former as with the latter, with a saving of thirty-three per cent. in coal, and with the important advantage of a constant fire.

To any one wanting a stove, unequalled in every particular, I would cheerfully recommend the Magee Patent Ventilating Stove.

THOMAS S. NOWELL.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., September 25th, 1858.

Having had in use a sufficient length of time to test it, one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Parlor Stoves, sold by Frank Jones, I can recommend them to be the very best stove for the purpose now in the market. MRS. E. F. PLUMER.

MR. FRANK JONES,—SIR:—The Magee Patent Parlor Stove I bought of you, has proved to be every thing that could be expected of a stove for the purpose for which it is intended, and I can recommend them to any one wanting such a stove. It consumes but twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours, on an average.

JAMES M. QUIMBY, Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, July 28, 1858.

We used Magee's Patent Stove in our office the past winter, and have no hesitation in saying that it was better warmed with much less coal than would have been required by any other stove within our knowledge. It has more than equalled our most sanguine expectations.

DAVIS BROTHERS,
No. 3 Daniel St.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 26, 1867.

FRANK JONES, ESQ.—Dear Sir:—To praise the qualities of the Magee Stove, is like attempting to "paint the sunbeams," and you may regard my sending you this note, as an attempt to "send coals to Newcastle." But nevertheless, I cannot refrain from expressing my entire satisfaction, nay, my gratification at the absolutely perfect manner in which my Magee Stove has worked. It not only saves, at least, one-third of the coal, but even the two-thirds will give more than double the heat I could ever obtain from any other stove I ever used; and then it is so perfectly manageable! any child that it would be proper to leave alone, can regulate the draft with perfect ease, and keep any degree of temperature, from the most intense heat to comparative cold. In short, if I could not replace my Magee Stove by one of the same kind, money could not buy it. I most earnestly hope to have one in my School Room before winter.

Faithfully and truly yours,
JOHN F. PAYSON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 20, 1858.

MR. FRANK JONES,—Dear Sir:—Having used one of the Magee Patent Ventilating Stoves in our store the past winter, we find it all that we could desire of any stove, and all that you recommend it to be; keeping the room comfortable in all kinds of weather; consuming less fuel than any other stove we ever used, requiring only about thirty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours.

SAM'L F. COBB.
H. H. HAM.

PORTSMOUTH, July 24, 1858.

Having used one of Magee's Patent Ventilating Stoves in my saloon the past winter, I find it all it was recommended to be, both in respect to keeping a room comfortable in the coldest as well as the mildest weather, and in its qualities for economy, requiring only about twenty pounds of coal for the twenty-four hours; and by being properly regulated the fire can be kept the entire season without going out. I would cheerfully recommend it to any one in want of a perfect coal stove, as the very best in use.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN, Hair Dresser.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 24, 1858.

Dear Sir:—I used one of your Magee Patents in my office, the past winter, and have found that it was the only stove that would keep the room comfortable in all kinds of weather.

It will preserve the same degree of temperature in the mildest as well as the coldest days, and is without doubt, the cheapest, while it is certainly the most healthy and satisfactory coal stove that can be found. WM. H. HACKETT,
Attorney at Law.

PATENT
VENTILATING PARLOR STOVE.

FOR WARMING & VENTILATING

Parlors, Offices, Halls & Stores.

Which for Economy, Purity of Air, and Ease of Management, HAS NO EQUAL. They can be regulated so as to give

ANY AMOUNT OF HEAT

required. And, unlike all other Anthracite Coal Burners, VENTILATE the Apartment quite as thoroughly as a Wood Fire or Open Franklin,

PRODUCING A CURRENT OF AIR,

At once moist, pure and agreeable. And as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot, is used for respiration, — of course the universal tendency to produce Headaches, so much complained of by those using Stoves and Furnaces, is entirely obviated. The fire may be continued throughout the entire season, without once going out, and from one to four days without replenishing. These Stoves are beautiful in design, and are finished in the most perfect manner. They give UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION to all who have adopted.

MAGEE'S
Patent Ventilating, Air-Warming
FURNACES.

FOR HEATING CHURCHES, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, PRIVATE HOUSES, HALLS, STORES, &c.

These Furnaces are now completed, and patented in America and England. We ask those about remodeling or erecting private or public buildings, to examine this invention. It changes the principles of, and obviates all former objections to the the use of Hot Air Furnaces. For economy, purity of air, and ease of management, it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The object aimed at by constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the least escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this, many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some being but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved total failures.

The reason for this is obvious:—

The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed.

To remedy this objection, so common in other furnaces, is what we claim in this heating apparatus, patented by J. MAGEE. It has a large dome above and around the fire-pot, that forms a chamber for the combustion of the gases, which from their specific gravity cannot descend to the flue or pipe, (that in this furnace being below the fire-pot,) the gases are burned up by admitting cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the discharge-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated; making your chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This construction of furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles, for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order; thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

With the simplest management one fire will burn from one to three days without replenishing, and may with little attention be made to continue the entire winter.

These furnaces consume all the coal, make NO CLINKERS, and the SIFTING OF COAL as in other furnaces is entirely dispensed with! This Furnace will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces—which we are willing to test. Our seven sizes of Portable and Brick are calculated to heat from the smallest store to the largest class of buildings.

A JOKE.—A correspondent sends the Buffalo Express the following good thing for the hot weather:

——K., the Quaker President of a Pennsylvania railroad, during the confusion and panic last fall, called upon the W—— Bank, with which the road had kept a large regular account, and asked for an extension of a part of its paper falling due in a few days. The Bank President declined rather abruptly, saying in a tone common with that fraternity:

"Mr. K., your paper must be paid at maturity. We cannot renew it."

"Very well," our Quaker replied, and left the bank. But he did not let the matter drop here. On leaving the bank, he walked quietly over to the depot and telegraphed all the agents and conductors on the road to reject the bills on the W.—— bank. In a few hours the trains began to arrive, full of the panic, and bringing the news of distrust of the W——— bank all along the line of the road. Stockholders and depositors flocked into the bank, making the panic, inquiring "What's the matter?" "Is the bank broke?" A little inquiry by the officers showed that the trouble originated in the rejection of the bills by the railroad. The President seized his hat and rushed down to the Quaker's office, and came bustling in with the inquiry:

Mr. K., have you directed the refusal of our currency by your agents?"

"Yes," was the quiet reply.

"Why is this? it will ruin us,"

"Well, friend L——, I supposed thy bank was about to fail, as thee could not renew a little paper for us this morning."

It is needless to say, Mr. L—— renewed all the Quaker's paper and enlarged his line of discount, while the magic wires carried all along the road, to every agent, the sedative message, "The W——— bank is all right; thee may take its currency."

NOTHING BUT A STUMP.—Here is a man who wishes to get a shade-tree for his front yard. He takes him out and shows him a most majestic elm, and advises him to move that to his yard. It will make a splendid tree for that place.

"Why," said the man with astonishment, "I can't move that tree! Its roots spread over an acre of ground!"

"Well, cut off the roots."

"But that would kill the tree unless I cut off as much of the top."

"Well, cut off the top."

"But suppose I should cut off the roots and the top, and move it into my yard, what have I then got but a great stump?"

And sure enough what has he got but a great ugly stump?

The way, said Mr. B., to get a handsome shade tree, is, go to the nursery, get a small tree, so that you can take all the roots with it; then it will live, and grow, and become a tree of beauty.

So, in bringing persons into the church, you take a man, and it may be here is one root running off into the grog-shop, another root running into the theatre, and so on. All these roots you must cut off, and when you have pruned him, and got him into the church, what is he but a mere stump?

If you would have good, symmetrical Christians, you must go the nursery—ah, that is the word, the nursery—to the family and Sabbath School, and take young plants—the children—and train them up to become plants of righteousness and ornaments in the house of our God.

How forcibly does this illustrate the importance of early piety. And how earnest should parents and teachers be, in their labors and their instructions to bring our children early into the household of the saints.—H. W. Beecher.

CHARITY.—Rev. Peter Sharp, of Michigan, was member of the Ohio Conference. A brother had been tried for heresy, and convicted. The members sat revolving in their minds what punishment ought to be meted out to their erring brother who did not understand the book exactly as they did. At length the presiding bishop asked, "What will the conference do with the brother?"

Up rose Peter, and, with great gravity, said "I move that he be burned at the stake." The motion was a strong one, and it brought into such a glaring light the folly of punishing men for errors of judgment, that the conference made the sentence as gentle as they could.

The London police court recently fined a lady—Mrs. Sophie Taylor—five shillings and two shillings costs, for leaving a railway train while in motion at the Malborn station. The lady had her face severely injured, and an American jury would have been very likely to have given her heavy damages against the company. Yet the justice of the English law and its tendency to promote the safety of passengers are quite obvious.

OHIO.—The Cincinnati Gazette of Friday says: "We are gratified to be able to announce the re-election of Hon. Matthias H. Nichols, in the Fourth District. A mistake as to the vote of Darke county led to the first report of his defeat. This, according to our reckoning, increases the number of Opposition members to seventeen, leaving but four to the Administration, from this State.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1858.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

EXETER, Oct. 20.

The Piscataqua Association of (orthodox Congregational) Ministers, held a quarterly meeting here yesterday and today. The only public service was a sermon yesterday afternoon in the Church of the First Parish, delivered by Rev. Mr. Mellish of Kingston, from Matt. 7: 24, 25, the House "founded upon a Rock."

In the First Baptist Church there was a public service in the afternoon, on the subject of education for the ministry;—and in the evening at the same place there was a sermon from the text, "The Word of God is not bound."

This morning at 10 o'clock, the Baptist State Convention met in the same house, when the meeting was opened with a hymn sung by the congregation, and prayer by Rev. Phineas Richardson, now of Lawrence, the oldest Baptist minister living, who has been a pastor in New Hampshire.

At 11 o'clock, the occasional sermon was delivered by Rev. Horace Eaton of Dunbarton, from Eph. 2: 10. "We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works." It was a very able production, and was a plain and perspicuous statement of old school Calvinism, forcibly and earnestly delivered.

The audience was large, as there is a lay delegation in the Convention; as many women were present, and as the Congregational Association had adjourned to this meeting in season to hear the sermon. The Baptist Convention consists of about 40 ministers, and an equal number of delegates; and there are about 20 ministers of other denominations. The whole assemblage forms quite a feature of the day in the quiet village.

At noon, in the same house, the Baptist church, the annual State Temperance Convention was held, to choose a State Committee, hear the annual Report, &c.

The day is very fine, being like yesterday, and more abundant in sunshine and balmy air, inviting every lover of nature and man to kindly and genial feelings towards his fellows, and homage to the God who made us all, drew our lines in pleasant places, and gave us a goodly heritage.

This afternoon Rev. Dr. Cummings of Concord, in place of a sermon, gave brief biographical sketches of the Baptist ministers who began to preach in New Hampshire from 1800 to 1810,—in which was conveyed much of the history of the denomination during those years.

The meeting this evening is to be occupied in hearing accounts of the several Associations for the past year. The Convention will close on Thursday.

STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

This body met at Exeter, Oct. 20, 1858, in the First Baptist Church, at noon. Hon. T. T. Abbott of Manchester was called to the Chair, and spoke in encouraging terms of the progress of temperance in the State of New Hampshire during the past year, in spite of obstacles.

The report of the State Temperance Committee for the last year was read and accepted.

Mr. Abbot declined re-election on the committee.

Hon. H. D. Walker of Portsmouth was nominated for Chairman of the State Committee, and unanimously elected.

The State Committee for the ensuing year were then chosen as follows:

N. R. Cook of Keene, Cheshire Co.
David Clement of Hudson, Hillsboro Co.
Barker Burbank of Sherburne, Coos "
Col. Duncan, of Meriden, Sullivan "
Larkin D. Mason, Tamworth, Carroll "
John Coe, Centre Harbor, Belknap "
Rev. Isaac Willey of Goffstown.
Benjamin Chase, Esq., of Auburn.
J. Chamberlain, Esq., of Warren.
Hon. H. D. Walker of Portsmouth.
Dr. Hoyt of Wentworth.
Wm. Ramsdell, Esq., of Milford.
Nathaniel White, Esq., of Concord.
Rev. T. H. Miller of Portsmouth.
J. E. Goodwin, Esq., of West Milton.
Mr. Jeremiah Smith of Lee.
T. H. Miller of Portsmouth was chosen Secretary, and the Convention dissolved.

☞ Lawrence, the Douglas candidate for the State Senate in the Vermillion district, Ind., and who is a clergyman by profession, was found drunk in an alley in Danville, having laid out all night. He accused the Republicans with having drugged his liquor.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette of Monday has reported the official majorities on the State ticket from 71 counties of Ohio, showing a majority for the Republican ticket of 18,945. It estimates the majority in the whole State at 22,000.

How often do men mistake the love of their opinions, for the love of truth.

"POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY."

Let us see what is meant by this phrase, "popular sovereignty," as applied to the territories. If it means anything worth the paper on which it is written, it means the right of the people of a territory, during their territorial condition, to "form their own institutions in their own way." In reference to slavery, it means that the people, by their territorial legislature, may establish and protect that institution, or restrict and abolish it. Is such theory warranted by the Constitution? If so, the Wilmot Proviso certainly is not warranted by the Constitution; since the two rest on diametrically opposing theories of government. He who admits the right of the people of one of the United States territories to establish slavery, denies the right of Congress to prohibit slavery.

The great Judge Taney denies both. He declares that slavery is the normal condition, under the Constitution, of all the territories, and that neither the people nor Congress have any power to prohibit it. What, then, becomes of "popular sovereignty?" A writer says the Wilmot Proviso is "unavailable," because the Supreme Court have pronounced it unconstitutional. Is not popular sovereignty "unavailable" for precisely the same reason?

The truth is, (says the Independent Democrat,) "popular sovereignty," as applied to the territories, is without warrant in the Constitution, is opposed to the whole practice of our government, and is without a party to support it. Even Senator Douglas, with all his vaunted devotion to that mythological "principle," receives and defends the decision in the Dred Scott case, and thus kicks his whole platform out from under him. The only popular sovereignty he contends for, is the right of the people, after enduring slavery through their whole territorial existence, to make a free State constitution. With him this "glorious principle" has this extent, no more.

This is not the republican idea. It is not an idea upon which any intelligent and consistent opponent of slavery extension can stand. No man or party can stand either on this or on the broader idea of popular sovereignty, without conceding that slavery has an equal right with freedom in the territories—without conceding that slavery is not a political, social or moral evil, or any evil at all.

THE OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—The late elections in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio; have resulted somewhat disastrously to the Democracy. In each of these States our Congressional representation has been reduced. In Iowa, it is probable, we have gained a member. Kansas has gone opposition, largely; Minnesota is not heard from; while in South Carolina, Florida, New Mexico, we have triumphed gloriously. Thus it will be seen the returns have their light as well as their dark side.—N. H. Patriot, Oct. 20.

The light side is in the slave states of South Carolina, and Florida and in New Mexico,—while the dark side is in the great free States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and in Kansas.

Comment could add no force to these facts, so decisive in verdict for freedom, and against those who would forge fetters.

FROM EUROPE.

Ship Daniel Webster at London from New York, reports Sept. 20th, in lat 43:39, lon 45 57, passed a number of dead bodies, supposed from the burned steamer Austria.

The rumor that two French ships-of-war had gone to Portugal to support the demands of France for compensation for the seizure of the barque Charles Georges, is confirmed. An amicable adjustment was, however, expected.

The Daily News has a hopeful article on the Atlantic cable, and thinks it may yet be rendered available.

The half yearly meeting of the Great Western Railway of Canada has been held in London. The directors' report, which declares a dividend of 4 per cent. was adopted by a small majority, an amendment having been proposed, limiting the dividend to 3 1-2. A resolution was agreed to, after strong opposition, authorizing the directors to advance £100,000 for the rolling stock of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railway.

At a meeting of the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railway, at London, it was stated that the gross revenue of the half year was more than absorbed by the works in progress.

☞ In Franklin street, Boston, Tuesday, about sixty feet of heavy granite coping fell from the top of the new block of granite stores now building at the corner of Hawley street. Mr. Samuel Cotton, a carpenter, was entering the lower story with boards upon his shoulder, and one stone fell upon his head, and another on his leg and side, killing him instantly. He was about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife at Cochituate village. While one of the masons was engaged in carrying Mr. Cotton's remains into the building, a brick fell from the coping, and struck him a glancing blow on the forehead.

MUSICAL.—New York, Oct. 20.—There was another Piccolomini excitement today at the sale of tickets for the second night. All the seats were sold in half an hour; $20 were paid in some cases for a single seat, and $50 for a box.

Arrest of Gamblers—Supposed Murder. The police last night made a descent upon a gambling house in Broadway, kept by the notorious Bob Willis, and arrested half a dozen gamblers, upon complaint of an Irish servant girl that a man was murdered there on Sunday night, Sept. 19, and that next morning she saw his body in the cistern. The Commercial says that G. Beldstein Halleday, of the Swedish Navy, who was recently fleeced by gamblers of $5000, has been missing from the St. Nicholas Hotel for several days.

THE MISSING AERONAUT.—The elevation of Thurston, the aeronaut, was thought to be three miles high when last seen, and assuming this to be the distance he fell, it would only require thirty-one seconds for him to reach the earth, a mean velocity of 495 feet per second. Assuming his weight to be 160 pounds, he would strike the earth with a momentum equal to 160,800 pounds, or a little more than 80 tons, a power sufficient to scatter his body, bone and muscle, into atoms so minute as to be scarcely perceptible, if not to bury him deep in the earth.

SUDDEN CHANGES.—Mr. George W. Constable, one of the Salt Lake mail conductors, says that when he left Salt Lake City on the 4th of last month, the heat was oppressive; but when he got out of the city it snowed, and the fourth day the ground was frozen and the ice plenty. Three days later he went through snow nearly a foot deep, and when he got over on the North Platte the mosquetoes attacked him in swarms, and nearly devoured him. This was experiencing sudden changes and the four seasons in rapid succession.

☞ A Mr. Jennings of New York, says he employs four men constantly to catch rats, and that he has obtained upwards of 3,000 from the Astor House, and 2,000 from the St. Nicholas Hotel; about the same number from the New York Hotel, and lots from Taylor's and a number of other hotels. He supplies a great number of cities of the United States with the animal, Baltimore alone being his customer to the extent of about 2,000 per month.

UNIQUE PRESENT.—Montpelier, Oct. 20. Capt. Sawyer, U. S. N., to-day, presented to the State of Vermont a chair made from the oak of the old frigate Constitution, to be placed in the Governor's Room, and used as an Executive chair. It is carved with the arms of this State and the United States.

GLUT OF SILVER COIN.—At New York, great dissatisfaction is expressed at the accumulation at all retail establishments, of quantities of fellver coin. The banks will not take it on deposit; it cannot be sold in large quantities, except at heavy discount. The war with China, which has stopped the export thither, and to some extent, the depreciation of the coin here, have led to this state of things.

FOR THE

THURSDAY, Oct. 21.

The Court came in at half-past 8, and Mr. Marston immediately commenced to lay before the jury in a very clear manner the character of the defence. He stated that "Nelson Nutter Downing, the prisoner at the bar, is charged with the wilful murder of Sarah Ann Spinney; that there was no doubt she was killed on the night of the 28th of March last, and that she fell by the hand of the prisoner." He said, "If at that time the prisoner was a responsible being—if he was in full possession of his intellect and moral faculties—it was murder, the most atrocious murder that the heart or mind of man ever conceived; and that there can be nothing to save him from the highest penalty of the law.—While I am not here to deny that the gun was fired by the hands of the prisoner, I say it was no crime; it was not Nelson Downing that did it—it was the act of a maniac—the act of one deprived of his mind. His moral sentiments were not then under his control. He was laboring under a delusion, which it was beyond his power to resist. At the time Nelson N. Downing was a maniac, not by reason of intoxication, but in consequence of the terrible injuries he had received at the hands of the husband of the wife whose life he took."

Mr. Marston then read from Ray's Medical Jurisprudence, as follows:

"Mania may exist in complication with mental delusion; it is in fact only a kind of moral exaltation, (tollheit,) a state in which the reason has lost its empire over the passions and the actions by which they are manifested, to such a degree that the individual can neither repress the former nor abstain from the latter.

It does not follow that he may not be in possession of his senses and even his usual intelligence, since, in order to resist the impulses of the passions, it is not sufficient that the reason should impart its counsels; we must have the necessary power to obey them. The maniac may judge correctly of his actions, without being in a condition to repress his passions, and to abstain from the acts of violence to which they may impel him."

Mr. Marston next read from Taylor's Medical Jurisprudence as follows:

"There are no certain legal or medical rules, whereby homicidal mania can be detected. Each case must be determined by the circumstances attending it, but the true test for irresponsibility in these ambiguous cases, appears to be, whether the individual, at the time of the commission of the crime, had or had not a sufficient power of control to govern his actions. It from the circumstances it can be inferred, that he had this power, whether his case may fall within the above rules or not, he should be made responsible and rendered liable to to punishment. So, however, he was led to the perpetration of the act by an uncontrollable impulse, or in other words, by an an impulse which his mental condition did not allow him to control, whether accompanied by deliberation or not, then he is entitled to an acquittal as an irresponsible agent."

He then stated to the jury that they should show by good evidence that the prisoner was a maniac at the time of the commission of the deed, and not a responsible being; that the account which D. H. Spinney had given was not true as would be shown by the son and daughter of the prisoner and othess; that when Spinney and his wife came into Downing's house that night they were both invited to take tea; that the prisoner, though he might have had some liquor, yet it was not perceptible; that the conversation turned upon Rowe, and the trouble all grew out of the false charges of Spinney; that S. was violent and seized hold of Mr. Downing, and finally got him down upon the floor; that while Spinney was kicking and pounding Downing, Spinney's wife caught up a herring box and struck D. with much violence, and that she also struck him several times upon the head with the leg of a chair; that Spinney met Mr. Rowe near the railroad, after the difficulty, and told him he (Spinney) had beat Downing, jumped upon him, pounded him, and stove him all up, and that he would not show his head out of doors for a long time; that Mrs. S. also said she had beaten him with a chair; that the gun had been loaded two or three months, and that all their witnesses would testify with one voice that after the terrible punishment inflicted upon Downing, they did not know him; that he didn't appear like Nelson Downing; that he talked incoherently, showing that there was some injury to the brain; that he made no allusion to the killing of Mrs. Spinney, and that at the jail he had no knowledge of his situation; that while there a physician was called to dress his wounds, and even his own brothers would not have known him—he was so disfigured; that he was always a good and peaceable citizen, and never had any quarrels with any one. Upon such evidence, Mr. M. said, he should ask the jury to say whether the prisoner was guilty of this great and terrible crime, committed in such an open and public manner, or deserved an acquittal.

Dr. William Laighton. I am a practicing physician; have been in practice for eighteen years; received my medical education in this city, Boston and Philadelphia, and took my degree at Harvard. I have been City Physician of Portsmouth two years; in this time there were in the almshouse a dozen patients insane. I was called Monday, the 29th of March, to see the prisoner. J. H. Downing and his brother Bartholomew went with me. I found D. on the bed in his cell much disfigured; bloody about the face and head; the bedclothes were also bloody about the head of the bed. He was severely bruised about the left side of the face, head, left eye and temple—over and back of the left ear; his face was very much swollen, mouth badly cut inside of the cheek. There was great difficulty o breathing; very sore about the chest, back and head. A contusion or bruise was found on the lower part of the chest, and some general congestion of the lungs. It was necessary to apply mustard poultices to relieve him from pressure. The left side of the head, from the temple and over and back of the ear, was in a badly bruised condition — the whole mass through to the bone. To the hand it gave a soft feeling, leaving blood upon the fingers. It was very sore; in a soft mellow condition. Such an effect must have been produced by blows from some smooth, hard substance. On the back of the head there was considerable of a bunch, caused by a hard blow. It was not connected with the side bruises. The nose was very much swollen; found it was broken at the extremity of the bone. He suffered much headache for a while.

A discharge of pus from the nose afterwards took place, indicating fracture of the bone.—It was very tender and sore. I concluded the pain in the back was caused by internal pressure upon the ribs. D. was in a very peculiar, unnatural condition. He could not talk sufficiently clear to be understood; could not give clear answers to questions put to him, and was very irritable. His pulse was accelerated, and he was weak, indicating reaction, depressing exhaustion, and loss of blood.—His pulse was very weak, indicating injury to the nervous system. His eyes had an unnatural expression when he was spoken to, indicating a disorder of the brain—insanity. He could not be understood; could not comprehend anything. One fore finger was injured—a piece taken out to the bone. He was laying on his back, and several attempts were made to get him up, but were abandoned as he was so sore. Next saw him in the afternoon of the same day; he was then unable to stand. He was in about the same condition as in the morning, perhaps a little improved; appeared in great distress. The next morning he placed his hand on his head and complained of great pain. Was very restless through the night, and for five or six days. After this there were chills and excessive perspiration, denoting a reaction of the system. He discharged more or less blood, from the mouth and nose for several days, and pus from his nose for two or three days. He was able to eat but little food, mostly liquid.—Opiates were necessary to produce sleep; mustard poultice was applied to his chest; quinine was given to remove chills. I visited him daily for about nine days, and afterwards at intervals. There are three coverings over the brain. The vascular membrane goes through the convolutions of the brain and extends down the spinal column. Any injury to this affects the brain. (Here the witness commenced quite a medical lecture on the anatomy of the brain, and was proceeding with much warmth until Judge Perley suggested to the counsel for the defence that this was not necessary.) A blow upon the head would produce a compression of the brain. The blows upon the head of D. in my opinion were sufficient to produce mania. It would be immediate in D.'s case. When I first visited D. in prison it is my opinion he was laboring under mania from depression of the brain.

Cross examined. I visited D. two or three times a day. The two first days I visited him three times a day; then twice a day, then once a day regularly for twelve or thirteen days. I stayed from fifteen minutes to an hour at each visit. I know of his suffering pain principally from his own statements. For eight days he complained of a pain in his head. For the first two days he was irritated when I asked him questions; afterwards he would answer much more readily. The piece taken out of the finger was of a circular form, and might have been done with the teeth; this is my impression. In the case of D. mania appeared to be immediate upon the compression of the brain, I inferred by his looks. By his appearance at that time I thought he was a maniac. It was 9 o'clock when I saw him. I give my opinion that mania commenced immediately after the compression of the brain, and by the extravasation of blood. I saw blood discharged for the first six or seven days—from the nose mostly, and from the mouth. I visited D. late in the evening with his brothers; found him very restles.

Re-examined by Defence. Some years previous to this occasion he was sick; and he was then in a condition which I would call mania. It lasted but a short time. One time he leaped out of his bed to the door. The next morning it had subsided from the effect of the medicine I gave him. I gave him antimony on account of mania. The disease was inflamation of the bowels. I know a number of the name of Dowing who were afflicted with insanity.

Cross ex. resumed. I did not give antimony on the 29th of March for insanity.

To the Court. I think there was extravavasation of blood from his staring appearance—the looks of the eye. I have known D. for twenty years; his character has been good to the best of my knowledge.

Nelson N. Downing, Jr. I was 16 years old last June. The prisoner is my father. I was present when the affray took place in March last. It was on Sunday evening. Mr. D. H. and Mrs. Sarah Spinney came over home—Father, mother and myself were sitting down to the table when they came in. We had pork, custards, cheese and tea for supper.—Mother said 'Good evening' to Mrs. S. Father asked Mr. S. if he would sit down and have some custards. S. said he could get enough of them at home. S. said to father, 'You have got the devil, Theodore Rowe, upon the yard again.' S. said if he had his way he (R.) wouldn't be on there two days. Father said, 'why, does it hurt you any?' S. said, 'yes he owes me a hundred dollars,' and said then father owed him $25; that if he didn't pay it he would have them both where he could look at them. Father said he lied, that he didn't owe him $25; that he had paid him $10 down to Jenkins & Goodrich's store, and $5 at his window, and $2 to his wife. Father then went to the back door and said, 'you take that back that I owe you $25 or you don't go out this way.' S. said, 'I'll be d—d if I do; I go out the same way I come in.' He came to the door and said, 'Let me go out;' and father said, 'I won't until you take that back.' S. then struck father one side and got the door more open. Father then grabbed him by the coat and S. turned round and grabbed father by the leg, and they struggled along by the table till they got into the corner. Father fell down. S. then kicked him and took one finger in his mouth and bit it. Mrs. S. said, 'you are killing Daniel.' She then took a herring box and struck father on the head with it; she then took a chair post or leg and struck him several times over the head. S. kept pounding and kicking him all the while. I got a hoe out in the shed and brought it in and struck Mr. S. with the handle several times on his back. Mrs. S. struck me on the head and said I was killing Daniel, and I then ran out into the street. When I come in S. was gone and father was standing still in the room. He was in the kitchen at that time. Mother asked him to wash himself. He didn't seem to know what he was about. He said he was after a towel; was going round the room. I got one and gave it to him. Father appeared to be wild at that time. I went out after I got the candle for him. I was afraid he would kill me he looked so wild; he never looked so before. Father has always been kind at home. My sister Georgiana is 7 years old. Father had just sit down to the table when Mr and Mrs. S came in. The gun had been loaded 3 or 4 months for wild geese.

Caroline Downing. I was 13 years old last April. I am sister of the last witness. When Mr. Spinney came in with his wife they soon began to talk about Theodore Rowe. S. said Rowe owed him a $100, and that father owed him $25. Father stood against the back door and told S. that he must take that back before he went out. S. said he be d—d if he would. He then tried to get out and struck father in attempting to get out. I then went up stairs.

Samuel Howe. I live in Portsmouth. I saw D. H. Spinney and wife in the evening of March 28th, near by home, on North street, 150 or 200 rods from the bridge. They came from the direction of Downing's house. S. mentioned the quarrel he had had with D.; that he had a fight with him; said he had stove him up all he knew how; I think this was his exact language. Said he (D.) would not be seen out for some time; that he had beat him up; that he had a very pretty face to show, and that his nose was broken.

I saw D. that night, past 12 o'clock, at the time of the arrest. Officer Foote, Charles Shannon and myself were there together. I should judge I had known D. for 20 years. He did not seem to know us, although he was acquainted with us. His voice was very much altered. He spoke in broken sentences. We tried to make him know us by persuading him we were his friends. We named over who were present. Then he would call our names, then go off on something else. He was not told where he was to be taken. He made no inquiries as to this, and no reference as to the death of Mrs. S. He tried the back door, to get in. It was fastened. He appeared angry because it was fastened. On the way to the jail he appeared peaceable. He was talking all the way, violently. We could not understand only a part. It was about his being beaten by S.; that if he should die he wanted to be taken to Newington to be buried with his parents or father. He said: 'In the name of God don't let the Spinneys have my body.' He frequently desired to get hold of Daniel Spinney. He made no remarks when he was left at the jail; he did't appear to realize that there was anything out of the way. His whole appearance that night was very strange—very different from what I had ever seen before. I have seen him under the influence of intoxicating liquor; he was then boyish, jovial, and would laugh. He was always a good, quiet neighbor. Never knew of any quarrel in his family. That night, at times, he appeared much pressed for breath. He would put his hands up to his head, and complained of a distressed feeling. I thought he appeared like a crazy man. His face was very much swollen. On D. H. Spinney's face I noticed a slight scar only. S. spoke of it and said it was done in the affray with D.—S. said he kicked Downing.

Cross-ex. While D. was in the out building he did not apear to recognize any of us. He asked us repeatedly who we were. Said he didn't know us, even when we gave him our names. On the plank-walk of the bridge he threw down a bill which he took out of his vest pocket. I have heard when he was under the influence of liquor he was quick and a little hasty. I never heard that D. had laid in wait for other persons than Spinney.

Elisha G. Ferguson. On the night of the affray I saw D. run up the road. He appeared to be very mad or angry. I next saw him on Wednesday in this room (Court-house.)—I should not have known him by his looks. His face was swollen very much—he did not look natural. I have known him for five years by him hired him for two or three years. I never knew of his being anything but a quiet, peaceable citizen. When he was under the influence of liquor he appeared rather silly. When we took him from the Jail to the Court-house on the Wednesday referred to, he was very sick; he could not get into the coach. Mr. Beck and I put him in. His head was injured; when I put my hand on it, it felt soft, jelly like, as though it had been pounded badly.

John Shannon. I reside at Gravelly Ridge (so called.) I have known D. for twenty years or more. I saw him a few minutes after he was arrested on the night of the affray.—Hardly a day has past for a long time in which I have not seen him. On the night of the arrest he appeared very different from what I have ever seen him. He would jump up, throw up his hands, wring them, and appeared very much excited. I heard but little of his conversation; what he said was disconnected. I have been with crazy persons at the almshouse in the field at work. I thought D. acted like a crazy person that night. After we got to the Jail I saw him spit clotted blood; his face looked very unnatural; his nose was swollen very much, and his upper lip also. I heard him say that three of his ribs were broken. I have lived within the last five years near by him—I never knew or heard anything against his being a peaceable man.

Joseph L. Gove. I should think I had been acquainted with D. for all of twenty years. I have lived right across the road from him for a number of years. I never saw or heard anything out of the way with D. during all the time. He was always a good neighbor.

Henry Foote. I have been acquainted with D. for about nine years. I was a police officer at the time of D.'s arrest. I never heard anything said about him but that he was a peaceable man. I arrested him. There was much trouble in arresting him. Mr. Rowe and I got in where he was. D. said he would go with me, but he would not go with another man on God's footstool.' I asked him for his gun, and he said 'no, he was going to carry 'old Bruno' with him.' He did not seem to be conscious of what he was about. I coaxed him to give the gun up and what other stuff he had. I should not have known the man if I had met him in the street, as well acquainted as I am with him. He acted different from what I ever saw before: he was wild and I sent for my hand-cuffs. He acted as crazy as any man I ever saw. I saw him the next morning in Jail: he did not appear conscious of what he had done. I saw him every two or three days for a fortnight or three weeks. He did not look natural until eight or ten days after he was in jail. His left eye was very much bloodshot.

Solomon Holmes I live in Portsmouth. I am a hair dresser. I was called Tuesday, the day of the burial of D. H. Spinney's wife, to shave and cut his (Spinney's) hair. I saw that on his face a piece of skin was off, as big as a fourpence. I was also called the same day to shave and cut D.'s hair. He was in a very bad condition. His head was inclined forward. There was a pain about his head, and when I put my hand up to it, he said—'For God's sake mind how you touch my head.' His head appeared to be beaten up; his eyes were made smaller. The back of his head did not feel natural. I did not cut his hair at this time, it was too sore. His hair was very sticky and matted, I should think with blood. It was about a fortnight after this before I was able to cut his hair.

Cross-Ex.—I shaved him twice before I cut his hair.

Adjourned to 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON.

Dr. Nathaniel Lowe, practicing physician, of Dover, has practiced there since 1831. Has had a number of cases of patients with blows on the head.

Quest. by Mr. Hale.—Were a person thrown on the floor, and then beaten with several severe blows, would delirium be likely to ensue?—Yes.

Would it be more likely to ensue than not?—That would depend on the constitution of the patient. In some cases it would be.

Mr. Bell, Solicitor.—How would it be as to powers of perception?—They would be blunted. How as to memory?—Affected. How as to reasoning from cause to effect?—This would be obscured. These are the evidences of aberration of mind?—Yes. Then if these evidences were wanting, you would have no evidence of aberration?—No. What would be the physical effects of such blows as would produce aberration of mind?—Exhaustion and inflammation. How long would these effects last?—Sometimes only a few minutes; a vigorous, healthy man would not be so liable to these effects as the weaker or more nervous. What would be the effect of compression on the brain, as to the power of motion in the person whose brain was so compressed as to produce aberration?—He would not be able to move about much or well.

Quest. by Mr. Hale.—Would blows struck on a person when lying on the floor, be more likely to produce delirium than when standing? Yes, rather more.

Dr. Joseph H. Smith, 30 years a physician in Dover.

Delirium would be a Natural but not necessary consequence of blows on a person thrown on the floor. If prostrate the system is more liable to injury than if erect.

Quest. by Mr. Bell.—What would be the immediate result of compression of the brain? Loss of sensibility.

What would be the result of such violence as is said to be inflicted on the prisoner? It would be apt to produce violent action.

How would the memory be affected? It would not be so good. Reasoning powers? Not so good,—but the injury to both would be partial.

John Roberts.—Saw Spinney and wife on the fatal Sunday night. Said he had kicked Downing, had kicked him in the guts; could not remember whether anything was said about a box or not; cannot remember anything Mrs. S. said.

Richard Roberts—was in his own house, opposite to Downing's. Heard Daniel H. Spinney say he had beaten Downing pretty bad—had laid him up this time for a good good while. Holding up his foot, he said, "I have put the heel of this boot into his face a good many times"—he named the times, but I have forgotten.

John Lambert.—I left my house at half past 8 Sunday morning with Downing.—We went to Newington, and were together till half past 1. He was sober—think he drank liquor. He had a half-pint bottle. I guess there was half a great spoonful of the liquor left. Three persons had drank from it. Have known him nine years.

Question by Mr. Bell—What was your employment. Answer—We were looking at some pigs. Went to several places.

Witness, prisoner and the other Downing drank from the bottle. All the drinking was done about 9 in the morning.—Downing did not drink any other liquor that day, to witness's knowledge.

George Waldron—has known Downing several years; deems his character good; never heard of his having quarrels.

Solomon Seymour—have known Downing several years—and deem a quiet man.

Wm. G. Cole—live near Downing; he was a peaceable and quiet neighbor.

Here, by mutual agreement of counsel on both sides, the testimony was closed, and at four o'clock the court adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock on Friday morning, when the arguments of counsel will commence.

BUNYAN'S PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.

We are glad to learn that this celebrated painting, which has attracted so much notice, both on account of its artistic beauty and the elevating moral influence which it tends to exert, is to be exhibited in the Temple next Saturday, Oct. 23d, at 3 o'clock, for the children, who will be admitted for the low price of 10 cts. The evening exhibition commences at 7 1-2 o'clock; admittance 15 cts.

o20 SAMUEL S. GREEN

We notice arrangements are rapidly going forward to prepare the new Rooms for the Mercantile Library Association, over the store of Mr. James H. Head, in Exchange Buildings. The agent for this Block is always ready with enterprise, public spirit and liberality to second any effort at improvement of buildings under his control; and is making this one of the finest ranges of stores in the city, as it is one of the best located. Witness the selling of the old Rockingham Bank Building for the site of the Custom House, and the sale of the store for the new Rockingham Bank, and the lease for the Bank of New Hampshire; the improvements in the Chronicle Building, Harvey's and Head's stores, the eligible Sheafe estate on State street, &c. He is also on the committee for improving the Stone Church.—Who would'nt prefer such a monument as these, to a useless pile of stone?

We notice the beautiful ideal bust of Truth, designed and just completed by Mr. D. M. French, the sculptor, of this city, is at the bookstore of Mr. Shores for a few days—and who appreciate truth and beauty, should see it. The figure is feminine, of course; with the head turned slightly upward, and surrounded by a beautiful wreath. It is executed in fine white marble, and will repay close examination and study.

The bust of the late Samuel Badger, Esq., from the studio of the same gifted artist, has been placed in his monument, in the cemetery at Kittery Foreside.

We are glad to learn that this Truth was executed to the order of a gentleman of taste in a neighboring city; and that Mr. French is now engaged on a copy from life.

On Monday as Florence Mahoney was ascending a well belonging to Alpheus Prouty, Fishdale Village, Sturbridge, Mass., which he had been cleaning, the stones gave way and Mr. Mahoney was buried at the bottom, thirty feet from the surface of the ground. The neighbors rallied, and after working from 9 A. M until about 7 P. M., Mr. Mahoney was taken out alive, but with his head horribly mutilated. When they came within a few feet of him they could converse with him, and learned that the well was filling up with water, and that it was already running into his mouth. They spared no time in applying the pump, and soon lowered the water, and proceeded with their work in removing the earth. When relieved from his confinement he was insensible for some time. The physicians entertain hopes of his recovery.

THE TURF.—A match for $1000 took place at Washington Trotting Park, Providence, on Monday, between North Star and Telemachus. Both horses were in good condition, and the weather and the track could hardly have been better. The result will be gathered from the following summary:

Washington Trotting Park, Oct. 19.—Match for $1000; mile heats, best three in five, to harness:

A. Carpenter names s g Telemachus	1	2	3	4
D. Mason b. g. North Star	2	1	2	3

Time—2:29½, 2:41, 2:44, 2:44, 2:47.

Some three weeks since a son of Timothy Burke, residing at Phœnix, N. Y., was accidently drowned, and the child's mother took the matter so much to heart that she grieved herself to death. She was taken sick and gradually failed until Friday, when she joined her child in that "bourn whence no traveler returns."—Boston Ex.

This is a good example of a bad misquotation. A "bourn" is a boundary line, and a line is an imaginary thing having neither breadth nor thickness. The idea of a mother's meeting her child in a "bourn" is rather a contracted one.—Lowell News.

"JORDAN IS A HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL." Dennis Connors, who for several months has been the proprietor of a low groggery in Salem, Mass., seems to be reaping the full reward of his unlawful traffic. He has been twice convicted and sentenced for selling liquor, within a few months, and each time has served out his imprisonment in the House of Correction; his daughter, during her father's imprisonment, was fined and committed to the same institution for violation of the liquor law; and, on Saturday last, his wife was found guilty of the same offence, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and to be imprisoned 20 days, with which she also complied. Connors was, only a few days ago, sentenced to eight months' imprisonment in the House of Correction for assaulting a police officer.—Register.

Samuel Greene, a colored man, and a Methodist preacher, has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary in Maryland, for having in his possession a volume of Uncle Tom's Cabin. He has already been imprisoned a year. The case has been brought before the Methodist church, and it is to be hoped that a general effort will be made by the denomination to obtain his release. Such cruelty as this does more against slavery than all the efforts of abolitionists. An institution that requires such means to support it, excites the horror of every friend of humanity.—Providence Jour.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearl, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, burnt and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, people will look more than half twice. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1856.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the valuable restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

DR. J. C. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who conclude to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color; but it has, as well as my personal friends, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative, my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It is a delightful article of all dandyfied and sopheistical thing, so common an ong persons who perspire freely.

PROF. J. WOOD: About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying their place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the distress, and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One glass of wine taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

One wine glass taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One medicine a day, after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One and two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

Only one dose cures Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one dose cures Dysentery, and a preventive of Dysentery.

Only one dose cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the secretory organs. We take pleasure in recommending this valuable medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Make a mouth full of mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of those secret diseases, which all shun, yet suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that a set of medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by quacks, came under his care, his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at a time when every thing depends upon the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They act in a specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. Ladies, be cautious, lest, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

If you want the genuine, be sure that the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

The Dr. has been for the past year out of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERY.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything has been done with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to order tickets in these lotteries, as all the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket, which are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to unravel the key. Prizes range from $40 to $10,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

The list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of the tried Roofs attendant upon Tin, Metal, Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, it would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, durability and cheapness, and in all the respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This roofing is cheaply applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we now offer to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Kittery, July 6th, 1858.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK ALLOPATHIC INFIRMARY.

My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a course of lectures on the Nature and Treatment of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added to a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the benefit of both general and local treatment—of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy on my part from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropy and the above cause I have been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Upon therefore this fair arrangement I will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can see the consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, including Vapor Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment will be three dollars in advance, $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor and Medical Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

FUNERAL OF PROF. CLEVELAND.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE,
Brunswick, Me., Oct. 19.

Dear Chronicle:—The last sad office of friendship and respect has been performed, and the mortal remains of Professor PARKER CLEAVELAND have been committed to the grave. The people of the village and the students have nobly vied with each other in their efforts to honor the dead. The college buildings heavily draped in mourning, the church shrouded with the same sombre materials, the closed stores with their funeral hangings, have silently testified to the grief which all hearts experienced. The faculty and students of the college, the fire department of the village,—in the foundation of which Prof. C. had taken a prominent part, and of which he for twenty years was the head,—many of the alumni and citizens have attended in procession the body to the grave.

Entering the college chapel, we beheld on all sides the sad emblems of mourning. Over the desk appeared the words, "Quando ullum inveniet parem?" Everything seemed fitted to produce in the mind a full realization of our irreparable loss. But glancing back, over the door we had entered, we observed, "Forma mentis æterna," with the anchor, the emblem of hope, above. There was some consolation in the thoughts excited by this.

The services at the church were conducted by President Woods, Prof. Egbert C. Smyth, the college pastor, and the Rev. Dr. Adams. From the discourse by the President, we gleaned the following prominent facts in Prof. Cleaveland's long and useful career. He was born at Byfield, Mass., January 15, 1780; fitted for college at the Byfield Academy, the oldest institution of the kind in New England; entered Harvard College, and graduated high in his class in 1799. For one or two years subsequently he was engaged in teaching at Haverhill, Mass., and York, Me., and then commenced the study of the law. At the urgent request of his father, he abandoned this, and entered upon the study of theology. While thus engaged in 1803, he was elected to, and accepted the office of tutor in Harvard College. There he remained until 1805, when he was installed professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Bowdoin College. In 1828, it was deemed expedient to separate these departments, and he then assumed the new professorship of Chemistry, Mineralogy and Natural Philosophy. This office he held until the day of his death. When he first entered upon his duties here, the college had been in operation but three years, and had not yet had its first commencement. He has thus instructed every student who has ever graduated at Bowdoin.

In 1816 his great work on Mineralogy was first published, and at once rendered his name familiar in all the schools of science throughout the world. It rapidly passed through two editions, and loud have been the calls since then for a third. The Edinburgh Review did not hesitate to pronounce it the finest work of the kind in the English language. From at least sixteen scientific societies, both in this country and in Europe, he received public testimonials of respect and honor, and his list of correspondents includes the names of nearly all the prominent men of science on the two continents. Upon this third edition he has been engaged, so far as his other duties would permit, during the latter years of his life, and President Woods "stated, upon authority, that it was nearly finished, and would soon be given to the public, as nearly as possible in the state in which he left it."

Professorships were soon after offered him in Harvard, Dartmouth, William & Mary's College in Va., Princeton, and the University of Pennsylvania, with salaries ranging from $1700 to $3000, but all were declined, as was also the presidency of Bowdoin, which was tendered him.

The prominent trait in his character was fidelity in discharging the duties of his office. As an instructor, he probably had few equals and no superior in the country. Punctual to the moment in whatever he by before him, he exacted the same promptitude from those with whom he was associated. Prof. Packard recently stated that during the thirty nine years he had been connected with him in an official capacity, he had never known him to be absent from a meeting of the College Faculty. Every morning, until the present term, he has regularly met his class at six o'clock in the summer, and as early as the light would permit in the winter.

At last it was necessary for him to change the hour of recitation to 9 o'clk. At this time it was held until the day before his death, when he found it impossible to attend at all. He regularly walked to his laboratory, even when he was compelled to stop and rest several times in proceeding the short distance from his home to the college; and when he could not do that, he rode. At last it became impossible for him to complete the hour of recitation, and then he met with his class as usual, and conducted the recitation as far as he could.

The afternoon previous to his death the President met him riding out, "to recruit a little," as he said, "that he might attend the recitation the next morning."—The President entreated him to abandon he attempt, but he replied, "not a student has been absent from recitation since I have been sick, and I will not be so long as I can prevent it." The next morning, about an hour before the time for recitation, which he expected to be able to attend, he stated that "he felt more comfortable than he had for several days," And yet a few moments afterwards he was found by his son in his study, speechless, and quickly breathed his last. A great and good man has fallen; to whom can we look to supply his place? T.

LUXURY OF A SUSPENDED CLERGYMAN.—Bishop Onderdonk of New York, although "suspended from official duties on account of certain improprieties," continues to receive a yearly salary of $2500, and the Episcopal Convention of the diocese recently directed that an annual allowance, not to exceed $1000, should be granted to the Bishop "for the rent of a house suitable and convenient for his occupancy."

☞ The Amherst, N. H., Cabinet says: The potato crop is large, although many have suffered from rot. The Chenangoes suffer most, the long reds next. The Dover or Riley potato, (erroneously called by many the Davis Seedling) has done well, and is now considered the best potato raised by our farmers. As a table potato it is not excelled by any.

☞ Sarah Stevens, from Manchester, N. H., had charge of Aikon's knitting machines at the late fair in the New York Crystal Palace, and distinguished herself during the conflagration in carrying out and saving three of these machines, one of which weighs over 200 pounds. She went back three times, and the last time barely escaped the building before the dome fell in.

☞ Rev. Dr. Withington has announced his intention of retiring from the active duties as pastor of the First Church and Congregation of Newbury, and on Sunday, Oct. 31st, he will preach his last sermon to that people as their pastor.—That day will complete the forty-second year of his ministry, having been ordained October 31st, 1816.

☞ The New York courts have decided that a man may be sued for a breach of promise of marriage, made when he had a wife. The decision was made in the case of John A. Saal, who, although a married man, agreed to marry Bertha Blattmacher, to whom he represented himself as unmarried. Upon ascertaining the contrary, she sued him for breach of promise, and gained her suit.

THE THURSDAY LECTURE in Boston, was preached Oct. 21st, by Rev. Dr. Blagden, Senior Pastor of the Old South Church. It is the intention of the Pastor of the First Church (Unitarian) to open the pulpit for the Thursday Lecture to Christian preachers of various denominations. In this intention he is heartily seconded by the proprietors of the house of worship, and it is earnestly hoped that this movement may do something to promote a better understanding amongst the disciples of the same Master.—Transcript.

This is a world of compensations. The rich pay for their silverware by worrying about house-breakers; while the poor find an offset for hardships, in glorious sleeps and a freedom from dyspepsia.

HE "PUTS IT TO THEM."—The Rev. C. F. Barnard is down on the city government of Boston. He thinks they are a hard set. At a meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Pauperism he made a speech, in which he characterized the excursions of the city government to Deer Island as "a disgrace to the city." He said:

The city steamer Henry Morrison had a bar on board well supplied with liquors, and many of the City Government who went in her merely to have "a good drunk." He had seen those things and he knew them to be truth. He had seen orthodox ministers on those excursions, their eyes sparkling, and they not able to stand up straight. "As to the Aldermen," said he, "you couldn't stick a pin into one of them without brandy spirting forth." He thought it was "high time somebody spoke out in meeting somewhere, and made these things known." He characterized the city government as a rum-soaking, cigar smoking set," and as the "most corrupt government Boston had ever had." He hoped it would "go to the dogs." (Meaning, we suppose, "the devil.") And on being called to order, said, "it was the Society to let off steam in," and he was bound to "blow as long as there was a pipe in him."

A Pennsylvania correspondent of the New York Herald says that "when Mr. Buchanan beholds the ingratitude of old friends in Pennsylvania the iron enters his heart." This is just what his old friends want; Pennsylvania iron has had no place in his heart hitherto, and they think it quite time that it should.—Dem.

SCULPTURE.—Messrs. Editors:—In Friday's Chronicle, in your notice of the "Bust of Truth," by Mr. D. M. French, now on exhibition at the store of Mr. Shores, there is a slight error.

When Mr. French first began his clay model of Truth, he had no particular purchaser in view; but when nearly completed, it was seen by Mrs. Sheafe Coffin of this city, who immediately ordered it to be cut in marble. This is the bust now in Mr. Shores' store.

Mr. French is now engaged in cutting another copy of "Truth," and also modeling in clay a bust of one of our most eminent and best known citizens, which will be cut in marble in the course of the autumn and early winter. Those who have been favored with a sight of this model, now fast approaching completion, pronounce it a most perfect specimen of art.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and took one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

FRIDAY, Oct. 22.

The Court came in at half past 9, and the Court House was immediately filled; the jury seats on the West side being occupied by women.

Hon. John P. Hale, counsel for the prisoner, commenced his argument for the defence, by stating that the prisoner stands charged with the highest crime known to our laws, to be visited with its heaviest penalty, if found guilty, and by saying that he would not appeal to sympathy in the jury, but to law and justice.

He alluded to the talent and ability of the prosecuting officer, and would ask the jury not to be carried away by his eloquence, by his character, and great reputation—hereditary from his worthy father, and well sustained by the son.

In his hands there would be nothing neglected, which could properly fasten the charge of guilt on the prisoner. Our defence is known to be, that the prisoner was not in the possession of his rational powers at the time of the act.

I know the prejudice against this ground of defence, in the minds of juries. But I believe that this defence has never been wrongfully allowed in the Courts of this State. But it is a sad, lamentable fact, that the plea of Insanity in our courts, when true and real, has been in vain,—and Abraham Prescott, an insane man, was hung, against the voice of counsel, judges and law,—but by the jury yielding to popular clamor.

I hope the bloody accident will not be repeated in this State. Steel your hearts and consciences against the fear that public opinion and the press will bear too hard upon you, if you refuse to convict.

The counsel then introduced the idea of sympathy for the prisoner, under his sufferings of mind since he came to himself; and laid down the following principles for the jury.

1. Every person is presumed to be innocent till he is proved to be guilty, beyond a reasonable doubt,—not a possible doubt, but one that would satisfy reasonable men.

He then read from Justices Richardson and Parker, some of their ruling to this point, that the jury are bound to acquit a prisoner who commits an act under the influence of a disordered intellect. He also mentioned that insane homicides never have accomplices, and rarely or never flee or attempt to escape. It would be more just and more merciful to confine and take care of the insane man, than to put him to death. We presume that all men are sane, unless the contrary is shown;—and very ingeniously suggested that the testimony for the State raises the doubt whether the prisoner was sane when he committed the act,—and therefore his sanity must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

2. By the form of this accusation, you are made judges of all the facts, and the Judges on the Bench will fairly give you the law,—but by your verdict you resolve the law and the fact.

The charge is wilful murder—and if the prisoner was sane, it was one of the most atrocious, horrible, unequalled. In New England, the land of liberty, on a Sabbath evening, when everything should be calm and holy, at the woman's own home, in sight of her husband. In all respects the horror of the crime finds no parallel on earth—only in hell.

For the purposes of justice in this trial, it is no matter who began the quarrel—no matter who was the most to blame—but it is most important to know how much injury and what injury was inflicted. If you believe Daniel H. Spinney, he was the meekest man since old Moses went to his rest—for he went beyond the Christian standard, requiring him to bear two blows, and stood and received five blows from the hand of Downing.

But in the next place, the counsel suggest that Daniel H. Spinney's story is contradicted by government witnesses:—that Daniel and Joseph Spinney's testimony agreed exactly in regard to Downing's expressions, in the very words. And that the three Spinneys, Daniel, Joseph and Samuel, all testified before you with ferocity. The counsel suggested that Daniel H. Spinney's testimony is contradicted in important particulars by Cole, the next government witness — and by Nelson Downing, jr., whose testimony agrees with that of Cole. He also suggested that Daniel H. Spinney's own out-door talk before the murder, proved the great injury he inflicted on the prisoner, and "stove him up."

The next question for the jury is, was the appearance of Downing, after the fight, as seen by witnesses, such as agrees with the effects we say were produced? The counsel here referred to the testimony of Cole, Gove, Laighton and others, as answering the question in the affirmative.

The next question is, would such treatment as this and such injuries, produce temporary insanity? We have had some some medical testimony, — but we rely chiefly on the sound judgment of the jury. The first appeal is to your common sense; what would be the natural consequence? First the effect was to make him helpless in body, unconscious in mind. Is there anything to contradict the medical testimony which supports the idea that he was temporarily insane? Nothing. We believe he was temporarily insane.

The counsel then made some use of the agreement to close the case without Dr. Bell's testimony. But though he had great confidence in Doctors as well as in lawyers, he had more in the common sense of the witnesses, to which he referred, for Downing's appearance, viz. Cole, Gove, and others.

The learned counsel here drew a glowing, beautiful picture of what Nelson Downing was, as a model husband, father, provider and citizen, and of what he became, a raving maniac, as pictured by that unlettered man Joseph Gove, when he said "it was not Downing." The counsel submitted to the jury, the question, whether they could have any reasonable doubt of the prisoner's insanity, at the time when the act was committed.

He next called the attention of the jury, to the conduct of the prisoner, after the fight, and before the homicide, as proving insanity,—in going out from his own house into a compact street, proclaiming the purpose to kill a man, in the most offensive terms,—and after the act, going to Gove's to defend himself—and then to an outhouse near his own house, insanely supposing that there he could defend himself.

The counsel anticipated the probable remark of the attorney general, that some parts of Downing's conduct evinced contrivance, comparison, reason,—but we all know that insane people are often wonderfully cunning and sagacious.

The counsel put in the testimony of Downing's good character, for the purpose of showing how unlikely he would be to commit such an act in his right mind:—and made great use of the fact that the counsel for the State, never negligent, did not urge anything to the contrary.

He also dwelt on Dr. Laighton's testimony, that when Downing was sick with inflammation of the bowels, he was partially insane—and wished the jury to infer that the same effect was produced by the stamping on the breast by a heavy man, &c. He put in the reckless conduct of Downing in the fatal act, as evidence that he was insane at the time.

He then made a moving appeal to the jury not to condemn to death one who has not sinned but suffered; if they should by accident or error, happen to condemn one who was not, by reason of mental aberration, capable of crime. He claimed the use of reasonable doubts,—for the acquittal,—and on which he relied. He closed with a prayer for divine aid to the jury, that they might avoid what would be worse than ten murders, viz. the conviction of one who by the visitation of God was rendered incapable of crime.

The attorney general, MR. SULLIVAN, in commencing his plea, paid a proper tribute to the talent of the prisoner's counsel; and then proceeded to lay before the jury, their duty, to consider the public welfare on one side, and the rights of the prisoner on the other.

He reviewed the plea which referred to the life of the prisoner, and his children's welfare, as just and proper,—but suggested that the prisoner had brought this dreadful condition on himself by his own act, and said:

"Your duty is unpleasant; mine is also unpleasant;" but while we should not be deaf to the voice of pity for the prisoner's children, who may be branded as the children of a murderer; we should hear the voice of justice, also, demanding the punishment of crime; for if disregarded, blood would run down our streets, shed by offenders emboldened by our failure to do our duty.

Mr. Sullivan then mentioned the question put to the jurors, on the subject of conscientious scruples on capital punishment;—but he deemed this a question not belonging to Court or Jury, but to the legislature, who had enacted:—

That murder in the first degree, shall be punished by death.

It had sometimes been said that community was bloodthirsty, in demanding the death of the murderer;—but the contrary is true: for

Whenever a person is arraigned for murder, the public sympathy is commonly in his favor. But let it not be supposed that our laws disregard the rights or the life of the criminal;—on the contrary, they give him the privilege of the grand jury, who, if they find no bill set him free; that they reject jurors, &c. &c.

Some definitions were given, of what constitutes reasonable doubts, viz. such doubts as would affect our minds in the common affairs of life. The counsel for the prisoner had expressed and insisted on the idea that Downing was guilty of murder in the first degree, or of no crime whatever.

To this Mr. Sullivan replied: but though I deem it of the first degree, yet you have the power given you by the law, to find a verdict of Murder in the first degree, or in the Second degree. And if you find the latter the penalty is the States prison for life, and not death. He then gave some clear definitions of murder, malice, &c., and read from the Statutes:—

"SECTION 1.—All murder committed by poison, starving, or other deliberate and premeditated killing, or committed in the perpetration or in the attempt at the perpetration of arson, rape robbery, or burglary, is murder in the first degree; and all murder not of the first degree is of the second degree. If the jury shall find any person guilty of murder, they shall also find by their verdict whether it is of the first or second degree.

SEC. 2. If any person shall plead guilty to an indictment for murder, the court having cognizance thereof shall determine the degree.

SEC. 3. The punishment of murder in the first degree shall be death, and the punishment of murder in the second degree shall be solitary imprisonment not exceeding three years, and confinement to hard labor for life.

It is a settled ruled that when the killing is proved—malice is inferred.—If we prove, in any form, the killing of the deceased by the prisoner, by design, our case is made out. The government must prove:

1. That she is dead.
2. That she was killed by the prisoner.
3. That he killed her by design.

Here, at half-past 12, the Court adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON.

Mr. Sullivan, State Attorney, enforced the duty of impartiality, and then recapitulated the testimony.

He noted the disagreement between the testimony of Daniel H. Spinney and the Downing children; and also their agreement in respect to Spinney's being kept in the house by Downing against his will.—Also noted the discrepancy between D. H. Spinney and Mr. Cole, as not material. And remembered that the prisoner's three witnesses, relied on to prove the contradiction of D. H. Spinney's conversation, on Sunday night, do not agree, but differ widely as to what Spinney said.

He noted the testimony of Samuel Spinney, material, uncontradicted, doubtless true. This, and that of Mrs. Jenness, and Drs. Curtis and Bennett completely sustain the indictment as to the killing and the manner of killing.

Next we consider who killed her. Of this there is no doubt,—but we must examine the intent. The prisoner's counsel had admitted that he killed Mrs. Spinney,—but had not admitted that he killed her when intending to kill Daniel. Here was recited the testimony of Joseph Spinney, Daniel H. Spinney, Elisha Ferguson, as showing a motive in Downing's mind. Next, Downing was where he could do this act.—He also had threatened to do it. He had the instrument to do it, viz. the gun.

Downing tells Gove he did it.—Five persons testify that only one gun was fired. He has confessed, and it cannot be denied. You have evidence that she died of violence; by gun shot wounds from the prisoner. Now was this a malicious thing? If so, you must find a verdict for the government.

Intending to destroy the life of Daniel, he destroyed the wife, the law ascribes malice to him. It was no self defence. No, he followed his victim a mile and a quarter.

Was he in the heat of blood: No: an hour and a quarter elapsed between the conflict and the discharge of the gun.

Did he show any reflection in the mean time? We answer that he did, in several instances. An attempt to commit a felony of any sort, on Daniel Spinney, resulting in the death is murder. The main, indeed the only defence, is insanity.

If you are satisfied that he was insane, you cannot find him guilty. We deem him not insane, but intoxicated; as testified by Dan'l H. Spinney; and by Mr. Cole that he was in the habit of drinking. Lambert alone, testifies that he was sober at a quarter before 1,—but there were 7 hours between, in which to become intoxicated.

If insane, he must be plainly proved so, to entitle him to a discharge.

The crime itself must not be evidence of insanity—if it were, then the more enormous the crime, the more certain would be the insanity.

The evidence was then recounted, as bearing directly on this point of insanity. Cole testifies that Downing looked like a crazy man, or looked wild: thought him intoxicated. Ferguson also testified that he looked angry, excited, &c. But he had just been in a fight, and been choked. Are these conclusive evidences of insanity?

Look carefully at the evidence and say whether he was an insane or a wicked man.

In the first place he had been drinking excessively; then had a fight; then followed the man he fought, for two miles; then fired a gun to kill him; then told of it. Might he not look wild or crazy, as Gove says

Then there is no testimony that Downing's face was so stove up, at his house, but, the contrary, all is silent on this point till we come to Gove.

He must have been injured by the firing, or at the time of the firing. He fired the gun an hour and a half before he came to Gove's,—no account of the intermediate time. Careful distinction should be made, between the acts before the discharge of the gun and those afterwards.

All these most strongly marked, occurred after the discharge of the gun.

Doctor Smith's testimony was recapitulated—endorsed, and applied. He said, where aberration of mind takes place, there is loss of memory, perception and reason. Now we shall show that Downing exhibited memory, perception and reason, in these transactions. The plea of irresistible impulse to crime, would excuse all crime, defeat all punishment, and destroy all safety. Downing's going up Dennett street to catch Spinney—and going back when he could not find him,—the getting his gun, —going through the various routes, all correctly,—all these exhibit capacity. So in letting down the hammer of the gun. So the promise "not to hurt any of you, if you let me alone." He did not want to hurt any one else, only Daniel Spinney.—His craft about killing the bird, as he told Samuel Spinney—and his conduct towards Kehoe, throwing up his gun, with his correct reasoning about Spinney's route,—all show his sanity.

His threats about the revolver, to Sam'l Spinney, to terrify him, shew sanity; and so also do his artifices, to deceive him,—about going into the wood, and return with him, &c. &c.

The argument was closed by remarking that while the prosecutor's duty was nearly done in the case, the jury had now their most important duty to perform. Punishment should follow crime with unerring certainty—but if otherwise, and juries are unfaithful, the most disastrous consequences will follow.

Adjourned to Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

MACGREGOR'S
VENTILATING
PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL
STOVES
—AND—
HOT-AIR FURNACES
Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,
HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest and prairies of Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, DEAD RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use "My Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.Beck.

Silk and Cotton Umbrellas,

HEAD'S, 14½ Market St.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What ! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prefers for all our race. Beauty, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bare of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, burnt and dry, or worse still, it sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used for a few times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative,* it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Dryeh a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative, and gave it to my wife, who immediately to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to my as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence I can recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were quite white, have become a beautiful dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KNEP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications lengthened my hair firmly. It began to fill up,grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time my hair is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOES.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion than the $2 size.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any such medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by return mail as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by others, have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of your health, which is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

LOTTERIES.

THE lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their management and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, and the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be opened to receive orders for tickets, and the orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $6; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes varying from $100 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Louisville Courier, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full, no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of that and other roofs now in use, viz: Felt, Gravels, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its Durability, Cheapness, Facility and Expeditiousness in all respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing is readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within a few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we now bring to your notice is superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Kittery, July 6th, 1858

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with the peculiar opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment, with positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of other remedies; but, and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it necessary that the patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private friends and patrons, I have decided that philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have resolved to devote one month of my time, to will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who enter the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the treatment, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. If its not, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon the utmost permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—d6 6m

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1858.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance, in Massachusetts, held their fifteenth annual session, in Boston, on Wednesday. The attendance at the opening was much larger than at any previous session. Sixty members were initiated to the Grand Division—by far the largest number ever admitted at one session.

The past year has been one of unusual prosperity to the order in this State. Forty-six new Divisions have been instituted, and only one charter surrendered.—Number of members admitted during the past year, 3783; lady visitors admitted, 3199.

There was a long discussion on the expediency of admitting ladies to full membership, but that proposition was lost.

In the evening there was a grand rally of the order at Tremont Temple, where the meeting was addressed by Judge Russell of Boston, Rev. Thomas Wilson of Stoughton, and Dr. Charles Jewett. Judge Russell said that in the city of Boston there are more than 3,000 vagrant, criminal, perishing children, and all this is caused by intemperance. If there was no pity for the drunkard, have at least some for his poor broken-hearted wife. To save fallen men and fallen women was a duty devolving upon them, and it was good to have such meetings as these to create an impression on the mind of the drunkard. Bring the drunkard into the division-room, warm up the breaking heart of his wife, and make his children glad by returning to them the natural love of their father—that was their duty.

Rev. Thomas Wilson, Grand Chaplain of the Order, alluded to the heavy taxation of Massachusetts, a large proportion of which was caused by intemperance. He and Dr. Jewett spoke with much force and eloquence. All the proceedings indicate the most hopeful condition of the order.

CONVICTION FOR MURDER.—The trial of John A. Holmes, late master of ship Theresa, for the murder of George Chadwick, seaman, which has occupied the U. S. Circuit Court, in Portland, Me., for several days, was concluded on Friday, the jury rendering a verdict of guilty.

The unavailing defence was insanity; the penalty is death. The captain was a large man, harsh, brutal, drinking, reckless. He had been tried before, for beating sailors, and it cost him $1500. He beat his last victim to death, literally.—He was one of the violent men who obtain command of our merchant vessels, and perpetrate foul outrages and murder.

It is rather a pity that he does not come under the laws of Maine, where they would make him work on stone all his life time, treat him well, and make mind his taskmaster.

His counsel offer a bill of exceptions.

OUTRAGE.—An outrage of a high-handed character took place at the Grammar School House at West Roxbury, (Jamaica Plains,) on Thursday. It appears that a lad named Byron was punished by Miss Drake, a teacher of the school, for truancy, and finally expelled. This action was approved by the School Committee. The father and mother of the lad went to the school room on Thursday, and Mr. Byron held the door while his wife committed certain outrages against Miss Drake, the school mistress. The scholars being frightened by these proceedings, one of them managed to escape and give the alarm.—Mr. and Mrs. Byron will be arraigned on a criminal charge.

☞ The Augsburg Gazette contains a letter from Zara, (Dalmatia,) dated the 9th, in which we read:

"The electric telegraph here has been the cause of an affecting disaster. During a violent storm yesterday, two of the telegraph posts were thrown down, but without breaking the wire. When the storm was nearly over, an official of the telegraph office and some artillerymen set about replacing the posts. Instantly, three individuals who touched the wire received terrible electric shocks; two were killed on the spot, and the third received serious injury on the head and the upper parts of his body."

SORROWFUL.—A woman, formerly of Newark, N. J., but who, for the past year, had been living in Chicago, a few days since started with a sick child in her arms to return to Newark. When near Cleveland, Ohio, the child died in her arms. The mother, disconsolate and far from friends, with scarcely money enough to reach home; rather than leave her babe among strangers, continued on her journey, and reached Newark, having carried the dead infant in her arms the entire distance.

NEW ALARM.—The Washington Union is alarmed for the safety of its party, because, it says: "The most noticeable feature of the elections so far, is that a large class of naturalized citizens have gone over with the American Republicans." The Newburyport Herald says:

We have noticed the same fact in party operations this way. In the excited caucuses in Newburyport there has been quite an infusion of the foreign element, and not unfrequently we have heard those "sweet accents" that Gen. Scott loved in 1852. It should be a cause of gladness with the opposition, that the foreigners as well as the native born, are ready to condemn political injustice and wrong.

☞ "Many of our people," says the Lowell News, "are in favor of the sale of eggs by weight. We saw an experiment made this forenoon by one of our grocers, who had just received a fresh lot, that converted us. He first selected a dozen of the large sized and placed them in one scale, and then put twenty-one of the smaller sized in the opposite to balance them. The customer chose the dozen, paying the price that was asked for the twenty-one."

☞ The New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says:

The Hon. J. Glancy Jones has accepted the Ministry to Austria, and it is so announced in the Union. His friends here who thought he would resent it as an indignity are surprised. Mr. Buchanan knew his man.

A VERSATILE MAN.—One of our exchanges says that Rev. Walter Harriman, Esq., has at last settled down as a farmer in Warner. No man has followed a greater variety of occupations. Within eight years he has been a preacher, merchant, lawyer, office holder at Concord, loafer, Western land speculator, peddler, boot black at Washington, and has now sought the honorable position of farmer. Let him stick to it.—Manchester American.

☞ The frigate Sabine, flag ship of the Paraguay squadron, sailed sailed from New York last Sunday. The keel of this ship was laid thirty years ago, yet this is her first voyage.

☞ The government of Russia rears and educates all the foundling children in that empire, whether of destitute parentage or otherwise. It receives about $30,000 annually, and the cost to government is about $5,000,000.

☞ It is not expected that the recent attempt at resuscitating the Cork Muster at Deering, will do much towards reviving the military spirit in New Hampshire.—Better let the defunct "institution" sleep out its sleep of death.

A GOOD MOVE.—The Nashua traders have made an arrangement to close at dark on Tuesday evening; and on every other night, except Saturday, at eight o'clock. A similar arrangement is desirable everywhere.

☞ The trotting stallions Ethan Allen and George M. Patchen, will go against each other, Thursday, 28th inst., Union Course, L. I., mile heats, in harness, for $1000 a side.

If the people were designed to be driven about and ridden by a few demagogues who assume to act for them, and to tell them how to think, how to act and how to vote, why were they not born with saddles upon their backs and with bits in their mouths?—Bath Times.

It is strange that the experience of so many ages should not make us judge more solidly of the present and of the future, so as to take proper measures in the one for the other. We dont upon this world as if it were never to have an end, and we neglect the next, as if it were never to have a beginning.—Fenelon.

A BIG TREE.—A friend of ours who has been on a visit at the eastern part of this state, brought home the measurement of an elm tree, which stands on the farm of Mr. Samuel Fabyan, in Newington, which is twenty-two feet in circumference, two feet above the ground. Will the 'Autocrat of the Breakfast Table' notice this when next he "talks about trees."—Nashua Telegraph.

Boswell, the biographer and worshipper of Dr. Johnson, observing to the latter that there was no instance of a beggar dying for want in the streets of Scotland,—"I believe, sir, you are very right," says Johnson; "but this does not arise from the want of beggars, but the impossibility of starving a Scotchman."

The Nashua Gazette says Hon. G. W. Morrison will not be candidate for nomination at the approaching Congressional Convention. This leaves the field to John H. George and Walter Harriman, with the probabilities in favor of the former.—Manchester American.

VICE PRESIDENT BRECKINRIDGE'S LETTER IN FAVOR OF DOUGLAS.—Springfield, Oct. 22.—The Democratic Central Committee of Illinois, received this morning a letter from Vice President Breckinridge, urging the re-election of Mr. Douglass to the U. S. Senate. The letter will appear in the State Register to-morrow.

Vice President Breckinridge writes to Hon. John Moore, Chairman of the Illinois Democratic State Committee, in reply to an invitation to visit Illinois, and address the people, that the information of the Committee that he desired to do so, is incorrect, but that he will not decline to answer their courteous letter.—He says that he cannot endorse the course of Mr. Douglas in the late session of Congress upon the Kansas question, but that the question being practically settled, and Mr. Douglas being the leader of the Democracy of Illinois, in the present fight against black republicanism, he sympathises with him, desires his success, and trusts that the Democracy of that State, that has never given a sectional vote, will not be found now laggard in duty to the Constitution and the Union.

W. Leroy, the administration candidate for Congress in the 3d district, made a speech at Bloomington last night, withdrawing his name as a candidate, and advising his friends to support the regular Democratic nominees for Congress, State officers and Representatives, who will vote for Douglas for U. S. Senator.

THE KANSAS GOLD MINES, &c.—St. Louis, Oct. 22.—We have Leavenworth dates of the 20th inst. A portion of the Lawrence company had returned from the South Platte mines, bringing news to Sept. 20. Their accounts fully authenticate the existence of gold all along the South Platte, having prospected everywhere with fair success. Most of the miners were seeking winter quarters at Bent's and St. Vrain's forts. The returned party designed wintering at Lawrence, will return to the mines in the spring with a large outfit. Numbers continued to leave here, with the intention of wintering along the road. Major Sibly arrived yesterday from Utah, accompanied by Lieut. Bell, who was lost from his detachment in Cheyenne Country. Lieut. Cunningham, with a detachment of Infantry, left yesterday for the Pawnee nation, to superintend the payment of the annuities to that tribe."

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, Oct. 24.—The Salt Lake mail, with dates of Sept. 25, reached St. Joseph on the 16th. Sixty trains had passed Fort Bridger up to the 22d ult.; 20 were west on the Sweetwater and 8 more north of the crossing of the Platte. Snow was encountered on the east of Fort Laramie. Two companies of cavalry, returning via Pike's Peak, were passed on the Big Blue. Judge Eckle was met on the Big Sandy. Col. Wilson was at O'Fallon's Bluff, progressing finely. The Indians were numerous but peaceable. It was thought that several trains would be overtaken by snow in the mountains, and much suffering was anticipated. Business was very brisk at Salt Lake, trains were constantly arriving from California with goods and provisions.—There was good feeling between Mormons and Gentiles. The former speak in high terms of Gov. Cummings. Gen. Johnston's command consists of 7000 to 8000 men, including troops and employees, all of whom were consolidated in one grand encampment, and would remain together during the winter. There was also 4000 at Fort Bridger, under Col. Cambrey. Col. Morrison of the 7th infantry, had arrived at Camp Floyd.

RAILROAD LAWSUIT.—Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—U. S. Circuit Court, Judge McLean presiding. In the case of Sturges vs. Stetson, and Fosdick vs. Sturges. Judge Leavitt delivered an opinion that the Directors of the Hillsborough and Cincinnati Railway had no power, under its charter, to issue stock at a price below the par value; that a stockholder reselling stock thus issued, though the sale is valid, is yet liable to the purchaser for any depreciation in the stock such company might suffer in consequce of such fraudulent issue by the Directors.

DANVILLE, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Twiggs was executed here to-day for the murder of her husband. Clark her paramour, was executed some time since. She protested her innocence on the scaffold, and asserted her readiness to die, saying the only regrets she had were that she left behind her two orphan children.

There is nothing more conducive to health than frequent bathing. Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times a day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the purest and most ultra cosmetic in the world, it pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful beings in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.
PORTSMOUTH.

Trial of Nelson Nutter Downing
FOR THE

Murder of Mrs. Sarah Ann Spinney.

SATURDAY, Oct. 23.

Judge PERLEY charged the Jury that no objection had been made to the form of the indictment; that it is not denied that the defendant killed the deceased; nevertheless it is needful that the government prove this.

He then recapitulated the evidence on this point briefly.

Under this indictment, the defendant may be convicted of murder in the first degree, of murder in the second degree, of manslaughter, or he may be acquitted by reason of insanity.

To constitute murder there must be malice express or implied. But it is not necessary that there should be an intent to kill, to constitute murder; for if, in the attempt to do any other great wrong, death ensue, then it is murder. Intent to kill need not be harbored for a long time, to constitute malice.

Portions of the statute were then read; the degrees of murder defined; and both of them applied to the facts in this case.

It does not follow, that because the prisoner was intoxicated, or in a violent passion, he could not deliberate;—intoxication cannot excuse the crime, yet it might so disturb the mind, as to change the degree of it.

Should you find that the defendant is not guilty in the first degree, you are to consider whether the evidence makes it murder in the second degree, or manslaughter.

The question is not whether the man was actually cool, in the interval, but whether he had time to cool. But if he were intoxicated, this circumstance must not reduce his crime from murder in the second degree to manslaughter.

If the act were done in consequence of an injury by Daniel Spinney, without any mistake of person, then it is not the act of an insane person. The law does not allow any amount of injury to justify deliberate homicide.

The ground of defence is that the defendant was insane at the time of the killing. If this defence can be clearly made out, he must be acquitted. If the defendant constantly gave the injuries he had received as the reason for his intended killing, it must not be received as evidence of insanity, but of violent passion. But if he manifested a confusion of ideas, a wavering of purpose, and an inconsistency of action, on these subjects, that would be such evidence.

The testimony was then carefully reviewed and compared, and its bearings examined on the different points of the case. This was thoroughly done, with great judgment and apparent impartiality. It is not needful to repeat the statements recapitulated, as they have been fully stated in the report of the testimony.

In regard to the plea of insanity, the jury are to consider whether, in the prisoner's pursuit of his victim, with his gun, and his conversation, the various contrivances,—whether all these things indicate sanity or insanity. The court cannot instruct you on these facts—you must consider them, and on them found your judgment.

Weight must be given to the opinion of Dr. Laighton, who examined the prisoner; but medical opinions must not have such weight as to overpower your own judgment. And you are to consider how the injuries received and the resentment following are to modify the crime which they cannot excuse.

The prisoner should have the benefit of all reasonable doubts, as to insanity, as well as to all other points. But you must not be led away by too nice or fanciful distinctions on which possible doubts might be raised.

The charge was closed by an injunction to regard every right of the prisoner, and not to disregard justice, or the safety and well-being of the community.

The jury went out at half past 10, and the court took a recess till 12 o'clock.

The Court came in at 12.

Judge Perley said:—

It is proposed to adjourn the Court to 10 o'clock on Monday, for the purpose of disposing of the Docket. No jurors are summoned in.

Just before 1, the Court adjourned to 2 o'clock, P. M. Came in according to adjournment, and a little before 3, the jury came in with a verdict of Guilty of Manslaughter. The Court then sentenced Downing to one year's imprisonment at hard labor in the State Prison.

At 3 o'clock the Court adjourned to Monday.

THE DOWNING TRIAL.

We are certainly glad that this trial, which has kept a large portion of our citizens in an unhealthy state of excitement for the last week, was brought to a close on Saturday. Our readers have had the facts in the case fully and faithfully laid before them by our reporter. A correspondent thus comments on the bringing in of the verdict, Saturday:

In the afternoon, the Court came in at two o'clock, and the room was immediately densely crowded with spectators. All was silent, speechless, until half past two o'clock, when the officer in attendance upon the jury informed the Honorable Court that a verdict had been agreed upon. The Jury then came in with grave and sad countenance. The clerk then said, "Mr. Foreman, have you agreed upon a verdict? He answered, "We have." "Who shall speak for you?" inquires the clerk "The Foreman," says one of the jurors. The clerk then asks, "What say you, Mr. Foreman, is the prisoner at the bar, Nelson N. Downing, guilty or not guilty?" He replies, "Guilty of manslaughter, and we recommend him to the mercy of the Court."

The prisoner received the announcement with features unmoved, and only a slight flush upon his countenance marked the severe struggle within.

Upon motion for sentence by Attorney General Sullivan, Hon. John P. Hale, in behalf of the prisoner, referred the Court to the Statute in relation to the penalty which might be imposed, and hoped the Court would take into consideration the fact that the prisoner had a wife and five small children dependant upon him for support, and that a severe punishment upon the prisoner would fall heavily upon them. He said that he was happy the Legislature had made a wise provision for a case of this character, and he thought the Court would be happy they had the prerogative to exercise that highest attribute—mercy—which likens them to the Infinite Judge of us all.

After consulting a few moments, the Court, having taken into consideration the recommendation of the jury, and other facts, passed sentence, which was read by the Clerk, as follows:

"Nelson N. Downing, the Court order that you be confined to hard labor in the State Prison for one year, and pay costs of prosecution."

Hereupon there was one general shout of "Good—good—hurrah—hurrah" burst forth from the pent-up fullness of the feelings of the dense crowd—and the deep solemnity which had pervaded the Court room during the trial, was now changed to an expression of pleasure and satisfaction.

Of the propriety of such a verdict we shall not now speak. We are informed by certain members of the jury that upon the first ballot, as to murder in the first degree, they were unanimous against it; for murder in the second degree they stood eight for it and four against it, and for manslaughter eleven for it and one against it; that this one juror was for an acquittal, but finally yielded when he discovered that he had been "a little too leaky" in certain respects: It is a singular fact that one or two members of the Bar had marked this same juror and, for reasons best known to themselves, entertained the belief that Downing would never be convicted. This juror, however, had not that arrogant persistency it seems that a certain juror had in another trial we have heard of, in which eleven jurors were for conviction and one for acquittal. When the Court inquired why they could not agree upon a verdict, this juror replied with much feeling and earnestness, "Your Honor, I have done everything in my power to get those eleven men to agree with me, but I find it impossible—they are the most obstinate men I ever met with."

CLOSE OF THE TRIAL.—It is a relief to come to the close of a capital trial, without the occurrence of a capital punishment, or the entire denial of justice or entire neglect of punishment. Yet there is one singular aspect in which the late trial here, must be viewed. Mr. Hale, the counsel for the prisoner, in his plea, took the ground that if he was sane, he was guilty of the most atrocious form of murder,—that his crime had no parallel on earth, but only in hell. Now the jury, by finding him guilty of manslaughter, decide that he was not insane, but sane,—and therefore, on Mr. Hale's hypothesis, guilty of willful murder of the highest degree. Yet Mr. Hale now asks for a light sentence—and the Court give him one year—when, for breaking into a cellar and stealing two saws, a man at this court has been sent up for three years and three days' solitary confinement! and another, for assault, with alleged intent to kill, for three years.

It is worthy of note, that Downing's sentence is the lightest in the discretion of the Court, which extends to life imprisonment for manslaughter; and one year is, we think, the shortest term for which a man can be sent to our State Prison for any offence.

☞ We understand that an Irishman, who had been employed for a few nights as a watchman at Swindell's Brewery, in this city, was found dead in one of the vats on Sunday morning, with his neck broken. His name was James Collins, and as he is said not to have been intoxicated, and a cat was found drowned in the vat with him—it is supposed he may have been playing with puss, and both fell in.

MACGREGOR'S
VENTILATING
PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL
STOVES
—AND—
HOT-AIR FURNACES
Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,
HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be Continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor CHALLENGES THE WORLD to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The Next Congress.

The recent reverses experienced by the Democrats in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, render the question as to the political complexion of the next Congress one of somewhat doubtful solution. In the present Congress we have a majority of 24 originally elected as Democrats, though in fact upon all questions of importance several Southern Know Nothings have voted with us. That majority is already lost, even if we reckon on our side Hickman, Schwartz, Montgomery, Holman and Davis, elected as anti-Lecompton Democrats. But according to our calculation, Democratic ascendency is not yet lost beyond recovery. Should we sustain no loss in New York and Illinois we are sure of the House. But we confess the prospects of retaining our present proportion of the delegations from those States is not quite so clear as it might be. The course pursued by the "National Democratic" party of Illinois, as they are pleased to style themselves, unless the whole movement proves as weak as it is mean, somewhat endangers the Congressional ticket in that State. These are the simple facts in relation to it; our readers can judge whether we are right in condemning the course of the "National Democracy," otherwise known as the Danite crew. At regularly called Congressional Conventions, entirely pursuant to party usages, the Democrats of the several Congressional Districts nominated their candidates for Congress, in many instances renominating the present Democratic Congressmen. From some of the Conventions a baker's dozen of delegates bolted, and set up separate tickets, nominating men whose only claims for support are that they rival the Black Republicans in damning Stephen A. Douglas. In 8 out of the 9 Districts in Illinois these bolters' tickets have been thus nominated, and are in the field. Now there is no man, in nor out of Illinois, so destitute of brains as to suppose that the running of these tickets will have any other effect than to draw off a fraction of the Democratic vote, and thus, in proportion to the extent of this third party vote, aiding the Black Republican candidates.

If such a thing were to be attempted in this State, whether it received the countenance of the Washington Union or any other "organ" or authority at the Federal City, we should not hesitate to denounce the men engaged in it as traitors to the party, and deserving the scorn and execration of every true Democrat, but as this matter relates to Illinois politics, and as it is not likely to be attempted in our own State, we quietly abstain from an expression of our opinion, and desire every Democrat to form an unbiassed judgment of the merits of the movement. We will, however, in conclusion, state our conviction, that should the disorganization result in the loss of the five members which we now have from that State, a Republican majority in the next House will be far more certain than our success in the next Presidential campaign.

OUR MISTAKE.—In common with a large portion of the Democratic press of this country, we find that we have been somewhat in error concerning the influence and capacity of the Washington Union, and the cabal who control that political nuisance. We believed the real character of that journal too well known, we believed its hostility to Democracy, and friendship for black republicanism were so apparent that no considerable injury could result to the Democratic party from its efforts. But the result of the election in Pennsylvania, where the treasonable doctrines and disorganizing course of the Union have been most servilely echoed by a larger portion of the Democratic press than in any other State, North or South, assures us of our error, and we hasten to set history right, to apologise to Wendell & Co., and acknowledge that the firm does possess a bigger capacity for mischief than we had supposed possible.

If the Union will only keep up the Lecompton war vigorously for a few weeks longer, there will, we think, be no doubt of the election of Cornelius Wendell to the office of Public Printer to the next House. Should the Blacks obtain possession of a working majority in that body, it would be an awful instance of their ingratitude not to reward the individual who has sacrificed so much and labored so hard for their good. But we still hope no such misfortune will befall the country. We still believe that the next House will be Democratic, the Washington Union and its satellites to the contrary notwithstanding.

We promised some comments upon the result of these elections, but perhaps they can be better dispensed with. The causes which have been chiefly instrumental in the defeats we have suffered are tolerably obvious. We trust they are not long-lived, that those who possess the power to prolong the present disgraceful domestic contest in our party, will open their eyes to this first result of their wicked and suicidal policy, and hereafter labor for the conciliation and harmony of the party. Let the distinction between "Lecompton" and "anti-Lecompton" Democrats, be no longer perpetuated. Let's have no more talk about "Lecompton swindles" on the one hand, and no more pot-valiant threats of "knifing Douglas" on the other. For if this test is to be perpetuated, nothing is more certain than that the Democracy of the North and West is destined for years to come to a succession of humiliating defeats. We trust it will be ignored hereafter; and if these reverses of our party are, as we believe they are, the necessary means employed by a wise Providence to correct errors and reform abuses which may exist within our organization, we humbly kiss the rod and submit to the discipline.

Riches are the baggage of virtue; they cannot be spared nor left behind, but they hinder the march. [Doubtful.]

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1858.

DEMOCRATIC ALLIM.—The Charleston "Mercury" has come to the conclusion that no Northern Democrats, not even the most steadfast, is fit to be trusted. At the late session, it says, "the Northern wing of the Democratic party divided in twain, and one half deserted the administration, deserted their brethren of the South, and went over to the black Republicans on the Kansas issue." This, certainly, was sufficiently disheartening. But it was not the worst. Hear what the Mercury has next to say:

The other half—being a more fraction of the North represented by some 24 or 30 members in the House of Representatives, and a half a dozen in the Senate—were supposed to be sound. They were bepraised in the South as the gold purified—martyrs ready for the stake—angels in their holiness, dauntlessness and purity, clothed in the white garments of the Democratic faith. They go back to the people armed with truth, the whole power of the administration, and the great issues of the Union to support them. Alas! they did not even make a fight. They went on their knees on the first shot of abolition, and crawled and prayed for pardon and mercy, with abundant promises of future atonement. They forthwith, as one man, from Maine to Kansas, gave up the Kansas conference act, and pledged themselves to vote for its violation on the first motion of the abolitionists in Congress.

Now come a little to the North, and hear what the Newburyport Herald says about Douglas, Breckenridge, and so forth:

It will be seen by telegram that Breckenridge and other administration men have declared for Douglas' election. Perhaps it is too late for them now; but it is apparent that a Democratic candidate, taking the Douglas platform, would, in 1860, sweep the country. If Breckenridge is to be the candidate, he should not only have favored Douglas' election, but his principles. He may have taken the present step preparatory to farther explanations hereafter.

Again, the same paper says:

The democrats—of the Douglas school, we believe, and that is the school of all outside of government offices about this time—have established headquarters on State street, and run out the first flag of the season. Their prospect is good of carrying a large vote in November—probably as large as was ever cast for their ticket in this city.

AN EXTRAORDINARY BANK FAILURE.—The failure of the Western Bank of Glasgow has spread unparallelled ruin throughout that city. Thirteen hundred families held investments in the concern, which in many cases constituted the sole dependence of aged professional men, widows, and orphan daughters. The total paid up capital was equal to $7,500,000. At the stoppage it was soon seen that the whole of that property was swept away, and that those who had nothing else would be reduced to destitution. It was hoped, however, that this would be the worst. In a little further time it transpired that there would be a deficiency of $1,500,000, in addition to the loss of the whole capital. A call of $125 per share was accordingly enforced on all who had anything left. This was finally paid in June last. A lull then intervened, and it was supposed that if there should happen to be any further call, it would be light. Complete astonishment was therefore felt on the 7th inst., when it was announced that the deficiency, instead of being $1,500,000, had proved to be $7,000,000, and that upon each share a fresh payment of $500 would be required within twenty-four days.

A large proportion of the stockholders having been already ruined, the number of those able to respond is limited, and it is calculated that out of the thirteen hundred not more than one hundred and fifty will ultimately have any property left. Many of the sufferers have died, some have become insane, children have been thrown on the charity of friends and strangers, and there is scarcely a family in the district which is not to some extent afflicted. One eminent retired merchant who had invested the whole of a large fortune in the concern, has died of a broken heart. Yet the directors, or a majority of them, says the London correspondent of the New York Commercial, have adopted a bold and unscrupulous tone to the last. They relied upon their parliamentary influence, especially among the tories, and the government have screened them throughout. Among their chief apologists they have numbered Sir Archibald Alison, the author of the History of Europe.

☞ The salary of Mayor of Manchester, N. H., has been reduced from $1000 to $600 per year.

Two Chicago ladies went to a ball the other evening in a furniture wagon; no ordinary carriage could contain the dresses they wore.

THE FRENCH "EMIGRANT" ALIAS SLAVE TRADE.—The Bombay Times publishes lately a correspondence from Zanzibar, in which it is stated that several French ships have lately been surprised by English men-of-war engaged in the slave trade on the eastern coast of Africa. The Pays declares that this statement is false in all its details, and that it was but a simple affair of emigration. The government journal complains of the little good faith of the English journals, who persist in stigmatizing as the slave trade operations which are perfectly legal and practised with the greatest regard for the rights of all. All this is but a return upon the same discussions and the same differences which arose upon the famous affair of the Regina Cœli.

BOLD ROBBERY ON THE HIGHWAY.—The Concord Statesman says that on Monday evening last, at about 9 o'clock, Mr. John G. Hart, of Sanbornton Bridge, deputy sheriff for the counties of Merrimac and Belknap, was riding in an open wagon through a small piece of woodland in the town of Northfield, when he was hailed by a wayfarer, who wanted to ride. It was somewhat foggy, and quite dark, and as Mr. Hart stopped his horse, the man stepped up on the hub of the wheel, and, taking him by the collar, demanded his money. Mr. Hart aimed a blow at his assailant, but was drawn out of the wagon, beaten until he was senseless, and robbed of about $40. On recovering consciousness, he found his horse and wagon at a distance on the road. The robber had escaped, and no arrest has been made up to this time, though we are informed that suspicion points pretty strongly to an individual as the perpetrator of this Dick Turpin-like outrage.

☞ Athletic exercises ought to be encouraged in every way. The "Thundering (London) Times" could not then blame Americans for having narrow chests. The Manchester (Eng.) Guardian had a capital article on the subject the other day—it says: "More useful is the man who opens a gymnasium, than he who endows a college; more valuable he who lays out a playground, than he who builds a school."

VERDICT.—In Boston, the jury in the Supreme Court gave Mrs. Wallinger a verdict of $3000 against the Boston & Maine railway: she was thrown from the platform of a car at Andover and lost both feet. The verdict is little enough if she was entitled to recover anything.

☞ An American, a New Bedfordite, writes home from Germany that he recently attended a trotting match distance 6000 feet, time 4 : 30. He says there was also a running of horses, distance 1 mile (5280 feet), best time six minutes! The heavy Teutons are hardly up to Yankee celerity, but probably they enjoy the fun as well and their horses like it better.

☞ As Mr. S dney Stone of Dana, Mass., was riding in his cart, his oxen turned out of the road, and he struck them with a whip, when they started and ran, striking a tree, upsetting the cart and throwing Mr. Stone to the ground with such violence as to break his neck. He was about fifty years old.

☞ John A. Gurley, Rep., who has just been elected to Congress from a hitherto democratic district in Ohio, is a Universalist clergyman, who was formerly settled in Methuen, Mass., and has been for several years editor of the Star, a Universalist paper in Cincinnati. He is a man of some property, self-earned, and of handsome talents; he possesses a good knowledge of men and things.

"WHO HATH CONTENTIONS?"—The answer to this question has changed little during 3000 years. Almost or quite every day we hear of some deadly assault or quarrel originated in drunkenness. The last case is that of Edward Hynes, who is in jail at Worcester for the murder at Clinton on Saturday, of his wife, by blows and kicks and in a drunken frenzy.

☞ William E. Brown, a school teacher at Danielsonville, Ct., was trimming the school-room last Tuesday evening, when some young ruffians commenced throwing stones through the windows, and on his going out to order them off, a stone was thrown at him, splitting his jaw-bone. The ringleader in the outrage has been arrested.

☞ At St. Eustatius, (Dutch West Indies) the chief topic was the Slavery abolition question. It is expected there that during this fall the slaves in all the Dutch colonies will be emancipated. There was about 1100 hhds. of sugar made on the island this year. The health of the island was good.

CHARLES LAMB'S ADVICE.—"You are," said Lamb, "too apprehensive of your complaint. The best way in these cases is to keep yourself as ignorant as the world was before Galen, of the entire construction of the animal man; not to be conscious of a midriff; to hold kidneys to be an agreeable fiction; to account the circulation of the blood an idle whim of Harvey's; to acknowledge no mechanism not visible. For, once fix the seat of your disorder, and your fancies flux into it like bad humors. Above all, take exercise, and avoid tampering with the hard terms of art. Desks are not deadly. It is the mind, and not the limbs, that taints by long sitting. Think of the patience of the tailors; think how long the lord chancellor sits; think of the brooding hen."

A FORTUNE FOR AARON BURR'S DAUGHTER.—A natural daughter of Aaron Burr, and residuary legatee, comes curiously into possession of quite a fortune, in this way: Burr held a lease from Trinity Church of the Richmond Hill property, three or four hundred lots in New York, for sixty-six years. He re-leased the land for sixty-three years to Astor and others, and their lease expires in 1860. The lease for three years then belongs to Burr's daughter, and the claim is indisputable, and the value of the lease is very great. Already several of the lessees have compromised the claim for from $1500 to $2000.

The marriage contract between the Duke of Malakoff and the bride elect is said, by Paris letter-writers, to be a masterpiece of the calligraphic art. It is engrossed on vellum; the arms of His Grace and the future Duchess figure on the binding.—Marshal Cranrobert, it is said, is to follow the example of Marshal Pelissier, and get married. Not to the daughter of a hidalgo, but to the heiress of a very rich ironmaster in Champagne. "The province of Champagne," says a matter-of-fact correspondent, "besides its renowned wines, furnishes marriageable daughters of superior quality." So Marshal Cranrobert invests.

There are two classes of people who act just alike—rogues and detective officers on the watch. A New York detective, while at Toronto, Canada, lately, looking out for an escaped murderer, and under disguise to effect his capture, was amusingly arrested by the police, as a suspicious character, and faithfully held on to, until he produced documents corroborating his account that he was a detective.

Helene Bozarris, for some years one of the maids of honor of the Queen of Greece, and so conspicuous for her extraordinary beauty as to become one of the most attractive sights at Athens, is the daughter of the Suliot hero, Marco Bozzaris, whose name is so familiar through Halleck's noble poem. She is now married to a Frenchman, and is the mother of a blooming family.

A Mr. D. G. Raab of Ohio county, Indiana, presented a specimen of corn to the late State Fair of that State, with a statement that a field of twenty acres yielded one hundred and thirty six bushels to the acre. The smallest yield of any one acre was one hundred and two bushels, and one acre produced one hundred and sixty bushels. The field was on the Ohio River bottom.

The New York Court of Appeals have decided that Cancemi, the Italian who was convicted of murder, is entitled to a new trial, on the ground that the jury which convicted him comprised but eleven persons. Cancemi and his counsel consented that he should be tried by eleven men, but not liking the verdict, moved for a new trial.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—New Haven, Oct. 23.—The great Sewing Machine Patent case argued at the term of the U. S. Circuit Court at Hartford before Judges Nelson and Ingersoll, and then postponed for decision, has been decided in favor of the plaintiffs, fully sustaining the validity of the re-issue of the patent to Allen B. Wilson, and by him subsequently assigned to Porter and Wheeler.

☞ Mr. B. H. Penhallow, printer, of Lowell, has sent us a copy of a nicely printed pamphlet of 36 pages, bearing the following title; Introduction of the Power Loom, and Origin of Lowell.

☞ Rev. Theodore Parker, it is said, is seriously ill, and apprehensions are felt among his friends for his recovery.—His disease it is feared is consumption. His society will find it difficult to fill his place, to their general satisfaction.

BATHING.

There is nothing more conducive to health than frequent bathing. Some people, like the Turkish ladies, make it a part of their religion, and their Heaven is an elysium, abounding in delicious baths redolent with perfumes. If our ladies would imitate them in this a little more thoroughly we should have more beautiful, and far more healthy women.

A bath every day in which is poured a few drops of that elegant cosmetic, PERSIAN BALM, would give more rosy cheeks than all the rouge in the world. This beautiful preparation removes from the body all unpleasant odor, and imparts health and fragrance. Try it for the Bath.

Bad Cough, Raising Blood, Night Sweats Cured.

Mr. Artemus Rudder, of Niles, Michigan, writes:

For four months I have been troubled with a very bad cough. I got so bad lately that I have at times raised large quantities of blood, and some pus. This frightened me, for I thought I had the Consumption. Night after night I was bathed in sweat; so that I was, when I came under your treatment, little better than a "withered bud." I commenced the use of the Ready Relief, Renovating Resolvent, and Regulators, which I got from Dr. J. Lorimore, of this place. I bathed my chest and throat with Ready Relief, took the Resolvent three times per day internally, and from one to three Regulators every night. The first night I took the Relief and Resolvent, I slept in peace. In two weeks I was completely restored, have now a good appetite, and am growing quite fat.

Very truly, ARTEMUS RUDDER.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED. THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervisance of His British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Peckar, 21 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Pile, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the person in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a Parisian lady without it? Nor Sale Everywhere.

THE JURY AGAIN.

One of the jurors in the late capital trial here, complains that the final statement of our reporter and correspondent is not correct in some important particulars, and thereby does him injustice. To correct it, he gives us the following statement.

The ballot for murder in the second degree was 4 for conviction and 8 against it, exactly the reverse of the former statement.

On the first ballot, expressly stated to be informal or preparatory, as to manslaughter, there were 11 in favor of that decision, and one against. Thereupon the one in the negative gave his reasons, viz. that he believed the prisoner's mind so disturbed and deranged at the time of the act, that he was not accountable. Others of the jury remonstrated, and remarked that he stood alone. He replied that if they would take a formal vote, he would not be alone. They did so, and then the vote stood 8 for manslaughter, and 4 against.

After this vote, there was much consultation, and finally, the one juror who had uniformly dissented on the ground of insanity, consented to yield his convictions, and agree to the verdict of manslaughter, if the jury would accompany their verdict, with a recommendation of the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

On a ballot, 8 were in favor of this movement, and 4 against it. These 4 however, came in one by one till the verdict was reached and declared.

This statement of things as they were, effectually disposes of the charge of being leaky, and of all other charges against fairness or honesty in any juror on the case.

A New Trial.—The ebb and flow of public opinion present some curious phenomena to all those minds that have balance enough not to be carried away by it. We see some of its odd phases just now, in the communications that begin to come in upon us, reviewing trial, report, sentence and petition for pardon, in N. N. Downing's case.

The reader will attach proper weight, and no more, to the dicta of our venerable correspondent.

Messrs. Editors.—I, in common with a great many of our citizens, am dissatisfied with the last turn which Justice (!) has taken in our Court—the sentence in the Downing case. It bears no comparison, as you say, to the sentences for offences which sink into paltry insignificance beside the crime of which Downing was proved to be guilty. Justice is represented to be blind; her disciples had best cover their faces for shame.

One great means of influencing jurors in capital cases seems to have been overlooked, heretofore. I refer to the practice of allowing all those foolish females who from a morbid excitement are led to do so, to crowd around the prisoner, shedding tears over a criminal, who, if he were a decent man and free from the hands of law they would think disgraceful as an acquaintance. I will venture to say that not one out ten of those who made such a sickening exhibition of themselves (weeping for fear a manslayer should be punished) at our court house on Saturday last, had they seen Nelson Downing as your correspondent saw him a few weeks before he committed the awful crime for which he receives such a farcical sentence, would have deigned to speak to him. "It is better to be a great villain than a small one."

The sympathy, too, appears to me to have been misplaced. Mr. Spinney, it is true, was a man free at times in the use of his tongue, but, as far as we can learn, of abstemious habits and scrupulously honest; a man who, it is said, never spoke harshly to his wife however arrogant he might be to others, and filling a father's relation to his children. Frugal and industrious, he beautified and improved that portion of the city adjacent to his premises, and so far contributed to the public welfare. On the other hand Downing was known as "a good fellow," which resolved into plain English is—a man whose temper was smooth as long as nothing happened to ruffle it; one who was not niggardly with his earnings when his companions would take a social glass or smoke, but who lived at variance with his wife and whose children went poorly clad and illy-cared for while their parent was in receipt of high wages; and "public good" was no part of his creed.

If the sympathy be for Downing's family, they cannot experience the loss of that which they never had; while the state of Mrs. Spinney's young family is affecting in the extreme; one little boy having become deaf from the fright of that terrible night when his mother was murdered in her own doorway, and one little daughter being exiled from her home by the horror conceived on that occasion.

The judge in his charge dwelt upon the fact that the bruises—which bruises Mr. Sullivan remarked were not noticed by those who saw him previous to the murder, and therefore making it fair to infer that they were caused by the recoil of the gun—were on the left side of his face, and it was usual to hold the gun to the right shoulder. Now it was well known to many persons that Downing often held his gun to his left shoulder: and the stones at the corner of the barn from whence the gun was fired were dabbled with blood on the morning succeeding the murder.

A petition is now in circulation to pardon Downing from even the shadow of punishment awarded him. I hope all who sign it will weigh well the consequences of the act.

VINDEX.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

MONDAY, OCT. 25.

The Court were occupied in calling over and regulating the docket.

☞ A gentleman who was disgusted with the mawkish sentimentality exhibited at the court house last week—and the familiarity of certain ladies (belonging to a class who deem themselves above the working man,) toward a criminal, whom if honestly at work, they would have deemed beneath their notice—suggests that those who were desirous of making him presents and of buying his liberty, can now well employ their generosity in providing for his family.

☞ Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, on Monday, Oct. 25th, completed a quarter of a century of ministerial labor in this city, as pastor of the South (Unitarian) Church. On Sunday morning he made feeling and appropriate reference to the event. Thousands will join in our hope that the close of another similar term, may find him among us.

☞ Rev. Chas. Spear will lecture at the Temple, Tuesday evening, on the Imprisonment of Eminent Men—at half-past 7. Admission 5 cents.

☞ An Address by Mrs. Charles Spear, will be delivered at the Temple on Friday evening, Oct. 29, at half past seven. Subject, The Prisoner and the Slave, including sketches of the life and Poems of Juan Placido, The Cuban Slave and Martyr to Liberty.

Death of Hon. Robert Rantoul.—Hon. Robert Rantoul of Beverly, died at Beverly, Sunday, at the age of 79 years, an honored and distinguished citizen.

Charleston, Oct. 24.—There were 22 deaths from yellow fever yesterday.

☞ The two women, "Flora Temple" and "Prioress," after walking in a room in New York 63 hours, concluded to stop, share money taken at the door, and call the match a drawn one.

☞ In the New York Common Pleas a jury gave a man $500 against another for cutting his nasal organ open with a drinking glass; another jury gave a plaintiff only $200 against a man who carelessly ran over his wife and crushed her to death!

Crime, Misery and Suicide.—The Cleveland Herald states that a bonnet, shawl and letter were picked up by a boy near the towing-path of the canal in the vicinity of Boston, Summit county, Ohio, on Monday evening. No owner of the articles could be found. The Herald publishes the letter, which relates a sorrowful story of seduction, desertion, prostitution and suffering. The letter is addressed to Mrs. Maria Johnson, Tecumseh, Mich., and the term "sister is used by the writer in speaking of that person.

A teacher of vocal music asked an old lady if her grandson had any ear for music. "Wa'al," said the old woman, "I rahly don't know; won't you just take the candle and see!"

New York, Oct. 23.—Steamer Ice King was burned to-day at her wharf, East River. Loss $35,000; insurance $25,000, in the Oswego and two other city companies.

Horace Walpole once remarked, "This world is a comedy to those who think, and a tragedy to those who feel."

De Sauty says there is no "change" in the cable. Is there any in the company's treasury?

Much remains unsung, as a tom cat said to the brickbat, when it abruptly cut short his serenade.

A confirmed tippler was bothered how to honor his birthday. A brilliant idea struck him—he kept sober.

MACGREGOR'S

VENTILATING

PARLOR, OFFICE AND HALL

STOVES

—AND—

HOT-AIR FURNACES

Have been in use for Twelve Years, and with the recent Improvements for Economy, Purity of Air and ease of management,

HAVE NO EQUAL.

They can be so regulated as to give any degree of heat required; and, unlike other anthracite coal-burners, ventilate the apartments quite as thoroughly as a wood fire or open Franklin, producing at once a current of air, moist, pure and agreeable, and as NONE OF THE AIR WHICH COMES IN CONTACT WITH THE FIRE-POT IS USED FOR RESPIRATION, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of by those using stoves and furnaces is entirely obviated.

The Fire may be continued from One to Three Days without replenishing.

These Stoves are beautiful in design, and finished in the most perfect manner. They are equally appropriate, and have given universal satisfaction to all who have adopted them for Offices and Stores, as well as the Parlor. The Inventor challenges the world to produce an article by which so much pure warm air can be generated from so small an amount of fuel, requiring but about 15 lbs. of anthracite coal to warm an ordinary parlor for twenty-four hours without replenishing, and then leaving fire enough to rekindle without the use of charcoal. The coal is all consumed and no clinkers made, consequently sifting coal is dispensed with. When this Stove is properly managed, the fire continues through the entire season without once going out. The SIXTEEN SIZES are calculated for, and will suit the capacity of

THE SMALLEST ROOMS,

—OR—

THE LARGEST HOUSES, STORES, HALLS OR CHURCHES,

while one size of the Furnace will warm 200,000 cubic feet of space Added to all these qualifications, the purchaser may reasonably expect to save thirty per cent. in fuel expense.

So great is the popularity of these Stoves that very many imitations of them have been put into the market, and by dint of puffing have been forced upon the public, but none of them have stood the test of time. In fact,

The McGregor Stove

IS

THE ONLY PERFECTLY AIR-TIGHT COAL STOVE MADE.

THE ONLY ONE THAT WILL GIVE UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION

AS A COAL BURNER.

Purchasers who wish to get a Stove that will be durable, and will do all it is recommended to do, will do well to buy a

MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world-wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and happiness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make known the fact that the rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before possessed in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, Old Sores, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A M. Beck BURRILL & HUNTING, SOLE PROPRIETORS,

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the lone sun may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the mouth ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Ryer Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, and quite unusual as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, truly yours,

S. THALBERG.

"Dirch a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Ann st., Apr. 12, '53.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifully thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most valuable article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers, which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common an ong persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KNAP.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up row out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds 1 a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at 12½ per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 25 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, consult a physician, and know the exact state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, accompanied with a description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which had baffled the powerfully treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number were restored under his hands to perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with other and inferior remedies at the expense of destroying what is the grand pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The genuine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the same name or a similar name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where it can be had.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and verify that everything is done in the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity to invest money, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, which are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ List of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m31y

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Felt, Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and economy, in every respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing is easily applied to roofs of every desc ription, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and many articles offered as improved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Kittery, July 6th, 1858

☞ A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve year's course of study devoted to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—added not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly conveyed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of other treatment; and although I recommend it as useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment. The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the control, renders it too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been established and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefit of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who came to my private office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or Canada. The terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to repeat a prescription three times. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,

No. 826 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—d8 6m

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States and in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents; these, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of competent talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
